Emergency Amendment on New Usury Rate

On June 20, 1978, Angelo R. Bianchi, Commissioner of Banking, pursuant to authority of N.J.S.A. 31:1-1 and in accordance with applicable provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, adopted an emergency amendment which raises the usury ceiling to 9½ per cent on one- to six-family dwellings with or without commercial uses.

Full text of the amended rule follows:

3:1-1.1 Interest rate

(a) The maximum rate of interest to be charged, taken or received, upon a loan of any money, wares, merchandise goods and chattels, made on or after June 23, 1978, shall be eight per cent per year, except as hereinafter provided. Such interest shall be calculated in accordance with N.J.S.A. 31:1-1, as amended.

(b) The maximum rate of interest to be charged on loans secured by real estate on which is erected or to be erected a structure containing one, two, three, four, five or six dwelling units, a portion of which structure may also be used for nonresidential purposes, consummated on or after June 23, 1978, shall be 9½ per cent per annum. Such interest shall be calculated in accordance with N.J.S.A. 31:1-1, as amended. Any provision in a mortgage commitment contracted prior to the effective date of this regulation providing for an increase in interest rates to be charged based on the highest lawful interest rate shall be null and void.

Loans in the amount of $50,000 or more, except loans where the security given is a mortgage on real property consisting of a lot of land upon which there is constructed or in the course of construction a dwelling house of three family units or less. The rate of interest stated in such contract upon the origination of such loans may be taken notwithstanding that payments thereon reduce the amount outstanding to less than $50,000.

2. 3. If such loan is not purchased within 395 days from the date the loan instruments are executed, the maximum rate of interest which may be charged on such loan shall not be in excess of that authorized by the commissioner under the provisions of this section and such rate of interest, if in excess of that rate, shall be reduced to the rate in effect at the date of the execution of the loan instruments. No such reduction shall change the maturity date of the loan without the written consent of the borrower nor shall such reduction affect the lien of the mortgage which secures the loan.

(d) The rates established herein shall be effective at 12:01 A.M. June 23, 1978, and shall remain in force until such time as this regulation is rescinded or until said rate or rates are revised by a subsequent regulation.

Amendments to Local Jurisdictions Personnel Manual for Police Officers and Special Police Officers

On July 14, 1978, the State Civil Service Commission, pursuant to authority of N.J.S.A. 11:5-1 and in accordance with applicable provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, adopted amendments to Subpart 6-3.105 in the Civil Service Personnel Manual (Local Jurisdictions), concerning the determination of position as classified police officer or as unclassified special police officers.

Full text of the adoption follows:

Subpart 6-3.105 Policy Regarding Determination of Position as Classified Police Officer or as Unclassified Special Police Officers.

6-3.105a Subject

This subpart sets forth the policy of the Department of Civil Service regarding the determination of whether a position is that of a classified full or part-time Police Officer, or that of an unclassified Special Police Officer.

6-3.105b Policy

Where an individual appointed by a municipality to perform the regular responsibilities of a municipal police department on a continuous basis or on a full or part-time basis, that officer shall be considered to be a police officer and in the classified service, even where the appointment was initially stated to be that of a Special Police Officer in the unclassified service. Such regular responsibilities of a municipal police department include, but are not limited to, general police work, police dispatching and routine traffic control.

Special Police Officers may not be used to perform on a full or part-time basis the usual and ordinary responsibilities of a regular member of a municipal police department. The use of special police officers as dispatchers or school traffic guards, or for regular spectator and traffic control or other police related activities on a regular basis is impermissible unless emergency or exceptionally unusual circumstances exist. An unusual condition is defined to include unpredictable events such as major fire, riot or natural disaster. In addition, certain predictable situations are also covered, such as seasonal influx of visitors in a resort community, and crowd and traffic control at regularly scheduled sporting events, rock concerts and parades. Therefore, special police officers may be used only in individual cases for intermittent or unusual crowd or traffic control, or to provide extra security supplementing the regular police force.

6-3.105c Authority

This policy is based upon Formal Opinion #22-1977 of the Attorney General, dated December 1, 1977, and the statute and cases cited therein.

An order adopting these amendments was filed on July 17, 1978, as R.1978 d.234 (Exempt, Procedure Rule) to become effective on July 24, 1978. Take notice that, these amendments are not subject to codification and will not appear in Title 4 of the New Jersey Administrative Code.

Notice of Interpretation Number 5

Take notice that, Philip Caton, Director of the Division of Housing and Urban Renewal in the Department of Community Affairs, has issued Interpretation Number 5, which concerns day nurseries use group I-2 and child care centers use group A-4 in the Building Subcode of the Uniform Construction Code regulations.

The substantive text of the Interpretation No. 5 follows:

Day Nurseries are specifically referenced in section 207.3 of the Building Subcode (1976 Supplement). This section pertains to Use Group I-2 covering all buildings used for housing people suffering from physical limitations because of health or age.

The Commissioner has determined that the definition of Day Nurseries, by interpretation, is a center for the care of infants or children requiring constant attention in carrying out normal daily functions. This pertains to children incapable of walking or following instructions to evacuate a building in the event of a fire.

Further, the Commissioner has determined that the classification for Child Care Center is Use Group A-4 (Section 203.5), provided all children are at least 2½ years of age, fully ambulatory and capable of following evacuation instructions in the event of a fire.

Construction Officials are required to obtain and keep on file a letter from the owner of the Child Care Center stating all children in attendance will be at least 2½ years of age. Centers housing children under 2½ years of age shall be Use Group I-2 (Section 207.3).

Full text of the adoption follows (additions indicated in boldface thus; deletions indicated in brackets [thus]):

5:30-16.11 [Expiration of Tenants' Property Tax Rebate Act] (Reserved)

APPENDIX B

1978 Tax Collector Certification
Of Property Tax Reduction to Property Owner

- I. a) 1976 Property Tax Paid or Payable on a "Qualified Real Rental Property" (see definition below) $.....

Reductions resulting from judgment entered by county boards of taxation, the Division of Tax Appeals in the Department of Treasury or by courts of competent jurisdiction are excluded from the calculation.

Instructions to Residential Property Owner:

- 1. Amount on Line III is the total amount to be rebated to calendar year 1978 tenants, subject to the following modifications:

a. If any part of the property is not rented or is rented for purposes other than residential the amount may be reduced in the proportion that the non-residential rental property bears to the property as a whole, preferably on the basis of assessed valuation. Your local tax assessor should be consulted.

b. If any dwelling units in this property are occupied by the owner or his/her employees, the amount may be reduced by the proportion that the number of such units bears to the total number of units in the property. The Commission on Radiation Protection and the Department of Environmental Protection, pursuant to authority of N.J.S.A. 13:1D-1 et seq. and 26:2D-1 et seq., propose to adopt new rules concerning analytical X-ray installations. Such proposal is known within the Department of Environmental Protection as Docket No. DEP 031-78-07.

Full text of the proposal follows:

SUBCHAPTER 21. ANALYTICAL X-RAY INSTALLATIONS

7:28-21.1 Scope

(a) This Subchapter applies to installations using analytical x-ray equipment and establishes requirements for their use.

(b) The provisions of this Subchapter are in addition to, and not in substitution for, the other applicable provisions of this Chapter.

7:28-21.2 Definitions

The following words and terms, when used in this Subchapter, shall have the following meanings, unless the context clearly indicated otherwise:

"Analytical x-ray equipment" means any device or combination of devices used to determine the microscopic structure or composition of material utilizing x-rays, including but not limited to x-ray diffraction, x-ray spectroscopy, x-ray fluorescence, or fluorescence x-ray spectroscopy equipment.

"Enclosed beam x-ray system" means analytical x-ray equipment in which all possible x-ray paths are fully enclosed according to the requirements of Section 5 of this Subchapter, so that any part of the body cannot enter the enclosure.

"Fail-safe characteristics" means that all failures of warning and safety systems that can reasonably be anticipated will cause the equipment to fail in a mode such that personnel are safe from exposure to radiation.

"Open beam x-ray system" means analytical x-ray equipment other than enclosed beam x-ray system.

"Safety interlock" means a device or system of devices intended to prevent either the generation of x-rays or the emergence of the primary beam from the tube housing.

"X-ray accessory apparatus" means any portion of an analytical x-ray installation which is external to the x-ray tube housing and into which an x-ray beam is directed for making x-ray measurements or for other uses.

7:28-21.3 General equipment requirements

(a) No person shall cause, suffer, allow or permit the possession or use of any analytical x-ray equipment unless it is equipped with the following:

1. A clearly visible label bearing the conventional radiation symbol and the words: "CAUTION: THIS EQUIPMENT PRODUCES X-RAYS WHEN ENERGIZED—TO BE OPERATED ONLY BY AUTHORIZED PERSONNEL" or other words having similar meaning which shall be attached near any switch which energizes an x-ray tube.

