Attn: Elaine Ballai, Regulatory Officer

Department of Banking

CN 040

Trenton, NJ 08625

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

The Department of Banking proposes to amend its mortgage processing regulations in response to a practice which is becoming more common in the mortgage lending industry. In particular, a lender commits to make a mortgage loan but does not close the loan in its own name. Rather, the lender assigns the commitment thereby permitting another lender to close the loan.

The Department of Banking proposes an amendment at N.J.A.C. 3:1-16.5(e) to permit this practice, so long as the ultimate lender is authorized to make mortgage loans in this State. Further, the lender who committed to make the mortgage loan must obtain and maintain for five years a copy of the mortgage note and closing statement, along with all other required records. In this way, the Department may monitor compliance.

The proposed amendment provides that the lender who committed to make the mortgage loan remains responsible for ensuring that the ultimate lender closes the loan in accordance with the terms and conditions of the commitment and applicable New Jersey and Federal laws and regulations. For example, if a lender commits to make a loan and the ultimate lender charges improper fees, the original lender who committed to make the loan may be held responsible for making refunds of those fees. Of course, the ultimate lender may also be liable.

In addition, the Department proposes an amendment at N.J.A.C. 3:1-16.2(d) to codify its current practice of requiring persons to make restitution for fees which are impermissible or improperly charged, and to make refunds when required.

The Department proposes to amend N.J.A.C. 3:2-1.4 to require that the advertisement by a mortgage banker or mortgage broker which does not include the name, address and telephone number of the licensee is a deceptive and misleading practice. Consumers responding to advertisements have the right to know with whom they are dealing, and the address of the licensee. Further, disclosure of this basic information will facilitate the Department's efforts to ensure compliance.

The Department next proposes an amendment at N.J.A.C. 3:38-5.1 to clarify that persons who originate or broker mortgage loans secured by New Jersey residential real estate from outside New Jersey must obtain a license under the Mortgage Bankers and Brokers Act, N.J.S.A. 17:11B-1 et seq. (the "Act"). The Act defines a mortgage loan as "any loan secured by a first mortgage on real property on a one to six family dwelling, a portion which may be used for nonresidential purposes" (see N.J.S.A. 17:11B-1(a)). This section does not specify whether interstate mortgage loans secured by New Jersey property are regulated by the Act. However, in other rules promulgated by the Department concerning first mortgage lending, the Department has indicated that first lien residential mortgage loans secured by New Jersey real property are regulated transactions. See N.J.A.C. 3:1-16.1 which defines "mortgage loan" as any closed-end loan secured by a first mortgage on real property located in New Jersey. The proposed amendment at N.J.A.C. 3:38-5.1 is therefore consistent with this policy.

At N.J.A.C. 3:38-1.3, the proposed amendment requires that a licensee seeking to convert from a mortgage banker to a mortgage banker non-servicing or from a mortgage banker non-servicing to a mortgage banker also submit the licenses of all its licensed individuals and a $25.00 fee for each.

The Department next proposes to change the surety bond amounts required for mortgage bankers and brokers. Currently, the required bond amount ranges from $25,000 to $125,000, depending upon the number of licensed individuals. This system has been a disincentive for banker or brokers to hire individual licensees, a result not intended by the Department. Further, the number and amount of bond claims received by the Department has increased, thereby necessitating an increase in the bond requirements. Finally, the current system requires a licensee to change the bond amount when the number of individual licensees increases or decreases. This is an added administrative cost for the licensee and the Department.

In light of these factors, the Department proposes amendments at N.J.A.C. 3:38-1.6(d) and (e) to set the bonding requirement for mortgage brokers at $50,000, and for mortgage bankers and mortgage bankers non-servicing at $150,000. The amount for mortgage brokers is less because these licensees are only permitted to take application fees prior to closing, and their exposure is therefore also much less.

The Commissioner under these proposed amendments will be authorized to increase the amount of the surety bond based on the following factors: (1) volume of applications; (2) number of complaints received by the Department against the licensee; (3) financial responsibility of the applicant or licensee, including the ability of the applicant or licensee to provide funding for loans; (4) number of branches and licensed individuals; and (5) violations of statutes or regulations disclosed in Departmental examinations.

Current rules, at N.J.A.C. 3:38-1.9(e) require a licensee who relocates a branch office more than 1,500 feet, to file a new branch office application. The Department proposes to delete this provision to allow a licensee to relocate a branch office anywhere within the State.

Social Impact

Requiring licensing of out-of-State mortgage lenders who make loans secured by New Jersey property will have a positive social impact. In particular, New Jersey residents who borrow from these lenders will be afforded the same protections as New Jersey residents who borrow from New Jersey lenders.

Increasing the surety bond will have the positive social impact of providing greater protection to borrowers. Similarly, requiring restitution for licensees who improperly take or retain fees, allows the Department to provide a suitable remedy to consumers who are victimized by the taking of improper fees.

Economic Impact

Requiring licensing of out-of-State licensees requires those persons to submit a license fee and to submit to Departmental examinations. This will have a negative economic impact on those persons and a corresponding economic benefit to the State.

In addition, the proposed amendments at N.J.A.C. 3:38-1.3(g) require a licensee converting between a mortgage banker non-servicing and a mortgage banker, to submit $25.00 for the conversion of each licensed individual. This will have a nominal negative economic impact on licensees.

The Commissioner currently has the authority to order restitution for fees taken which are impermissible or improperly charged, and to order refunds. The proposed amendment at N.J.A.C. 3:1-16.2(d) merely codifies this current practice. Accordingly, it is not expected that it will have an economic impact.

Increasing the amount of the surety bond at N.J.A.C. 3:38-1.6(d) and (e) will have a negative economic impact on the licensee, since the licensee will need to pay added premiums. However, increasing the surety bond will have a positive economic impact on borrowers who seek to file claims against the bond.

The committing lender under the proposed amendments at N.J.A.C. 3:38-5.1 remains responsible for ensuring that the ultimate lender closes the loan in accordance with terms and conditions of the commitment. This proposal will have a negative impact on lenders who are assigning loans to other lenders who are not closing the loan as agreed. In particular, the committing lender will incur the cost of refunding these improper fees and charges. The borrower will have a corresponding positive economic impact.

PROPOSALS

Interested Persons see Inside Front Cover

Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

Most licensees under the Act are small businesses as defined in the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq. Compliance requirements are imposed in the form of licensing for out-of-State lenders making residential mortgage loans secured by New Jersey real estate. In addition, the Department proposes to require licensees to include their name, address and telephone number in advertisements, and to maintain records when they assign a commitment to another lender. Since these requirements are necessary to ensure compliance with the Act and Departmental regulations, no differentiation based on business size is made.

The proposed amendments also permit a licensee to move a branch office more than 1,500 feet without filing a new branch office application, which lessens compliance requirements.

The proposed amendments at N.J.A.C. 3:38-1.3(g) provide for a $25.00 fee for the conversion of each licensed individual converting between a mortgage banker and a mortgage banker non-servicing. Since this fee is intended to reimburse the Department for its administrative expenses, and these expenses exist regardless of the business size, no differentiation based on business size is made.

The increased surety bond requirement will cause the industry to incur costs for increased premiums. The Department has set $150,000 as the minimum amount of the surety bond for mortgage bankers. However, since one of the stated factors for increasing the bond amount is the volume of applications, small businesses are less likely to have such an increase.

It is not expected that these rules will require the need for additional professional services.

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

The Department of Banking proposes to readopt N.J.A.C. 3:33 which is scheduled to expire on September 18, 1994 pursuant to Executive Order No. 66(1978). The Department has reviewed these rules and determined them to be necessary, reasonable and proper for the purpose for which they were originally promulgated. N.J.A.C. 3:33 requires an out-of-State insured institution or out-of-State savings and loan holding company, which intends to acquire and retain control of a New Jersey insured institution or New Jersey savings and loan holding company, to file an application with the Department of Banking.

The application must contain specified information. The Commissioner shall determine whether the applicant is an eligible insured institution or eligible savings and loan holding company, and whether more than 50 percent of the deposits of the applicant's subsidiaries are in insured subsidiaries located in eligible states having reciprocal legislation in effect. The Commissioner shall also determine whether to place any limitations or restrictions on the out-of-State institution's or out-of-State savings and loan company's acquisition of the New Jersey insured institution or New Jersey savings and loan holding company. By having the Commissioner make the specified determination before issuing a certificate of eligibility, the rules help fulfill the legislative intent that the acquisition of New Jersey entities be done in a considered and orderly manner.

Social Impact

The information which is required to be submitted to the Commissioner by these rules will help the Department to make informed decisions regarding transactions to acquire New Jersey insured institutions and New Jersey savings and loan holding companies, and will assist the Department in maintaining regulatory control over the acquisition of New Jersey savings and loan associations and New Jersey savings and loan holding companies.

Economic Impact

The applicant costs involved in meeting the requirements of these rules consist of the fees required under N.J.A.C. 3:33-1.4, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 17:12B-285, and the administrative costs incurred in producing the application materials. Departmental cost for application review is at least partially offset by these fees. The public benefits through the maintenance of a sound banking system.

Regulatory Flexibility Statement

The obligation to comply with these rules falls only on out-of-State insured institutions and savings and loan holding companies. These entities are outside of the intent of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq. Acquisitions by in-State entities are already governed by separate provisions and are subject to the Commissioner's approval. A regulatory flexibility analysis is, therefore, not required.

Full text of the proposed readoption may be found in the New Jersey Administrative Code at N.J.A.C. 3:33.

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

The proposed new rules address the need to control the spread of tuberculosis (TB) which has now risen to epidemic levels. Of particular concern are relatively new forms of drug resistant TB which are difficult and costly to treat.

Almost all cases of TB are curable, provided that the person complies with his or her treatment plan. Incomplete and inadequate treatment not only causes the person continued illness, but also gives rise to new strains of TB that, once having been exposed to the first choice of drugs, become resistant to those drugs and thus more difficult to manage. These strains of TB are known as multiple drug resistant TB (MDR-TB). The total cost of treating one MDR-TB patient can reach $250,000 and some cases are not curable.

Unlike many other illnesses, highly effective treatments for TB are currently available. The purpose of these rules, therefore, is to maximize the utilization of these currently available and highly effective treatments, thereby controlling the spread of this dangerous, costly, and largely preventable disease.

With the advent of effective antibiotic treatment for tuberculosis, the focus of the control of this communicable disease has shifted from an inpatient institutional setting to an outpatient and community setting. In most instances, the TB patient can be treated and cured, and his or her contacts adequately tested and treated on an outpatient basis. The most important determinants in the appropriate treatment facility or setting are the medical status of the person and the willingness and/or capability of the person to comply with his or her prescribed treatment regimen.

Persons who are very ill require more intensive medical care than can be administered on an outpatient basis, and therefore are best treated initially as an inpatient with an acute care hospital. All other persons capable of functioning at an outpatient level can be treated in a less restrictive manner within the existing primary care structure. These rules are to address those components necessary for such treatment to successfully take place.

Outpatient TB care places a strong emphasis on education and communication between the medical care provider and the person to ensure that the person understands how serious tuberculosis is, what will be necessary to cure the disease, and how to prevent its spread. In addition to such education, the communication process and the overall patient-provider relationship will be strengthened through the use of a case management approach. Case managers can work with patients on a one-to-one basis to address all those factors that affect the successful completion of the TB treatment regimen. Using both patient input and documentation of results, case managers can consistently revise the treatment plan to assure the greatest degree of compliance with each person's medication plan.

It is anticipated that the need for detention will be limited to those few instances where all other treatment plans and opportunities fail. This level of care will provide the basis for adequate documentation and description of these exceptional occasions when outpatient treatment cannot be the most appropriate setting for tuberculosis treatment.

Two core principles guide these rules: (1) to protect public health from the spread of disease; and (2) to treat persons having infectious, active, or clinically suspected active TB in the least restrictive environment possible.

These principles are outlined in N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.1.

N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.2 defines the terms applicable to this subchapter.

N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.3 states which events related to tuberculosis are reportable, who is responsible for these reports, to whom and where reports are made, and in what period of time the reports shall be made. Reports of Tuberculosis are authorized under N.J.S.A. 26:4-2c. and N.J.S.A. 26:4-60. Other reporting requirements are needed to stop the spread of TB and MDR-TB and are authorized by N.J.S.A. 26:4-70 et seq.

N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.4 states that each person with active TB shall be assigned a case manager and delineates the responsibilities of the assigned case manager. This section also covers the outreach services that may be provided to persons with active and clinically suspected TB and their close contacts.

N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.5 prescribes how persons believed to have clinically suspected active TB, based on direct observation of a health care provider, shall be required to submit to a diagnostic examination. It further prescribes that close contacts of a person with infectious TB, as defined in N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.2, shall be required to submit to diagnostic examinations. These examinations are necessary to prevent the spread of this communicable disease, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 26:4-2e, N.J.S.A. 26:4-70 and N.J.S.A. 30:9-57.

As stated earlier in this summary, the advent of antibiotic treatment of TB has shifted the focus of treatment from an inpatient institutional setting to an outpatient and community setting. However, for outpatient treatment to be effective and in order to prevent the spread of TB and the development of MDR-TB, it is necessary to carefully manage and monitor the treatment of persons with active TB. N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.6 states the requirements for clinical management of TB on an outpatient basis.

As authorized under N.J.S.A. 26:4-2e. and N.J.S.A. 26:4-70, N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.7 describes the cases in which the local health officer shall issue an order for detention in designated facilities. This section also states that persons detained under this section shall be given notice as to the reasons for detention, shall be given a hearing pursuant to N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.8 and shall be assured due process in accordance with N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.9.

N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.8 states that if any person detained pursuant to these rules requests release, such person shall be afforded the opportunity to be heard in court, in accordance with the authority contained in N.J.S.A. 30:9-57. This hearing will result from the requirement that the health officer shall make an application for a court order authorizing the detention within three business days of the detainee's request for release. The person requesting release may not be held without a court order for more than five business days after such a request. This section also states that any person detained, whether they request release or not, shall not be detained for more than 60 days without a court order and the local health officer shall see further court review within 90 days of each subsequent court order.

N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.9 states the due process rights afforded a person detained under these rules.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 30:9-57 and N.J.S.A. 26:4-70, N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.10 requires that the medical director of the detention facility request the local health officer or the court to terminate the order for detention prior to releasing any person detained under these rules. This request must be accompanied by a discharge plan which conforms to the requirements of this section. This section provides that a person shall be released only when there is no reasonable risk that the person will transmit TB.

N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.11 states that the Commissioner of Health shall designate sufficient detention facilities from among those facilities which submit proposals to the Department. This section also outlines the minimum requirement of these proposals and the way they will be processed by the Commissioner.

N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.12 is proposed, in order to provide guidance to local health officers and to provide a clear and consistent process for health officers to follow during the detention of a person under these rules.

N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.13 states that the Chief of the TB Control Program shall submit an annual report to the Commissioner, describing the trends in prevalence and incidence of TB and MDR-TB in New Jersey.

N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.14 describes the confidentiality associated with the records of a person subject to these rules and the circumstances under which the records may be released.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 26:4-2, N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.15 describes how a local health officer may order a person with known infectious TB to be excluded from attending his or her place of work or school or other premises when it is necessary to protect others from the spread of the disease. It also states the circumstances where the local health officer shall revoke the order for exclusion.

N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.16 describes the authority of a local health officer in the area where a person subject to these rules frequents. In order to preserve the health of the person in question or the public safety, this local health officer may take any action authorized by these rules, but shall notify the health officer with primary responsibility within 72 hours of the actions taken.

N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.17 provides the penalties to be assessed to any person who fails to adhere to any of the provisions of these rules, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 26:4-129 et seq.

Social Impact

The need for these rules is precipitated by an increase in the incidence of TB in the New Jersey-New York metropolitan area, attributed to social problems such as homelessness, drug addiction, alcohol abuse and non-compliant patients. The confluence of these factors is widely recognized as the main contributor giving rise to MDR-TB and the increase in TB in general. Additionally, the AIDS epidemic has exacerbated the problem because persons with AIDS are at a higher risk of becoming infected with and transmitting TB.

These rules strive to strike a delicate balance between the rights to individual liberty and the protection of the public interest through the prevention and control of TB, a devastating air-borne disease. In limited circumstances and under narrowly drawn criteria, persons may be involuntarily detained and/or subject to quarantine.

These rules will have a substantial impact on individuals and families of individuals who require detention. Although the involuntary holding provisions will be invoked infrequently, for those individuals involved the impact of these rules is significant. On the other hand, for persons who would have contracted TB or MDR-TB but for the involuntary quarantine of a non-compliant person with infectious or clinically suspected active TB, there will be a substantial beneficial effect.

Health care providers will also be affected by these rules. The rules require that physicians monitor patient appointment-keeping behavior; take various steps to enforce compliance with the prescribed treatment regimen; and contact the Department and/or local health authorities. Health care providers must also submit reports of new enrollments, terminations, loss of contact and other events to the TB Control Program in the Division of Epidemiology, Environmental and Occupational Health Services.

Economic Impact

Health care providers who treat TB patients and local health officers will have increased administrative costs resulting from the additional reporting, recordkeeping and follow-up required under the rules. The community based outpatient treatment system, which includes case management staff and health care workers, will require funding. Also, there will be administrative costs to the State court system resulting from hearings on long term institutionalization, involuntary detention for TB examinations and review of petitions for release from involuntary institutionalization. Cost of institutional care will also result where such charges are not otherwise reimbursable.

To the extent that more persons with active or clinically suspected active TB seek, or are ordered to seek, treatment, there may also be an increase in testing and laboratory costs affecting patients, their insurers and subsidy programs for the uninsured resulting from mandatory TB examinations and incidental costs of increased patient monitoring.

On the other hand, the substantial cost of MDR-TB treatment (estimated at $250,000 per case) will be avoided and the total cost of drug sensitive TB treatment will be reduced. Because TB disease disproportionately affects the uninsured and underinsured, State and Federal programs that would otherwise pay for this treatment would be the most significant beneficiaries of these savings.

The rules should not cause any new facility construction. Existing structures should be sufficient to handle the low volume of quarantined persons. Moreover, because the purpose of quarantine is isolation and compliance, the detained person will generally not require expensive medical technologies. Instead, existing structures will likely undergo modifications to enable them to house persons requiring either short term or long term detention. The cost of facility modification required to provide adequate custodial care for patients and to sufficiently protect others from transmission of the disease will affect those entities who request participation in the program.

Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

These rules may affect solo private practitioners or group practices, both of which may be considered a "small business" under the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq. These health care providers are required to maintain appointment keeping records, report certain events to authorities, order diagnostic examinations and schedule follow-up appointments. Most of these tasks are normally conducted and thus do not constitute an additional burden. Tasks which are not normally performed include the reporting of certain events to health officers or the Department of Health. These events include refusals to submit to a TB examination, enrollment and termination from outpatient treatment protocols, loss of contact with a TB patient, and medical discharge from involuntary institutionalization. It is not anticipated that these additional administrative tasks will be particularly burdensome and many reportable events will be rare occurrences (for example, refusal to submit to TB examination or medical discharge from involuntary hospitalization). In view of the essential nature of the information to TB control, the additional administrative burden created by the need for such data is unavoidable.

HEALTH*PROPOSALS

It is also possible that facilities responding to the Department's request for proposals for detention sites may be within the scope of the Regulatory Flexibility Act; however, the rules make no administrative or other demands on those entities, and may be completely avoided if the facility decides not to submit a proposal. Arrangements between the Department of Health and providers of involuntary detention places will be in accordance with the request for proposals (RFP) process provided for in the rules, at N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.11. The programs electing to participate in the RFP process will incur minimal administrative and processing costs in the course of the application process. No professional services, such as legal, engineering, or accounting services, are required by these rules.

Because of the need to assure that designated facilities will meet the minimum standards for diagnosis, treatment, and security of the persons confined to the facilities, in order to protect both the public health and welfare and the rights of any individuals confined or treated in accordance with this subchapter, it is not possible to provide differential treatment in these rules for any applicants or other regulated entities which may be small businesses.

Full text of the proposed new rules follows:

SUBCHAPTER 5. CONFINEMENT OF PERSONS WITH TUBERCULOSIS

8:57-5.1 Purpose and scope

(a) The purpose of these rules is to control the spread of tuberculosis, particularly new forms of multiple drug resistant TB (MDR-TB) by maximizing the use of currently available and highly effective treatments.

(b) Local health officers are primarily responsible for implementation of these rules. Physicians and other providers of health care services, including, but not limited to, hospital administrators and emergency medical technicians, also have responsibilities under these rules. These rules apply to persons who have active TB disease or who are suspected by a health care provider or local health officer of having active TB disease.

(c) Two core principles shall be followed in the implementation of these rules:

1. To protect the public from the spread of active TB disease; and
2. To treat persons with active TB or suspected TB in the least restrictive environment.

8:57-5.2 Definitions

The following words and terms, as used in this subchapter, shall have the following meanings, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

"Active TB" means that:

1. A person has a sputum smear or culture taken from a pulmonary or laryngeal source and has tested positive for tuberculosis and the person has not completed an appropriate course of medication for tuberculosis;
2. A smear or culture taken from an extra-pulmonary source on a person has tested positive for tuberculosis and there is clinical evidence or clinical suspicion of pulmonary tuberculosis disease and the person has not completed an appropriate prescribed course of medication for tuberculosis; or
3. In those cases where sputum smears or cultures are unobtainable, the radiographic evidence, in addition to current clinical evidence and/or laboratory tests, is sufficient to establish a medical diagnosis of pulmonary tuberculosis for which treatment is indicated.

"Chief of TB Control" means the Chief of TB Control in the Division of Epidemiology, Environmental and Occupational Health Services, New Jersey Department of Health, or his or her designee.

"Clinically suspected active TB" means a condition in which the person presents a substantial likelihood, as determined by a health care provider, of having active tuberculosis that is infectious, based upon epidemiologic evidence, clinical evidence, x-ray readings, or laboratory test results.

"Close contact" means a person who can be identified by a health care provider or designee or by an agency of the Department of Health, who shares common living, recreational, working, transportation or other areas with a person with infectious TB such that the frequency and/or proximity of those contacts may cause transmission of TB between the two persons.

"Compliance" means that a person takes 80 percent or more of his or her prescribed TB medication. (The term "compliance" is equivalent to the term "adherence," a term often used by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.)

"Commissioner" means the Commissioner of the Department of Health, or his or her designee.

"Designated detention facility or unit" means a health care facility selected by the Commissioner of Health that has submitted a proposal to provide one or more of the following when involuntary detention or quarantine is required under these rules: space for involuntary detention; space and clinical program for involuntary examination; and/or space and clinical program for quarantine and facilities for hearings under this subchapter.

"Directly observed therapy" (DOT) means a methodology for ensuring compliance with medication directions in which a health care provider or designee witnesses the person take his or her prescribed medications.

"Health care provider" means a person who is a direct provider of health care service in that the person's primary activity is the provision of health care services to individuals and, when required by State law, the individual has received professional training in the provision of such services and is licensed or certified for such provision.

"Infectious TB" means the stage of tuberculosis where mycobacterial organisms are capable of being expelled into the air by a person, as determined by laboratory, radiologic, epidemiologic or clinical findings.

"Least restrictive alternatives" means the intervention that limits the person the least, balanced against the risk to the public and individual persons based on the likelihood that TB infection would be spread.

"Local health officer" means a holder of a license as a health officer issued by the State Department of Health in accordance with applicable laws, or his or her duly authorized representative. Unless otherwise indicated, the local health officer who has primary responsibility under these rules is the local health officer of the jurisdiction in which the patient resides.

"Loss of contact" means that two documented attempts on different days and at different times, by a health care provider or designee or by an agent of the Department of Health or local health officer, to conduct a face to face meeting with a person fail because the individual was not at his or her last known residence or designated location. In the case of persons with no current address, last known residence refers to a discrete geographic area in a community in which the person was last seen with some degree of regularity.

"MDR-TB" means multiple drug resistant TB; a form of TB that is resistant to at least isoniazid and rifampin as included in the Joint Statement of the American Thoracic Society and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention: "Treatment of Tuberculosis and Tuberculosis Infection in Adults and Children", March 1993, as amended and supplemented.

"Medical director" means the physician with clinical responsibility for a designated detention facility.

"Social resources" means services which allow the person to successfully complete the prescribed course of treatment, including, but not limited to, food, housing, transportation, and communication.

8:57-5.3 Reportable events

8:57-5.4 Case management and outreach services

(a) The health care provider shall assign a case manager to each person with active TB. The case manager may be the health care provider or his or her designee. The Chief of the TB Control Program shall approve the case manager for each person with active TB who receives services in a public health clinic. The case manager shall have the overall responsibility for monitoring and coordinating the implementation of the person's treatment plan. The case manager shall also assist the person to obtain services from appropriate social service agencies.

(b) The case manager shall provide educational services to persons with active TB. Educational services shall include, but are not limited to:

1. How TB is transmitted;

The local health officer shall provide assistance in outreach activities, as requested by the Chief, TB Control Program.

