

Building a digital library

The screenshot shows the DPLA website with the following elements:

- Navigation: A top navigation bar with links for "About", "Get Involved", "For Developers", "Help", "Follow", "Contact", "Donate", "Press", and "Sign Up".
- Header: The DPLA logo and the text "DIGITAL PUBLIC LIBRARY OF AMERICA". A secondary navigation bar includes "Home", "Exhibitions", "Map", "Timeline", "Bookshelf", and "Apps".
- Main Content Area:
 - Exhibitions: A section titled "Exhibitions" with a "View All" link and a featured image of a tractor.
 - Explore by Place: A section titled "Explore by Place" featuring a map of Clemson and a portrait of a man.
 - Explore by Date: A section titled "Explore by Date" with a featured image of a horse race and a timeline from 1946 to 1953.
 - A Wealth of Knowledge: A large banner with the text "A Wealth of Knowledge" and "explore 5,537,853 items from libraries, archives, and museums". It includes a search bar labeled "Search the Library".
- Footer: A section titled "Apps" with the text "The DPLA is a platform. Developers make apps that use the library's data in many different ways. Here are just a few. App Library". To the right, there is a "News" section with a link to "Diversity and the DPLA" dated "Jan 17" and social media icons for Facebook, Twitter, and RSS.