2. A clearly visible label bearing the conventional radiation symbol and the words: "CAUTION: HIGH INTENSITY X-RAY BEAM" or other words having similar meaning which shall be located in a conspicuous location near the x-ray tube housing.

3. A clearly visible warning light with fail-safe characteristics labeled with the words: "X-RAY ON" or other words having similar meaning which shall be located near any switch that energizes an x-ray tube and shall be illuminated only when the tube is energized. The provisions of this paragraph shall be effective February 1, 1980.

4. A clearly visible warning light or indicator with fail-safe characteristics which shall indicate when the x-ray tube is producing x-rays or the port of the radioactive source is open. The warning light or indicator shall be located in a conspicuous position near the x-ray tube, and shall be clearly visible to any person aligning or adjusting the x-ray accessory equipment. The provisions of this paragraph shall be effective February 1, 1980.

5. A clearly visible label bearing the conventional radiation symbol and the words: "CAUTION: THIS EQUIPMENT CONTAINS RADIOACTIVE MATERIAL—TO BE OPERATED ONLY BY QUALIFIED PERSONNEL" or other words having similar meaning which shall be attached to any switch which energizes analytical x-ray equipment which contains a radioactive source.

6. A clearly visible label which shall be attached to each radiation source housing that contains a radioactive source. The label shall include the following information:

- i. The conventional radiation symbol; and
- ii. The type of radioactive material; and
- iii. The activity in curies or millicuries; and
- iv. The date of measurement of activity.

(b) No person shall cause, suffer, allow or permit the possession or use of any analytical x-ray equipment unless such operation is in accordance with the following procedures and within the following dose rates:

1. Written operating and alignment procedures provided by the manufacturer of the x-ray system, or by the person in charge of use of the system if the radiation source housing and x-ray accessory apparatus are not compatible components supplied by the same manufacturer.

2. Written operating procedures shall be such that a qualified operator following instructions will not receive in any one hour dose equivalent in excess of 37.5 mrem to the hands and forearms or 2.5 mrem to the whole body, gonads, blood-forming organs or lens of the eye.

3. Alignment procedures shall be such that a qualified worker aware of the radiation hazards will not receive in any one hour a dose equivalent in excess of 37.5 mrem to the hands and forearms or 2.5 mrem to the whole body, gonads, blood-forming organs, or lens of the eye while following these instructions. If either of these dose rates is likely to be exceeded, a definite warning shall be included in the alignment instructions.

4. The dose due to unwanted radiation from components such as high voltage rectifiers shall not exceed 10 mrem in a week in any accessible region 5 cm from the outside surface of the generator cabinet. Where an individual may be in the vicinity if the equipment while it is operating for as long as 40 hours per week, the dose rate shall not exceed 0.25 mrem/hr.

5. The x-ray accessory apparatus shall include a beam trap or other barrier with sufficient shielding so that the dose rate due to the transmitted primary beam does not exceed 0.25 mrem/hr under normal operating conditions. In the presence of scattered radiation this requirement shall be considered met for x-ray tube sources if the inherent shielding of the trap or barrier is at least equivalent to the thickness of lead specified in the following table for the maximum rated anode current and potential. In the case of isotope sources that required barrier thickness shall be determined by a qualified expert.

Thickness of Lead Required for a Primary

Beam Barrier Located 5 cm from the Focal Spot

Anode Current (ma)	Thickness of lead (mm)
	50 kVp	70 kVp	100 kVp
20	1.5	5.6	7.7
40	1.6	5.8	7.9
80	1.6	5.9	—
160	1.7	—	—

7:28-21.4 Additional equipment requirements for open beam x-ray systems

(a) No person shall cause, suffer, allow or permit the possession or use of any open beam analytical x-ray equipment unless it is equipped with the following in addition to the requirements of Section 3 of this Subchapter:

1. A clearly visible warning light or indicator which shall be located near each individual x-ray tube shutter and shall indicate when the shutter is open.

2. A suitable barrier to clearly delineate the boundary between the radiation area and the controlled area.

3. A system barrier surrounding each radiation area with sufficient inherent shielding so that the dose equivalent received by individuals in the surrounding controlled area does not exceed 5 mrem in any one hour or 100 mrem in any 5 consecutive days.

4. A beam shutter for each port of the radiation source housing. Such beam shutter shall be interlocked with the x-ray accessory apparatus coupling, or collimator, in such a way that the port will be open only when the collimator or coupling is in place. Shutters at unused ports shall be secured to prevent casual opening.

5. A guard or interlock which prevents entry of any part of the body into the primary beam path should be utilized.

6. The provisions of paragraphs 3, 4 and 5 of this subsection shall apply to new open beam analytical x-ray equipment after February 1, 1980. Open beam analytical x-ray equipment in use prior to February 1, 1980 shall be exempt from the provisions of paragraphs 3, 4 and 5 of this subsection unless such equipment is sold, leased, loaned or otherwise transferred from one user to another whether gratuitously or for consideration.

(b) No person shall cause, suffer, allow or permit the possession or use of any open beam analytical x-ray equipment unless it is operated in accordance with the following procedures and within the following dose rates:

1. The x-ray generator, the control panel and all other parts of the analytical x-ray system, except the x-ray tube housing, shall be so constructed that with all the shutters closed, the stray radiation measured at a distance of 5 centimeters from its surface is not capable of producing a dose in excess of 0.25 millirem in one hour at any specified tube rating.

2. The x-ray tube housing shall be so constructed that with all shutters closed, the leakage radiation measured at a distance of 5 centimeters from its surface is not capable of producing a dose in excess of 2.5 millirem in one hour at any specified tube rating.

3. Radiation exposure levels in the vicinity of controls and adjustments of the x-ray accessory apparatus used during routine operation shall not exceed 37.5 mrem/hr to the hands or 2.5 mrem/hr to the whole body, gonads, blood-forming organs, or lens of the eye.

4. The provisions of paragraphs 1 and 2 of this subsection shall be effective immediately.

7:28-21.5 Additional equipment requirements for enclosed beam x-ray systems

(a) No person shall cause, suffer, allow or permit the possession or use of any enclosed beam analytical x-ray equipment unless it is equipped with the following:

1. A sufficient number of safety interlocks so that the opening of any section of the enclosure during normal operation, or routine alignment, or routine maintenance will prevent either the generation of x-rays or the emergence of the primary beam from any x-ray tube housing port.

2. A chamber or coupled chambers to enclose the radiation source, sample, detector and analyzing crystal. Any such chamber shall be constructed so that it can not be entered by any part of the body during normal operation. The provisions of this paragraph shall be effective February 1, 1980.

3. A sample chamber closure which shall be interlocked with either the x-ray tube high voltage supply or with a shutter in the primary beam so that no x-ray beam can enter the sample chamber while it is open. Such interlock shall be of fail-safe design. The provisions of this paragraph shall be effective February 1, 1980.

(b) No person shall cause, suffer, allow or permit the possession or use of any enclosed beam analytical x-ray equipment unless it is constructed in such manner as to limit the leakage x-rays at a distance of 5 centimeters from any accessible surface during normal operation to less than 0.25 millirem in one hour at any specified tube rating.

7:28-21.6 Operating procedures

(a) No person shall cause, suffer, allow or permit the possession or use of any analytical x-ray equipment unless it is operated in accordance with the following procedures:

1. All safety devices, including but not limited to, warning lights, warning indicators, and safety interlocks as required by this Subchapter shall be maintained in a fully functional operating condition. These safety devices shall be tested for proper functioning as recommended by the manufacturer or once every six months and records kept of all such testing.

2. All safety devices, including but not limited to, warning lights, warning indicators, and safety interlocks originally provided at the time of the installation of the analytical x-ray equipment, but not otherwise specified by this Subchapter, shall be maintained in a fully functional operating condition. An exemption may be made, subject to the approval by the Department, when the operational procedures prohibit the normal functioning of these safety devices. Records of these exemptions shall be kept.

3. Analytical x-ray equipment shall not be operated when any of the safety devices required in subsection (a) of this Section are not functioning as designed.

4. In addition to and not in substitution for the applicable requirements of Subchapter 7 (Radiation Surveys and Personnel Monitoring) of this chapter, all personnel operating, repairing and aligning analytical x-ray equipment shall be provided with appropriate finger or wrist personnel monitoring equipment. The reported dose equivalent shall be recorded on Form BRP-26, "Current Occupational External Radiation Exposure", or on a clear and legible form containing all the information required on BRP-26. This reported dose equivalent shall be clearly identified as resulting from exposure to analytical x-rays.