(d) If, in the judgement of his or her health care provider, a person with clinically suspected active TB or active TB is incapable of understanding in English any communication required by these rules, the health care provider, or, at his or her direction, the case manager, shall notify the local health officer who shall arrange for such communication in a language understood by the person. If, within three days of receipt of such notice, the local health officer documents that an appropriate translation is not available at the local level, he or she shall notify the Chief of the TB Control Program who shall arrange for such translation. The determination of the Chief of the TB Control Program as to the appropriate communication shall be final. This provision shall apply only to communications required by these rules and shall not apply to any other communication arising in the context of the person's treatment.

8:57-5.5 Diagnostic examinations

(a) Where a health care provider, based on direct observation, believes that a person has clinically suspected active TB, the health care provider shall schedule an appointment for a diagnostic examination to be conducted within five business days of such observation.

(b) Persons with clinically suspected active TB shall be informed in writing by their health care provider that:

1. A diagnostic examination is required by law for persons with clinically suspected active TB;

2. Repeated failure to keep appointments for such an examination shall result in involuntary detention for the purpose of conducting the examination; and

3. Transportation assistance to the examination may be available from the local health officer.

(c) Persons with clinically suspected active TB who do not keep their appointment shall be reported to the local health officer who shall contact the person to schedule another appointment. Contacts and attempts to contact shall be documented by the local health officer. An attempt to contact is defined as going to the person's residence or other area which he or she is known to frequent. Attempts should be made on different days or at different times to maximize the opportunity to have face-to-face contact.

(d) Where a health care provider has knowledge that a person has infectious TB, the health care provider shall notify the local health officer within 24 hours of the positive report. The local health officer shall determine whether there are any close contacts that must be examined for TB.

1. If a close contact is identified who currently resides within the health officer's jurisdiction, the local health officer shall schedule the examination within 10 business days of the local health officer's notification.

2. If a close contact resides outside the local health officer's jurisdiction, the local health officer shall notify the Chief, TB Control Program, Division of Epidemiology, Environmental and Occupational Health Services, CN 369, 3635 Quakerbridge Road, Trenton, NJ 08625, FAX (609) 588-7431. Such notification shall be made in writing within three days of the local health officer's knowledge of the close contact.

i. If the close contact resides in New Jersey, the Chief, TB Control Program, shall notify the appropriate local health official who shall be responsible for scheduling the appropriate appointments.

ii. If the close contact resides outside of New Jersey, the Chief, TB Control Program, shall notify the appropriate state authorities.

iii. The residence of the close contact is defined as the contact's address, last known whereabouts or a discrete geographic area in a community in which the person was last seen with some degree of regularity.

(e) The appropriate local health officer shall schedule a diagnostic examination for TB for each close contact. The local health officer shall notify the contact of the time, place, purpose, and mandatory nature of the exam. Notification shall be made in all cases by mail, and by telephone whenever possible.

(f) If the contact does not keep the scheduled appointment, the local health officer shall reschedule the examination within 72 hours of the missed appointment. Notification of the rescheduled appointment shall be made in all cases by certified mail, return receipt requested, and by telephone or face-to-face contact whenever possible.

HEALTH*PROPOSALS

(g) If the contact does not keep the rescheduled appointment, the local health officer shall make and document at least two attempts to establish a face-to-face contact. Attempts are defined as going to the person's primary residence or last known whereabouts to establish a face-to-face contact. Attempts should be made on different days and at different times to maximize the opportunity to obtain a face-to-face contact.

(h) A contact who has either specifically communicated refusal to submit to a diagnostic examination, or who has missed two scheduled appointments for a diagnostic examination and who has not had a face-to-face contact with the local health officer after two attempts, shall be detained in a detention facility or unit for a diagnostic examination by order of the local health officer. The contact shall be advised of his or her rights under N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.9 before or concurrently with detention.

(i) A person who is detained solely for the purpose of a diagnostic examination shall not continue to be detained beyond the reasonable period of time, with the exercise of all due diligence required, to make a medical determination of whether the person has active or infectious tuberculosis.

(j) A diagnostic examination for a person with active, infectious or clinically suspected active TB shall consist of at least an appropriate physical examination, a chest x-ray and a mycobacterial test. A diagnostic examination for a close contact shall consist of a Mantoux tuberculin skin test and, if medically appropriate, a chest x-ray.

8:57-5.6 Clinical management of TB; outpatient basis

(a) Where a person is diagnosed with active TB, the health care provider shall immediately develop and implement a prescribed outpatient treatment plan. The person's case manager shall have the overall responsibility for monitoring and coordinating the implementation of the person's treatment plan.

(b) Each plan shall begin with 10 doses of medication under Directly Observed Therapy (DOT). After 10 doses of medication have been observed, the health care provider shall evaluate the person to determine whether the person is able and willing to follow an unobserved outpatient treatment plan or should continue on DOT. The health care provider shall monitor the medication of a person or unobserved therapy at least weekly.

(c) If a person is unable or unwilling to follow an unobserved prescribed outpatient treatment plan, the health care provider shall request the local health officer to order DOT. Indications of the need for DOT include, but are not limited to:

1. Reasonable belief that the person is not complying with the prescribed treatment plan; or
2. An appointment keeping rate under 80 percent. The appointment keeping rate is the number of kept appointments divided by the number of scheduled appointments.

(d) DOT patients shall be informed by their case manager and health care providers that DOT services will be available at a prescribed time and place. DOT patients shall be informed that they may request a reasonable change in the time and place of their DOT. Changes in time and place shall be made by the case manager, based on the patient's needs and the availability of resources.

(e) A health care provider shall recommend to the local health officer that the order for DOT be revoked if the health provider determines that the person no longer has active TB or the person is able and willing to comply with the prescribed treatment regimen without DOT. The local health officer shall base the decision to revoke DOT on the health care provider's recommendation, the patient's record, and, if deemed necessary by the local health officer, independent review by another health care provider.

8:57-5.7 Grounds for detention

(a) A local health officer shall issue an order for detention in a designated detention facility or unit in the following cases:

1. A person with clinically suspected active TB who has clearly expressed refusal to comply, or who has failed to comply, with the diagnostic examination requirements of N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.5;

2. A close contact of a person with active TB who has clearly expressed refusal to comply or who has failed to comply with the diagnostic examination requirements of N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.5;

3. A person with active TB who has not complied with an order for DOT. Compliance is defined as keeping 80 percent of DOT appointments;

4. A person with active TB who has clearly expressed non-compliance with a prescribed treatment regimen. This may include, but is not limited to, refusal to cooperate with clinical staff during examination or voiced intent not to cooperate with diagnosis or treatment;

5. A person with infectious TB who is unable or unwilling to comply with a prescribed treatment regimen and infection control requirements;

6. A person with MDR-TB who is unable or unwilling to comply with infection control requirements; or

7. Where the Commissioner has determined that the public health, or the health of any other person, is endangered by a case of tuberculosis or suspected case of tuberculosis.

(b) Persons detained under this section shall be given a notice of the reasons for the detention and the opportunity for a hearing pursuant to N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.8, and due process in accordance with N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.9.

8:57-5.8 Hearing process

(a) The local health officer may remove to or detain in a hospital, detention facility, or detention unit a person who is the subject of a local health officer's order issued under N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.7, without prior court order, in accordance with N.J.S.A. 26:4-2e. If a person detained under such an order requests release, the local health officer shall make an application for a court order authorizing such detention within three business days after such request, in accordance with N.J.S.A. 30:9-57. After any such request for release, detention shall not continue for more than five business days without a court order. In no event shall any person be detained for more than 60 days without a court order authorizing such detention. The local health officer shall seek further court review of such detention within 90 days of the original court order. The local health officer shall seek further court review within 90 days of each subsequent court order.

(b) In any court proceeding under (a) above the local health officer seeking detention shall prove each required element for such detention by clear and convincing evidence.

(c) The required elements for an order issued under this section are:

1. A statement of the legal authority under which the order is issued;
2. Documentation of medical evidence indicating the presence of active TB and an assessment of the person's medical condition;
3. An individualized assessment of the person's circumstances and/or behavior constituting the basis for the issuance of the order; and

8:57-5.10 Discharge plan

(a) When the medical director of the detention facility or his or her designee has determined that a person no longer poses a reasonable risk of transmitting any form of TB and that the person is able and willing to comply with his or her discharge plan, defined below, the medical director of the detention facility or his or her designee shall, within 24 hours, request the local health officer or the court who issued the detention order to terminate the detention order. This request shall include a copy of the discharge plan. The determination that a person no longer poses a reasonable risk of transmitting TB shall be based on the following factors:

1. Three consecutive negative sputum smears taken at medically appropriate intervals; and

2. Significant reduction of symptoms.

(b) The local health officer, in consultation with the Chief of the TB Control Program, shall determine whether the discharge and the discharge plan are acceptable within three days of receiving notice under this subsection. This determination shall be based on the principle of least restrictive alternatives and take into account the medical and social resources available to the person. This determination shall be provided to the medical director of the detention facility in writing and shall include the reasons for approving or denying the discharge and discharge plan.

(c) The local health officer shall keep the discharge plan on file.

(d) The discharge plan shall, at a minimum, provide the name and address of the person; a detailed description of the prescribed case management plans; a description of the person's living situation, including, but not limited to, source of support, persons living in the same household, next of kin, and arrangements with community organizations; and the name and address of a health care provider(s) who will provide necessary care, including, but not limited to, assignment of a case manager, clinical case management, DOT and other services necessary to implement the prescribed treatment plan. The discharge plan shall include at least one scheduled appointment with the health care provider(s).

8:57-5.11 Detention facilities

(a) The Commissioner shall designate sufficient detention facilities or units of facilities from among those facilities submitting proposals in accordance with (b) below.

(b) Proposals shall include at least the following:

1. Medical services available to TB patients, including diagnostic services and medical care for non-TB related illnesses;

2. The qualifications of professional medical staff providing services to TB patients;

3. The security plan, policies and procedures for proposed TB services;

4. A quality assurance plan for TB services; and

5. A location for court hearings.

(c) Within 60 days of the adoption of these rules, the Commissioner shall issue a request for proposals for designation as a detention facility or detention unit of a facility.

(d) The Commissioner shall consider the following in designating detention facilities or units:

1. The geographic incidence and prevalence rates of TB;

2. The quality and appropriateness of the proposed TB service;

3. Costs and financial viability of the facility or units; and

4. Other criteria identified in the request for proposals.

8:57-5.12 Procedures for detention by local health officers

(a) The local health officer may request assistance from the local police department(s) if the local health officer determines that there is a reasonable likelihood that a person will attempt to avoid detention based on an order issued pursuant to N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.7.

(b) If assistance is requested, the local health officer shall provide the police with the order under which the detention is authorized. The police may provide necessary assistance before receiving a copy of the order.

(c) If assistance is requested, the local health officer shall inform the police department of the name, address or last known location, and a description of the physical characteristics of the person.

(d) The local health officer shall develop, in consultation with the local police department, a protocol for police assistance which includes the types of assistance which may be requested of the local police department and guidance on appropriate situations for use of emergency medical service personnel.

The report shall also include descriptive statistics showing the frequency and trends of those Reportable Events listed in N.J.A.C. 8:57-5.3. The first report shall be issued 12 months after the effective date of these rules and subsequent reports shall be due yearly after that date.

8:57-5.14 Confidentiality of records

(a) Medical or other information included in the case record(s) about any person subject to these rules, or information concerning reportable events pursuant to any section of these rules, shall not be disclosed except under the following circumstances:

1. For research purposes, provided that the study is reviewed and approved by applicable health care facility, State and Federal review boards and is done in a manner that does not identify any person, either by name or other identifying data element;

2. With written consent of the person identified;

3. When the Commissioner determines that such disclosure is necessary to enforce public health laws or to protect the life or health of a named party, in accordance with applicable State and Federal laws; or

4. Pursuant to a valid court order.

(a) The local health officer may, pursuant to this subsection, order that a person with known infectious TB shall be excluded from attending his or her place of work or school, or shall be excluded from other premises, where the local health officer determines, after a review of the facts and circumstances of the particular case, that such an action is necessary to protect others from the spread of the disease.

(b) If a person excluded from a work place or school, in accordance with N.J.S.A. 26:4-2, requests a review of the order, the local health officer shall make an application for a court order authorizing such exclusion within three business days after such request. After any such request, exclusion shall not continue more than five business days without a court order. In no case shall a person be excluded from a workplace, school or other premises for more than 60 days without a court order authorizing such exclusion. The local health officer shall seek further court review of such exclusion within 90 days of the original court order or each subsequent court order.

(c) In any court proceeding under (b) above, the local health officer shall prove each required element for such exclusion by clear and convincing evidence.

(d) The required elements for an order issued by a local health officer under this section are:

1. A statement of the legal authority under which the order is issued;

2. Documentation of medical evidence indicating the presence of infectious TB and an assessment of the person's medical condition;

3. An individualized assessment of the person's circumstances and/or behavior constituting the basis for the issuance of the order; and

4. The less restrictive alternatives that were attempted and/or the less restrictive alternatives that were considered and rejected, and the reasons such alternatives were rejected.

(e) The local health officer shall revoke the order for exclusion based on the following elements:

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

The New Jersey Higher Education Assistance Authority (NJHEAA) is statutorily responsible for the administration of Federally guaranteed loan programs in New Jersey and the New Jersey College Loans to Assist State Students Loan Program (NJCLASS). N.J.S.A. 18A:72-1 et seq. The NJHEAA proposes to amend the rules governing eligibility for NJCLASS loans for several reasons: consistency with recent changes in relevant provisions of the Higher Education Act of 1965 and United States Department of Education (ED) regulations issued thereunder, consistency with broadened access and fiscal stability policies underlying the NJCLASS program, and clarity of eligibility criteria.

The NJHEAA proposes to amend N.J.A.C. 9:9-7.1(a) by expanding the definition of "parent borrower" so that it includes "other relative," simplifying the definition of "eligible collegiate institution," and adding the definitions of "co-signer" and "reaffirmation." The changes would be consistent with NJCLASS policy of increasing access to higher education by expanding the class of eligible borrowers, and at the same time, ensuring fiscal stability of the program by not tilting the class toward borrowers who are not creditworthy.

The NJHEAA proposes to amend N.J.A.C. 9:9-7.2(a) by deleting language dealing with the discharge of student loans and adding language focusing on financial reasons for ineligibility and the criteria for creditworthiness set forth in the NJCLASS loan application. The rationale for this change is to avoid excluding applicants who have had loans discharged for non-default reasons (for example, closed school), and to focus the issue of eligibility on the financial criteria for creditworthiness set forth in the NJCLASS application.

The NJHEAA also proposes a change to N.J.A.C. 9:9-7.2(a) to increase the access to NJCLASS loans for applicants with prior Federal Family Education Loans (FFEL) or NJCLASS loans discharged by reason of total and permanent disability, as defined in 34 CFR 682.200. This change incorporates two NJHEAA policies: (1) the belief that qualified students with disabilities are entitled to equal access to financial aid available to the general student population; and (2) the belief that NJCLASS applicants must be creditworthy. NJCLASS loans are intended to assist students to attend school. They are not intended to permit applicants whose FFEL loans were discharged by reason of total and permanent disability to avoid their Federal obligations by borrowing under a State program.

Accordingly, the NJHEAA proposes to add language to N.J.A.C. 9:9-7.2(a) to ensure that the appropriate beneficiaries have access to NJCLASS loans. Applicants or students (students on whose behalf another borrower is applying for a NJCLASS loan) with prior loans discharged by reason of total and permanent disability would be permitted access to NJCLASS loans by reaffirming the prior debt and by obtaining a certification from a physician that the applicant's or student's condition has improved and that the applicant or student is able to engage in substantial gainful activity. These two steps closely mirror requirements for FFEL eligibility set forth in 34 CFR 682.201. For consistency with FFEL eligibility, NJHEAA also proposes to add United States citizenship/permanent resident status requirements to N.J.A.C. 9:9-7.2(a) and (b). As a result of these added provisions, N.J.A.C. 9:9-7.2(a)1 through 3 and (b)1 through 3 are recodified.

The NJHEAA proposes to amend N.J.A.C. 9:9-7.2(b) and 7.3(a) to clarify the supplemental nature of the NJCLASS program. N.J.A.C. 9:9-7.2(b) is also amended to reflect the change of name from "Federal Stafford Loan" to "Federal Family Education Loan," as provided in the Higher Education Amendments of 1992, effective July 23, 1992.

Social Impact

The proposed amendments ensure that NJCLASS loans will be available to a broadened class of borrowers to assist in the financing of higher education costs without compromising the fiscal stability of the program or the purposes of the program to supplement the FFEL program.

Economic Impact

Because of the reasons given under the Social Impact above, the proposed amendments are expected to provide a clear economic benefit to students by ensuring greater access to NJCLASS loans while imposing no economic burden on the NJCLASS program.

Regulatory Flexibility Statement

A regulatory flexibility analysis is not required because the proposed amendments do not impose reporting, recordkeeping or other compliance requirements on small businesses as defined by the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:13B-16 et seq. The proposed amendments impact individual loan recipients and the Authority only.

Full text of the proposed amendments follows (additions indicated in boldface thus; deletions indicated in brackets [thus]):

9:9-7.1 Definitions

(a) The following words and terms, when used in this subchapter, shall have the following meanings, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

"Eligible collegiate institution" or "school" or "college" means a college or university approved or licensed by the State [Board of Higher Education] or accredited by a regional accrediting association recognized by the Council on Postsecondary Accreditation and having a New Jersey cohort default rate of 20 percent or less.

"Parent borrower" means a parent(s), spouse, [or], legal guardian or other relative of a dependent undergraduate or graduate student.

"Reaffirmation" means the acknowledgment of the loan by the borrower or co-signer in a legally binding manner.

(b) The minimum amount which may be borrowed is $500.00.

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

The Division of Consumer Affairs is proposing new subchapter N.J.A.C. 13:45A-28, Motor Vehicle Leasing, in order to implement the "Truth in Motor Vehicles Leasing Act," P.L. 1993, c.328 (N.J.S.A. 56:12-50 et seq.) (the "Act"). The new rules set forth both disclosure requirements and certain requirements that pertain to leasing practices, such as payment or trade-in pending execution of lease agreement, security deposit, end of term liability, and reinstatement. The new rules will in their entirety enable consumers to be better served by motor vehicle leasing transactions, which are unmatched in their complexity by any other ordinary consumer transaction.

N.J.A.C. 13:45A-28.1 sets forth the purpose and scope of these rules, and N.J.A.C. 13:45A-28.2 provides definitions. N.J.A.C. 13:45A-28.3 delineates those individuals engaging in the business of motor vehicle leasing who need to be licensed pursuant to N.J.S.A. 39:10-19, including anyone who in the course of any 12-month period offers to lease or leases in New Jersey more than three motor vehicles.

N.J.A.C. 13:45A-28.4, Notification, lease disclosure statement, sets forth the information to be contained in a lease agreement in order to ensure that consumers who choose to lease a motor vehicle are sufficiently conversant with the details of the contractual obligations that they will be assuming. The requirements of this section can be categorized as follows:

Certain provisions require the disclosure of information deemed essential to a complete lease disclosure statement, including motor vehicle year, make, model and operational features; prior usage should the odometer be in excess of 300 miles; the names and addresses of all parties to the lease agreement; the total cost to the consumer upon early termination of the lease; and all other fees and charges for which the consumer may be liable under the terms of the lease.

Other provisions require disclosure to emphasize crucial lease details and to avoid situations in which consumers claim to have signed the agreement without knowing its most basic terms. Accordingly, subsection (e) requires that the lease provide in at least 10-point bold type in the space immediately preceding the lessee's signature the total cost of the lease, the periodic or monthly payment, and any purchase option price.

Finally, this section on disclosure sets forth a select number of injunctions. One is that the lessors may charge only for fees and charges disclosed in advance. Another concerns liability of the lessee in the event the motor vehicle is determined to be a total loss prior to the lease termination date (gap liability). Lessors must explain the consumer's gap liability in simple, clear, easily readable language, and set forth any option the consumer may have to pay for a gap waiver. Other injunctions include the following: the lease agreement may contain blank spaces provided that such spaces are immediately followed by language explaining that if no amount is inserted, a specific cost or rate will be applied; the lease may not contain a waiver by the consumer of claims the consumer may have against the dealer or lessor; and the lease must comply with the Plain Language Law.

N.J.A.C. 13:45A-28.5, Payment or trade-in pending execution of lease agreement, is being proposed to guard against instances in which consumers have apparently been given to understand that they have a finalized lease agreement, only to discover that their lease was contingent on credit approval. If such approval is withheld, consumers suffer both the logistical inconvenience of finding themselves without the "leased" motor vehicle and the expense of paying a rental fee for the time that they drove the motor vehicle. To avoid other instances in which consumers denied credit approval claim to have been told that they might retain the already "leased" vehicle provided they agreed to more onerous lease terms, this section prohibits the lessor from conveying possession of the motor vehicle to the consumer until all contract contingencies have been met.

N.J.A.C. 13:45A-28.6, End of term liability; security deposit, addresses the end of lease term liability settlements (that is, excess wear or damage claims) that result in disputes between the lessor and lessee and instances in which a consumer's security deposit is not returned in a timely manner. According to complainants, lessors allege wear or damage claims of a magnitude that strikes consumers as unfair and often even as a coercive incentive for them to "flip" or agree to another lease so as to avoid or negotiate a reduction of the lessor's claims. For their part, lessors maintain that consumers frequently fail to take adequate care of leased vehicles and leave the lessor with no choice but to assert such excess wear or damage claims in order to compensate for the vehicle's reduced value.

Accordingly, this section sets forth a method for resolving disputed excess wear or damage claims and for the return of the consumer's security deposit pursuant to such resolution. Prior to charging, receiving or collecting an assessment for excess wear or damage, the lessor must inform the consumer in writing of the consumer's right to obtain a second itemized estimate, without which the lessor's estimate will be considered valid after 10 days. If the initial itemized estimate is challenged by the consumer, the consumer has 15 additional days in which to secure a second itemized estimate. Should the evidence provided by these two estimates fail to provide the basis on which the lessor and consumer can reach settlement as to what constitutes reasonable wear and damage claims, then an action may be filed in Superior Court by either party.

N.J.A.C. 13:45A-28.7, Reinstatement, enables a consumer who has been in default of payment only once during the course of a lease to be reinstated provided that all past due periodic payments, late fees and costs associated with any repossession will be paid by the consumer to the lessor. Otherwise reliable consumers will be able to maintain the continuity of their lease while lessors will be able to both retain a business relationship with the consumer and to ensure that reinstatement will not become an avenue to assuming unreasonable risks.

N.J.A.C. 13:45A-28.8, Regulation M; Consumer Fraud Act, sets forth that a violation of either Federal regulation M (which addresses leasing) or the New Jersey Consumer Fraud Act is a violation of the Truth in Motor Vehicles Leasing Act.

Social Impact

Some leasing industry analysts have projected that by the end of the century, half of all new motor vehicles on the market in this country will be leased rather than sold to consumers. Thus the social impact of these motor vehicle leasing rules (which are the first to be implemented in any state) promises to be significantly beneficial to consumers, while also clarifying for lessors their obligations and rights under the Act. Due to the disclosure requirements contained in N.J.A.C. 13:45A-28.4, consumers will be assured of receiving specific essential information in terms the consumer can readily understand in order to facilitate better informed decision making.

N.J.A.C. 13:45A-28.5 will safeguard consumers against repossession of the vehicle due to denied credit approval.

N.J.A.C. 13:45A-28.6 is expected to ensure the timely return of a consumer's security deposit and have the not coincidental social benefit to consumers of reaffirming their opportunity to secure a second itemized estimate in those instances in which they consider the lessor's original estimate to be egregious.

N.J.A.C. 13:45A-28.7 is expected to be socially beneficial to consumers by ensuring that they will be allowed to be reinstated once during the term of the lease should they be in default of periodic payment.

Economic Impact

N.J.A.C. 13:45A-28.4 will have an economic impact on lessors to the extent that these disclosure standards will require revision of lease contracts. To minimize any expense that disclosure compliance may entail, prior usage may be disclosed by use of check-off boxes designating categories such as demonstrator, taxi, daily rental, police, prior wreckage or unknown. Similarly, disclosures required by subsection (e) must be in typeface that is at least 10-point bold in order to provide a standard reasonable to lessors while simultaneously beneficial to consumers.

N.J.A.C. 13:45A-28.5 may have a beneficial economic impact on consumers by protecting them against instances in which denied credit approval means that they will, in effect, have to pay a rental fee for the vehicle that they had presumably leased.

N.J.A.C. 13:45A-28.6 is expected to be economically beneficial to consumers in terms of its overall impact because it reminds them that they have the recourse of obtaining a second itemized estimate if confronted with seemingly egregious excess wear and damage claims based on the lessor's original itemized estimate. Consumers who choose to obtain a second itemized estimate will, however, typically need to expend approximately $100.00.

This section will also have an economic impact on those lessors who do not already validate their claims with an itemized estimate provided by an unaffiliated appraiser or autobody shop licensed in the state of New Jersey and who will thus be required to secure such an estimate at a typical cost of $65.00. Furthermore, this section will have an economic impact on all lessors in that they will be required to hold the motor vehicle in question for an additional 15 days if the consumer chooses to arrange for a second itemized estimate.

The costs cited above may not necessarily be incurred, however, since an auto-body shop will frequently not charge for an estimate provided that the repair work upon which that estimate is based is performed there. Accordingly, either the consumer or the lessor may not need to incur the expense of an itemized estimate (based on which of the two auto-body shops is authorized to perform repairs related to the settlement of an excessive wear or damage claim).

N.J.A.C. 13:45A-28.7 is expected to have a nominal economic impact on lessors in that if they do not choose to personally deliver to the defaulted consumer a notice that he or she has an opportunity for reinstatement, then such notice must be sent by both first-class and certified mail.

Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

New Jersey has approximately 750 dealerships and 100 independent licensing companies engaged in the business of leasing motor vehicles. Since, for the purposes of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq., all of these dealerships and companies are likely to be deemed "small businesses," then within the meaning of the statute the following statement is applicable:

N.J.A.C. 13:45A-28.4 is expected to result in professional service costs for lessors who need to bring their lease agreements into compliance with the proposed disclosure standards and who may retain the services of legal counsel in order to do so. Costs will necessarily vary depending on the degree to which the lessor's current lease agreement reflects the disclosure standards embodied in this proposal and on the going rate for the services of the legal counsel that a lessor may retain for this purpose.

N.J.A.C. 13:45A-28.6 will involve other professional costs for lessors, who may now for the first time need to arrange for either an unaffiliated appraiser or an auto-body shop licensed in the State to provide an itemized estimate of excess wear or damage to the leased motor vehicle. This section may also involve other costs of compliance because lessors will, in instances of a contested estimate, need to retain the motor vehicle for 15 days so that the consumer may arrange for a second itemized estimate.

N.J.A.C. 13:45A-28.7 may involve other nominal costs of compliance for lessors in that if they do not choose to personally deliver to the defaulted consumer a notice that he or she has an opportunity for reinstatement, then such notice must be sent by both first-class and certified mail.

The Office of Consumer Protection considers these provisions to be reasonable and to be the minimum necessary in order to be in compliance with the "Truth in Motor Vehicles Leasing Act" and to protect consumers. Therefore, these provisions must be uniformly applied to all independent leasing companies and new car dealerships engaged in motor vehicle leasing without differentiation as to size of practice.

Full text of the proposed new rules follows:

SUBCHAPTER 28. MOTOR VEHICLE LEASING*13:45A-28.1 Purpose and scope

(a) This subchapter implements the "Truth in Motor Vehicles Leasing Act," P.L. 1993, c.328 (N.J.S.A. 56:12-50 et seq.) (the "Act").

(b) This subchapter is applicable to any person who in the ordinary course of business is engaged in New Jersey in the leasing of motor vehicles or who in the course of any 12-month period offers in New Jersey more than three motor vehicles for lease.

13:45A-28.2 Definitions

"Day" means a calendar day, except that where a period of time ends on a Sunday or holiday, the last day of that period shall be the next business day.

"Dealer" means a person who, in the ordinary course of business, is engaged in New Jersey in the leasing of motor vehicles or who in the course of any 12-month period offers to lease or leases in New Jersey more than three motor vehicles.

LAW AND PUBLIC SAFETY

"Disposition fees" means fees imposed if the lessor has to dispose of the vehicle either at early termination or upon scheduled termination of the lease.

"End of the term of the lease" means the scheduled termination of the lease and not early termination resulting from, for example, a lessee default or the lessee's purchase of the vehicle prior to the scheduled termination of the lease.

"Excess wear or damage" means wear or damage beyond that expected to be incurred in normal circumstances.

"Gap liability" means the liability of the lessee in the event the motor vehicle is determined to be a total loss or stolen and not recovered prior to the lease termination date.

"Lease" means a contract or other agreement between a lessor and a lessee for the use of a motor vehicle by the lessee for a period of time exceeding 60 days, whether or not the lessee has the option to purchase or otherwise become the owner of the motor vehicle at the end of the term of the lease.

(h) Should the lessor and lessee subsequently fail to agree as to what constitutes a fair charge for any claims of excess wear or damage, either or both parties may then file an action in Superior Court.

(i) Within five days of the final determination of liability, the lessor shall return to the lessee any unused portion of the security deposit.

13:45A-28.7 Reinstatement

The notice of reinstatement shall clearly and conspicuously advise that the lessee has 15 days to reinstate the lease by paying all past due periodic payments, late fees and, if the motor vehicle has been repossessed, the costs to the lessor of repossessing, transporting and storing the motor vehicle.

(b) Upon payment within the 15-day period to the lessor of the amounts due, the lease will be reinstated as if the lessee had not been in default of payment.

(c) The lessor shall not be required to reinstate a lessee more than once during the term of the lease.

(d) The lessee shall waive the right to reinstatement if the motor vehicle has been seized or an action for its seizure and/or forfeiture has been commenced by any governmental agency or authority under color of any state or Federal law or regulation, or if the lessee is in default based on failure to insure the vehicle.

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

Under the "sunset" and other provisions of Executive Order No. 66(1978), N.J.A.C. 16:21A, New Jersey Bridge Rehabilitation and Improvement Fund: State Aid to Counties and Municipalities, will expire on November 20, 1994. The rule was proposed as new rules upon expiration with technical changes at N.J.A.C. 16:21A-1.3, which appeared at 21 N.J.R. 3674(a); effective November 20, 1989. During the five years of operation, the Department has experienced no problems or controversy with the rules as was amended.

These rules were proposed to implement provisions and purposes of the New Jersey Bridge Rehabilitation and Improvement Bond Act of 1983, P.L. 1983, c.363, effective October 4, 1983. The Department in compliance with the provisions of the Bond Act and applicable rules must ensure and maintain a safe and reliable transportation system. Additionally, a safe and reliable system of rail and road transportation is essential to the well-being of the citizens and the economy of the State.

The funds under the Act were appropriated by the Legislature as the State's share of the cost for construction, reconstruction, replacement, improvement, repair or rebuilding of bridges carrying county or municipal roads, including railroad overhead bridges. Although the funds from this Bond Act were appropriated in 1983, there remains a nominal sum of money that needs to be dispersed for projects that have not been completed. The Department is in the process of trying to close out these accounts; however, until such time, these rules need to be readopted once more so we can continue this program and close out these accounts.

The Bureau of Local Aid Highway Design has, therefore, reviewed these rules and has determined them to be necessary, reasonable, and proper for the purpose of which they were originally promulgated.

The subchapters are summarized as follows:

N.J.A.C. 16:21A-1 outlines the general provisions of the rules.

N.J.A.C. 16:21A-2 prescribes the responsibility of the local government in the preparation of plans and specifications.

N.J.A.C. 16:21A-3 provides the procedure to be followed in the awarding of contracts.

N.J.A.C. 16:21A-4 describes the cost sharing or cost participation by the responsible agency.

N.J.A.C. 16:21A-5 establishes guidelines concerning audits to be undertaken by counties and municipalities which are the recipients of State grants and aid programs and Federal pass-through funds.

The Department therefore proposes to readopt N.J.A.C. 16:21A in compliance with P.L. 1983, c.363, the New Jersey Bridge Rehabilitation and Improvement Bond Act of 1983.

Social Impact

The proposed readoption will continue to provide a source of revenues to the State and local government in the rehabilitation and improvement of bridges. The rules will also assist in providing a safe and reliable system of rail and road transportation which is essential to the well-being of the citizens and the economy of the State.

Economic Impact

The Department and local government will incur direct and indirect cost for its workforce in the processing of plans and specifications, cost of engineering, contractual agreements and cost sharing regarding the specific rehabilitation or improvement project. Audit costs incurred by the municipality will be borne by the municipality.

Regulatory Flexibility Statement

The proposed reoption does not place any bookkeeping, recordkeeping or compliance requirements on small businesses as the term is defined by the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq. The rules primarily affect counties and municipalities.

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

The Department of Transportation proposes to establish a new rule at N.J.A.C. 16:30-3.12 concerning turning movements along Rising Sun Road (under State jurisdiction) to effect a two-way center lane for left turns only in Bordentown Township, Burlington County. This new rule has been codified in compliance with the Department's rulemaking format. The provisions of this new rule will improve the flow of traffic and enhance safety along the highway system.

This rule is being proposed in conjunction with the reconstruction of Rising Sun Road (under State jurisdiction) between Route I-295 and Old York Road, and a study made by the Department's Region III Design, that determined that a two-way center lane for left turns only, was warranted in the interest of traffic safety. The traffic investigations conducted by the Department's Bureau of Traffic Engineering and Safety Programs concluded that the establishment of the two-way center lane for left turns only restriction along Rising Sun Road in Bordentown Township, Burlington County, were warranted. Signs are required to notify motorists of the restrictions proposed herein.

Social Impact

The proposed new rule will establish a center lane for left turns only along Rising Sun Road in Bordentown Township, Burlington County, to improve traffic safety. Appropriate signs will be erected to advise the motoring public.

Economic Impact

The Department and local government will incur direct and indirect costs for mileage, personnel and equipment requirements. The Department will bear the costs for the installation of the appropriate regulatory signs. The costs involved in the installation and procurement of signs vary, depending upon the material used, size and method of procurement. Motorists who violate the rules will be assessed the appropriate fine in accordance with the "Statewide Violations Bureau Schedule," issued under New Jersey Court Rule 7:7-3.

Regulatory Flexibility Statement

The proposed new rule does not place any reporting, recordkeeping or compliance requirements on small businesses as the term is defined by the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq. The proposed new rule primarily affects the motoring public and the governmental entities responsible for the enforcement of the rules.

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

The proposed amendment at N.J.A.C. 16:53D-1.1 implements N.J.S.A. 48:4-2.20 through 2.25 which direct the Commissioner of the Department of Transportation to establish a Zone of Rate Freedom (ZORF) for the regular route private autobus carriers operating within the State. The ZORF constitutes a limited percentage range to be set annually by the Commissioner in which regular route private autobus carriers may be permitted to adjust their rates, fares or charges without petitioning the Department for prior approval. Provided the autobus carrier remains within the designated percentage range, all that is required is notice to the Department and the riding public of the rate, fare or charge adjustment prior to the effective date. If, however, the regular route autobus carrier seeks a percentage adjustment greater than that provided for in the ZORF, such autobus carrier will be required to follow the standard petitioning procedures, as specified in N.J.S.A. 48:2-21 and N.J.A.C. 16:51-3.10 and 3.11.

After extensive review of the ZORF and its relationship to regular route private autobus carrier costs, revenues and fare structures, the Department proposes to amend the current ZORF. The percentage limitations contained in the 1995 proposal are scaled in consideration of the varying fares currently charged by intrastate regular route private autobus operations.

The percentages set forth in the 1995 proposal do not apply to casino or regular route in the nature of special, charter and special autobus service operating within the State. Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 48:4-2.25, the Commissioner is authorized to exempt casino or regular route in the nature of special, charter and special autobus operations from the purview of the rate regulation. In accordance with said authority, the Commissioner continues to so exempt casino or regular route in the nature of special, charter and special autobus operations within the State during the calendar year of 1995, subject to the existing conditions regarding notices to the public and filings with the Department.

Social Impact

The proposed 1995 ZORF Percentage amendment will enable private autobus carriers, in most cases, to modify regular route fares as may be required without incurring administrative hearing costs, while also limiting the chance for uncontestable fare increases to adversely impact on the public. In the Department's opinion, the fare changes permitted by the proposed 1995 ZORF will not be burdensome to the public or regular route private autobus companies.

Economic Impact

The proposed 1995 Percentage amendment will afford privately owned autobus companies flexibility in regular route fare adjustment. Such carriers will not have to incur costly and time consuming petition procedures when their proposed fare adjustments are consistent with that allowed.

Regulatory Flexibility Statement

A number of the autobus carriers affected by the proposed amendment are small businesses, as that term is defined under the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq. The proposed amendment does not place any new reporting or recordkeeping requirements on such autobus carriers. First time autobus carriers commencing operations will have to meet the reporting and recordkeeping requirements otherwise established by law for autobus carriers. The proposed amendment sets raised limits on rate modifications for which compliance with N.J.A.C. 16:53D-3.10 and 3.11 is not required.

16:53D-1.1 General provisions

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

In accordance with the "Sunset" and other provisions of Executive Order 66(1978), N.J.A.C. 17:12 is due to expire on October 13, 1994. The Department of the Treasury proposes to readopt, without amendments, N.J.A.C. 17:12 concerning the procedures for bidding for supplies and services necessary for the administration of State Government. This proposed readoption is necessary to permit the business of the State to continue without interruption.

These rules effectively set forth the various bidding and award requirements imposed on State purchasing contracts by State law. The Department of the Treasury has determined that these rules, which were amended during their last readoption, are necessary, reasonable, adequate, understandable and responsive to the purpose for which they were originally promulgated.

Although there have been no statutory changes necessitating their modification since the last readoption, the Division of Purchase and Property is currently developing technical and substantive refinements and modifications to these rules. However, these rule enhancements are not sufficiently developed at present and thus are not presented with this readoption.

A summary of the text of N.J.A.C. 17:12 follows:

N.J.A.C. 17:12-1 describes the organization of the Purchase Bureau, which has primary responsibility for State purchasing. N.J.A.C. 17:12-2 describes the bidding procedures. N.J.A.C. 17:12-3 describes the hearing procedures wherein interested bidders may protest the intent to award a proposed contract. N.J.A.C. 17:12-4 describes the agency complaints procedures, whereby State agencies may seek remedies for contract violations and contract performance problems. N.J.A.C. 17:12-5 describes cooperative purchasing and the participation in State contracts by political subdivisions and independent institutions of higher education, as well as volunteer fire departments, volunteer first aid or rescue squads, county colleges, State colleges, quasi-State agencies and independent authorities. N.J.A.C. 17:12-6 describes the procedures for suspension, debarment and disqualification of vendors for various causes.

Social Impact

The readoption of N.J.A.C. 17:12 will continue the procedures which have served to benefit the State and the general public. N.J.A.C. 17:12 implements the basic statutory purposes of N.J.S.A. 52:34-6 et seq. of getting the best possible product at the best possible price for the State as expeditiously and efficiently as possible while treating all vendors equally and fairly, and guarding against favoritism, improvidence, extravagance and corruption.

Economic Impact

The rules affected by this proposed readoption will continue to enhance the efficiency and cost effectiveness of operating State government and political subdivisions, thus resulting in a positive economic impact for the State. In providing purchasing services for the agencies of the State, the Purchase Bureau has a significant effect on State government budget and on the economy of the whole State. Most of these contracts are awarded through competitive bidding. These rules assist in the implementation of cost saving measures through the competitive process and attempt to reconcile the State government's purchasing process with the State government's needs and the operation of the general economy.

Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

The proposed readoption with amendments of N.J.A.C. 17:12 affects all persons and entities that bid for contracts with the State for supplies and services. Many such bidders are small businesses as defined under the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq. No reporting or recordkeeping requirements are imposed by the rules. The bidding procedure compliance requirements are necessary in order to ensure a fair, competitive system for State purchases. Aside from the bid and performance security requirements, necessary both as sound business practice and to protect the expenditure of public funds, the rules should impose no capital costs upon bidders beyond those normally incurred in the course of contracting in their respective business areas. No need for engagement of professional services in the bidding process is anticipated.

Full text of the proposed readoption may be found in the New Jersey Administrative Code at N.J.A.C. 17:12.

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

The proposed amendments are intended to set forth criteria for the transportation of hazardous materials on the Garden State Parkway, as well as to provide protection for the surrounding environment. The proposed new rules are also designed to limit the New Jersey Highway Authority's liability in the event of a discharge on or affecting Authority property.

New definitions for "discharge" and "hazardous materials" are added at N.J.A.C. 19:8-1.1. N.J.A.C. 19:8-1.12 is amended to replace "dangerous articles" with "hazardous material"; to clarify the applicable Federal and State transportation regulations; to add the transportation of Class A, B and C explosives as subject to prior written Authority approval; and to provide for Authority or State Police inspection prior to or after Parkway entry of any vehicle whose load is or is believed to represent a danger of discharging material. The proposed amendment to N.J.A.C. 19:8-2.1 specifically prohibits the disposal of waste oil and other hazardous material and/or their containers at any location or into any receptacle on the Parkway.

Proposed new rule N.J.A.C. 19:8-2.13 prohibits the discharge on the Parkway or adjacent property of any material which may cause an impact on Parkway operations, and requires specified securing of loose material carried by a vehicle which is likely to be discharged. N.J.A.C. 19:8-2.14 prohibits the discharge of material on the Parkway or adjacent property of material that may cause damage.

Discharging vehicle and property owners, operators and lessees are required to cooperate and take action to restore normal traffic conditions and remove discharges, with the failure to do so resulting in the impoundment of a discharging vehicle until penalties and costs are satisfied. The rule also provides for damages, in addition to any other penalties provided under law, of treble the amount of the Authority's costs arising out of the discharge violation. Proposed new rule N.J.A.C. 19:8-2.15 governs Authority action in response to a discharge, and what is required of the party responsible for the discharge by way of remediation.

Social Impact

These amendments increase the public's protection against exposure to harm from hazardous materials while traveling the Garden State Parkway. It will also insure that the cities and towns that abut the Parkway have a reduced risk of exposure to hazardous materials.

Economic Impact

These amendments will not result in increased costs for the patrons of the Garden State Parkway. Individuals who violate the dictates of these regulations will be subject to treble damages for any and all costs arising out of a violation, as well as the impounding of vehicles and other property to insure payment of fees and costs.

Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

The proposed amendments and new rules impose compliance requirements on the owners and operators of vehicles transporting hazardous materials, and upon the owners, operators and lessees of vehicles and property from which a discharge of material emanates onto the Parkway or adjacent property which impacts Parkway operations. As some material transporters and property owners may be small businesses as defined under the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq., a regulatory flexibility analysis is required.

The proposed amendments to N.J.A.C. 19:8-1.12 clarify the current requirements relating to "dangerous articles" as applying to defined "hazardous materials," and do not impose new compliance requirements. The disposal of hazardous material or its containers at any Parkway locations or receptacle is prohibited, and the transport of Class A, B and C explosives will require prior written Authority approval. The new rules include general securing requirements, particularly for loose material likely to be discharged; prohibit the discharge of material likely to impact Parkway operations; require cooperation and action to clean-up any discharge; and impose additional damages for discharge equal to treble the Authority's resulting costs.

It is not anticipated that the hazardous material transportation requirements will impose new capital costs on small businesses, nor require their employment of professional services, as they are a reiteration of existing Federal and State requirements. The discharge requirements will impose the costs of clean-up on the discharging party, which costs will vary considerably with the nature and extent of the discharge. Such clean-up may necessitate the engagement of some type of environmental remediation or other removal professionals, again at a cost dependent on the discharge. The discharging party would also be liable for damages to the Authority of treble the Authority's cost arising out of a discharge.

As the discharge and hazardous material transportation requirements are imposed to protect the safety and health of Parkway patrons, Authority employees and the general public, no lesser requirements or exceptions are provided based upon business size.

The vehicle operated, owned or leased by any person, lessee of Authority property, or the owner or lessee of the adjacent property failing to cooperate or take such action as deemed necessary by the official in charge of the scene where the discharge occurred is subject to impoundment by the Authority, or its agents and their employees until such time as all penalties, towing and storage fees and costs have been satisfied.

19:8-2.15 Response to a discharge

(a) Any operator, owner or lessee of a vehicle on the Parkway which contains any hazardous or non-hazardous material shall be subject to all provisions and penalties hereunder, in addition to any provisions of the United States Code, the New Jersey Statutes and the New Jersey Administrative Code.

(b) In the event of a discharge of hazardous or non-hazardous material on the Parkway or on adjacent property impacting the Parkway, all remedial efforts shall be conducted in compliance with these rules and under the supervision of the Authority, the State Police, and/or the Department of Environmental Protection.

1. Where practicable, but not contrary to the rules of the NJDEP, and not contrary to the safety of the operator, the general public or the Authority, the operator, owner or lessee of the vehicle, lessee of Authority property or owner or lessee of adjacent property may be afforded the opportunity to contain and remove discharged material using personnel, materials and equipment:

i. Aboard the vehicle or on the property from which the discharge occurred;

ii. Aboard another vehicle owned or leased by the operator, owner or lessee of the vehicle or of the property from which the discharge occurred;

iii. By a specialized response team operated by the manufacturer or distributor of the hazardous or non-hazardous material that has been discharged; or

iv. By third parties contracted to contain, clean up, and/or dispose of the discharge (hereafter "emergency response contractors") by the operator, owner or lessee of the vehicle or of the property specifically for the purpose of remediating hazardous or non-hazardous materials discharged from the operator's, owner's, or lessee's vehicle or property.

2. No emergency response services may be provided pursuant to (b)1i through iv above unless all the entities undertaking such services have provided to the Authority proof of adequate insurance, registration with the NJDEP (as per N.J.A.C. 7:E1-4.2) and other such information as may be required by the Department of Operations.

3. The Authority shall make available to any operator, owner or lessee of a vehicle or property so requesting a list of emergency response contractors as compiled by the NJDEP. The operator, owner or lessee of a vehicle or property shall arrange and pay for emergency response services to be performed by such contractors. Approval of such contractors pursuant to (b)2 above is not to be considered a warranty or assurance by the Authority of such contractors' ability to perform emergency response services.

4. Whenever the operator, owner or lessee of a vehicle or property from which a discharge occurred refuses to arrange for an emergency response contractor, or whenever dangerous circumstances or the risk posed by the discharge to the general public, the environment or the Authority's agents or employees is too great to await the arrival of the emergency response contractor(s) arranged by the operator, owner or lessee in the opinion of the Department of Operations or its designee, the Department or its designee may arrange for emergency response services and long-term remedial efforts to be provided by a third party of the Authority's choice. Emergency response and long term remedial services may be performed by or through the NJDEP or its agents, including any county environmental health department, or by private organizations engaged by the Authority. The cost of services pursuant to this paragraph shall be based on the schedule of rates normally charged for emergency response or long-term remedial services, and shall be borne by the operator, owner or lessee of the vehicle or property from which a discharge occurred.

i. If, at the time the emergency response contractor arrives at the scene of the discharge, the operator, owner or lessee of the vehicle or property from which a discharge occurred refuses to agree to pay or complete any documents necessary to engage the contractor for such services, the Authority may impound the vehicle and any cargo or contents thereof until such time as the costs of remedial services are satisfied. If such costs are not satisfied within 14 days, the Authority shall have the right to sell the vehicle, its cargo and contents at public auction and/or to recover treble the amount of damages for any unsatisfied costs by filing a civil action in a court of appropriate jurisdiction over such action.

ii. If the emergency response contractor refuses to contract with the operator, owner or lessee of the vehicle or property from which a discharge occurred because of a bona fide concern about the operator's, owner's or lessee's ability or willingness to pay for such services, the Department or the Department's designee may authorize such services to be performed at the Authority's expense, and the Authority may thereafter recover treble the costs thereof from the operator, owner or lessee from which a discharge occurred by filing a civil action in a court of appropriate jurisdiction over such action. The emergency response contractor's concern shall be deemed bona fide if the operator's, owner's or lessee's credit record indicates a history of refusal or failure to pay commercial debts.

5. Access to Authority property for the purposes of investigating or remediating contamination caused by the discharge or release of any material will be granted only after compliance with (b)2 above and only after notification to the Chief Engineer of the Authority. Such access will not be unreasonably withheld. All investigatory data, including but not limited to, soil investigations, soil boring logs, ground water monitoring well logs, laboratory analytical data, correspondence with regulatory agencies, and all reports and submissions generated as a result of work on Authority property shall be made available for inspection by the Authority or its agents, and copies of all such information and data shall be produced for the Authority or its agents upon request.

Authorized By: New Jersey Highway Authority,

P.O. Box 5050

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

The proposed amendment at N.J.A.C. 19:8-1.8 is intended to redefine the instances when parking, stopping or standing are prohibited on the Garden State Parkway to include weather conditions that obstruct travel. The proposed amendment also further defines what is considered an emergency on the Garden State Parkway that will allow the Authority or the State Police to remove any vehicle determined to be obstructing traffic or which constitutes an unsafe condition.

Social Impact

The proposed amendment is intended to have no social impact upon Parkway patrons, other than to ensure the safe and efficient use of the highway by the motoring public.

Economic Impact

The proposed amendment may result in increased costs for the patrons of the Garden State Parkway. Individuals who violate the dictates of these rules will be subject to all costs arising out of a violation, as well as the cost of towing as set forth in N.J.A.C. 19:8-2.12, Emergency Service.

Regulatory Flexibility Statement

A regulatory flexibility analysis is not required because the proposed amendments do not impose reporting, recordkeeping or other compliance requirements on small businesses, as defined under the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq.

The sole effect of the amendment is to redefine when parking, stopping or standing is prohibited on the Garden State Parkway and to define the term "emergency" as it relates to the foregoing.

19:8-1.8 Parking, standing or stopping on Parkway prohibited except in emergency

(a) No parking, standing or stopping is permitted on the Parkway, including during weather conditions that obstruct travel, except in areas designated by the Authority or in cases of emergency.

(b) (No change.)