5. A radiation survey shall be made before a new installation is placed in routine operation and whenever changes are made that could adversely affect radiation protection, as required by Subchapter 7 (Radiation Surveys and Personnel Monitoring). Records shall be maintained showing the results of such surveys as required by Subchapter 8 (Records).

A public hearing respecting this proposal will be held on October 18, 1978, at 9:00 A.M. and continuing until the close of testimony at the New Jersey State Museum Auditorium, 205 West State Street in Trenton, New Jersey.

DRUG UTILIZATION REVIEW COUNCIL

Proposed Rules on Interim Drug Evaluation and Acceptance Criteria

The Drug Utilization Review Council in the Department of Health, pursuant to authority of N.J.S.A. 24:6E-5 and 6, proposes to adopt rules on interim drug evaluation and acceptance criteria.

Take notice that, rules on this topic were adopted on June 19, 1978, as R.1978 d.202 (See: 10 N.J.R. 280(b)) but have been repealed by R.1978 d.248 (See this issue of the Register), because the adoption was procedurally defective.

Full text of the proposed new rules follows (additions to the prior rules are indicated in boldface thus; deletions to the prior rules are indicated in brackets [thus]):

CHAPTER 70. DRUG UTILIZATION REVIEW COUNCIL

SUBCHAPTER 1. INTERIM DRUG EVALUATION AND ACCEPTANCE CRITERIA

8:70-1.1 Drug Utilization Review Council

(a) The Drug Utilization Review Council shall establish and maintain an approved list of drugs entitled, "The Drug Utilization Review Council Formulary". The formulary shall be used in the implementation of New Jersey Assembly Bill No. 2021, known as the "Prescription Drug Price and Quality Stabilization Act". Its purpose is to assure quality medications at the most reasonable costs.

(b) In evaluating and accepting drugs into the formulary, all products will be compared to reference standards [which shall be established by the council. The minimum reference standards will be those of] such as, but not limited to, those available from the Food and Drug Administration, the United States Pharmacopoeia and the National Formulary. [For certain products the council may decide that manufacturers, labelers and distributors will be expected to comply with reference standards as stated in a food and drug administration approved full or abbreviated new drug application.]

(c) Drug products submitted to the council for evaluation will be required to conform to the following criteria in relation to the minimum reference standards.

1. Chemical and physical equivalence;
2. Bioavailability equivalence where appropriate standards and methodology have been established by the Food and Drug Administration, or therapeutic equivalence in terms of adequate and well-controlled clinical studies in the absence of appropriate standards, or where otherwise deemed necessary by the council;
3. Product criteria;
4. Manufacturer, labeler and distributor criteria;
- [5. Economic Criteria.]

(d) The following statements are provided to detail and explain the evaluation criteria.

8:70-1.2 Bioavailability data

(a) Bioavailability has been defined as the extent and rate of absorption from a dosage form, as reflected by the time-concentration curve of the administered drug in any appropriate biological fluid. Bioequivalents are those chemical equivalents which, when administered to the same individuals in the same dosage regimen, will result in comparable bioavailability. Three parameters describing a single-dose blood concentration curve are considered important for comparison in evaluating bioequivalence. These are the maximal concentration, the time of maximal concentration and the area under the concentration/time curve.

(b) A general explanation of bioequivalence parameters would include such items as:

1. Maximal concentration is that concentration of drug attained in the blood following a single standard dose, and for single dose drugs, must be above the minimum effective concentration and below the minimum toxic concentration. This is also true for multiple dose drugs which do not accumulate, such as penicillin G. For drugs which do accumulate, and for which only single dose data are available, multiple dose kinetics must be used to establish the steady state concentration range.

2. Time until maximal concentration is an indirect measure of time to onset of action, since the faster a drug reaches its maximal concentration, the faster it is likely to provide an effect.

3. Area under the curve is an indication of the extent of absorption of a drug from a dosage form. This should be available for as much time as it takes until the concentration in the body fluid being evaluated is down to 10 per cent of the maximal concentration. Area under the curve is critical for drugs given on a multiple dosing schedule and must be considered when comparing such products.

8:70-1.3 Physical criteria

(a) Physical criteria (tablets and capsules) are:

1. Uniformity of weight, color and coating;
2. Adequacy of markings;
3. Integrity.

8:70-1.4 Manufacturer, labeler and distributor criteria

(a) The actual manufacturer of the drug product [and the sources of materials] must be identified. All components of the drug product, both active and inactive, must be listed and the component's specific purpose (e.g. binder, lubricant, coloring agent, etc.) and source (whether foreign or domestic) must be given. In addition, the manufacturer, labeler and distributor, if any, must certify that the active and inactive ingredients, sources and the final dosage form are approved by the federal Food and Drug Administration, the Drug Utilization Review Council or the New Jersey Department of Health. Products for which a manufacturer, labeler or distributor refuses to provide this information will not be approved. [This information is required for all active and inactive ingredients as well as all other components of the product.] Information regarding proprietary formulations will be held strictly confidential within the limits of applicable law.

(b) The manufacturer and labeler must provide verification of their compliance with the quality control standards established by the current Good Manufacturing Practices Act for the reference product.

(c) Additional rules are:

1. Production facilities for submitted products must be inspected not less than every two years by an appropriate and acceptable Federal or State agency as determined by the council. When product is submitted for formulary consideration, the inspection records for the prior two years must be included. In addition, copies of all violation citations and records of violation corrections must be made available for review by the committee.

2. A record of [Federal] federal Food and Drug Administration drug product recalls, together with the reason for the recall, shall be maintained in the office of the Chief of Pharmaceutical Services, Division of Medical Assistance and Health Services, State Department of Human Services. This information will be made available to the council for review as needed.

(d) Placement of an identification mark (such as NDC and trade mark) on [all solid dosage forms,] drug labels, package inserts and catalogs is [considered by the council to be desirable.] required.

(e) Adequate company policies and procedures for accepting returned products from all wholesale distributors, health care institutions, physicians, pharmacists and pharmacies are required should recall be necessary.

(f) References for adequate emergency consultation should be provided by the manufacturer.

(g) There must be adequate production capabilities and Statewide distribution capabilities which will ensure product availability to meet patients' needs at all authorized dispensing locations. This standard should provide all patients with uninterrupted continuity of care.

All products which will be considered for approval by the council will be reviewed in terms of the potential economic savings to the individuals for whom the products have been prescribed.]

Interested persons may present statements or arguments in writing relevant to the proposed action on or before August 30, 1978, to:

Thomas T. Culkin

The Board of Higher Education, pursuant to authority of N.J.S.A. 18:3-14 and 18A:68-6, proposes to amend N.J. A.C. 9:1-2.11 and 9:1-2.12, concerning the logical extension of academic programs approved by the Board.

Full text of the proposal is as follows (deletions indicated in brackets [thus]):

9:1-2.11 Curricula extension, is proposed to be deleted in its entirety and said section is marked reserved.

9:1-2.12 New curricula and higher degrees

The basis or conditions for the conferring of degrees not previously approved by the Board of Higher Education with respect to a particular institution, [as well as the basis or conditions for the conferring of degrees in curricula that are not logical extensions of existing approvals] shall be submitted for prior approval in accordance with law. Approval for the conferring of a degree at a higher level than has previously been authorized (for example, for a master's degree by an institution previously limited to baccalaureate degrees) or for a totally new area of work (for example, engineering or nursing in an institution previously offering only liberal arts) will ordinarily first be granted for a limited term. However, the Board of Higher Education at its discretion may grant unconditional approval in such cases, or limited approval in other situations. Ordinarily the probationary period will not be extended beyond seven years.

BOARD OF HIGHER EDUCATION

Proposed Amendments on Petitions from Out-of-State Institutions Desiring to Offer Courses In New Jersey

The State Board of Higher Education in the Department of Higher Education, pursuant to authority of N.J.S.A.

18A:3-15 and 18A:68-6, proposes to amend its rules by deleting in its entirety the current text of N.J.A.C. 9:1-1.12, Out-of-State extension regulations, thereby marking that section as "Reserved," and adopting new rules concerning petitions from out-of-State institutions desiring to offer courses in New Jersey.

Full text of the proposed new rules follows:

SUBCHAPTER 6. PETITIONS FROM OUT-OF-STATE INSTITUTIONS DESIRING TO OFFER COURSES OR DEGREE PROGRAMS IN NEW JERSEY

9:1-6.1 General provisions

The Board of Higher Education in its coordinating capacity will review all petitions from out-of-state institutions to offer credit-bearing courses or degree programs in New Jersey from a Statewide perspective. The Board will approve only those offerings that in the opinion of the Board meet minimum standards of quality and are fiscally viable.

9:1-6.2 Petition from institution

(a) Out-of-state institutions wishing to offer credit-bearing courses or degree programs in New Jersey shall petition the Board of Higher Education for authorization.

(b) Institutions shall submit requests for new programs at least one academic year before the requested date of implementation. Requests for approval to offer courses shall be submitted at least six months prior to the requested date of implementation.

(c) The petition shall contain:

1. Responses to the items enumerated in Section III of Appendix C of this chapter. These responses shall relate fully to the proposed New Jersey operation;

2. The accreditation status of the institution;

3. Information equivalent to the annual summary sheet required by the institution's regional accrediting association;

4. The institution's financial statements (prepared by independent auditors) for each of the last three years;

5. A description of the selection and review process for faculty teaching in New Jersey;

6. A catalog and other data (per Appendix C of this chapter) that the institution recognizes as appropriate;

7. Other information which the Department specifically requests.

9:1-6.3 Approval; period

Programs may be approved for periods of one to five years. Initially programs will not be approved for longer than a three-year period. With respect to requests to offer credit-bearing courses, but not a degree program, approval will be for a period of only one year.

9:1-6.4 Department of Higher Education review procedures

(a) Petitions from out-of-state institutions invited by in-state parties to offer educational services in New Jersey:

1. Upon receipt of petition, the Department of Higher Education will provide to all New Jersey institutions of higher education a summary of the petition's content and will invite the institutions to submit their comments and to indicate whether or not they wish and are prepared to offer comparable services. Those in-State institutions that wish to offer comparable services may submit proposals to the Department within 30 days after the Department's notification regarding the out-of-state request. Proposals from in-State institutions received within this time period will be forwarded immediately by the Department to the party requesting instructional services (as well as to the out-of-state institutions).

2. The Department will review all the proposals (in-State and out-of-state), usually with the assistance of a consultant who is mutually acceptable to the Department and the institutions.

3. The petition and all pertinent materials will be provided to the Licensure and Approval Advisory Board (LAAB) for its review.

4. If the Department determines, in consultation with LAAB, that an in-State proposal(s) is comparable or superior to the out-of-state proposal, the Department will strongly encourage the in-State party requesting instructional services to accept an in-State proposal.

5. The in-State party requesting instructional services shall inform the Department as to its choice of institution and specify the reasons for the selection.

6. The Chancellor will make a recommendation concerning the program or course(s) to the Board of Higher Education.

(b) Petitions from out-of-state institutions seeking to offer educational services independently (without invitation) in New Jersey:

1. Upon receipt of petition, the Department of Higher Education will provide all New Jersey institutions of higher education with a summary of the petition's content and invite the institutions to submit their comments.

2. The Department will review the petitions, usually with the assistance of a consultant who is mutually acceptable to the Department and the institution.

3. The petition and all pertinent materials will be provided to LAAB for its review.

4. The Chancellor will make a recommendation concerning the program or course(s) to the Board of Higher Education.

HIGHER EDUCATION STUDENT ASSISTANCE BOARD

Proposed Amendments on Restrictions on Amounts Of State Student Assistance Grants

The Student Assistance Board, in the Department of Higher Education, pursuant to the authority of N.J.S.A. 18A:71-41, proposes to amend N.J.A.C. 9:7-2.9, concerning the restriction of grant amounts for students receiving Tuition Aid Grants.

Full text of the proposal is as follows: (additions indicated in bold face thus; deletions indicated in brackets [thus]):

9:7-2.9 Award combinations

Student receiving a Tuition Aid Grant award may also accept a Garden State Scholarship or an Educational Opportunity Fund Grant if offered by the institution they attend or plan to attend. Students cannot simultaneously hold an Educational Opportunity Fund Grant and a Garden State Scholarship in any single semester. The total amount of financial aid received by a student may not exceed the college budget as defined by the institution. Tuition Aid Grants will in general be reduced so that the student's resources will not exceed the financial aid officer's estimate of the student's need, to a minimum grant of $100. This policy will permit students to accept other offers of student assistance as well as facilitate their acceptance into the Educational Opportunity Fund Program.

DIVISION OF PUBLIC WELFARE

Proposed Amendments Concerning Certification and Restoration of Lost Benefits to Zero Purchase Households

Ann Klein, Commissioner of Human Services, pursuant to authority of N.J.S.A. 30:4B-2, proposes to amend certain portions of the food stamp manual, concerning the certification and restoration of lost benefits to zero purchase households.

Full text of the proposal follows (additions indicated in boldface thus; deletions indicated in brackets [thus]):

10:87-6.5(a) Any household whose net monthly food stamp income indicates a zero purchase requirement, [and which is in immediate need of food assistance,] may be certified pending verification subject to the following conditions:

10:87-6.42(a) Cash refunds will be given only in instances where recipients have overpaid the purchase requirement due to an administrative error. Refunds will be computed by comparing the difference in bonus coupons in order to offset the overpayment of the purchase requirement against an overissuance, if any, of the coupon allotment. All situations where an overpayment occurs must be reported to the BLO on the FSP-932, cash refund reporting form.

1. Example: A household was paying $83 for $170 in coupons. The household reports a decrease in income and a decrease in household size (which were not acted upon by the county welfare agency). The new basis of issuance should have been $40 for $134 in coupons. The cash refund would be computed as follows:

Incorrect Basis of Issuance	Correct Basis of Issuance
$170 coupon allotment	$134
—83 purchase requirement	—40
$ 87 bonus	$ 94
$ 94 [incorrect] correct bonus
—87 [correct] incorrect bonus
$ 7 cash refund

10:87-6.43(a)3.ii. [If a household, which is currently certified at "zero purchase", is granted retroactive benefits, the county welfare agency shall postpone reimbursement until future purchase requirements permit application of such credit.] The restoration of lost benefits to households with a "zero purchase" requirement shall be done by an increase of up to 50 per cent of the household's normal coupon allotment per month for as many consecutive months as necessary (see section 613.2) to restore the lost benefits or until a purchase requirement is assigned.

(1) Since increases in the coupon allotment will result in allotments which do not correspond to a food stamp vendor's normal coupon issuance table, the word "RE-TRO" must be typed or stamped in the upper right hand corner of the ATP card below the ATP serial number.

(2) An explanation for the reason for the discrepancy must be documented in the case record.

Interested persons may present statements or arguments in writing relevant to the proposed action on or before August 30, 1978, to:

G. Thomas Riti
Director, Division of Public Welfare
Box 1627

Amendments to General Assistance Manual on Municipal Funds Subject to State Matching

On June 27, 1978, Ann Klein, Commissioner of Human Services, pursuant to authority of N.J.S.A. 44:8-111 and in accordance with applicable provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, adopted emergency amendments to portions of the General Assistance Manual, concerning the clarification of the definition of municipal funds that are subject to State matching.

Full text of the adoption follows (additions indicated in boldface thus; deletions indicated in brackets [thus]):

10:85-1.3(a) Municipalities may apply for State aid for nonadministrative costs paid out of municipal funds and incurred in the General Assistance program. Participating municipalities shall be entitled to 75 per cent reimbursement of nonadministrative assistance costs [which are incurred] to the extent that such costs are paid out of municipal funds and are expended in compliance with State standards. (See subchapters 2 and 6 of this chapter for general conditions of participation.)

[1. Amount of State Aid: Participating municipalities shall be entitled to 75 per cent reimbursement of non-administrative general assistance costs, in compliance with State standards, except in cases which lack State settlement.]

10:85-2.1(b)1. The amount of State aid which a municipality may receive is 75 per cent of its current year's approved public assistance expenditures, exclusive of the cost of administration[.], but only to the extent that such expenditures are made from municipal funds not derived from any direct or indirect grant from the Federal, State, or county government.

10:85-5.2(d)4. Services covered under other laws or appropriations: Hospital services to the full extent, if any, that are covered under any foreign, federal, or State law (other than the New Jersey General Assistance Law) or by county appropriations shall not be reimbursable. The amount to which the patient is entitled, when identifiable, whether or not he/she asserts right to that coverage, shall be deducted from the total amount incurred for hospitalization and the remainder, if any, may be a reimbursable expense.

i. Hospital services paid for by the municipality with money appropriated by any foreign, federal, State, or county government and paid to the municipality either directly or indirectly shall not be reimbursable.