(c) For the purposes of this regulation, an "emergency" is defined as [existing only when and so long as the vehicle in question is physically inoperable, or] the existence of inclement weather conditions that obstruct travel on the Parkway, including, but not limited to, snow, ice, flooding or high wind conditions; mechanically disabled vehicles; the driver of the vehicle is ill or fatigued; or conditions deemed an "emergency" by the Authority or the State Police; but in no case shall the parking, standing or stopping exceed a two-hour period. In any event, the Authority or the State Police may have the vehicle removed if it is determined that it is obstructing traffic or constitutes an unsafe condition.

Roger E. Nutt, Executive Director
New Jersey Highway Authority
P.O. Box 5050
Woodbridge, New Jersey 07095

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

The proposed new rules provide for the charging of fees for construction permits and utility installation permits. The fees are intended to compensate the Authority for the resources expended in the review, inspection and administration of these permits. The permits are issued to applicants who are not contractors performing work for the Authority within its right of way. The new rules describe the services provided permit applicants by Authority staff; establish application, permit and specialized fees; regulate unauthorized installations; and provide for fee waivers.

Social Impact

These proposed new rules should have no social impact upon either patrons of the Garden State Parkway or citizens of abutting communities. The only anticipated impact is economic, as described below.

Economic Impact

These proposed new rules will not result in increased costs for the patrons of the Garden State Parkway. Applicants for construction and utility installation permits and permittees will be required to pay the proposed fees. The rules will provide for compensation to the Authority for resources expended in the administration of permits for work to be performed within the Authority's right-of-way by applicants.

Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

The proposed new rules impose compliance requirements on those seeking to perform construction and utility work within the Authority's right of way. Small businesses, as defined under the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq., seeking to perform such work will be required to apply for a permit. An application fee and, if the application is granted, a permit fee is imposed. Specialized fees for certain types of work are also imposed. Preparation of the application documents may require employing professional services (such as draftsmen or engineers) at varying costs; however, such services would be needed for the contemplated work in any event. Because neither the need for the Authority to regulate activity on its right of way nor the difficulty of application review are directly related to the applicant's business size, no lesser requirements exemptions are provided for small businesses.

Full text of the proposed new rules follows:

SUBCHAPTER 13. FEE POLICY FOR CONSTRUCTION AND UTILITY INSTALLATION PERMITS

19:8-13.1 Purpose and objective; services provided

(a) The purpose of these rules is to establish and prescribe uniform general rules and procedures to be followed by the New Jersey Highway Authority staff in reviewing permits for applicants desiring to perform work within the Parkway right-of-way.

(b) The objective of these rules is to enable the New Jersey Highway Authority to accomplish its review, inspection and administration of permits equitably and expeditiously.

(c) To accomplish the purpose and objective of these rules, the following services for permit applicants desiring to perform work within the Parkway right-of-way will be provided:

1. Review of the conceptual work plan and offer guidance as to the type of application required and procedure to be followed;
2. Review of detailed plans and other work related documents and provide comments that best serve the Authority's interest. If required, field investigations are performed;
3. Review and approval of contractor's insurance certificate, performance bond and maintenance bond;
4. Provide direction with lane closures and overall traffic control;
5. Periodical inspection of the ongoing work to assure compliance with the approval permit; and
6. Initiation and maintenance of all permit documentation and, upon completion of work, administration of permit close-out documentation.

19:8-13.2 Fee schedule

(a) Resolution 1953-129 adopted on October 29, 1953, and amended on April 8, 1954, authorizes the Chief Engineer to fix and determine the Authority's necessary inspection and other costs in conjunction with the issuance of utility crossing permits in addition to requests from utility companies, outside agencies and developers who submit requests to perform work on Authority property that require issuance of a construction permit which requires similar staff efforts as described in N.J.A.C. 19:8-13.1(c).

(b) The following fee schedule is established to offset the costs of review, administration, inspection and other necessary tasks performed by Authority staff for all Construction and Utility Installation Permits. The final decision concerning the basis and amount of fees shall be solely the responsibility of the Authority's Chief Engineer. The fee schedule will be established as follows:

1. Application Fee: A $250.00 fee to be submitted along with the completed permit application and associated documents. Such fee shall be non-refundable whether the Authority's final decision is to issue or deny the requested permit.

2. Permit Fee: A non-refundable fee consisting of five percent of the total cost of construction to be performed on Authority property or $500.00, whichever is greater, plus any additional specialized fee as described in (b)3 below. As a permit requirement, the applicant shall submit an Engineer's Estimate of the work to be performed on Authority property. Such estimate shall be based on current prevailing construction rates for all work items. The Chief Engineer reserves the right to reject any estimate that is determined to be non-conformance with standard construction rates or not in the best interest of the Authority. Such permit fee shall be paid prior to issuance of the permit.

3. Specialized Fees:

i. Work performed by the contractor involving lane/shoulder closures or slow downs shall require the following non-refundable administrative fees:

- (1) Shoulder Closure . . . $250.00 per location per day;
- (2) Lane Closure . . . $500.00 per lane per location per day; and
- (3) Slow downs . . . $750.00 per set up

PROPOSALS

Interested Persons see Inside Front Cover

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

ii. Fees for all other items of specialized work shall be determined by the Chief Engineer on a case-by-case basis. Such determination shall be based upon the amount of staff time and services utilized. Documentation of these costs shall be provided upon request. Such specialized fees, even though determined separately, will be considered and collected as part of the permit fee.

19:8-13.3 Unauthorized installations

Anyone performing work within Authority property without the required permit will be ordered to stop work immediately. The Authority will inspect all work performed on Authority property and make a recommendation for removal, restoration, remediation and/or submission of required permit application and associated fees. Any person or persons performing unauthorized work on Authority property will be charged a $1,000 fee for performing unauthorized work and will be required to submit an application for the appropriate permit to remove, restore, remediate and/or continue construction work as approved by the Chief Engineer. All associated fees as outlined in N.J.A.C. 19:8-13.2 will also apply. All fees are non-refundable.

19:8-13.4 Waiver

The Chief Engineer may waive the fees, or some portion thereof, upon written request for a waiver from the applicant submitted at the time of application, based upon the Chief Engineer's determination that the fee is not warranted. Said determination shall be based upon the nature of the entity making the request, that is, a Federal, State or local government agency, and the nature of the project for which the permit is requested.

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

The New Jersey Historic Trust, a body corporate and politic in the DEP, is a nonprofit historic preservation organization created to preserve and protect New Jersey's historic resources. The Trust is governed by an 11-member board of trustees. Eight members are private citizens appointed by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate. Three members serve ex-officio, representing the State Treasurer, the New Jersey Historical Commission and the Commissioner of the Department of Environmental Protection.

The Trust is proposing new rules at N.J.A.C. 7:4C to implement its Historic Preservation Bond Program. On a competitive basis, grants will be awarded for historic preservation projects for the improvement, restoration, stabilization or rehabilitation of historic properties owned by State, county and municipal governments and by tax-exempt nonprofit organizations in accordance with the "New Jersey Green Acres, Clean Water, Farmland and Historic Preservation Bond Act of 1992," P.L. 1992, c.88. This is the second Bond Act program to be administered by the Trust; its requirements vary from the requirements of the Bond Act of 1987 and its governing regulations set forth at N.J.A.C. 7:4A. The 1992 Act allows for greater flexibility in determining eligible activities and the rate of funding by the Trust.

The proposed rules set forth at N.J.A.C. 7:4C establish the procedures to be followed when applying for a historic preservation grant, historic preservation activities eligible for funding, criteria for the selection of projects to be funded and requirements for work funded under this program.

The proposed rules provide as follows:

N.J.A.C. 7:4C-1 sets forth the purpose of the chapter and defines certain terms used in the rules.

N.J.A.C. 7:4C-2 establishes the applicants, property and activities eligible for funding under the Historic Preservation Bond Program. This subchapter also establishes grant application procedures.

N.J.A.C. 7:4C-3 provides that grant funds are to be allocated in accordance with a ranking of applications received and sets forth the criteria for the ranking of applications.

N.J.A.C. 7:4C-4 provides that to assure the continued preservation of grant-assisted historic properties and to assure that public benefit will continue from the use of public funds after expenditure of the grant monies, the Trust cannot make grant assistance available until an agreement conveying an easement on the grant-assisted historic property is executed between the Trust and the grant recipient and all other parties with interests in the property.

N.J.A.C. 7:4C-5 provides that a project sign is to be prominently located and maintained on the project site acknowledging that the historic preservation project is being funded with grant assistance through the New Jersey Historic Preservation Bond Program.

PROPOSALS

N.J.A.C. 7:4C-6 provides for a schedule of fees to be charged to defray the costs of monitoring easements.

The New Jersey Historic Trust proposes to amend its rules for the operation of its Historic Preservation Grant Program to list categories of items not eligible for funding under its grants as administrative, personnel or indirect costs. This modification will make the rules for this program consistent with the new rules proposed here by the Trust to govern its Historic Preservation Bond Program. Proposed N.J.A.C. 7:4A-2.3(b)3 sets forth eight categories of administrative and/or operational costs which are not eligible for funding.

The procedures for applying for a Historic Preservation Loan pursuant to N.J.A.C. 7:4B are being modified to allow applicants the option of paying for the delivery of a credit report directly to the Trust or advancing the cost to the Trust and having the loan application deemed complete upon submission. N.J.A.C. 7:4B-3.1(c)12 sets forth the applicant's option of paying for direct delivery to the Trust of an up-to-date credit report from an independent credit reporting agency or providing a check for $100.00 to the Trust to cover the expense of obtaining the necessary report.

Social Impact

The proposed new rules will have a positive social impact by establishing procedures for making grants and loans available for the restoration, preservation or rehabilitation of historic properties owned by the State, county and municipal governments and by tax-exempt nonprofit organizations. Funding from these programs will assist in the preservation of historic heritage which otherwise would be lost; will help stabilize neighborhoods; and will help retain the historical elements which establish the unique identity of our communities.

The amendment to N.J.A.C. 7:4A-2.3(b)3 will assist grantees in planning projects by providing additional examples of ineligible activities. The amendment to N.J.A.C. 7:4B-3.1(c) will also have a positive impact by providing the Trust with information critical to lending decisions while allowing grantees the option of providing it by a choice of methods.

Economic Impact

The proposed new rules will facilitate the distribution of funds for and provide the means by which funds are made available for historic preservation projects. The historic properties assisted with funds provided under the Historic Preservation Bond Program, Historic Preservation Grant Program, and the Revolving Loan Program, will play an important part in stimulating and sustaining local revitalization and stabilization efforts, and will generate jobs for the design and building trades. An increase in community tax ratable property may result from the grant funding. The improvement in historic sites will also assist in the development of historic tourism. The administrative costs of application will be borne by the applicants.

The easement monitoring program will have a positive impact as it will allow grantees to provide financial support for the continued preservation of the property through meaningful review of preservation easements and assures that a sum certain will be included in each grant for this purpose. The credit report required for a complete, loan application will provide critical information to the Trusts loan making decisions. Grantees may provide the report directly or advance a sum certain to cover the cost of ordering this from an independent credit reporting agency. Grantees may choose whatever method is cost effective and most convenient to the organization.

Environmental Impact

The proposed new rules will have a positive environmental effect because they will provide funds for the efficient reuse and conservation of New Jersey's older buildings. The Historic Preservation Grant Program will help conserve open space, historic viewsheds, and cultural landscapes. Further, it will serve as a catalyst for the revitalization of many of the State's older neighborhoods.

Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

The purpose of the proposed new rules is to provide a procedure by which grants are given to State, county and municipal governments and tax-exempt nonprofit organizations for historic preservation projects. Some of the nonprofit organizations may be considered small businesses as defined under the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq. The administrative costs of applying for, and complying with, the conditions of the grant are minimized by the following: Trust staff is available for technical assistance in the application process; documentation required by the Trust is a routine component of budgeting for and managing capital improvement activities; and all requirements are clearly explained prior to commencement of the project, thereby reducing unnecessary work. The cost of completing a grant request, including the need to retain outside professional services, will vary depending upon the expertise of the grantee and the complexity and scope of the proposed project. No new costs will be associated with the clarification of the grant program rules at N.J.A.C. 7:4A-2.3(b)3. The amendments to N.J.A.C. 7:4B-3.1(c) do impose a cost of up to $100.00 for each loan application will be incurred by entities seeking loans from the Trust to cover necessary credit reports. This cost will only be incurred by those seeking these low interest funds and applicants have the option of methods of meeting this requirement which will assist smaller organizations by providing additional flexibility. Some costs of application may be reimbursed to grantees.

Special Regulation Trout Fishing Areas—Holdover
Trout Lakes

Proposed Amendment: N.J.A.C. 7:25-6.9

Take notice that the Department of Environmental Protection has discovered an error in the text of the proposed amendment to N.J.A.C. 7:25-6.9(a) published in the July 18, 1994 New Jersey Register at 26 N.J.R. 2835(a). Numbered paragraph 5 in the proposal Summary correctly states the Fish and Game Council's intention to delete Canistear Reservoir in Sussex County from the list of Holdover Trout Lakes, which appear in N.J.A.C. 7:25-6.9(a). However, the proposed rule text at 26 N.J.R. 2837 inadvertently depicts the deletion of four other lakes as well. Through this notice, published in accordance with N.J.A.C. 1:30-2.7, the text of the proposed amendment is conformed to the Council's expressed intent.

Full text of the corrected proposed amendment, as it should have been published in the New Jersey Register, follows (addition indicated in boldface thus; deletions indicated in brackets [thus]):

7:25-6.9 Special Regulation Trout Fishing Areas—Holdover Trout

Recodify existing 2. through 6. as 1. through 5. (No change in text.)

(b) The following shall apply to the Holdover Trout Lakes designated at (a) above:

Summary

The Department of Environmental Protection (the Department) is proposing to amend and add new rules to N.J.A.C. 7:27-15 (Subchapter 15, Control and Prohibition of Air Pollution from Gasoline-Fueled Motor Vehicles), N.J.A.C. 7:27A-3.10 (Civil Administrative Penalties for Violations of Rules Adopted Pursuant to the Act) and N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4 (Subchapter 4, Air Test Method 4: Testing Procedures for Motor Vehicles), its rules governing standards, corresponding penalties, and testing procedures for the inspection of gasoline-fueled motor vehicles. This proposal supersedes the Department's previous two proposals, published on August 2, 1993 and December 6, 1993, at 25 N.J.R. 3322(a) and 5400(a) respectively. It is the Department's intent to prepare a summary of the comments submitted regarding to those proposals and the Department's responses thereto to be included in the notice of adoption should the Department determine to adopt the amendments and new rules contained in this proposal. A detailed description of this proposal's history is outlined more fully below.

The primary purpose of the proposed amendments and new rules is to reduce emissions of air pollutants from gasoline-fueled motor vehicles as part of New Jersey's overall effort to attain and maintain National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS) for carbon monoxide (CO) and ground-level ozone. Motor vehicles have been determined to be significant contributors of carbon monoxide, volatile organic compounds (VOCs) and oxides of nitrogen (NO<sub>x</sub>). In the presence of sunlight, VOCs, NO<sub>x</sub> and other compounds in the ambient air react to form ozone. Ozone is a known respiratory irritant and may significantly reduce the yield of important food crops. Ozone also causes degradation of paints, plastics, textiles and rubber.

In addition to their participation in the formation of ozone, NO<sub>x</sub> alone exhibit serious human health effects. Although nitric oxide (NO) itself is a relatively nonirritating gas, it is readily oxidized to nitrogen dioxide (NO<sub>2</sub>), which can damage respiratory defense mechanisms, allowing bacteria to proliferate and invade the lung tissue. Carbon monoxide is a poisonous gas at certain threshold levels. It is absorbed into the bloodstream and may have both direct and indirect effects on the cardiovascular system. A detailed description of the public health problems and damage to natural resources and property associated with increased levels of ozone, NO<sub>x</sub> and carbon monoxide is presented below under the Social and Environmental Impact statements.

These proposed amendments and new rules are mandatory under the Clean Air Act (CAA), 42 U.S.C.A. §7401 et seq., as amended by the Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990 (CAAA), P.L. 101-549, November 15, 1990. Pursuant to the CAA, the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has established NAAQS for ozone as 0.12 parts per million (ppm) (one-hour average) and NAAQS for CO as nine ppm (eight-hour average) or 35 ppm (one-hour average). 42 U.S.C.A. §7409(a)(1), 40 CFR §50. The CAA requires certain areas which have failed to achieve the NAAQS to submit a State Implementation Plan (SIP) to the EPA which describes an enforceable plan for achieving and maintaining those standards within a prescribed time frame. 42 U.S.C.A. §7410.

New Jersey is subject to this requirement because not every county has attained the NAAQS for ozone and because certain urban areas have not attained the NAAQS for CO. The EPA has designated 18 of the State's 21 counties as being in "severe" nonattainment for ozone, based upon levels more than 50 percent above the NAAQS, that is, with a design value of 0.180 up to 0.280 ppm, in those areas. (Warren County is classified as marginal, that is, with a design value of 0.121 up to 0.138 ppm, and Atlantic and Cape May Counties are classified as moderate, that is, with a design value of 0.138 up to 0.160 ppm). A design value is the caliber that the EPA uses to indicate whether or not an area is in attainment with the NAAQS.

The CAAA further direct states in which serious or worse ozone nonattainment areas are located (New Jersey's 18 counties in severe nonattainment for ozone are worse than serious) to revise their SIPs to provide for an Enhanced Inspection and Maintenance (I/M) Program to reduce hydrocarbon (HC) and NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from in-use motor vehicles registered in each urbanized area (in the nonattainment area) as defined by the Bureau of the Census, with a 1980 population of 200,000 or more. 42 U.S.C.A. §7511a(c)(3). In addition, the CAAA mandate that a state that is in an ozone transport region (as is New Jersey) provide for an enhanced I/M program in each area that is a metropolitan statistical area or part thereof with a population of 100,000 or more. 42 U.S.C.A. §7511c(b)(1)(A). The CAAA also direct states in which moderate nonattainment areas for CO with a design value greater than 12.7 ppm are located to revise their SIPs to provide for an enhanced I/M program to reduce CO emissions. 42 U.S.C.A. §7512a(a)(6). The Department, in cooperation with the Division of Motor Vehicles (DMV), is proposing to implement an enhanced I/M program Statewide, rather than county by county, in an effort to mitigate implementation and administration burdens and to increase air quality benefits.

As stated above, the State was required by the CAA to submit a revision to its SIP setting forth the elements of New Jersey's enhanced I/M program, including legal authority for its implementation, by November 15, 1993. Accordingly, the Department submitted SIP revisions, including the enhanced I/M program design, to the EPA on November 15, 1993. By a letter dated February 2, 1994 from William J. Muszynski, P.E., then Acting Regional Administrator of Region II of the EPA, to New Jersey Governor Christine Todd Whitman, the EPA notified the State that its November 15, 1993 SIP submittals did not meet the requirements for completeness established by the EPA and the CAA. In order to partially cure the defects of the original SIP submittals and secure the EPA's approval, the Department is now proposing implementing regulations for the enhanced I/M program. As a result of extensive and continuing negotiations with the EPA concerning the enhanced I/M program, the Department is confident that this proposal will meet with the EPA's approval and thereby prevent the application of federal sanctions against New Jersey.

New Jersey first implemented I/M standards for light-duty gasoline-fueled vehicles (under 6,000 pounds) on February 1, 1974. On July 1, 1983, the State phased in enhancements to the vehicle inspection program. These enhancements included tighter emission standards for light and heavy-duty vehicles and visual emission component inspections. In addition, the DMV began to license private reinspection centers as official inspection stations on a temporary basis. This designation eventually became permanent, thus creating the current hybrid design of Private Inspection Centers (PICs) and State-operated, centralized inspection stations under which the motorist has the option of having either an initial inspection or retest conducted by a PIC or a State station.

New Jersey's current I/M program consists of the annual inspection of all model years of gasoline-fueled light-duty and heavy-duty motor vehicles except for historical vehicles and motorcycles. At present, 80 percent of motorists use the centralized (State-operated) lanes, while 20 percent choose to use the decentralized PICs. Vehicle fleets of 10 or more vehicles may use on-site inspection services when licensed by the State as a private inspection center. Vehicles are tested for concentration measurements of carbon monoxide and HC from the vehicle exhaust with the engine running at a curb idle. All post-1980 vehicles are subject to standards of 1.2 percent carbon monoxide and 220 ppm HC. Pre-1980 vehicles are subject to less stringent standards. The State also performs a visual inspection of the catalytic converter and fuel inlet restrictor on all 1975 and later model year vehicles.

New Jersey's current inspection program provides for a 20 percent failure rate of pre-1981 model year vehicles for the initial emissions test. Windshield sticker surveys indicate that about 96 percent of the vehicles are complying with the inspection requirements. The program also provides for the on-road testing of approximately 40,000 motor vehicles as a supplement to the periodic inspection. The on-road test procedure is the same as the annual inspection test.

On November 5, 1992, the EPA, as required by 42 U.S.C.A. §7511a(a)(2)(B)(ii), published its final rule on I/M program requirements. See 40 CFR §51. Inspection/Maintenance Program Requirements; Final Rule. Specifically, 40 CFR §51.373(c)(1) provides that enhanced I/M programs shall be implemented as expeditiously as practicable. It provides further that enhanced I/M program shall be implemented by January 1, 1995, but that, where a test-and-repair network is being replaced by a test-only network, a state has until January 1, 1996 to phase in the change. The Department proposes that New Jersey's enhanced I/M program become operative on January 1, 1995, with enhanced inspections of at least 30 percent of the subject vehicle fleet performed by December 31, 1995. As the enhanced I/M program being proposed by the State is biennial (that is, every two years), this 30 percent of the subject vehicle fleet equates to 15 percent annually.

On August 2, 1993, the Department proposed its first set of amendments and new rules to N.J.A.C. 7:27-15 and 7:27B-4 at 25 N.J.R. 3322(a). At the same time, the DMV also pre-proposed new rules at N.J.A.C. 13:20-43 (Subchapter 43, Enhanced Motor Vehicle Inspection and Maintenance Program) at 25 N.J.R. 3418(a) to establish testing frequencies and other program design elements. The Department's proposed amendments and new rules, in conjunction with the DMV's pre-proposed new rules and anticipated changes to its enabling statute, N.J.S.A. Title 39, were intended to establish New Jersey's enhanced I/M program. On September 17, 1993, the Department and the DMV jointly held a public hearing to receive oral comment on the Department's proposed amendments and new rules and the DMV's pre-proposed new rules. These agencies accepted written comment on the proposal and pre-proposal, respectively, until the close of the comment period on September 24, 1993. It is the Department's intent to prepare a summary of the comments submitted regarding its two previous proposals and the Department's responses thereto to be included in the notice of adoption should the Department determine to adopt the amendments and new rules contained in this proposal.

The EPA has set forth the performance standard to be met by an enhanced I/M program at 40 CFR §51.351. The EPA developed the CAA- mandated performance standard using the IM240 test procedure as part of its model program design. A full description of the EPA-recommended IM240 exhaust emission and purge tests, incorporated by reference by the Department, can be found in an EPA report released in July of 1993 entitled "High-Tech I/M Test Procedures, Emission Standards, Quality Control Requirements, and Equipment Specifications." Interested parties may inspect a copy of this document at the Department's Public Access Center at 401 East State Street, First Floor, Trenton, New Jersey 08625 and/or obtain a copy of this document by contacting the Environmental Protection Agency, Office of Mobile Sources, Motor Vehicle Emission Laboratory, 2565 Plymouth Road, Ann Arbor, MI, 48105.

The performance standard established by the EPA is expressed in terms of reduced emission levels to be achieved from highway mobile sources as a result of the implementation of the enhanced I/M program. New Jersey's enhanced I/M program design must meet or exceed this minimum performance standard. Compliance with the performance standard is determined through computer modelling of the program parameters using the most current version of the EPA's mobile source emission factor model available at the time of SIP submission. The EPA has based the enhanced I/M performance standard on the following program design:

1. Network type: Centralized inspection system, with all testing to be performed at test-only State, State-licensed or State-authorized contractor-operated inspection lanes.

2. Implementation: Enhanced inspections of at least 30 percent of the subject vehicle fleet by December 31, 1995 and full program implementation by January 1, 1996.

3. Test frequency: Annual, although the EPA rule at 40 CFR §51.355(a) indicates other schedules may be approved if the required emission targets are achieved. EPA strongly recommends that States implement biennial test programs if they can demonstrate such equivalency.

4. Model year coverage: Testing of 1968 and later vehicles.

5. Vehicle type coverage: Light-duty gasoline-fueled vehicles and light-duty gasoline-fueled trucks, rated up to 8,500 pounds gross vehicle weight rating.

6. Exhaust emission test type:

a. Transient, mass emission testing on 1986 and later model year vehicles using the IM240 driving cycle;

b. Idle and 2500 RPM testing of 1981-1985 vehicles; and

c. Idle testing of pre-1981 vehicles.

7. Emission Standards: Exhaust emissions from 1986 and newer vehicles will be measured in terms of mass (grams per mile) rather than concentration (percent or parts per million); in addition to measuring HC and CO, the test will now also measure NO<sub>x</sub>.