10:85-6.2(a) The amount of State aid for general assistance which an approved municipality may receive shall equal 75 per cent of the amount of municipal funds expended and approved for public assistance. The amount of such State aid shall be exclusive of any costs incurred in the administration of the program. Funds provided to the municipality through any other State financial assistance program, through any federal program or through the county government, either directly or indirectly, may not be used to make up the 25 per cent local share of public assistance expenditures.

An order adopting these amendments was filed and became effective on June 30, 1978, as R.1978 d.217 (Exempt, Emergency Rule).

Amendments on Overpayments And Underpayments

On June 29, 1978, Ann Klein, Commissioner of Human Services, pursuant to authority of N.J.S.A. 44:7-6, 44:10-3 and in accordance with applicable provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, adopted amendments to N.J.A.C. 10:82-2.19 concerning overpayments and underpayments, substantially as proposed in the Notice published March 9, 1978, at 10 N.J.R. 113(a), but with subsequent, substantive changes not detrimental to the public, in the opinion of the Department of Human Services.

Full text of the adoption follows (additions indicated in boldface thus; deletions indicated in brackets [thus]):

10:82-2.19 Overpayment; underpayments

(a) In situations where a member of an eligible unit fails to inform the welfare agency of any change in income, resources, or circumstances resulting in an overpayment or underpayment in the monthly grant, the county welfare agency shall proceed as follows:

1. Determine the amount of the overpayment.

i. Subtract the amount of assistance which client(s) should have received during the period of overpayment from the amount actually received.

ii. Where CSP payments are involved, only the amount of assistance granted in excess of child support payments can be considered overpayment for purposes of recoupment.

[1] 2. Immediately upon discovery of the overpayment or underpayment, inform the client in writing that such error in payment has occurred, its amount, and that corrective measures will be taken in accordance with the following regulations.

[2] 3. Correct the monthly grant for the period of assistance next following the discovery of the overpayment or underpayment, unless in the case of an underpayment an immediate additional payment is issued pursuant to N.J. A.C. 10:82-2.20(b).

[3] 4. When there has been overpayment, recoup the amount of overpayment in accordance with subsection (c) of this section. Reductions in the monthly grant may only be made subject to timely and adequate notice as stated in Public Assistance Manual Section 7110.

(b) The CWA shall not recoup overpayments resulting from an administrative error.

(c) Overpayment rules are:

1. When overpayments have resulted from the willful withholding of information by the client (see Public Assistance Manual Section 4800), recoupment shall be by the following procedure:

i. Deduct from the grant an amount not to exceed 10 per cent of the adjusted allowance or, where such deduction would in the judgment of the CWA create undue hardship, a lesser amount; and

ii. When there is earned income currently available and subject to disregards, deduct from the adjusted allowance the amount of the overpayment(s), not to exceed 20 per cent of the eligible unit's total gross earnings or, where such deduction would in the judgment of the CWA create undue hardship, a lesser amount; and

iii. When client has savings or other available resources, develop a mutually agreeable arrangement with the client for recoupment of the overpayment.

2. In all other situations [in which] except where overpayment was due to [client error or when the client has received continued assistance at an unreduced level pending a fair hearing but has been found ineligible to receive such assistance by the fair hearing decision,] administrative error, recoupment is limited to available resources such as disregarded income or savings. [When disregarded income or savings do not exist, the current assistance payment shall not be reduced to accomplish such recoupment.] These situations include but are not limited to:

i. Situations due to client error other than those specified in this section;

ii. Where the client has withdrawn from or abandoned the fair hearing request;

iii. Where the client has received continued assistance at an unreduced level pending a fair hearing but has been found ineligible to receive such assistance by the fair hearing decision.

Note: When disregarded income or savings do not exist, the current assistance payment shall not be reduced to accomplish such recoupment.

3. Where available resources such as disregarded income or savings, etc., exist, the following procedure will be used to determine the amount of recoupment:

i. When there is earned income currently available and subject to disregards, deduct from the adjusted allowance the amount of the overpayment(s), not to exceed 20 per cent of the eligible unit's total gross earnings or, where such deduction would in the judgment of the CWA create undue hardship, a lesser amount; and

ii. When the client has reserved income or other available resources, develop a mutually agreeable arrangement with the client for recoupment of the overpayment.

iii. Such recoupment shall be limited to overpayments made during the 12 months preceding the month in which the overpayment was discovered.

[3] 4. Recoupment of overpayments, even when encompassing the total monthly payment, shall not affect Medicaid eligibility so long as all other factors of eligibility continue to exist.

[4] 5. When the overpayment has been satisfied, the amount of the assistance payment must be immediately adjusted so that no further reductions for recoupment are made.

An order adopting these amendments was filed on June 30, 1978, as R.1978 d.218 to become effective on August 1, 1978.

Proposed Rules on Sales Tax Exemption Standards for Solar Energy Systems

Joel R. Jacobson, Commissioner of Energy, pursuant to authority of P.L. 1977, c. 465, proposes to adopt new rules concerning sales tax exemption standards for solar energy systems.

Full text of the proposal follows:

CHAPTER 5. SALES AND USE TAX TECHNICAL SUFFICIENCY STANDARDS FOR SOLAR ENERGY DEVICES OR SYSTEMS

SUBCHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

14A:5-1.1 Scope

The technical sufficiency standards for solar energy systems are designed to establish minimum criteria for the purpose of obtaining a sales tax exemption pursuant to P.L. 1977, c. 465.

14A:5-1.2 Construction and amendment

(a) These regulations shall be liberally construed to permit the Commissioner to effectively carry out his statutory functions and to insure the maximum conservation of energy sources within the State; and,

(b) These rules may be amended by the Director of the Division of Energy Planning and Conservation, pursuant to authority of P.L. 1977, c. 465.

14A:5-1.3 Definitions

The following words and terms, when used in this Chapter, shall have the following meanings unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

"Active solar systems" means those systems which convert the sun's energy into thermal energy and transport this energy to a storage device through the use of a heat transport medium such as air or a liquid. At this point, the heat is withdrawn and utilized for the purpose for which the system was designed.

"Administrator" means the Administrator of the Office of Alternate Technology of the Department of Energy.

"Building" means any residential, commercial or industrial structure. For purposes of this tax exemption, "building" does not mean free-standing greenhouses utilized solely for cultivation purposes or utilized for any commercial or industrial cultivation purposes.

"Collector" means a piece of equipment consisting of an absorptive plate, which may be flat, corrugated or grooved to which tubes or fins are attached as a means of conducting or directing the heat transfer medium. This assembly is surrounded by a casing and one or more sheets of glazing material. This device is used to intercept radiation and convert this radiation into usable thermal energy.

"Conventional system" shall designate that system that would normally provide energy if a solar system was not present.

"Eligible" means that a system or piece of equipment qualifies to be included in the determination of the amount of the exemption pursuant to 14A:5-2.1 et seq. and complies with the standards specified in these rules.

"Equipment" means that piece of equipment, unit, component, device or material which is to be used as part of a solar system pursuant to 14A:5-2.1 et seq.

"Glazing" refers to that material which covers a device or building and permits the entry of solar energy, for conversion to thermal energy, but prevents excessive loss of thermal energy from that device or building.

"Heat exchanger" means a device for transferring thermal energy from one fluid to another.

"Hot rock storage bin" is a box-like thermal storage device generally constructed of masonry and insulation materials which enclose a bed of crushed rock capable of storing solar generated thermal energy.

"Kit" shall mean those solar systems which utilize the architecture of a building to maximize solar heat gains during the cold seasons and minimize heat gain in the hot seasons.

"Passive systems" means those solar systems which utilize the architecture of a building to maximize solar heat gains during the cold seasons and minimize heat gain in the hot seasons.

"Photovoltaic cells" are devices which for purposes of this exemption have the ability to convert radiant energy to electrical energy.

"Solar energy system" means a system which provides heating and/or cooling, or electrical or mechanical power by collecting and transferring solar-generated energy and including mechanical or chemical devices for storing solar-generated energy.

"South" shall be defined as falling within the 90 degree envelope from 45 degrees East to 45 degrees West of true South.

"Storage tank" designates that equipment used for storing solar generated thermal energy so that it can be used as required.

"Thermal contact ceiling" means a combined roof and heating and/or cooling system composed of containers filled with a liquid solution placed above the roof beams of a building.

"Trombe wall" means a south facing wall of the building envelope composed of a mass wall surface with exterior glazing. The mass wall functions as a heat storage device and exterior wall.

SUBCHAPTER 2. ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

14A:5-2.1 Eligible equipment

(a) The following solar energy equipment as specified below is eligible for an exemption.