1994 and later vehicles meeting the Federal Tier I vehicle standards will be subject to standards more stringent than those for earlier model year vehicles. Tier I vehicles are those vehicles meeting Tier I standards, that is, those standards prescribed at 42 U.S.C.A. §7521(g) for model years 1994 and later light-duty gasoline-fueled trucks 1 (LDGT1s), and light-duty gasoline-fueled vehicles (LDGVs).

1981-1985 vehicles will be subject to the current 1.2 percent carbon monoxide and 220 ppm concentration HC standards.

8. Emission control device inspection: Visual inspection of the catalytic converter and the fuel inlet restrictor on all 1984 and later model year vehicles.

9. Evaporative system function checks:

a. Evaporative system integrity (pressure) test on 1983 and later model year vehicles to check for leaks in the hoses or connectors; and

b. Evaporative system functional (purge) test on 1986 and later model year vehicles to check for proper evaporative canister flow.

10. Stringency: At least 20 percent of pre-1981 model year vehicles will fail the initial emissions test.

11. Waiver rate: Three percent of all vehicle owners whose vehicles fail inspection may be exempted from meeting the emission standards.

12. Compliance rate: At least 96 percent of all vehicles subject to inspection must be inspected. Those vehicles not receiving a waiver or that are not inspected must be denied vehicle registration renewal.

13. Evaluation date: Enhanced I/M programs must demonstrate that the projected model program emission reductions are obtained by the year 2000 for HC and NO<sub>x</sub> and by the year 2001 for CO, and for severe and extreme nonattainment areas, on each applicable milestone and the attainment deadline thereafter.

14. On-road testing: The program must include on-road testing of at least 0.5 percent of the subject vehicle population or 20,000 vehicles, whichever is less (for New Jersey, 20,000 vehicles is less), as a supplement to the periodic inspection. On-road testing can include both random roadside pullovers and remote sensing methods.

15. Sample testing: To provide a quantitative "rate of progress" measure, the program must include the testing of no less than 0.1 percent of the vehicle population using the transient IM240 test or equivalent test.

16. On-board diagnostics (OBD): (Reserved). The EPA has published its final rules concerning on-board diagnostics (February 19, 1993; 58 Fed Reg Vol 32, 9468-9488, generally at 40 CFR Part 86). These rules require new vehicles to be equipped with OBD systems, which assist in more accurately identifying vehicle malfunctions. By its rule, the EPA has these requirements phased in beginning with the 1994 model year. The EPA indicated that it expected to issue a notice of proposed rulemaking requiring OBD inspection by the states as part of I/M programs after promulgation of this final rule, but has not done so to date. The Department expects to propose an amendment to its enhanced I/M regulations to provide for such an OBD inspection after the EPA promulgates such a requirement.

Although the EPA final rule at 40 CFR §51.357(a)(13) provides specific criteria for approval of alternative test procedures, the EPA has interpreted the relevant provisions of the CAA to provide states flexibility by employing the concept of a performance standard. Thus, a state may choose to vary any of the design elements of the model program (except those required by the CAA) provided the overall effectiveness of the program is at least as great as the performance standard, that is, as long as the numerical goal for emission reductions is attained. 57 FR 52953 (Nov. 5, 1992).

Consequently, the Department's August 2, 1993 proposal set forth two alternative emission testing procedures. The first test procedure, referred to in that proposal as Alternative Exhaust Test A (short transient), is essentially a shortened derivative of the IM240. This test utilizes the same analytical equipment as the IM240; however, only a portion of the driving schedule from the IM240 is used. As an alternative, the Department also set forth a second test procedure, referred to in that proposal as Alternative Exhaust Test B or the Acceleration Simulation Mode (ASM) 5015/2500 RPM test. The ASM5015 test is a steady-state, loaded mode emission test under which the vehicle is operated at 15 miles per hour under a constant load that is equivalent to 50 percent of the maximum load to which the vehicle is subjected as part of the Federal Test Procedure (FTP). The ASM5015 test is followed by a measurement of exhaust emissions with the engine operating at an unloaded engine speed of 2500 revolutions per minute (RPM). The equipment required for this test is less expensive and more easily obtained than that used by either the IM240 or Alternative Exhaust Test A.

The goal of the Department and the DMV has been to use the flexibility provided in the EPA's final rule on I/M program requirements to formulate an enhanced I/M program that would meet the performance standard in the most cost-effective manner possible with minimal inconvenience to the motoring public. Because the Department and the DMV projected that the emission tests proposed by the EPA would only be capable of processing about 8.5 vehicles per hour, they met with the EPA to express concern about the ultimate cost of the program. As a result, the EPA announced, at the September 17, 1993 public hearing on the August 2, 1993 proposal, the development of a "fast-pass/fast-fail" algorithm that would meet the performance standard. This "fast-pass/fast-fail" algorithm permits early termination of the IM240 exhaust emission test and the EPA-recommended purge test for those vehicles which would clearly pass or fail the full-length version of these tests. A purge test, which is designed to check the proper functioning of the vehicle's evaporative emission purge system, is performed simultaneously with an exhaust emission test.

As reported by the EPA, application of this algorithm would shorten the IM240's average test time from 240 seconds to approximately 115 seconds and would increase the throughput to 20 vehicles per hour. By a letter to the states from Eugene J. Tierney, Chief of the Inspection/Maintenance Section of the EPA's Office of Mobile Sources, dated September 13, 1993, the EPA has indicated its intent to promulgate rules to formally adopt the "fast-pass/fast-fail" algorithm, by proposing to amend 40 CFR with the addition of a new section, 85.2205(a)(4)-(5), but has not yet done so.

Furthermore, while the EPA has released tables setting forth second by second "fast-pass/fast-fail" standards for certain vehicle classes, proposed herein as Appendix II and incorporated by reference in the text of the rules, it has not provided such tables for all vehicle classes for either the interim standards (effective from implementation through 1997) or the final standards (effective 1998 and beyond). Emission standards for these vehicle classes shall be determined in accordance with the methodology used by the EPA and set forth at Appendix II. For any given vehicle type or model year, the "fast-pass/fast-fail" IM240 standards will be functionally equivalent to, and not more stringent than, those standards for the full IM240 test set forth in Table 4 at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6.

At the time of the Department's August 2, 1993 proposal, the EPA was still developing the "fast-pass/fast-fail" algorithm and had not yet made it available to the Department. In response to the EPA's announcement of the "fast-pass/fast-fail" algorithm at the September 17, 1993 public hearing, the Department proposed a supplement to the original amendments and new rules on December 6, 1993 at 25 N.J.R. 5400(a). In this supplement the Department proposed, in the alternative, a third exhaust emission test procedure at N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.5 which utilized the EPA's IM240 test incorporating the "fast-pass/fast-fail" algorithm. In addition, the Department proposed, in the alternative, a third purge test procedure at N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.6 which applied the EPA's "fast-pass/fast-fail" algorithm to the EPA-recommended purge test. Finally, in this supplement the Department proposed to amend N.J.A.C. 7:27A-3.10 to add specific monetary penalties corresponding to the amended and new anti-tampering provisions of the enhanced I/M program proposed on August 2, 1993.

Since August 31, 1992, the DMV has operated a demonstration test lane at its inspection station in Wayne, New Jersey. Operation of the ASM5015/2500 RPM test in that lane under "real-life" conditions has yielded a throughput as high as 23 vehicles per hour. On November 15, 1993, the DMV began operating the "fast-pass/fast-fail" IM240 exhaust test in that lane. Operation of this test under "real-life" conditions has yielded a throughput between 10 and 12 vehicles per hour. After observing the operation of that lane, the EPA believes that, with further procedural refinements, a minimum throughput of 15 vehicles per hour will be achieved, making the "fast-pass/fast-fail" IM240 exhaust test a cost-effective strategy in implementing an enhanced I/M program.

The Department has evaluated the results of the Wayne demonstration lanes and the findings of a number of other studies concerning the effectiveness of the various proposed exhaust and evaporative test procedures as well as public comment submitted in response to the August 2, 1993 and December 6, 1993 proposals. In consideration of the above, the Department hereby proposes amendments and new rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15, N.J.A.C. 7:27A-3.10, and N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4 which supersede those amendments and new rules proposed on August 2, 1993 and December 6, 1993. It is the Department's intent to prepare a summary of the comments submitted regarding to the two previous proposals and the Department's responses thereto to be included in the notice of adoption should the Department determine to adopt the amendments and new rules contained in this proposal.

These proposed amendments and new rules would establish test procedures and standards as part of a program design as follows:

1. Network type: Hybrid inspection system: vehicles more than four years old shall be inspected, and retested if necessary, at test-only facilities; vehicles less than five years old are permitted to be inspected and retested at a test-and-repair facility.

2. Implementation: Enhanced inspections starting by January, 1995 of at least 30 percent of the subject vehicle fleet with full program implementation by January 1, 1996.

3. Test frequency: Biennial, beginning with the second year of the vehicle's life. For more information on test frequency, see the DMV's pre-proposal of N.J.A.C. 13:20-43 at 25 N.J.R. 3418(a), August 2, 1993.

4. Test type, model year coverage and vehicle coverage: The type of inspection a vehicle receives will depend on vehicle type and model year, as well as whether the inspection is performed at a centralized or decentralized station, as is illustrated in the following chart:

vehicle type	IM240 or ASM5015/2500 RPM <sup>(1)</sup>	curb idle	pressure test	purge test

In its final rule on I/M program requirements, the EPA has provided that states may operate a decentralized network if those states can demonstrate that a decentralized program is equally effective in achieving the enhanced I/M performance standard as a centralized test-only network. The Department, in conjunction with the DMV, believes that decentralized test-and-repair facilities provide added convenience to the motoring public primarily by allowing a vehicle to be tested, repaired and retested all at one location. For this reason, the Department and the DMV have sought to utilize the flexibility provided in the EPA's final rule to gain maximum participation of test-and-repair facilities in New Jersey's enhanced I/M program while continuing to meet the EPA's performance standard. Computer modelling using the EPA's mobile source emission factor model, MOBILE5a, has demonstrated that the maximum permissible test-and-repair participation achievable under the EPA's performance standard is limited to vehicles less than five years old. (For more information on the emission reductions of this program, see the Environmental Impact statement below.)

Under New Jersey's program design, vehicle owners in New Jersey are permitted to have their vehicles inspected at a test-and-repair facility, but only on their first and second inspection cycles (for two- and four-year-old vehicles, respectively). Subsequent inspections would have to be performed at test-only facilities. For example, a new vehicle, purchased from the manufacturer and registered in 1995, would be subject to an initial inspection two years later, in 1997. It would be subject to a second inspection two years after the initial inspection (that is, four years from the actual purchase date), that is, in 1999. Both of these inspections could be performed at a test-and-repair facility. However, starting with the third inspection in 2001 (six years from the actual purchase date), the vehicle could only be inspected at a test-only facility.

Vehicles tested at a test-and-repair facility, as stated previously, would be subject to an ASM5015/2500 RPM exhaust emissions test instead of the IM240 exhaust emission test. Test-and-repair facilities would also perform a pressure test and purge test during the inspection process. A visual check for the presence of catalytic converter would be performed on all vehicles inspected at a test-and-repair facility. However, vehicles inspected at test-only facilities would not be subject to any visual inspection. The more sophisticated equipment used at the test-only facilities would reveal if the catalytic converter were functioning properly or not and, thus, would eliminate the need for a visual inspection. Furthermore, those vehicles tested at a test-and-repair facility would be allowed to be retested (after a failure and repair) at a test-and-repair facility, as well.

Currently, the EPA is developing a test procedure known as the Repair Grade 240 (RG240). This test procedure, once developed, would use less expensive equipment than the IM240 and would allow repair shops to improve their ability to verify the adequacy of repairs made to vehicles which had previously failed the IM240 exhaust test without requiring them to invest in the more expensive IM240 equipment. The EPA's initial testing of the RG240 exhaust system demonstrates an acceptable correlation for repair verifications between the IM240 and the RG240 exhaust emission tests. The Department, in consultation with the DMV, views the RG240 test as a potential alternative exhaust emission test for the PICs should the EPA approve its use after it completes its development and evaluation of the procedure. The Department will continue to monitor the progress of the RG240 test and make a determination on its use as part of New Jersey's enhanced I/M program at a later date. Should the Department determine to approve this test for use by the PICs, it will amend N.J.A.C. 7:27-15 and 7:27B-4 accordingly. See SAE Technical Paper Series, "IM240 Repair Verification: An Inexpensive Dynamometer Method" by Jan B. Mickelsen and William B. Clemmens of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, February 28-March 3, 1994.

Fleet vehicles, defined by the EPA as vehicles that are part of a fleet of 10 or more vehicles, may be inspected on-site by the fleet owner for the first two inspection cycles (that is, years two and four), should the fleet owner choose to obtain a license from the DMV to operate as a PIC. In so doing, the fleet owner will be subject to the same requirements as any other PIC. However, as with all other vehicles subject to inspection in the State, a fleet vehicle must be inspected at a test-only facility on its third and all subsequent inspection cycles. As an alternative, fleet vehicles may be inspected by an outside contractor hired by the fleet owner to perform inspections. The contractor will be considered by the State as equivalent to a test-only facility. Thus, a fleet vehicle may be inspected by the contractor for all of its inspection cycles.

5. Emission Standards: The new standards for HC, CO and NO<sub>x</sub> are set forth at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6(b)1 through (b)3 (Tables 1, 2, 3 and 4). Table 1 contains the standards for the idle test. Table 2 contains the standards for the 2500 RPM test, which is used in conjunction with the ASM5015 test. Table 3 contains the standards for the ASM5015 exhaust emission test. Table 4 contains the standards for the IM240 exhaust emission test. Finally, N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6(b)4 (Appendix II) sets forth the standards for the "fast-pass/fast-fail" IM240 exhaust emission test.

1994 and later vehicles meeting the Federal Tier I vehicle standards will be subject to standards more stringent than the standards for pre-1994 non-Tier I vehicles. Tier I vehicles are those meeting Tier I standards, that is, those standards prescribed at 42 U.S.C.A. §7521(g) for model years 1994 and later LDGTs, and LDGVs.

6. Emission control device inspection: Visual inspection of the catalytic converter on all vehicles subject to an inspection at a test-and-repair facility.

7. Evaporative system function checks:

a. Evaporative system integrity (pressure) test to check for leaks in the hoses or connectors on all applicable vehicles (see chart under item 4 above); and

b. Evaporative system functional (purge) test to check for proper evaporative canister purging on all applicable vehicles (see chart under item 4 above).

c. The Department is proposing two pressure tests and two purge tests. These tests are considered equivalent by the EPA and thus can be used interchangeably.

8. Stringency: Thirty percent of pre-1981 model year vehicles will fail the initial emissions test.

9. Waiver rate: The program modelling assumes that no more than three percent of all vehicles failing inspection will be exempted, for an inspection cycle, from meeting the inspection requirements by means of a cost waiver.

10. Compliance rate: At least 96 percent of all vehicles subject to inspection will be inspected. Those vehicles not receiving a waiver or that are not inspected shall be denied vehicle registration renewal.

11. Evaluation date: The Department will demonstrate that the emission reductions obtained by the enhanced I/M program meet or exceed those of the performance standard by the year 2000 for HC and NO<sub>x</sub> and by the year 2001 for CO, and on each applicable milestone and attainment deadline, thereafter.

12. On-road testing: The program will include on-road testing of at least 20,000 vehicles as a supplement to the biennial inspection program. The on-road test will be the idle test as set forth at N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.5. Standards for this test are set forth at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6 in Table 1. State or municipal police, depending on jurisdiction, will randomly pull over vehicles and DMV personnel will perform the inspection. In addition, the Department has reserved a subsection for remote sensing at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5(g) and is considering the use of this technology as a possible on-road screening tool.

13. Evaluation testing: To provide a quantitative "rate of progress" measure, the program will include the testing of no less than 0.1 percent of the vehicle population (that is, approximately 5,000 vehicles per year) using two complete IM240 tests.

14. On-board diagnostics (OBD): (Reserved). As discussed previously in the description of the OBD component of the EPA's performance standard, the Department will propose an amendment to its enhanced I/M rules to provide for OBD inspection after EPA finalizes its OBD rulemaking.

It has been the goal of the Department, in conjunction with the DMV, to design an enhanced I/M program that will maximize air quality benefit while minimizing adverse economic impact and consumer inconvenience. To ensure that program costs remain reasonable and that consumers are not unduly inconvenienced, the State has focused on a program design that will yield a throughput of at least 15 vehicles per hour in a biennial inspection program. However, while the EPA has assured the State that the "fast-pass/fast-fail" IM240 exhaust test can achieve this goal, the DMV's IM240 demonstration lane in Wayne, New Jersey has yet to achieve this throughput.

In order to achieve the EPA's performance standard, New Jersey will implement the "fast-pass/fast-fail" IM240 exhaust test at its centralized test-only facilities. The EPA has agreed to a program design which would allow test-only facilities to "switch" to the ASM5015/2500 RPM exhaust emission test under certain specified conditions for a limited time period (described below) would meet the performance standard and, therefore, could be part of an approvable enhanced I/M SIP revision. This "switch" is designed and proposed only as a contingency measure should the projected throughput not be achieved and excessive waiting lines result.

A test-only facility will be permitted to "switch" to performing the ASM5015/2500 RPM exhaust emissions test in place of the "fast-pass/fast-fail" IM240 test if certain conditions exist. These conditions include assessment of customer waiting time, throughput, and the inspection station's hours of operation. The "switch" to the ASM5015/2500 RPM test will be permitted daily on a station-by-station basis. Once waiting time decreases to an acceptable level the station would be required to resume performing the "fast-pass/fast-fail" IM240 test procedure. In any event, all test-only inspection stations will begin each new business day by performing the "fast-pass/fast-fail" IM240 test procedure. Under certain conditions, this "switch" could be used more than once on any day at any given inspection station.

Anticipating that any developmental or start-up problems will be resolved by December 31, 1996, the Department's proposed rule provides that, as of January 1, 1997, inspection stations will no longer have the option of using the "switch" mechanism. However, the State will be conducting a study beginning no later than January 1, 1996 and concluding by July 1, 1996 to fully assess the performance of the IM240 exhaust emission test under "real-life" conditions. In the event that this study, which may also incorporate the findings from other states' research, determines that there are significant problems with the IM240 exhaust emission test, the State may wish to continue to make use of the "switch" mechanism after this date. In that case, the Department will propose a SIP revision and amendments to these rules. The "switch" mechanism is contained in proposed N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5(h).

The ASM5015/2500 RPM exhaust test coupled with either set of evaporative pressure tests yields a significantly higher inspection lane throughput in comparison with the IM240, as demonstrated by the Wayne demonstration inspection lane. The DMV intends to design the new enhanced I/M program on the basis of a 15 vehicle per hour throughput. The provision of the "switch" mechanism will allow the State to attain or exceed this prescribed throughput, thus resulting in a cost savings from not having to construct additional inspection lanes. In addition, since the test-only facilities, if required to "switch," would perform the ASM5015/2500 RPM test on the same equipment used to performed the IM240 test, no significant capital costs will be needed to implement the "switch" mechanism. For more information on the capital and operational costs of this proposal, see the Economic Impact statement below.

This proposal is part of New Jersey's continually evolving comprehensive program to control motor vehicle emissions. Other components of the Statewide motor vehicle emission control plan include tighter new car standards, the use of cleaner fuels, including the Department's demonstration of alternatively-fueled vehicles, and the Department of Transportation's efforts to reduce motor vehicle use.

The specific provisions of the proposal are discussed in more detail below. It should be noted that, in drafting this proposal, the Department has made extensive modifications to the structure of N.J.A.C. 7:27-15 and 7:27B-4 including the redesignation and retitling of various sections within each subchapter. These structural modifications were made to ensure consistency and ease of interpretation of these subchapters.

Changes to N.J.A.C. 7:27-15

N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.1 Definitions

N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.1 defines terms used in subchapter 15. Certain definitions were updated to be consistent with the CAA and the new test procedures being proposed by the Department.

The definition of "approved exhaust gas analytical system" has been deleted and replaced with a new definition of "motor vehicle emission testing equipment," to encompass equipment used in the enhanced I/M program.

The definition of "carbon monoxide (CO)" has been modified to correct a typographical error.

The definition of "gasoline-fueled motor vehicle" is being deleted. The Department defines "gasoline-fueled" and "motor vehicle"; thus the definition is unnecessary.

The definition of "heavy-duty motor vehicle" has been replaced with a definition of "heavy-duty gasoline-fueled vehicle," which is defined as a vehicle with a gross vehicle weight rating in excess of 8,500 pounds. The substitution of this term in the Department's rules is consistent with the EPA's rules.

The term "light-duty motor vehicle" has been deleted, as this vehicle class is encompassed by "light-duty gasoline-fueled vehicle," which replaces it. The substitution of this term in the Department's rules is consistent with the EPA's rules.

The definition of "model year of vehicle" has been modified to remove the phrase "of vehicle" from the term and to clarify it.

The definition of "new motor vehicle" was changed to reflect the fact that motor vehicles are not registered prior to delivery in this State. Thus the clause "registered in New Jersey" was deleted from the definition.

The definition of "person" has been changed to include any individual or entity, without limitation, and to specifically include Federal and foreign entities, to broaden and clarify the definition.

The Department is proposing the following new definitions:

The definition of "air contaminant" is added to make references to pollutants uniform within this rule and for consistency with the Department's other rules.

The definition of "CARB," which refers to the California Air Resource Board, is added for the editorial convenience of referring to this agency by its initials.

The term "certified configuration" is added to define EPA-certified and California-certified vehicle designs as follows: for LDGVs and LDGTs, a vehicle-engine-chassis design and for HDGVs, an engine design. This term applies only to vehicles of model years 1968 and later certified by the EPA and vehicles of model years 1966 and later certified by CARB. Prior to these model years, the EPA and CARB did not certify motor vehicle configurations and thus the configuration of any vehicle prior to these model years is not regulated.

The definition of "Consumer Price Index (CPI)" is added to clarify the methodology by which the Department will determine the minimum cost expenditure for issuance of a cost waiver under N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.10.

As an associated change to "certified configuration," the term "element of design" is added to describe any automotive part or system associated with a vehicle's certified configuration that affects any EPA or California-regulated emissions. The amendments to subchapter 15 relating to anti-tampering provisions necessitate the addition of these definitions.

The definition of "EPA," which refers to the United States Environmental Protection Agency, is added for the editorial convenience of referring to this agency by its initials.

The term "EPA Memorandum 1A" is defined because it is used in the proposed changes at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.7. use of the term clarifies which types of vehicle modifications do not constitute motor vehicle tampering.

The Department has defined "g/mi," which stands for grams per mile, to indicate the quantity of a given air contaminant.

The Department has defined "gasoline-fueled" to encompass alternative fuels in addition to gasoline.

The Department has defined "gross vehicle weight rating (GVWR)" to delineate vehicle classes for which it has established different emission standards. It is defined as the value specified by the manufacturer for the loaded weight of a single or combination vehicle.

The Department is proposing to add and define the following terms which are used in the proposed amendments to classify vehicles by form and function in order to determine the tests to which vehicles would be subject:

"Light-duty gasoline-fueled vehicle" or "LDGV," which is defined as a passenger car or passenger car derivative with a GVWR of 8,500 pounds or less; and

"Light-duty gasoline-fueled truck" or "LDGT," which is defined as a motor vehicle with a GVWR of 8,500 pounds or less with a vehicle curb weight of 6000 pounds or less and a basic frontal area of 45 square feet or less, designed for the transportation of property or for the transportation of persons numbering more than 12 or available with special features enabling off-street or off-highway operation.

LDGTs have been categorized to reflect the applicability of different test types and "fast-pass/fast-fail" standards, as follows:

"Light-duty gasoline-fueled truck 1" or "LDGT1," which is defined as a light-duty gasoline-fueled truck with a GVWR of 6,000 pounds or less; and

"Light-duty gasoline-fueled truck 2" or "LDGT2," which means a light-duty gasoline-fueled truck with a GVWR of more than 6,000 pounds.

The Department has added a definition of "loaded vehicle weight (LVW)" to delineate between standards applied to LDGTs in Table 4 at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6 for the IM240 exhaust emission test procedure.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION*PROPOSALS

The Department has added a definition of "motor vehicle emission testing equipment." This term is needed to distinguish it from current analytical equipment, which it replaces, to implement the enhanced I/M program. The Department anticipates proposing new equipment specifications later this year for equipment that is approvable by both the EPA and the Department. These specifications will be found at a new Appendix 7 to N.J.A.C. 7:27B, which the Department reserves at this time.

The Department has defined "oxides of nitrogen (NO<sub>x</sub>)" because the proposed enhanced I/M program will, in addition to testing for HCs and CO, test for the excessive emission of NO<sub>x</sub>.

The term "professional repair technician" is added to identify those individuals who are authorized to perform emission-related repairs which may qualify for a cost waiver (see N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.10(d)).

"Quasi-public property" is added to extend the applicability of certain prohibitions contained in subchapter 15 to areas that are privately owned yet which are publicly accessible to motor vehicles.

"RPM," which means revolutions per minute, is added to describe the engine speed at which the 2,500 RPM test is performed.

"Tier I Standards" is added to differentiate among vehicle types in setting the "fast-pass/fast-fail" standards for the IM240 exhaust emission test.

The Department has added a definition of "vehicle curb weight" because it is used in the definition of "light-duty gasoline-fueled truck".

N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.2 Applicability

The Department is adding this section to clarify which vehicle types are regulated under this subchapter. Also included within this section are specific vehicle types which are exempt from this subchapter.

N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.3 General public highway standard

The Department is proposing to update the public highway standard currently found at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.2. In addition to regulating the emission of HC and CO on any road, street or highway of the State or any public or quasi-public property in the State, the Department is proposing to also regulate the emission of NO<sub>x</sub>. This proposed change would make the emission standards referenced by the highway standard consistent with those proposed for the enhanced I/M program. The new standards for HC, CO and NO<sub>x</sub> are set forth at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6(b)1 through 3 (and Tables 1, 2, 3 and 4 thereunder) and N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6(b)4 (and Appendix II).

The Department has added a subsection at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.3(c) that prohibits the operation of a motor vehicle on any public highway unless all motor vehicle inspection testing requirements at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5 are met.

Also, the Department has added a subsection at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.3(d) that prohibits the operation of vehicles not in a certified configuration for vehicle model years 1968 and later (certified by the EPA) and for vehicle model years 1966 and later (certified by CARB). Prior to these model years, the EPA and CARB did not certify motor vehicle configurations and thus the configuration of any vehicle prior to these model years is not regulated.

N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.4 New motor vehicle dealer inspections

The reference to inspection standards contained in this section is changed from N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.4(b) to N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6(b). This change reflects the recodification of N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.4 to 7:27-15.6.

N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5 Motor vehicle inspection testing

The Department is proposing a new rule at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5 to explain which test procedures constitute a motor vehicle inspection and which vehicle types and model years are subject to each test procedure. The section consolidates the various motor vehicle inspection testing requirements.

N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5(a) requires that all motor vehicles subject to inspection shall be periodically inspected in accordance with the section. N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5(b) specifies that in order for a motor vehicle to pass inspection it must pass all of the tests that constitute the inspection.

N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5(c) provides that all motor vehicles must be inspected by a test-only inspection facility, with two exceptions. LDGVs, LDGTs and HDGVs which are less than five model years old may be inspected at a PIC licensed by the DMV. Motor vehicles which are part of a fleet and which are less than five model years old may be self-inspected by the fleet operator, so long as said operator obtains a PIC license from the DMV. As an alternative, fleet vehicles may be inspected by an outside contractor hired by the fleet owner to perform inspections.

The contractor will be considered by the State as equivalent to a test-only facility. Thus, a fleet vehicle may be inspected by the contractor for all of its inspection cycles.

The frequency with which a motor vehicle must be inspected is set forth at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5(d). The enhanced I/M program in New Jersey will be on a biennial basis, that is, each vehicle will be inspected every two years. For more information concerning inspection frequency, see the DMV's pre-proposal of N.J.A.C. 13:20-43.2 at 25 N.J.R. 3418(a), August 2, 1993.

N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5(e) specifies that a motor vehicle inspection must consist of the following: (1) a visible smoke test; (2) an exhaust emission test; (3) a catalytic converter check on those vehicles subject to inspection at a test-and-repair facility; (4) an evaporative pressure test on post-1974 LDGVs, LDGT1s and LDGT2s; (5) an evaporative purge test on post-1974 LDGVs, LDGT1s and LDGT2s; and (6) proof that all emissions recall repairs have been performed.

N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5(f) outlines on-road testing requirements as (1) a visible smoke test; and (2) an idle test. The Department has reserved N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5(g) for the possible use of remote sensing techniques.

All motor vehicles are required to have an exhaust emission test. N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5(h) establishes which exhaust test a vehicle must undergo, depending upon factors such as vehicle model year and vehicle type, at which stage of implementation of the enhanced I/M program the vehicle is inspected, and whether the vehicle is inspected at a test-only or a test-and-repair facility. Based on these factors, a vehicle will undergo one of the following exhaust tests: (1) the idle test, (2) the ASM5015/2500 RPM test, (3) the IM240, or (4) the "fast-pass/fast-fail" IM240. For a detailed discussion of the nature and applicability of these exhaust tests, see the chart in the Summary section above.

The EPA's rules at 40 CFR §51.353(c) require that 0.1 percent of the vehicle population subject to inspection in a given year be evaluated using a full 240 second IM240 exhaust test. The testing of this representative, randomly selected set of vehicles will be used as an evaluation tool for the new enhanced I/M program. Accordingly, the Department is proposing to add this testing requirement at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5(i), providing that those vehicles subject to evaluation testing shall receive an IM240 test, performed in accordance with the procedures specified at N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.7(d), in addition to the testing requirements at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5.

N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5(j) specifies the requirements for the reinspection of a motor vehicle.

N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6 Motor vehicle inspection standards

The Department is proposing several changes to the inspection standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6 to be consistent with the new inspection procedures. N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6(b)1, 2, 3 and 4 are added to specify where the standards may be found for each exhaust emission test procedure. Regulatory Appendix 1 and Tables 2, 3 and 4 contain the new standards. In addition, the Department is reserving standards within Tables 2, 3, and 4 to be used for vehicles powered by a fuel other than gasoline. The Department has reserved these standards in an effort to address the issue of possible false failures of alternatively-fueled vehicles. The standards being proposed by the Department are designed for total HC measurement. Some alternatively-fueled vehicles emit large quantities of the HC methane, which is an inert compound relatively harmless to the environment. However, if tested using the proposed standards, these alternatively-fueled vehicles may mistakenly be identified as high emitters and, consequently, fail the exhaust test. As such, the Department is reserving standards for alternatively-fueled vehicles until standards designed for non-methane HC measurement are developed.

Table 4 at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6(b) contains the standards to be used with the IM240 exhaust emission test. The new emission standards for the proposed IM240 exhaust emission test are to be phased-in in two stages. The first set of standards is effective from January 1, 1995 until December 31, 1997, after which the second set of more stringent standards becomes effective. The delayed implementation of more stringent standards should serve to reduce the anticipated high initial failure rate during the phase-in period.

Appendix II sets forth the "fast-pass/fast-fail" standards developed by the EPA to be used when performing a "fast-pass/fast-fail" IM240 exhaust emission test. To date, the EPA has developed and made available to the Department the interim "fast-pass/fast-fail" standards (to be used from January 1, 1995 through December 31, 1997) for the following categories of vehicles: LDGVs, for model years 1983-1990; LDGVs, model years 1991-1995, not including 1994 and 1995 vehicles certified to Tier 1 standards; and LDGVs, model years 1994-1995 certified to Tier 1 standards and all 1996 and newer vehicles. EPA has also developed and made available to the Department the final "fast-pass/fast-fail" standards (to be used from January 1, 1998 and forward) for LDGVs, for model years 1983-1995, not including 1994 and 1995 vehicles certified to Tier 1 standards. Emission standards for those vehicle classes which have not been provided by the EPA shall be determined in accordance with the methodology used by the EPA and set forth at Appendix II. For any given vehicle type or model year, the "fast-pass/fast-fail" IM240 standards will be functionally equivalent to, and not more stringent than, those standards for the full IM240 test set forth in Table 4 at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6.

The use of the "fast-pass/fast-fail" algorithm allows a vehicle to pass or fail the exhaust emissions test without completing the full 240 second driving cycle if the vehicle exhibits emissions levels such that the vehicle would clearly pass or fail the full IM240 exhaust emission test. Otherwise, the test is run for the entire 240 second duration to determine whether the vehicle passes or fails. The Department has included in Appendix II to these rules, and incorporated therein by reference, the algorithm distributed by the EPA.

The standards to be used in performing the ASM5015 exhaust emission test are contained in Table 3 of N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6(b). There are both interim and final standards for use with the ASM5015 test. The interim standards will be used from January 1, 1995 through December 31, 1997, at which time the final standards become effective. However, in order for a vehicle to pass this emission test, it must also meet the specified standards for the 2500 RPM test, as set forth in Table 2.

New provisions at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6(d), (e) and (f) account for the appropriate inspection of vehicles in which the engine or fuel type has been changed and for vehicles that are manufactured or modified to operate on more than one fuel type.

N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.7 Prohibition of tampering with emission control apparatus

The Department is proposing amendments at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.7 which prohibit any changes to a vehicle's certified configuration or element of design and the operation of such a modified vehicle on any road, street or highway of the State or any public or quasi-public property in the State. The Department would allow those modifications which are made in accordance with the EPA Memorandum 1A or approved by CARB executive order. Memorandum 1A and a CARB executive order are the only two sources authorized by the Federal government to allow changes to a motor vehicle's certified configuration.

The amendment would prohibit the offering for sale or lease of any vehicle which has been tampered with, that is, in which any element of design has been disconnected, detached, deactivated, or in any other way rendered altered or modified from the design of the original vehicle manufacturer. The expansion of the prohibition to offers for sale and offers for lease addresses the enforcement problem the Department has experienced under the current rule, which prohibits only the actual sale of a tampered vehicle.

To further discourage tampering with an element of design, the Department is also proposing to prohibit the sale and offering for sale of components that are not designed to duplicate the function and performance of the original element of design unless these components are sold by the original vehicle manufacturer or are approved by CARB executive order as identical replacement parts. See CAA 203(a)(3)(B).

The intent of the provisions at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.7 is solely to prohibit any modification to a motor vehicle which would increase its emissions and consequently, negatively affect air quality. It is not the intention of the Department to have this section apply to modifications which do not affect vehicle emissions.

N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.8 Idle standard

The Department's current idle standard, set forth at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6, prohibits the idling of a gasoline-fueled motor vehicle for more than three consecutive minutes if the vehicle is not in motion, with two exceptions. The first exception allows an extended warm-up period of 30 consecutive minutes for vehicles operating on private property or at their permanent place of business; the second allows a warm-up period of 15 consecutive minutes for vehicles which have had their engines stopped for three or more hours. Since whatever convenience these exceptions might have originally provided is now far outweighed by the need to reduce unnecessary emissions, the Department is eliminating them from the idle standard proposed for amendment at N.J.A.C.

7:27-15.8. The Department is proposing no modifications to the provisions currently found under N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6(b), which identify specific exemptions to the idle standard.

N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.9 Non-interference with the motor vehicle codes

The Department is proposing to eliminate the exception from applicability of this subchapter for vehicles with an engine displacement of less than 50 cubic inches (819 cubic centimeters) currently found at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.7. The EPA's final rule on I/M program requirements does not permit the exception of these vehicles; they set no minimum weight or engine size limitation. The exception for motorcycles has been moved to N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.2 Applicability. N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.7, as proposed for recodification to N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.9, will contain, unmodified, the provision currently found at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.7(b).

N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.8 Variances

The Department is proposing to eliminate the current provision at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.8, under which the Commissioner of the Department or the Director of the DMV may prescribe alternative emission inspection standards for vehicles deemed incapable of complying with the provisions of N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.4(b) (recodified, with changes, to N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6(b)). The provision is inconsistent with EPA guidance at 40 CFR 51.360(b). The Department believes that the new rule on waivers, proposed at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.10, will achieve the same end as the variance in a less subjective manner.

N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.10 Cost waiver

The Department is proposing a new section to establish criteria which would allow a motorist, under limited circumstances, to be relieved from the Department's inspection requirements set forth at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5 and from the DMV's inspection requirements set forth at Title 39 and N.J.A.C. 13:20-43.2. The Department's rule establishes a cost waiver. The Department believes that the proposed waiver option will sufficiently mitigate inconvenience and economic hardship to the motorist without significantly decreasing the emission reductions expected to be gained by the enhanced I/M program.

For most vehicles, the cost of repairs needed to pass the emissions tests will not be excessive and will be significantly offset by the reduction in fuel consumption that is associated with repairs to malfunctioning emission control systems. However, the Department recognizes that for some vehicles the cost of repairs may not be cost effective; in some cases the cost of repair may exceed the value of the vehicle.

To address these concerns, consistent with the requirements established by the EPA at 40 CFR 51.360, the Department is proposing a cost waiver. After meeting certain criteria, a motorist who has spent a minimum of $450.00 on emission-related repairs to bring a failed vehicle into conformance could apply for a cost waiver, which would be effective until the vehicle is next due for inspection. This process would have to be repeated for any inspection cycle where the vehicle fails the emission test, repairs exceed $450.00, and the motorist again desires a single test cycle waiver for repair costs in excess of $450.00. The $450.00 minimum expenditure will be adjusted in January of each year by the percentage, if any, by which the Consumer Price Index (CPI) for the preceding year differs from the CPI for 1989. See proposed N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.10(e). The CPI figure for 1989 is 124.0. The most current CPI figure to date is 143.2 for the year 1993. The most recent CPI figure is the calculated average of the CPIs over the 12-month period beginning August 1992 and ending August 1993, as specified in the EPA's final rule on I/M program requirements. For example, if the enhanced I/M program was in effect now, the minimum expenditure in 1994 to qualify for a cost waiver would be $519.68.

An applicant for a cost waiver will be required to provide documentation indicating that any available emission-related warranty coverage has been used or that warranty coverage for needed repairs has been denied by the manufacturer or authorized dealer before the waiver can be issued.

The EPA's rules at 40 CFR 51.360(d)(1) require that the SIP include a maximum waiver rate expressed as a percentage of initially failed vehicles, which will be used for estimating emission reduction benefits in the modelling analysis. For an enhanced I/M program, the EPA suggests that this waiver rate be three percent. New Jersey has accepted the EPA's suggested waiver rate and, thus, the number of waivers issued by the State in a given calendar year will not exceed three percent of the total number of vehicles that fail initial inspection. If New Jersey exceeds this three percent waiver rate, the State will lose emission credit for the enhanced I/M program towards its attainment goal and will have to take corrective action to make up for the loss. This might result in the implementation of additional emission reduction strategies. However, the State believes that exceedance of the three percent waiver rate is unlikely.

During its two previous proposals, the Department had requested comment on the issuance of waivers. To date, no comments on a waiver program have been received by the Department. The Department is again soliciting comment on the issuance of waivers and encourages the public to submit recommendations on waiver types and methodologies.

Changes to N.J.A.C. 7:27A*N.J.A.C. 7:27A-3.10 Civil administrative penalties for violations of rules adopted pursuant to the Act

The Department is proposing to amend the N.J.A.C. 7:27A-3.10(e)15 civil administrative penalty schedule for violations of N.J.A.C. 7:27-15. Several new provisions and amendments of the existing penalty provisions are described below.

The Department is proposing amendments at N.J.A.C. 7:27A-3.10(e)15 to establish penalties for the violation of proposed N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.3(d), which prohibits the operation on any road, street or highway of the State or any public or quasi-public property in the State of any motor vehicle that is not of a certified configuration for specific model years.

The penalties for N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.3(d) are the same as those for N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.7(a)2, which are the penalties for driving a tampered vehicle. The emissions generated by driving a motor vehicle in a non-certified configuration would be similar to those generated by driving a tampered vehicle. The Department determined that the environmental degradation caused by these two activities would be similar and thus, the penalties are also identical.

The Department is also proposing amendments at N.J.A.C. 7:27A-3.10 to establish penalties for the violation of proposed N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.7(a)3, which prohibits leasing or offering for sale or lease a tampered vehicle, that is, a vehicle with a certified configuration in which any element of design has been disconnected, detached, deactivated, or in any other way altered or modified from the design of the original vehicle manufacturer. These penalties are identical to those imposed under the current rules for the sale of vehicles with tampered emission control devices.

The penalties for violations of N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.7(a)3 distinguish between an owner of four or fewer vehicles and an owner of five or more vehicles (for example, a fleet owner). This distinction was made to be consistent with the penalties imposed for violations of the provisions of N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.7(a)1. When the penalties at N.J.A.C. 7:27A-3.10(e)15 were originally developed, individuals typically owned two vehicles or less. Currently, individual vehicle ownership exceeds, on average, three vehicles. Therefore, the number of vehicles owned by one person was changed at N.J.A.C. 7:27A-3.10(e)15 to more accurately reflect the individual ownership of multiple vehicles. This ensures that an individual who owns multiple vehicles is not mistakenly assessed a penalty more appropriate for a fleet owner or motor vehicle dealership. The penalties for fleet vehicles are more severe due to the greater contribution of their emissions to the degradation of air quality.

Finally, the Department is proposing amendments at N.J.A.C. 7:27A-3.10 to establish penalties for the violation of proposed N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.7(a)4, which prohibits the sale or offering for sale of emission control defeat devices. The sale of a device or component that is not designed to duplicate the function and performance of any element of design installed in a vehicle with a certified configuration by the original vehicle manufacturer has the same potential for causing increased emissions and environmental degradation as the sale or lease of a tampered vehicle. Since the effects of the two kinds of violations are virtually indistinguishable, the Department is proposing penalties for violations of N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.7(a)4 equal to those already established for violations of N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.7(a)3 for owners of more than four vehicles. The inclusion of these penalties requires modification of the introductory language at N.J.A.C. 7:27A-3.10(e)15 to make clear that the civil administrative penalty amounts for each violation of N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.7(a)4 will be imposed per device or per component.

The proposed new penalties are intended to ensure compliance with the proposed new and amended sections of N.J.A.C. 7:27-15. The penalties for violations of proposed new N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.3(d) and proposed amended N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.7(a)1, 15.7(a)2, 15.7(a)3, and 15.7(a)4 are consistent with penalties for violations of similar requirements in N.J.A.C. 7:27-15. In establishing the proposed penalty amounts, the Department has applied the following criteria:

1. The potential or actual health and environmental impacts of the violation, including the characteristics and quantity of the air contaminants regulated, the magnitude of the areas affected and the air quality of the area affected;

2. The deterrent value of the penalty and whether the proposed penalty amounts are appropriate to ensure compliance with N.J.A.C. 7:27-15; and

3. Consistency with penalties in N.J.A.C. 7:27A-3.10 for violations of other comparable rules in N.J.A.C. 7:27.

Changes to N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4*N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.1 Definitions

N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.1 defines terms used in subchapter 4, which contains the rules regarding testing procedures for motor vehicle emissions. Certain definitions are being updated to be consistent with the CAA and with the new test procedures being proposed by the Department.

The term "chassis dynamometer" is modified to include "dynamometer" and the definition is modified to correct a typographical error.

The term "diesel-powered motor vehicle" is replaced with "heavy-duty diesel vehicle (HDDV)." The new definition specifies a minimum weight in excess of 8,500 pounds and reflects the vehicle's use of diesel oil as its fuel.

The definition of "gasoline-fueled motor vehicle" is being deleted. The Department defines "gasoline-fueled" and "motor vehicle"; thus the definition is unnecessary.

The term "heavy-duty motor vehicle" is replaced with "heavy-duty gasoline-fueled vehicle," which is defined as a vehicle with a gross vehicle weight rating in excess of 8,500 pounds. The substitution of this term in the Department's rules is consistent with the EPA's rules.

The definition of "light-duty motor vehicle" has been deleted, as it has been in subchapter 15. This vehicle class is encompassed by the new definition of "light-duty gasoline-fueled vehicle." The substitution of this term in the Department's rules is consistent with the EPA's rules.

The Department is also proposing to add definitions consistent with the proposed enhanced I/M testing procedures.

The definition of "EPA," which refers to the United States Environmental Protection Agency, is added for the editorial convenience of referring to this agency by its initials.

The Department has defined "gasoline-fueled" to encompass alternative fuels in addition to gasoline.

The Department has defined "gross vehicle weight rating (GVWR)" to delineate vehicle classes for which it has established different emission standards. It is defined as the value specified by the manufacturer for the loaded weight of a single or combination vehicle.

The terms "inertia weight" and "vehicle curb weight" are added in order to describe the calculation of the dynamometer load used for the proposed emission tests. "Vehicle curb weight" is the actual weight of the vehicle in operational status; "inertia weight" is defined as the vehicle curb weight plus 300 pounds.

As in subchapter 15, the Department is proposing to add and define the following terms which are used in the proposed amendments to classify vehicles by form and function in order to determine the tests to which vehicles would be subjected:

"Light-duty gasoline-fueled vehicle" or "LDGV," which is defined as a passenger car or passenger car derivative with a GVWR of 8,500 pounds or less; and

"Light-duty gasoline-fueled truck" or "LDGT," which is defined as a motor vehicle with a GVWR of 8,500 pounds or less with a vehicle curb weight of 6,000 pounds or less and a basic frontal area of 45 square feet or less, designed for the transportation of property, or for the transportation of persons numbering more than 12, or with the availability of special features enabling off-street or off-highway operation.

LDGTs have been categorized to reflect the applicability of different test types and "fast-pass/fast-fail" standards, as follows:

"Light-duty gasoline-fueled truck 1" or "LDGT1," which is defined as a light-duty gasoline-fueled truck with a GVWR of 6,000 pounds or less; and

"Light-duty gasoline-fueled truck 2" or "LDGT2," which means a light-duty gasoline-fueled vehicle with a GVWR of more than 6,000 pounds.

As in subchapter 15, the Department has added a definition of "motor vehicle emission testing equipment." This term is needed to distinguish new equipment from current analytical equipment which will be replaced when the enhanced I/M program is implemented. The Department anticipates proposing new specifications later this year for equipment that is approvable by both the EPA and the Department. These specifications will be found at a new Appendix 7 to N.J.A.C. 7:27B, which the Department reserves at this time.

"Tier I Standards" is added, as it is in subchapter 15, to differentiate among vehicle types in setting the "fast-pass/fast-fail" standards for the IM240 exhaust emission test.

N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.5 Procedures for the visible smoke test and the idle test

The Department is not proposing any substantive changes to the existing smoke test described at N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.5(a) or the existing idle test described at N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.5(b). However, the Department is proposing structural modifications and updates to standard references within this section.

N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.6 Procedure for the ASM5015 test and the 2500 RPM test

The Department is proposing to add a new exhaust emission test procedure, the ASM5015 test coupled with the 2500 RPM test. The ASM5015 exhaust emission test procedure consists of a steady-state loaded mode test followed by a 2500 RPM, high idle test. The Department believes that this combination of tests yields a better overall correlation with the FTP than either test alone. The ASM5015 test involves operation of the vehicle on a dynamometer at a constant speed of 15 MPH under a load which is calculated to subject the vehicle to 50 percent of the maximum acceleration rate of the FTP driving cycle. The ASM5015 test duration is 90 seconds with a fast pass at 30 seconds if the exhaust concentrations are significantly below the standards. The 2500 RPM test is conducted with the vehicle's engine running at a speed of 2500 RPM for 30 seconds. In order for a vehicle to pass this emission test procedure, it must meet the specified standards for both the ASM5015 test and the 2500 RPM test.

In test-and-repair facilities, the ASM5015/2500 RPM test uses a Bureau of Automotive Repair (BAR) 90 analyzer, which measures emission concentrations, and a non-transient dynamometer. However, test-only facilities, if required to "switch" to the ASM5015/2500 RPM, will perform this test on the equipment used to perform the IM240 test. For a more detailed discussion of implementation and operation costs of this test procedure, refer to the Economic Impact statement below.

N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.7 Procedures for the IM240 test and the fast-pass/fast-fail IM240 test

The Department is also proposing to add two exhaust emission test procedures, the IM240 test and the IM240 test utilizing the "fast-pass/fast-fail" algorithm. The IM240 is a 240 second driving cycle which employs a series of accelerations and decelerations and simulates typical driving conditions, such as road friction and drag. The test is accomplished by operating the vehicle with its drive wheels on a dynamometer. The "fast-pass/fast-fail" algorithm allows early termination of the test for those vehicles whose emission levels indicate that they would clearly pass or fail the IM240 emission test if it were to run for the full 240 seconds. Exhaust emission samples are collected from the tailpipe and expressed in terms of mass (g/mi).

The equipment used in performing the IM240 exhaust emission test, whether or not the test employs the "fast-pass/fast-fail" algorithm, includes mass emission sampling and an emission analysis system in conjunction with a transient mode dynamometer. Capital costs to implement the IM240 and the evaporative tests biennially under the program being proposed are estimated at between $74 and $108 million and it is anticipated that this test equipment will be more expensive to operate. For a more detailed discussion of implementation and operation costs of the IM240 exhaust emission test, refer to the Economic Impact statement below.

The new provisions above replace the existing N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.7, Gasoline-fueled motor vehicle exhaust lead determination procedure. The Department is proposing to repeal the requirements of the original N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.7, which, pursuant to the provisions of N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.7(f), expired on October 1, 1986. Originally, the Department included this provision to collect data on the presence of lead in vehicle exhaust. The Department only planned to collect enough information to determine the quantity of lead present in vehicle exhaust and thus, added a specific expiration date to the provision.

N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.8 Emission control apparatus examination procedure

The Department is proposing to eliminate the examination for the fuel inlet restrictor. As leaded gasoline is generally not available in New Jersey and neighboring states, this examination is no longer necessary. In addition, as of 1995, leaded gasoline will be banned nationwide. The Department plans to retain the visual examination for the presence of properly installed catalytic converters. This type of visual inspection will be performed only on vehicles subject to inspection at a test-and-repair facility. Vehicles inspected at a test-only facility will not be subject to a visual inspection for the catalytic converter, as the equipment that will be used in these facilities is sophisticated enough to detect whether or not the catalytic converter is functioning properly.