1. The following equipment used in systems designed to provide heating and/or cooling, or electrical or mechanical power and mechanical or chemical devices for storing solar-generated energy;

i. Solar energy collectors purchased as an assembled unit;

ii. Photovoltaic cells;

iii. Wind generators purchased as an assembled unit or manufactured components in a kit form.

2. The following shall be considered solar energy equipment when purchased as part of a packaged total solar energy system kit.

i. Piping or duct work and insulation for such equipment to the point of conventional system interface;

ii. Electrical or mechanical control devices, that is, pumps, valves, solenoid switches, etc.;

iii. Electrical wiring;

iv. Mounting brackets and associated hardware necessary for kit assembly and installation;

v. Heat exchangers purchased as an assembled unit;

vi. Tanks used for the storage of liquids;

vii. Batteries exclusively used to store solar-generated electricity;

ix. Chemical storage equipment (that is, eutectic salts).

3. Equipment of the following types in passive systems:

i. Glazing material used on the designated solar surface of south facing walls in fenestrating a building as part of a design for the purpose of direct solar heat gain shall be eligible solar energy equipment.

ii. Equipment such as heads, sills, and jambs used solely as bracing for glass on designated solar surfaces shall be considered eligible solar energy equipment.

iii. Skylights and roof glazing shall be considered eligible solar energy equipment only if such devices are used for direct solar heat gain during the daylight hours, and if capable of reducing the heat loss at night and during cold weather through the use of insulating devices.

iv. Glass, fiberglass, or other glazing materials used to enclose attached south facing areas such as patios, atriums, or greenhouses for purposes of entrapping solar heated air shall be considered eligible solar energy equipment provided that the warm air be circulated through the building by use of a permanently installed air movement system and that adequate provisions have been made to prevent nocturnal heat losses and cold weather heat losses through use of insulating devices.

v. Material used in the construction of a mass wall of a nonload-bearing Trombe wall of a building shall be considered eligible solar energy equipment provided that such a wall is used solely for thermal storage.

(1) South facing glazing material used in the construction of a Trombe wall or mass floor of a building shall be considered eligible solar energy equipment.

vi. The materials purchased for the construction of a thermal contact ceiling shall be considered eligible solar energy equipment.

vii. Insulation used to minimize heat loss largely caused by nocturnal radiation through areas used for direct solar heat gain during the daylight hours shall be considered eligible solar energy equipment.

4. Equipment of the following types in active and passive solar systems:

i. Material used in the construction of a hot rock storage bin shall be considered solar energy equipment provided the bin structure does not constitute a necessary load-bearing member of a building.

14A:5-2.2 Ineligible equipment

(a) The following materials and equipment shall not be considered eligible solar energy equipment:

1. Building insulation used to reduce heat lost through walls, roofs, slabs, and foundations;
2. Uninsulated skylights;
3. Heat storage devices or delivery systems which are also utilized for other means of heating and/or cooling including back-up systems;
4. Bracing equipment used as building structural members such as columns, beams, and studs;
5. Exterior walls and floors constructed of masonry as a means of reducing heat loss;
6. Devices such as draperies, venetian blinds, and curtains;
7. Heat pumps and other refrigerators shall not be considered solar energy equipment;
8. Devices used to extract and store heat generated by organic waste piles;
9. Trees, shrubbery, and other forms of vegetation incorporated into a building or site design;
10. Retaining walls used as thermal storage devices in the case of subterranean housing.

14A:5-2.3 Determination by Administrator

(a) If a solar system is neither specifically eligible nor ineligible for exemption, the Administrator shall examine said system to determine its eligibility.

1. The applicant for an exemption shall submit information required by the Administrator at the time of application pursuant to N.J.A.C. 18:24-26.6.

2. The Administrator shall issue a ruling as to the system's eligibility within 20 working days of receipt of the request for a determination and shall communicate the ruling to the applicant and to the Department of the Treasury, Division of Taxation.

3. Rulings of the Administrator are prospective and shall apply to all future exemption applications for systems of that type.

4. If a determination is not issued within 20 working days of receipt of the request, the system shall be deemed eligible for a full exemption in this case. This will not affect the eligibility of future systems of the same type.

SUBCHAPTER 3. SOLAR SYSTEM STANDARDS

14A:5-3.1 Applicability of Uniform Construction Code

Until the Department of Energy promulgates standards for the manufacturing, sale or installation of solar components and/or systems, solar energy systems constructed or purchased for heating and/or cooling utilizing active and/or passive concepts shall comply with applicable provisions of the Uniform Construction Code (N.J.A.C. 5:23-1 et seq.).

SUBCHAPTER 13. PICK-IT LOTTERY

17:21-13.1 General provisions

(a) The following rules have been adopted by the State Lottery Commission pursuant to the authorization contained in N.J.S.A. 5:9-1 and shall govern the operation of "Pick-It", a three digit select your own number daily lottery. The rules are as follows:

2. Pick-It tickets will be sold every day during the normal business hours of the agents authorized to sell said tickets. The sale period for any given Pick-It lottery date will terminate at 7:55 P.M., the date of the drawing.

3. Lottery tickets for Pick-It will be available only from certain designated lottery agents who have been selected by the Executive Director of the Lottery Commission.

4. The selected agents will have on their business premises either a coin-actuated on-line vending machine or an agent-operated on-line vending machine and shall prominently display the machine and a poster or other advertisement stating that they sell tickets for the Pick-It lottery.

vi. Cancel Pick-It ticket issued in error.

7. The selection of the winning three-digit number for the Pick-It lottery will be held at 7:57 P.M. Monday through Saturday. Such a drawing will be held every day except for Sundays, Good Friday, Thanksgiving Day, Christmas Day and New Year's Day. The drawings will take place at a location prescribed by the Executive Director and all drawings will be open to the public.

8. The winning three-digit number will be randomly generated by mechanical means. The precise drawing procedure will be determined by the Executive Director.

9. The type of bets and the amount of prizes for the Pick-It lottery shall be determined as follows:

i. Straight bet: The purchaser shall select a three-digit number that will become a winner only if said number matches digit for digit in sequence the winning number selected by the drawing. For example, if the winning number is 123, only straight bets placed on 123 will be winners.

ii. Box (combination) bets: The purchaser will select a three-digit number that will become a winner only if said number matches digit for digit in any sequence the winning number selected by the drawing. For example, if the winning number is 123, box bets placed on 123, 132, 231, 213, 321, and 312 will be winners. It will be impossible to place a box bet on any three-digit combination which cannot be divided into six separate and distinct bets. For example, 111, 101, or any other similar numbers cannot be used for box bets.

iii. Front pair bets: The purchaser shall select the first two digits of the three-digit number that will become a winner only if the first two digits selected matches digit for digit in sequence the first two digits of the winning number selected by the drawing. For example, if the winning number is 123, only front pair bets placed on 12X will be winners.

iv. Back pair bets: The purchaser shall select the last two digits of the three-digit number that will become a winner only if the last two digits selected matches digit for digit in sequence the last two digits of the winning number selected by the drawing. For example, if the winning number is 123, only back pair bets placed on X23 will be winners.

10. The amount of the prizes to be given for the Pick-It lottery shall be determined in accordance with the following rules:

i. The prize pool will be equal to 50 per cent of the total amount of all the bets placed for said lottery drawing.

ii. The amount of money in the prize pool shall be divided among the winners in accordance with the pari-mutuel formula so that straight bet winners will receive a fixed prize, box bet winners will receive one-sixth of said prize, and back and front pair bet winners will receive one-tenth of said prize.

iii. Pari-mutuel formula:

(1) Each 50-cent bet shall be considered to be a single unit and bets for larger amounts shall be divided into 50-cent bets; e.g. a 50-cent winning ticket will be one unit and a $2.00 winning ticket will be four units.

(2) A straight winning bet, hereinafter called "X" shall be a full unit and shall be entitled to a full prize unit for each 50 cents of the ticket value.

(3) A box winning bet, hereinafter called "Y" shall be one-sixth of a unit and shall be entitled to one-sixth of the prize unit for each 50 cents of the ticket value.

(4) A pair winning bet, hereinafter called "Z" shall be one-tenth of a unit and shall be entitled to one-tenth of the prize unit for each 50 cents of the ticket value.

(5) The prize unit will be rounded down to 50 cents.