N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.9 Procedures for the evaporative pressure test

The Department is proposing to add tests of each vehicle's evaporative pressure system at N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.9, as required by the EPA's final rule on I/M program requirements at 40 CFR 51.357(a)(10).

Evaporative emissions from a vehicle's fuel storage and delivery systems constitute a significant source of volatile organic compound (VOC) emissions. To date, I/M programs have not effectively tested evaporative emission control systems for integrity and function. The Department is proposing two evaporative pressure tests for use in New Jersey's enhanced I/M program. In addition, the Department is also proposing two evaporative purge tests at N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.10 (see discussion below).

The two evaporative system integrity (pressure) tests will be used by public or private inspection facilities to evaluate the evaporative system for leaks. The first test, described at N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.9(b), is the pressure test developed by the State in conjunction with a private contractor. The test is performed by pressurizing the evaporative system, from the fuel tank to the evaporative canister, with nitrogen or a functionally equivalent gas to 14 inches of water. The evaporative system is then monitored for a drop in pressure. Any pressure drop of six or more inches of water shall be considered an evaporative emission test failure. During the pressure test, the gas cap will be simultaneously pressurized and tested with procedures similar to those just described.

The second pressure test, described at N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.9(c), is the one recommended by the EPA in its final rule on I/M program requirements at 40 CFR 51.357(a)(10). The EPA's evaporative pressure test requires that the system be pressurized from the evaporative canister to the fuel tank with nitrogen to 14 inches of water (plus or minus 0.5 inches) without exceeding 26 inches. The evaporative system is then sealed and monitored for pressure decay for a maximum of two minutes. After two minutes, the gas cap is loosened and the system is monitored for a sudden pressure drop, indicating that the fuel tank was pressurized.

N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.10 Procedures for the evaporative purge test

The Department is proposing to add tests of each vehicle's evaporative purge system at N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.10, as required by the EPA's rule on I/M program requirements at 40 CFR 51.357(a)(9).

Both of the two evaporative performance (purge) tests being proposed by the Department check whether captured fuel vapor is being properly removed from the canister and delivered to the engine during vehicle operation. The first test, at N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.10(b), is conducted by introducing helium into the fuel tank during either of the proposed exhaust emission tests (that is, the IM240 test or the ASM5015/2500 RPM). The measurement of the helium concentration at the tailpipe is used to determine if the engine is purging vapors properly from the gasoline storage system. This purge test can be used in conjunction with either the ASM5015/2500 RPM exhaust test or an IM240 exhaust test, with or without use of the "fast-pass/fast-fail" algorithm.

The second purge test, described at N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.10(c), is the one EPA recommended in its final rule on I/M program requirements at 40 CFR 51.357(a)(9). The EPA's purge test measures the total purge flow (in standard liters) occurring in the vehicle's evaporative system during the exhaust emission test driving cycle. The purge flow measurement system connects to the evaporative system in series between the canister and the engine.

A purge test is performed simultaneously with the exhaust emission test procedure. The EPA's "fast-pass/fast-fail" algorithm developed for its IM240 exhaust test includes purge standards which would allow a vehicle to pass or fail the purge test without completing the full test cycle. This is not a separate algorithm from the one used for the IM240 test, but is a piece of that algorithm that can only be used with the EPA-recommended purge test.

N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.11 Procedure for on-board diagnostics testing

As required by the CAAA, the EPA has promulgated rules at 40 CFR §86 requiring manufacturers to equip new vehicles with on-board diagnostic (OBD) systems beginning with the 1994 model year. These advanced OBD systems, known as OBD II, monitor the performance of the vehicle's emission control equipment, fuel metering system, ignition system, and other equipment and operating parameters for the purpose of detecting malfunction or deterioration in performance that would be expected to cause a vehicle to fail to meet emission standards. When such problems are detected, a malfunction indicator lamp located in the dashboard of the vehicle is illuminated, instructing the vehicle driver to "Check Engine." A vehicle cannot pass emission inspection until proper service is conducted to correct the problem.

The EPA has indicated that it will promulgate rules which will establish OBD test procedures and which will direct states, as part of their I/M programs, to begin testing for OBD failures by using these procedures. The Department, therefore, is reserving a section in the proposed rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.11 for OBD test procedures.

Social Impact

These proposed amendments and new rules will have a positive social impact. They are designed to aid the State in attaining and maintaining the NAAQS for CO and ozone by reducing the emission of air contaminants from motor vehicles through an approvable, Federally-mandated enhanced I/M program.

Though manufacturers of motor vehicles have progressively reduced the emissions of air contaminants from motor vehicles, vehicles continue to contribute 27 percent of the VOCs and 38 percent of the NO<sub>x</sub> emissions (both of which contribute to the formation of ambient ozone), as well as 66 percent of the carbon monoxide released into New Jersey's air. Motor vehicles are also a major contributor to the toxics present in the atmosphere, such as benzene.

According to the 1990 base emission inventory developed by the Department during 1993, highway sources contribute 37.7 percent of the 1,511 tons of NO<sub>x</sub> added daily to the atmosphere in New Jersey. NO<sub>x</sub> cause irritation to the lungs, lower resistance to respiratory infections, and contribute to the development of emphysema, bronchitis, and pneumonia. NO<sub>x</sub> also react chemically in the air to form nitric acid, which contributes to acid rain formation.

The 1990 base emission inventory also shows that for VOCs in New Jersey, highway sources contribute 26.7 percent of the daily total VOC emissions in New Jersey of 1,776 tons. Some VOCs, including benzene, formaldehyde and 1,3-butadiene, are classified as air toxics. They have been associated with the onset of cancer and other adverse health effects.

VOCs participate in photochemical reactions with NO<sub>x</sub> to create ozone and other oxidants. Ground level ozone is a major public health problem in New Jersey. Studies have proven that ozone has severe and debilitating effects on lung capacity and can have detrimental effects on respiration. A series of EPA studies indicate that ozone exposures as low as 0.08 ppm, well below the NAAQS of 0.12 ppm, can impair lung function. Even at low levels, ozone can cause average humans to experience breathing difficulty, chest pains, coughing and irritation to the nose, throat and eyes. For individuals who already experience respiratory problems or who are predisposed to respiratory ailments, these symptoms can become much more severe, forcing those individuals to alter their lifestyles to avoid unnecessary exposure.

In addition, chronic ozone exposure studies performed on laboratory animals indicate that long-term exposure to ozone affects lung physiology and morphology. These studies suggest that humans exposed to ozone over prolonged periods of time can experience chronic respiratory injuries resulting in premature or accelerated aging of human lung tissue.

The implications of these studies are quite serious considering the fact that in 1991, New Jersey's air was categorized as "unhealthy" on 36 days. Twenty-six of these days were categorized "unhealthy" due to excessive ozone levels, that is, where the State was out of compliance with the NAAQS of 0.12 ppm. In the 1992 summer season, there were only nine exceedances of the NAAQS for ozone, but that decrease from the prior year has been attributed not to a significant reduction in VOC and NO<sub>x</sub> emissions, but rather to an unusually cold, cloudy season, which did not provide conditions conducive to the photochemical reaction which results in ozone production. In 1993, New Jersey exceeded the NAAQS of ozone on 18 days.

Furthermore, New Jersey's air exceeded the ozone level of 0.08 ppm (the amount at which EPA's studies indicate that lung function may deteriorate) an average of 228.47 hours through the "ozone season" or summer months of 1991, 1,140 hours in the summer months of 1992 and 2,414 hours in the summer months of 1993. It is clear, therefore, that the ozone levels in New Jersey must be reduced in order to protect the health and welfare of the residents of the State.

The Department's 1990 base year inventory indicates that highway sources alone contribute 66.2 percent of the total CO in New Jersey of 4,459 tons/day. This poisonous gas interferes with the oxygen-carrying ability of the blood. Exposure to CO aggravates angina and other aspects of coronary heart disease and decreases exercise tolerance in persons with cardiovascular problems. In fetuses, infants, elderly persons, and individuals with respiratory diseases, elevated levels of CO are also a serious health risk.

These amendments and new rules will affect all New Jersey residents in some fashion. Overall, they will benefit the residents of New Jersey by providing them with cleaner air and thus a healthier environment.

According to current DMV registration data, there are approximately 4.8 million passenger vehicles registered to both individuals and businesses in New Jersey. Virtually all of these vehicles will be subject to the enhanced I/M program. As such, they will be better maintained, resulting in greater fuel economy and reduced emissions. The enhanced I/M program includes a more stringent exhaust emission test than are part of the current vehicle inspection program and additional evaporative emission control tests. Since vehicles will be subject to more advanced tests and more stringent standards, motorists may see an increase in repair costs. The emission malfunctions identified by the enhanced I/M program may be in addition to and less obvious than those currently detected, and may sometimes require more sophisticated service and equipment to correct.

Although the Department and the DMV are proposing measures to mitigate it, motorists may also experience the "ping-pong" effect. The EPA refers to the "ping-pong" effect as one of the possible problems associated with the IM240 test, with or without use of the "fast-pass/fast-fail" algorithm. Since repair technicians working on IM240 failures may not have access to IM240 test equipment because of its cost, they could perform repairs without the ability to duplicate the test for diagnostic feedback. This could result in a process whereby an initially failed vehicle is "repaired," that is, passes tests given at the repair facility, but fails reinspection at the test-only facility, thus requiring one or more return trips to the repair facility. This process could continue several times while the mechanic searches for the problem causing the failure, resulting in inconvenience and increased repair costs for the motorist.

The ASM5015/2500 RPM exhaust test is conducted with less costly test equipment which would be more affordable for repair facilities. This could reduce the occurrence of the "ping-pong" effect. However, since repair technicians currently use automotive analyzers and diagnostic equipment which are better able to interface with on-board diagnostic systems and identify emission component failures, they have an additional system of diagnostic feedback. Thus, the likelihood of the "ping-pong" effect occurring with the IM240 exhaust emission test would be limited to very elusive emission system malfunctions.

Use of either the "fast-pass/fast-fail" IM240 or the ASM5015/2500RPM represent changes with substantial impacts on the motorist and the repair industry. Specifically, the enhanced exhaust test, unlike the current exhaust test, will measure the level of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions. It will also more precisely measure levels of HCs and CO emissions than does the current test. It is anticipated that more motorists will be required to make repairs on vehicles for emission-related defects that are not identifiable under the current program. It is the identification and correction of these defects, however, which will significantly reduce emissions and result in improved air quality.

Use of the proposed evaporative purge or pressure tests will also have significant impacts on the motoring public, since these tests are not currently conducted in New Jersey. The purge test will examine the vehicle's evaporative system for functional problems, while the pressure test will evaluate the evaporative system for leaks. Performance of either of these test could lead to an increased likelihood of inspection failure. Thus, as with the enhanced exhaust test, the purge and pressure tests could result in repairs not previously required. However, once again, it is the identification and correction of said emission-related defects that will result in significantly improved air quality.

The proposed addition of penalties at N.J.A.C. 7:27A-3.10 will facilitate enforcement of the proposed prohibition of operating non-certified vehicles, leasing or offering for sale or lease of tampered vehicles, and selling or offering for sale emission control defeat devices. To the extent that these penalties further the goals of the enhanced I/M program, they advance the positive social impact of the program as a whole, described herein.

The enhanced I/M program, as it was initially proposed by the Department in conjunction with the DMV, called for the separation of test and repair within the same facility. Under the previously proposed amendments and new rules, private inspection centers (PICs), of which there are approximately 3,900 licensed in New Jersey, would have been forced to choose between performing inspections only or performing repair and repair-related activities only. However, the EPA's final rule on I/M program requirements provides at 40 CFR 51.353 that enhanced I/M programs must be operated in a centralized test-only format, unless the state can demonstrate that a decentralized program is equally effective in achieving the enhanced I/M performance standard. The Department, in conjunction with the DMV, has developed an enhanced I/M program design that will allow New Jersey-licensed PICs to continue to perform test and repair activities without compromising air quality or the State's ability to achieve the enhanced I/M performance standard.

Allowing for a limited test-and-repair component of the enhanced I/M program has some positive social effects. This will clearly benefit those small businesses which would otherwise have been forced to give up some portion of their business in order to become either test-only or repair-only under a completely centralized enhanced I/M program. This in turn would have also made the inspection and/or repair process less convenient for the motoring public, who would have had fewer facilities from which to choose for testing and/or repairs and, more importantly, would have been required to use separate facilities for emission testing and repair. A more detailed discussion of the impacts on these PICs can be found in the Regulatory Flexibility Analysis below.

Economic Impact

The proposed amendments and new rules will result in both positive and negative economic impacts. While implementation of the amendments and rules will involve initial and associated costs for compliance, it will also result in improved air quality, thereby reducing the substantial costs to the State associated with air pollution. In addition, by complying with Federal air quality standards, the State will be able to avoid the significant adverse economic impact of Federal sanctions.

It is anticipated that a portion of the approximately 3,900 test-and-repair stations that currently perform 20 percent of the State's vehicle inspections will choose to continue operating as repair-only facilities and discontinue their inspection operations, both because of the greater cost of enhanced I/M test equipment and the limitation on test and repair within the same facility. This additional loss of PICs will result in the need for State inspection lane expansion, as discussed below, and will have an economic impact on those PICs opting to discontinue inspections, as is discussed more fully in the Regulatory Flexibility Analysis below.

Both because this limitation on PICs will shift many inspections to the centralized State lanes and because the enhanced test procedures will be of longer duration than they are at present, the DMV anticipates that adoption of the proposed enhanced I/M program will necessitate the modification and upgrading of at least 59 of its 86 inspection lanes. Upgrading the existing inspection lanes will assure an efficient inspection system providing convenient service to the motoring public of this State.

Concerns with the ability of the "fast-pass/fast-fail" IM240 test to achieve an acceptable throughput have led the DMV and the Department to develop a fallback measure to obtain the necessary throughput. The EPA had reported that the "fast-pass/fast-fail" IM240, in conjunction with the "fast-pass/fast-fail" purge test, would achieve a throughput of 20 vehicles per hour. However, as discussed above in the Summary, the DMV, using this test procedure in its experimental inspection lane in Wayne, New Jersey, has been unable to achieve this throughput. Although the EPA has attributed the State's inability to achieve the expected throughput to its inexperience with performing a transient emission test, the Department and the DMV believe this inability to be the fault of the test methodology itself. Accordingly, the centralized inspection centers will be allowed to "switch" from the IM240 exhaust emission test to the faster ASM5015/2500 RPM exhaust emissions test under certain specified conditions. The EPA has indicated that this would be an acceptable contingency measure.

The DMV intends to implement the enhanced I/M program based on a 15 vehicle per hour throughput. The provision of the "switch" will allow the State to attain or exceed this throughput without constructing new lanes. Thus, use of this switching mechanism will avoid an unacceptable increase in the initial capital costs and operating costs of the enhanced I/M program. In addition, inspection by PICs of certain vehicle model years that would otherwise be subject to testing at test-only facilities will also reduce the need for the construction of more centralized inspection lanes, thus reducing initial capital costs.

Although the DMV had initially estimated that implementation of the IM240 emission test would require $282 million in capital expenditures, implementation of the "fast-pass/fast-fail" IM240 would require a lower capital investment if the State can achieve the throughput of between 15 to 20 vehicles per hour promised by the EPA. In that case, the capital costs of the "fast-pass/fast-fail" IM240 program (with vehicles less than five years old inspected at PICs) is estimated to be between $74 and $108 million. There will be minimal additional cost for switching to the ASM5015/2500 RPM exhaust test. Cost to operate the centralized lanes (not including oversight costs) are estimated to be between $37 and $48 million annually.

Incorporated into the program's capital costs are the costs of each component of the proposed enhanced I/M program. These components include the evaporative pressure and purge testing equipment. The Department has estimated that the equipment costs of either of the alternative pressure tests being proposed by the Department would be approximately $500.00 per inspection lane. However, the equipment costs of the alternative purge tests vary significantly. The purge test developed by the State in conjunction with a private contractor requires the use of an inert gas measuring device and would cost the State approximately $10,000 per inspection lane in initial capital expenditures. The EPA-recommended purge test will cost about $500.00 per inspection lane in initial capital expenditures.

Even though the EPA-recommended purge test has a lower initial capital investment than the State-developed purge test, overall it is more costly due to the time and labor needed for performing the test. The EPA-recommended purge test requires connection of the purge flow measurement system to the purge portion of the evaporative system nearest the evaporative canister. Since the location of the canister varies depending on vehicle manufacturer and model type, it may take a considerable amount of time for the inspector to locate the canister and connect the equipment. This would increase the overall time spent inspecting a vehicle and would reduce throughput. However, considering the lower initial capital expenditure, the EPA-recommended purge test would most likely be more cost effective for the PICs, which are not as concerned with throughput.

Another component of the enhanced I/M program that would be reflected in the program's capital costs is on-road testing. Currently, the State performs an idle test utilizing BAR84 equipment during roadside inspections. While the proposed on-road testing procedure would also use an idle test, the equipment used to perform this test would be upgraded to BAR90 analyzers. This equipment upgrade would cost approximately $6,000 per unit in initial capital costs.

The Department has modelled the environmental benefits for its program design using the EPA's MOBILE5a. The results of this modeling conducted by the Department yield the following mobile source emission reductions relative to a "no-I/M" scenario for the proposed program: 33.6 percent for VOCs in the year 2000, 14.9 percent for NO<sub>x</sub> in the year 2000 and, in the year 2001, 34.4 percent for CO.

These percentages, applied to the estimated emission inventories for the year 2000, yield the following reductions in tons/day for the proposed program: 190 for VOCs, 60 for NO<sub>x</sub> and, in the year 2001, 1,258 for CO.

The modelled emission reductions relative to the estimated capital and operating costs yield the following cost-effectiveness ratios: $655.00 to $873.00/ton of VOC; $2,288 to $3,047/ton of NO<sub>x</sub>; and $97.00 to $129.00/ton of CO. Based on its experience, the Department has determined that average stationary source reduction measures for VOCs are currently in the range of $3,000 to $6,000 per ton. The proposed enhanced I/M program is, therefore, significantly more cost-effective than these measures. Cost-effectiveness ratios for stationary source controls for NO<sub>x</sub> and CO are comparable to those calculated for the enhanced I/M program.

Because the proposed enhanced I/M test procedures are more advanced than the current I/M test procedures, they can more accurately and selectively determine which vehicles are in need of repair. Under the present I/M program in New Jersey, the failure rate for emissions is 11 to 15 percent. It is anticipated by the EPA that the enhanced I/M program will increase the failure rate to approximately 30 percent. Emission failures under the enhanced I/M program may be more difficult to diagnose given the greater sensitivity and more stringent standards of the proposed tests. Defects resulting in enhanced I/M emission test failures will require a higher level of mechanic skill to locate and correct the problem, resulting in increased parts and labor costs.

The EPA has estimated the costs of repairing vehicles which fail the IM240 test. (See 57 Fed. Reg. 52963-64, Nov. 5, 1993.) The estimated cost to fix a transient test failure that would also fail the test currently employed in New Jersey is $75.00. The average cost to repair vehicles failing the transient test that would not have failed the current test is estimated to be $150.00. The overall average repair cost for transient failures is estimated to be $120.00. Average repair costs for evaporative system pressure and purge test failures are estimated to be $38.00 and $70.00, respectively. Although NO<sub>x</sub> repairs cannot be accurately estimated, EPA has projected that repairs for NO<sub>x</sub> failures would cost approximately $100.00 per vehicle. Since the Department is proposing exhaust emission testing substantially similar to the EPA's, it expects the repair costs for vehicles failing the exhaust test to be identical to the EPA's estimates. Even though these repair costs are significantly greater than those incurred under the present inspection program, it should be noted that the anticipated failure rate is 30 percent and that it is highly unlikely that any particular vehicle that fails inspection will require all three types of repairs. Also, some newer vehicles may be repaired at no charge to the owner, due to Federally-regulated emission control warranty coverage provided by the manufacturer.

In an attempt to alleviate some of the increased costs to the consumer resulting from the proposed enhanced I/M program, the Department is proposing to establish a waiver program, in accordance with 40 CFR §51.360. As discussed in the Summary discussion of N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.10, motorists may qualify, under limited circumstances, for either a cost waiver. Either of these waivers would exempt a vehicle from the requirements of the Department's rules, specifically N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5(e), and the DMV's inspection requirements under Title 39 and N.J.A.C. 13:40-43.2 for one inspection cycle. The implementation of this section should provide a smoother transition to the proposed new enhanced I/M program without significantly reducing the air quality benefits expected from the program.

As previously mentioned in the Social Impact statement above, the EPA has identified the "ping-pong" effect as one of the possible problems resulting from repair facilities' anticipated lack of adequate diagnostic feedback. Although the Department believes that the likelihood of this happening would be limited to elusive emission system malfunctions, it agrees that the "ping-pong" effect is a potential problem which includes an adverse economic impact on motorists necessitating mitigating tactics.

To help prepare the motor vehicle repair industry for the proposed new emission tests, the New Jersey Department of Education (DOEd) is proposing to expand its technician training curriculum to include the new inspection procedures being proposed by the Department. DOEd plans to update its existing Automotive Technician instructional programs to meet the new requirements facing the auto service industry in four phases: (1) curriculum development; (2) funding of equipment and facilities for the model sites; (3) implementation of the curriculum; and (4) training of current and future technicians, evaluation of the program and updating of instruction.

In addition, the DOEd has submitted a grant proposal to the EPA for Project CLEEN (Competencies for Learning Environmental Education Now). If funded, the program will be developed by an intergovernmental task force which includes the DOEd, the Department, the Northeast Curriculum Coordinating Center (NE) for Vocational Technical Education, the NJ Technical Assistance Program (NJTAP) for Industrial Pollution Prevention, NJ Institute of Technology (NJIT) and local education agencies. This program would be designed to begin the infusion of pollution prevention education in all occupational training programs, including education concerning the enhanced I/M program. The Department, in conjunction with the DOEd, believes that a more comprehensive, advanced education program, promoted by the above mentioned programs, would provide technicians with a broader understanding of the emission-related malfunctions that could occur in order to further limit the occurrence of "ping-pong" incidents.

To better monitor and control the repair industry, the DMV is proposing to license repair facilities. This proposed program will include monitoring the performance of each repair facility. One method for monitoring these facilities will be a "report card" system, whereby repair facilities will be graded according to their performance and ranked accordingly. These grades will be made available to the public in an effort to both encourage repair facility participation in technician education and keep the public informed. Such performance monitoring is mandatory under EPA's enhanced I/M rules, 40 CFR §51.369(b), and will help to ensure that motorists are being provided with objective and effective repairs. In addition, the DMV will be providing a hotline service to assist repair technicians with specific repair problems, as required at 40 CFR §51.369(a)(2). Since these portions of the I/M program will be administered by the DMV, the reader should refer to DMV's pre-proposal of N.J.A.C. 13:20-43 for more information concerning the licensing and monitoring of repair facilities, as well as the administration of a technical hotline service.

Implementation of the enhanced I/M program will have an impact on State government resources. Most of this impact will fall on the DMV since it is the primary operational agency for the enhanced I/M program. See the DMV's pre-proposal of N.J.A.C. 13:20-43 at 25 N.J.R. 3418(a), August 2, 1993.

However, the Department's resources will also be impacted by the enhanced I/M program. Currently, the Department has three staff members working on regulatory development and program oversight. In addition, there are five Department employees conducting quality assurance auditing. The Department anticipates that implementation of the proposed enhanced I/M program will require two additional staff members for program oversight and one to two more employees for quality assurance auditing.

Salaries for the Department staff are funded in part by a grant under Section 105 of the CAA. This grant is intended to assist states in implementing the provisions of CAA. Additional funds are obtained from permitting fees and fines from violations of the Department's air pollution regulations.

A positive economic impact of the proposed enhanced I/M program will result from repairs made to vehicles that have failed and are effectively repaired. The resultant fuel economy benefits will help to offset the cost of repairs to motor vehicle owners and operators. Average fuel economy improvements of 6.1 percent for repair of pressure test failures and 5.7 percent for repair of purge test failures have been observed by the EPA. The EPA also reports that the fuel economy of vehicles that failed the IM240 test improved by 12.6 percent as a result of repairs. It should also be noted that these fuel economy improvements generally continue beyond the year of the test.

The proposed amendments and new rules will have positive economic effects on the repair industry in the form of increased business generated by the higher failure rate expected from the enhanced I/M program. The anticipated expansion of the service industry will result in increased employment and will help to offset potential financial loss to the repair industry from the limitation of performing test and repair activities at a single facility.

The amendments and new rules will also have a substantial, important, and indirect benefit by decreasing health costs to the general public. Health care costs for air pollution-related illnesses in the United States are estimated to be on the order of $50 billion per year. In addition, the American Lung Association estimates that, nationally, 182 million people face health threats from ground-level ozone alone. By decreasing the public's exposure to ozone, CO, and air toxics, these amendments and new rules will lessen these health care costs.