(6) Formula for prize determinations:

Prize Unit =

$$\frac{\text{Prize Pool}}{X(1) + Y(1/6) + Z(1/10)}$$

Straight Bet Prize =

$$\frac{(\text{Prize Unit}) (\text{Rounded Down} \times \text{Amount Wagered}/50\text{¢ to 50 cents})}{1}$$

Box Bet Prize =

$$\frac{(\text{Prize Unit}) (\text{Rounded Down} \times \text{Amount Wagered}/50\text{¢ to 50 cents})}{6}$$

Pair Bets (Both Front and Back Pair) Prize =

$$\frac{(\text{Prize Unit}) (\text{Rounded Down} \times \text{Amount Wagered}/50\text{¢ to 50 cents})}{10}$$

Example:

Assure: Prize Pool of $50,000 and the following winning bets represented in 50 cent units: 150 straight, 240 box, and 110 front or back pair:

Prize Unit =

$$\frac{50,000}{150 + 240(1/6) + 110(1/10)} = \frac{50,000}{150 + 40 + 11} = \frac{50,000}{201}$$

Straight Bet Prize =

$$248.756 = 248.50 \text{ per each 50 cent bet}$$

Box Bet Prize =

$$248.756 = 41.459 = 41.00 \text{ per each 50 cent bet}$$

Pair Bet =

$$248.756 = 24.875 = 24.50 \text{ per each 50 cent bet}$$

iv. The minimum prize for the Pick-It lottery for any type of bet on any given day shall be one dollar (50 cents over the unit bet.) The amount of the breakage (amount received as a result of round down to 50 cents will be set aside in a separate fund which will be used for purposes guaranteeing this minimum payout.

v. If no bets of any type are placed on the winning number as drawn for any Pick-It lottery day, the money in the pool shall be added to the next following Pick-It lottery pool.

11. The holder of a winning ticket for the Pick-It lottery can take said ticket to any claim center for validation. All agents having an agent-operated on-line vending machine are claim centers. If said winning ticket entitles the holder to a prize of $599.00 or less, said prize will be paid by the agent upon presentation and validation of the ticket. If the winning ticket entitles the holder to a prize that is more than $599.00, then the holder shall fill out a claim form and the prize will be sent to the holder by check from the Lottery Commission. Once a ticket is validated, it will not be returned to the winner, but will be forwarded to the New Jersey State Lottery. The winner will receive the cash prize or a copy of the claim form as herein provided.

12. All persons holding winning tickets must file for a prize within one year after the date of the drawing. Except as herein provided, all rules and regulations of the Lottery Commission shall govern the operation of the Pick-It lottery. All determinations of winners shall be made by the Executive Director of the Lottery Commission whose judgment shall be final.

DIVISION OF TAXATION

Proposed Amendments on Sales and Use Tax

Sidney Glaser, Director of the Division of Taxation in the Department of the Treasury, pursuant to authority of N.J.S.A. 54:32B-1 et seq., proposes to amend N.J.A.C. 18:24-22.2 and 18:24-22.3, concerning the sales and use tax and floor covering dealer transactions and installation services.

Full text of the proposal follows (additions indicated in boldface thus; deletions indicated in brackets [thus]):

18:24-22.2 Floor covering dealer transactions

(a) Wherever an installation service is rendered in conjunction with the sale of floor coverings, the agreement for such service is treated as a transaction separate and distinct from the sale of the floor covering. Sales of floor coverings are, therefore, subject to the New Jersey sales and use tax regardless of any incidental agreement to install the floor covering. The vendor must collect the sales tax from his customer on the [cost] sales price of the floor covering whether or not the installation results in a capital improvement to the real estate, unless the customer furnishes the vendor with a properly executed exemption certificate, or unless the vendor delivers the floor covering to a point outside of New Jersey.

(b) [Included in] Excluded from the term "floor covering" are the supplies which become part of the floor covering installation. [These supplies include, but are not limited to, padding, underlayment, nails, plywood strips, staples and adhesive tape.]

18:24-22.3 Installation services

(a) Every person who installs floor covering is a contractor.

1. When a floor covering dealer performs an installation service, he is required to either pay sales tax at the time supplies for use in the installation service are purchased or remit use tax upon the cost of supplies withdrawn from his sales inventory for use in the installation service.

2. Any other person who installs floor covering is required to pay sales tax at the time supplies for use in the installation service are purchased.

3. Supplies include, but are not limited to, padding, underlayment, nails, staples, plywood strips, adhesive tape and cement.

[(a)] (b) The installation of floor covering results in a capital improvement only under certain conditions. An installation of a floor covering results in a capital improvement only where the floor covering is permanently affixed to a subfloor. A subfloor may be composed of any material, such as boards, plywood, underlayment or cement, which is not considered to be a material which customarily or normally serves as a finished floor. For sales tax purposes a subfloor is also a finished floor whose value is no greater than that of the conventional subfloor, because of deterioration through damage or age.

[(b)] (c) Where the installation of a floor covering has resulted in a capital improvement to real property, the installer, whether he be the vendor of the floor covering or another person, may not collect the sales tax from the real property owner on his charges for labor and services in installing the floor covering, provided that:

1. The charges for the labor and services are charged for and stated separately from the charges for the floor covering.

[(c)] (d) A floor covering installation made in New Jersey does not result in a capital improvement if the floor covering has not been permanently affixed to a subfloor:

1. For sales tax purposes, the person who makes such installation is required to be registered with the New Jersey Division of Taxation, to collect the sales tax from his customer on the installation charges (as well as on the charges for the floor covering), and to remit the tax to the Division.

2. For business personal property tax purposes (N.J.S.A. 54:11A-1 et seq.) the floor covering is taxable as business personal property where its installation does not result in a capital improvement.

Proposed Amendments on Business Personal Property Tax Act

Sidney Glaser, Director of the Division of Taxation in the Department of the Treasury, pursuant to authority of N.J.S.A. 54:11A-1 et seq., proposes to amend several rules concerning the Business Personal Property Tax Act.

Full text of the proposal follows (additions indicated in boldface thus; deletions indicated in brackets [thus]):

SUBCHAPTER 2. PERSONS AND PROPERTY SUBJECT TO THE TAX; EXCEPT WHEN ACQUIRED ON OR AFTER JANUARY 1, 1977

18:9-2.2 Personal property subject to the tax

All tangible goods and chattels used or held for use in any business, transaction, activity or occupation conducted for profit within the State of New Jersey and not expressly exempt from taxation by the New Jersey State Constitution, the laws made pursuant to, or the express terms of the Act are subject to the tax. For tangible goods and chattels acquired on or after January 1, 1977, see section 3 of this subchapter; where leased on or after January 1, 1977, see N.J.A.C. 18:9-3.5.

18:9-2.3 [Reserved] Business personal property acquired on or after January 1, 1977

(a) Any business personal property acquired on or after January 1, 1977, shall not be subject to assessment and taxation. For the purposes of this chapter, acquired means the first time such business personal property comes into possession, control or power of disposal by the owner obtained by purchase, exchange, bequest or gift.

1. Example 1: A machine purchased prior to January 1, 1977 is not exempt from taxation by reason of the provision of P.L. 1977, c. 4, N.J.S.A. 54:11A-3.1. Whether such property will be subject to tax subsequently depends upon whether the property was in use or held for use on the assessment date, October 1 of the pre-tax year.

2. Example 2: A machine purchased, installed and capable of operating prior to January 1, 1977 is subject to tax.

3. Example 3: A machine purchased on or after January 1, 1977, irrespective of its use or nonuse, is not subject to tax.

4. Example 4: A machine is brought into New Jersey on or after January 1, 1977 by a company which acquired the property prior to January 1, 1977, out-of-state and used such property exclusively out-of-state. Where such property is used or held for use on the assessment date, October 1 of the pre-tax year, it is subject to tax since it was acquired prior to January 1, 1977.

18:9-2.4 Personal property leased prior to January 1, 1977

Tangible personal property leased under a contract of lease made prior to January 1, 1977, is subject to assessment and taxation when in the possession of the lessee on October 1 of the pretax year. For example, a taxpayer (lessor) leases equipment on November 1, 1976. The lease term is for a period of five years. Since the equipment is in the possession of the lessee on October 1, 1977, the taxpayer is subject to tax in 1978 and each year thereafter until the lease terminates. See N.J.A.C. 18:9-3.5 for leases entered into for the first time on or after January 1, 1977.

18:9-3.5 Personal property held for leasing exempt until leased; first time leased on or after January 1, 1977 exempt

(a) Tangible personal property of a taxpayer held for leasing or which is to be furnished as part of a service contract is not subject to the tax until such property is in the actual possession of a lessee under a contract of lease. See N.J.A.C. 18:9-2.4 where leased prior to January 1, 1977.

(b) Tangible personal property of a taxpayer (lessor) which has not been leased for use prior to January 1, 1977, is exempt from tax when leased in New Jersey on or after January 1, 1977. For example:

1. A manufacturer of machinery completes its manufacturing process with respect to a particular machine on August 30, 1976. The completed machine remains in the manufacturer's warehouse until April 1, 1977, at which time the manufacturer in the normal course of business leases the machine to a New Jersey lessee which commences using the machine as part of its normal business. The machine is not subject to tax since the machine was inventory until April 1, 1977, and its first use occurred after January 1, 1977.

2. A manufacturer completed the manufacturing process with respect to a particular machine on August 30, 1976, at which time in the normal course of business the machine was leased to a lessee located within the State of New York. The lease continued until February 28, 1977, at which time the lessee returned the machine to the manufacturer/lessor. On April 1, 1977, the same machine was then leased to a New Jersey lessee for use within the State of New Jersey. The machine is subject to tax since it was first acquired prior to January 1, 1977.

3. A lessor of tangible personal property leases such property to a New Jersey lessee for use in New Jersey on August 30, 1976. The lease remains in effect until February 28, 1977, at which time the lease is terminated and the personal property is returned to the lessor. On April 1, 1977, such property is leased again to the same or another New Jersey lessee. The personal property is subject to tax since it was acquired by the taxpayer (lessor) prior to January 1, 1977.

STATE NEWS OF PUBLIC INTEREST

Based on press releases from offices involved

ATTORNEY GENERAL NOW REGULATES 19 PROFESSIONAL REGULATORY BOARDS

The 19 professional regulatory boards, which for decades, in some instances, have had virtual immunity from State control in regulating the professions, were placed under the direct jurisdiction of the State Attorney General last month.

Gov. Brendan Byrne, hailing the action as "an important part of this administration's commitment to consumers," changed the lines of authority by signing into law a bill "which provides for uniform enforcement of the many separate statutes dealing with professional boards within the jurisdiction of the Department of Law and Public Safety."

Byrne, in remarks made at the signing ceremony in Trenton, said:

"Make no mistake about it, this bill is a very significant piece of legislation. It adds significantly to the Attorney General's authority to oversee regulatory boards.

"It should end abuses and instances where professional boards are myopic in recognizing the public need and good."

In addition to establishing a mechanism for uniform enforcement procedures by the boards, the bill (S-497) also gives the Attorney General the authority to overturn a board decision that is "contrary to applicable law."

Under previous legislation, the only appeal from a board decision was to the Appellate Division of Superior Court.

Since 1971, the 19 professional boards have operated as part of the Division of Consumer Affairs within the Attorney General's Office. Although the division director was given supervisory jurisdiction over the boards, each panel acted independently.

Byrne's two appointees as director, Virginia Long and Adam K. Levin, the current director, have tried to make control of the boards their No. 1 priority.

The boards regulate the professional activities of about 250,000 people in New Jersey, including doctors, nurses, dentists, optometrists and opticians in the health field. Other panels are concerned with architects, barbers, beauticians, accountants, electrical contractors, engineers, marriage counselors, funeral directors, pharmacists, professional planners, shorthand reporters and veterinarians.

Byrne, almost since taking office in 1974, has been talking about reforming and opening up the membership of these boards which have wide-ranging power over the regulation of such other groups as barbers, professional engineers, professional planners, nurses, doctors, pharmacists and even marriage counsellors.

Saying the revised role for the boards will make them more responsive to consumers and the professionals being regulated, Byrne offered an explanation of the complicated legislation in a prepared statement.

The basic element of the bill is a provision that gives the Attorney General the authority to impose uniform rules under which the boards conduct hearings and decide punishment. The boards have 30 days to do something themselves before the Attorney General can step in.

Moreover, such things as rules regarding disciplinary matters and restrictions on licensing will also be within the Attorney General's authority, and the State's law enforcement chief can also set aside, modify or amend any action or decision of any board.

State Sen. Martin Greenberg (D-Essex), who after three years of trying was successful in winning approval for the legislative proposal, said:

"Many of these boards have a congenital predisposition to decide for the industry they regulate."

Greenberg pointed out, for example, the pharmacy board refused to clear the way for prescription drug advertising even in the face of a court ruling that such a practice was legal.

"That's an example of an instance in which a board refused to exercise their regulatory authority. Conversely, on occasion, certain boards attempt to adopt regulations to further their self interest, even though expressly advised that such proposed regulation is inconsistent with the requirements of law," Greenberg said.

PENSION RATE DISCRIMINATION AGAINST WOMEN ENDED BY PUBLIC ADVOCATE SUIT

Discrimination in pension rates against approximately 143,000 female State employees and public school teachers in New Jersey should end within the next six months under terms of a recent U.S. District Court order, according to the Department of the Public Advocate.

The consent order calls for the State Legislature to introduce in this fall session a bill to equalize pension contributions of men and women in both the state employee (PERS) and teacher pension (TRAF) systems.

The order, signed July 19 by Trenton District Court Judge Clarkson S. Fisher, includes an agreement by the State to have remedial legislation introduced and allows for further court action by the Public Advocate if legislation is not enacted before next February 1.

The order followed by three months a U.S. Supreme Court ruling in a similar case in California that women cannot be charged more than men in a pension plan. It concluded a 20-month lawsuit by the State Public Advocate's Department against a similar practice in New Jersey.

Assistant Public Advocate Arthur Penn, who headed the Trenton case, noted that the order does not provide a specific remedy for the problem. The Legislature could raise male contribution rates to the level of female rates, reduce female rates to male levels or could strike a balance between the two levels that would equalize contributions, he said.

The November, 1976 suit contested the State's contention that higher contribution rates for females are justified by statistics that females as a class live longer than males as a class.

Under the State pension system, the suit pointed out, women are obligated to pay between .33 per cent more than men at an entrance age of 16 up to 1.06 per cent more at an entrance age of 59, for the same retirement benefits. A 16-year-old male, for example, now contributes 4.85 per cent of his salary to the pension system while a 16-year-old female pays 5.18 per cent of her salary. At age 59, the new male employee contributes 8.45 per cent; the new female employee 9.51 per cent.

In pushing for equalized pension contributions, the Public Advocate noted that the State does not use sex-based mortality factors in calculating contribution rates for other benefits, including the contributory life insurance program where such factors would require higher contribution rates for male employees.

10 CODE TITLES UPDATED

Mailing was completed last month for 10 Titles of the New Jersey Administrative Code, the next updating of rules since a mailing three months earlier.

Titles included were: 2-Agriculture, 3-Banking, 7-Environmental Protection, 11-Insurance, 12-Labor and Industry, 13-Law and Public Safety, 14-Public Utilities and 14A-Energy, 16-Transportation, 18-Treasury-Taxation and 19-Other Agencies.

With the assumption by the Federal government of rules governing occupational safety and health, about half of the rules previously in Title 12-Labor and Industry, were eliminated as of this update. This Title now consists of two, rather than four volumes.

The mailing of 1,300 pages was double the normal update size, with the rules for all 10 Titles now updated through Jan. 23, 1978.

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW OFFICE STARTS OPERATIONS NEXT YEAR

A new independent Office of Administrative Law will begin functioning early next year with a corps of full-time administrative law judges handling contested cases involving the State's administrative rules.

In signing the new law last month, Gov. Brendan Byrne declared that this major administration-sponsored measure would "professionalize" the hearing of such cases. "While there has been a record of competence in the judiciary, the record in the executive branch has not been uniform," he stated.

"This will give a greater sense of independence to the hearing officer," he said, noting that at present a hearing officer (or which there are currently about 100, full or part-time) is sometimes an employee of the Department against whom the hearing is requested.

"It is important that a hearing examiner is not beholden to anyone," he continued. He said the change also "will standardize hearing procedures and help eliminate delays in the disposition of many cases".

The law includes the present Division of Administrative Procedure as part of the new office.

Exempt from the consolidated hearings are four present agencies—the State Board of Parole, the Public Employment Relations Commission, the Division of Workers' Compensation and the Division of Tax Appeals.

State Supreme Court Justice Richard J. Hughes hailed the move as a much-needed reform.

The Governor will appoint—with the advice and consent of the Senate—a director of the office, who must be an attorney in New Jersey, with a six-year term. The office will be part of the executive branch of the government.

The Governor also will name about 120 full-time judges, at an annual salary averaging $20,000, for five-year terms. The director among other duties will develop procedural regulations and assign the supervisory and administrative hearing judges.

The law requires that the judges file a report with the department or agency involved within 45 days of completion of a hearing. The head of the agency then has 45 days to adopt, reject or modify the recommendations.

The enabling legislation provided $100,000 for start-up and management, with other costs for judges and services to be covered largely by transfer of funds from Departments which currently hold such administrative hearings.

The legislative statement accompanying the new law stated as its purpose: "to expedite the process by which State administrative agencies decide contested cases, and to inject greater impartiality into that process".