Air pollutants also have a direct adverse effect on vegetation, livestock, and certain materials, such as rubber, glass, etc. Although economic losses due to air pollution damage in these areas are difficult to quantify (since it is difficult to distinguish between natural deterioration and that which is caused by air pollutants), past estimates have indicated that losses from material damage alone have exceeded $4 billion annually nationwide. Godish, Thad. Air Quality (Chelsea, Michigan: Lewis Publishers, Inc., 1991), p.207. This proposal, by reducing air pollutants, should substantially reduce the adverse economic effects on vegetation, livestock, and other property.

The proposed addition of penalties at N.J.A.C. 7:27A-3.10 will facilitate enforcement of the proposed prohibition of operating non-certified vehicles, leasing or offering for sale or lease of tampered vehicles, and selling or offering for sale emission control defeat devices. To the extent that these penalties further the goals of the enhanced I/M program, they advance the positive economic impact of the program as a whole, described herein.

In an attempt to mitigate driver inconvenience, the program provides for a biennial (every other year) inspection frequency beginning with the second year of the vehicle's life. EPA modelling demonstrates that biennial programs would have minimal adverse effects on the environmental benefit gained from the enhanced I/M program and will help to diminish costs and encourage consumer acceptance.

Environmental Impact

The implementation of these new rules and amendments to N.J.A.C. 7:27-15 and 7:27B-4 will have a positive impact on the environment by reducing the emissions of VOCs and NO<sub>x</sub>, thereby reducing the formation of ground-level ozone. Ground-level ozone's primary impact is upon human health and well-being. In addition, these amendments will also reduce the emissions of other harmful pollutants, such as CO and carbon dioxide. These effects are discussed at length in the Social Impact statement of this proposal.

In addition to human health effects, studies have shown that increasing ozone levels damage foliage. One of the earliest and most obvious manifestations of ozone impact on the environment is this type of damage to sensitive plants. Subsequent effects include reduced plant growth and decreased crop yield. A reduction in ambient ozone concentrations will mitigate damage to foliage, fruits, vegetables and grain.

In addition, decreased ozone levels will result in less degradation of various man-made materials, such as rubber, plastics, dyes and paints. This degradation is caused by the oxidizing properties of ozone. However, if the photochemical production of ground-level ozone can be limited, as it will be with the implementation of the proposed amendments, this degradation will be significantly reduced.

Although ozone is well-known for its damaging effects on the environment, NO<sub>x</sub>, one of the reactants in the production of ozone, can also independently cause significant environmental degradation. NO<sub>x</sub> are the primary constituents involved in the deposition of toxics, commonly referred to as acid rain, into lakes and coastal waters. Acid rain damages plants and trees, and injures aquatic life by acidifying lakes and streams. The proposed new emission tests will result in a decrease of emissions of NO<sub>x</sub> into the atmosphere and benefit the environment of New Jersey.

As discussed previously under the Economic Impact section, the Department and the EPA have modelled the emission reduction benefits of the proposed program design described in the Summary section above over a no-I/M scenario. The results of these modelling exercises are listed in Tables 1 through 4 below.

Tables 1 through 4 represent the results of modelling using the EPA's MOBILE5a. Tables 1 and 2 compare pollutant reductions realized under the proposed enhanced I/M program to that of the EPA's model program performance standard. All of the estimated reductions are calculated from a no-I/M scenario. The current I/M scenario gives a perspective on the necessity of an enhanced I/M program.

VOCs and NO<sub>x</sub> are precursors to ozone formation. For this reason, efforts to attain and maintain the NAAQS for ozone have focused on reducing VOC and NO<sub>x</sub> emissions. In 1990, VOC emissions in New Jersey totalled 1,776 tons per summer weekday with 474 tons attributed to emissions from all mobile sources, not just exhaust emissions. New Jersey's proposed program design is expected to reduce VOC emissions by 190 tons per day in the year 2000. In 1990, NO<sub>x</sub> emissions in New Jersey totalled 1,511 tons per summer weekday with 570 tons per summer weekday attributed to emissions from all mobile sources. The proposed program is expected to reduce NO<sub>x</sub> emissions by 60 tons per day.

CO is generally a localized wintertime pollutant, elevated levels of which are related to colder temperatures and congested traffic. In 1990, CO emissions in New Jersey totalled 4,450 tons per winter weekday, with 2,952 tons per winter weekday attributed to all mobile sources. The proposed program is expected to reduce CO emissions by 1,258 tons per day in the year 2001.

It is anticipated that mobile source emission reductions from the existing New Jersey I/M program will be the following for the enhanced I/M program: for the year 2000, 27.8 percent for VOCs and 12.7 percent for NO<sub>x</sub>, and, for the year 2001, 23.1 percent for CO.

As stated previously, the Department is proposing two sets of evaporative emission tests—those recommended by the EPA in its final rule on I/M program requirements and those developed by the State. The Department and the DMV believe that the State-developed evaporative tests are more effective than those recommended by the EPA. Environmental Systems Products (ESP) and the Radian Corporation each performed comparison tests on the EPA-recommended and the State-developed evaporative tests to evaluate their relative effectiveness. "Feasibility and Cost of Enhancements to the Illinois Vehicle Emission Test Program", Radian Corporation, 11th September 1992. "Evaluation of Alternative Pressure and Purge Techniques", Environmental Systems Products, 20th January 1993.

Use of the EPA-recommended pressure test showed that 20 percent of the vehicles had evaporative canisters which were not readily accessible and therefore could not be tested in under 10 minutes. Thus, this test is only feasible on approximately 80 percent of the in-use fleet. Although use of the State-developed pressure test also requires access to the vapor line, it requires that, in most cases, the line only be clamped rather than completely disconnected, as with the EPA-recommended pressure test. Therefore, on some vehicles, the vapor lines could be clamped off even though the canister itself was unreachable. The State-developed pressure test can effectively test about 92 percent of the in-use fleet and do so within a shorter timeframe. In addition, ESP studies have indicated that the State-developed pressure test has the advantage of pressurizing the gas tank through the large filler neck opening rather than through the vapor line from the canister. This vapor line from the canister to the gas tank frequently restricts vapor flow from the canister to the gas tank, making pressurization of the gas tank from the canister difficult or impossible.

In the ESP/Radian testing of EPA-recommended purge test, findings were similar to those for the EPA-recommended pressure test, that is 20 percent of the vehicles had canisters which were not readily accessible and which could not be tested in under 10 minutes. In contrast, the helium purge technique used in the State-developed purge test is feasible for any vehicle which can receive an IM240 test and have helium gas supplied through the gas tank. In performing tests on these two purge procedures, ESP has not encountered a vehicle which could not be testing using the State-developed methodology. The assumption, therefore, is that 99 percent of the in-use fleet may be tested using the State-developed purge test.

The ESP/Radian study of the evaporative emission tests demonstrate that the State-developed evaporative tests can be performed on more vehicles. Use of these tests result in fewer vehicles not receiving the evaporative tests and, therefore, will have a positive environmental impact and will benefit air quality. However, as stated in the Economic Impact statement above, the capital cost of the equipment used to perform the EPA-recommended evaporative tests is comparable to or less than that of the State-developed evaporative tests. Therefore, because of the differential in equipment costs, the PICs may elect to use the EPA-recommended evaporative test procedures.

certified vehicles, leasing or offering for sale or lease of tampered vehicles, and selling or offering for sale emission control defeat devices. To the extent that these penalties further the goals of the enhanced I/M program, they advance the positive environmental impact of the program as a whole, described herein.

Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

In accordance with the New Jersey Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq., the Department has determined that the proposed amendments and new rules will not impose additional reporting or recordkeeping requirements on small businesses (as defined in the Regulatory Flexibility Act). It will, however, impose compliance requirements on small businesses, in that such businesses will be required (much as they are currently required under the existing rule) to undertake the inspection and maintenance of motor vehicles that they own. The difference in compliance is that the amendments and new rules provide for the application of stricter emissions standards and the use of more sophisticated equipment and test procedures designed to identify and fail high emitters, some of which are currently not being identified and repaired. The Department believes that the majority of New Jersey's small businesses (those with fewer than 100 employees) will be affected by the amendments and new rules because most own gasoline-fueled motor vehicles, which will require a higher level of maintenance and may require more substantive repairs to obtain compliance with New Jersey's enhanced standards.

The anticipated adverse economic impact that this requirement would have on such businesses relates directly to the increased cost of motor vehicle inspection and the additional and more costly repairs to those vehicles which might have otherwise passed inspection and not have been required to have such repairs. As is discussed in the Economic Impact statement of this proposal, the overall average repair cost for those motor vehicles failing the enhanced I/M test procedure, predicted to be 30 percent of those tested, would be unlikely to exceed $300.00 per vehicle.

The resultant fuel economy benefits would, at least partially, and in some cases, even more than offset the cost of repairs. The EPA reports that vehicles that failed the IM240 test were found to exhibit a fuel economy improvement of 12.6 percent as a result of repairs. These fuel economy improvements generally continue beyond the year of the test. The resultant health benefits and reduction in property losses from the improvement in air quality should also, at least partially, offset these anticipated costs to small businesses.

In developing an enhanced I/M program for New Jersey, the Department has balanced the need to protect human health and the environment against any anticipated negative economic impact. As a result, it makes no allowances nor exceptions for small businesses. To do otherwise would have defeated the purpose of the program, as it would permit the continued operation of unrepaired high emitters on New Jersey's roads.

In addition, there may be a significant impact on a substantial number of small businesses that own and operate private inspection centers (PICs) in New Jersey. While the amendments and new rules are not directly responsible for this impact, it is discussed here briefly, as it results from implementation of the proposed enhanced I/M program of which these proposed rule amendments are a significant component. New Jersey's existing hybrid I/M system includes approximately 3,900 PICs, all of which perform both testing and repair services and most of which are small businesses. Regulatory authority regarding the administration of PICs is vested with the DMV. For more information concerning the enhanced I/M program's impacts on PICs, refer to the DMV's pre-proposal draft of N.J.A.C. 13:20-43 at 25 N.J.R. 3418(a), August 2, 1993.

The proposed enhanced I/M program will authorize PICs to continue as test-and-repair facilities only for a limited number and category of motor vehicles. As discussed in the Social Impact statement above, the EPA's final rule on I/M program requirements calls for a centralized test-only format, unless a state can demonstrate that a decentralized program would prove equally effective at achieving the enhanced I/M performance standard. 40 CFR §51.353. Because the approximately 3,900 PICs represent a significant portion of New Jersey's business community, the Department, in conjunction with the DMV, is concerned that limiting these small businesses to test or repair would have too severe a negative impact on the State's economy. Aside from its impact of these businesses, the inevitable loss of a significant number of these facilities as PICs would also result in additional program capital costs, as the State would be forced to construct new lanes at its centralized stations to inspect those vehicles which had previously been inspected at a PIC.

As stated previously, the EPA, in its final rule on I/M program requirements, has provided that states may operate a decentralized network if those states can demonstrate that a decentralized program is equally effective in achieving the enhanced I/M performance standard as a centralized test-only network. The Department, in conjunction with the DMV, believes that decentralized test-and-repair facilities provide added convenience to the motoring public primarily by allowing a vehicle to be tested, repaired and retested all at one location. For this reason, the Department and the DMV have sought to utilize the flexibility provided in the EPA's final rule to gain maximum participation of test-and-repair facilities in New Jersey's enhanced I/M program while continuing to meet the EPA's performance standard. Computer modelling using the EPA's mobile source emission factor model, MOBILE5a, has demonstrated that the maximum permissible test-and-repair participation achievable under the EPA's performance standard is limited to vehicles less than five years old.

This limited test-and-repair program will minimize the negative economic impact on small business in New Jersey without compromising air quality. In developing these rule amendments, the Department believes that it has successfully balanced the need to protect human health and the environment against the economic impact of the amendments as proposed.

The limitation of PIC participation in the inspection program may cause some PICs to give up the inspection portion of their business entirely, as it would no longer be as profitable. Facilities choosing to continue performing inspections can expect to see an increase in equipment costs. The equipment required for inspections under the proposed enhanced I/M program is more expensive than that currently in use. The Department estimates the cost of the enhanced I/M equipment to be approximately $25,000 to $30,000 per lane for the ASM5015 exhaust test and under $100,000 for the "fast-pass/fast-fail" IM240 exhaust test. In both cases, the increased cost of equipment will be passed on to those consumers who choose to have their vehicles inspected at a private inspection center. PICs are permitted to charge up to one half of their hourly labor rate for an inspection, which is, on the average, $17.00 per inspection. The Department believes that this average may increase, in part to cover the increased cost to the PICs to operate the program.

The EPA projects, however, that any losses to the small business community would be offset by an increase in repair business generated by the enhanced I/M program. The repair industry would see a marked increase in business, since the new, technologically superior, enhanced inspection tests will detect marginal polluters that would previously have passed inspection and not required repairs. These vehicles will now have to be repaired, resulting in an increased volume of repair business and a need for additional mechanics. Also, the greater sophistication and complexity of the new enhanced I/M testing procedure would require more inspectors per lane than are currently needed. On a national basis, EPA estimated that three or four inspectors will be needed in each lane to perform emission testing compared to the one or two inspectors that are currently employed per lane in today's high volume systems. Additional costs of compliance will be incurred by PICs as a result of increased recordkeeping and reporting requirements imposed by the DMV's licensing and quality assurance regulations. For more information on these requirements, see DMV's pre-proposal of N.J.A.C. 13:20-43 at 25 N.J.R. 3418(a), August 2, 1993.

In addition to the direct increases in business growth that the new enhanced I/M program will provide, other employment opportunities will arise as an indirect result of the implementation of the proposed enhanced I/M program. In order to accommodate the new test equipment the State will have to upgrade existing State inspection centers. It will also have to construct new inspection centers and add lanes to existing centers to avoid lengthy waits resulting from an anticipated decrease in lane throughput. This will provide work for both the construction and manufacturing industries, both of which are comprised largely of small businesses. Overall, the EPA estimates that an enhanced I/M program will result in between 3,600 and 11,600 additional jobs nationwide, directly or indirectly related to testing and repair of motor vehicles as a result of the improved program.

This does not mean, however, that the implementation of this proposed enhanced I/M program will result in an overall net increase in employment in New Jersey. Resources allocated to testing and repair services may have otherwise been spent on other goods and services in the economy. Thus, it may be that other sectors of the economy may incur employment losses. This shift in business opportunities should result in an equilibrium which will allow small businesses to continue operations in somewhat different capacities.

The Department also recognizes that several of the provisions in the proposal addressing emission control device tampering and other enforcement related topics may cause difficulties for some small businesses in the State. Particularly, the prohibition against the sale of emission control defeat devices will likely impact many dealers and installers of high performance aftermarket components in New Jersey who sell these devices currently. Clearly, to make exceptions for any such small businesses would defeat the purposes of the rules.

The proposed penalties to be imposed for the lease, or offer for sale or lease, of tampered vehicles would likely impact a number of car dealers engaging in these prohibited activities. In a like manner, the proposed penalties to be imposed for sale or offer for sale of emission control defeat devices would likely impact many manufacturers and installers of high performance aftermarket components in New Jersey. Clearly, however, to make exceptions for any such small businesses would defeat the purpose of these amendments and new rules.

1. Prior to January 1, 1995, the inspection test procedure to be used shall be the idle test. This test is set forth at N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.5(b);

2. During 1995, for no fewer than 30 percent of the 1968 and later model year vehicles required to have a motor vehicle inspection during the year, the inspection test procedure to be used shall be as specified at (h)3 below. The motor vehicles to be so tested shall be identified by the Division of Motor Vehicles in accordance with its procedures. For the remainder of the motor vehicles required to have a motor vehicle inspection, the inspection test procedure to be used shall be the idle test set forth at N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.5(b);

ii. Prior to January 1, 1997, post-1967 model year LDGVs and LDGTs inspected at an official test-only inspection station operated by, or under contract with, the Division of Motor Vehicles in accordance with the following daily schedule:

(1) For the first 90 minutes of inspection station operation each day, the IM240 test shall be performed;

(2) After 90 minutes of operation, a given inspection station may switch to performance of the 2500 RPM test in combination with the ASM5015 test, rather than the IM240 test, under the following conditions:

(4) A given inspection station may, for a second time that day, switch to performance of the 2500 RPM test in combination with the ASM5015 test as the exhaust emission test, after switching back to using the IM240 test, if the average waiting time is in excess of 30 minutes. In such case the inspection station shall perform the 2500 RPM test in combination with the ASM5015 test for the remainder of the day.

(i) Each year an evaluation test shall be performed on at least 0.1 percent of those motor vehicles subject to inspection during that year. The motor vehicles subject to evaluation testing shall be randomly selected by the Division of Motor Vehicles in accordance with its procedures. The evaluation test shall consist of a complete IM240 test performed in accordance with N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.7(d). The evaluation test shall be performed in addition to any other inspection procedures required at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5(e).

(j) A motor vehicle that is subject to inspection pursuant to N.J.A.C. 13:20-43.2 and fails to pass all of the tests that comprise an inspection pursuant to (e) above shall be retested in accordance with this section within 30 days. Operation of the motor vehicle upon the public roads, streets or highways of the State or any public or quasi-public property in the State shall be prohibited pursuant to N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.3(c) unless, by the 30-day deadline:

1. The motor vehicle passes all of the tests that comprise the inspection; or

2. A waiver is issued pursuant to N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.10.

(b) Any light-duty or heavy-duty gasoline-fueled motor vehicle which is subject to inspection by the State of New Jersey in accordance with the provisions of N.J.S.A. 39:8, as a condition of compliance with said inspection, shall not emit carbon monoxide (CO) [or], hydrocarbons (HC), or oxides of nitrogen (NO<sub>x</sub>) in the exhaust emissions in excess of [standards set forth in Table 1, when measured using an approved exhaust gas analytical system and] the following standards:

1. If, pursuant to the provisions of N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5(h) and the inspection test procedure [established] at N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.5(b)[.], a motor vehicle is tested using the idle test, the motor vehicle shall be subject to the exhaust emission standards set forth in Table 1 below;

2. If, pursuant to the provisions of N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5(h) and the inspection test procedure at N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.6, a motor vehicle is tested using the 2500 RPM test and the ASM5015 test, the motor vehicle shall be subject to the applicable exhaust emission standards set forth in Tables 2 and 3 below, respectively; shall be subject to the applicable exhaust emission standards set forth in, or determined in accordance with the methodology set out in Appendix II, "Description of the IM240/Purge Fast-Pass/Fast-Fail Algorithm," and incorporated herein by reference. Regulatory Appendix 1 includes both standards to be used from January 1, 1995 through December 31, 1997 and standards to be used on and after January 1, 1998.

(c) [Any post-1974 model year] A gasoline-fueled motor vehicle [weighing less than 8501 pounds] which is subject to inspection by the State of New Jersey in accordance with the provisions of N.J.S.A. 39:8, as a condition of compliance with said inspection, shall have properly functioning and properly maintained emission control apparatus as determined according to the inspection test [procedure] procedures established at N.J.A.C. 7:27B-[4.6]4.8, 4.9 and 4.10.

(d) Except as provided in (e) and (f) below, the applicability of the standards set forth in this subchapter and of the test procedures set forth at N.J.A.C. 7:27B-4.5, 4.6, 4.7, 4.8, 4.9 and 4.10 to a motor vehicle with an engine other than the engine originally installed by the manufacturer, in accordance with N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.7, shall be based on the chassis type and model year of the motor vehicle, not on the engine model year.

(e) A motor vehicle that is modified, in accordance with N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.7, to operate on a fuel other than that for which the motor vehicle was originally equipped shall be subject to the test procedures and standards applicable to a motor vehicle of the current fuel type. If the motor vehicle's fuel type after modification is one to which this subchapter does not apply, the motor vehicle is not subject to emission testing (for example, a gasoline engine replaced with a diesel engine). If the motor vehicle's fuel type after modification is a fuel type to which this subchapter applies, but is other than gasoline (for example, a gasoline engine modified to operate solely on natural gas), the standards applied to that motor vehicle shall be those prescribed in the Tables 1, 2, 3, and 4 below for motor vehicles powered by a fuel other than gasoline. Until such time that applicable exhaust emission standards are promulgated for motor vehicles powered by fuels other than gasoline, such vehicles shall be exempt from exhaust emission testing when operating on a fuel other than gasoline.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

(f) A motor vehicle that is modified, in accordance with N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.7, or manufactured to operate on more than one fuel type shall be subject to exhaust emission standards that apply to the motor vehicle for each fuel type for which the motor vehicle is equipped. Such motor vehicle shall be subject to an exhaust emission test for each fuel type on which it operates and shall comply with all applicable standards for each fuel type. Such motor vehicle shall also be subject to an evaporative pressure test and an evaporative purge test when operating on gasoline. If the motor vehicle is capable of simultaneous operation on more than one fuel type (for example, flexible fuel, gasoline-methanol vehicle), the motor vehicle shall be subject to an exhaust emission test using the fuel mixture in the vehicle at the time of inspection. When operating on a fuel other than gasoline, the exhaust emission standards applied to a motor vehicle shall be those prescribed in the Tables 1, 2, 3, and 4 above for motor vehicles powered by a fuel other than gasoline. Until such time that applicable exhaust emission standards are promulgated for motor vehicles powered by fuels other than gasoline, such vehicles shall be exempt from exhaust emission testing when operating on a fuel other than gasoline.

7:27-[15.5]15.7 [Operation of emission control apparatus] Prohibition of tampering with emission control apparatus

(a) No person shall cause, suffer, allow or permit any of the following, unless in accordance with EPA Memorandum 1A or exempt from prohibition by CARB executive order (information on devices or modifications approved by CARB executive order may be obtained from Air Resources Board, Haagen-Smit Laboratory, 9528 Telstar Avenue, El Monte, CA 91731-2990):

1. [No person shall cause, suffer, allow or permit any emission control apparatus] The disconnection, detachment, deactivation, or any other alteration or modification from the design of the original vehicle manufacturer of an element of design installed on any motor vehicle with a certified configuration [to be disconnected, detached, deactivated, or in any other way rendered inoperable or less effective than designed by the original equipment manufacturer], [(except temporarily for the purpose of diagnosis, maintenance, repair or replacement)];

[(b)]2. [No person shall cause, suffer, allow or permit the] The operation on the public roads, streets or highways of the State or any public or quasi-public property in the State of any motor vehicle with a certified configuration in which any [emission control apparatus] element of design installed on such vehicle has been disconnected, detached, deactivated, or in any other way [rendered inoperable or less effective than designed by] altered or modified from the design of the original [equipment] vehicle manufacturer[.];

[(c)]3. [No person shall cause, suffer, allow or permit the] The sale, lease, or offer for sale or lease, of any motor vehicle with a certified configuration in which [emission control apparatus] any element of design installed on such vehicle has been disconnected, detached, deactivated, or in any other way [rendered inoperable or less effective than designed by] altered or modified from the design of the original [equipment] vehicle manufacturer[.]; and

4. The sale, or offer for sale, of any device or component as an element of design intended for use with, or as part of, any motor vehicle or motor vehicle engine with a certified configuration, which is not designed to duplicate the function and performance of any element of design installed by the original vehicle manufacturer.

7:27-[15.6]15.8 Idle standard

(a) No person shall cause, suffer, allow, or permit the engine of a gasoline-fueled motor vehicle to idle for more than three consecutive minutes if the vehicle is not in motion[, except:

1. A motor vehicle at the vehicle operator's place of business where the motor vehicle is permanently assigned may idle for 30 consecutive minutes, or

2. A motor vehicle may idle for 15 consecutive minutes when the vehicle engine has been stopped for three or more hours.

(b) (No change.)

7:27-[15.7 Exceptions]15.9 Non-interference with the motor vehicle codes

[(a)] This subchapter shall not apply to motorcycles or to motor vehicles with an engine displacement of less than 50 cubic inches (819 cubic centimeters).]

[(b)] Nothing in this subchapter is intended to limit or deny the inspection of motor vehicles for exhaust systems in accordance with regulations established pursuant to N.J.S.A. 39:8-2, 39:3-70, 39:3-76, and 39:10-26.

[7:27-15.8 Variances]

[Whenever either the Commissioner or the Director, Division of Motor Vehicles, has reason to believe that any vehicle or any vehicle class cannot comply with the provisions of N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.4(b), the Director, with the concurrence of the Commissioner, may prescribe alternative emission inspection standards for such vehicle or vehicle class.]

7:27-15.10 Cost waivers

(a) Notwithstanding the provisions of N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.3, a person may cause, suffer, allow or permit the operation of a gasoline-fueled motor vehicle which fails to meet the applicable motor vehicle inspection testing requirements at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5 upon the public roads, streets, or highways of the State and upon any public or quasi-public property in the State, provided that the State has issued to the owner of the motor vehicle, pursuant to this section, a waiver of the requirement to meet these standards.

(b) A waiver issued pursuant to this section shall relieve the owner of a motor vehicle from responsibility for taking any further action to reduce exhaust and evaporative emissions from the motor vehicle until the motor vehicle is next due for inspection, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 39:8.

(c) Any owner of a motor vehicle may apply to the State for a waiver pursuant to this section if:

1. The motor vehicle, when tested in accordance with N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.5, is determined to have failed the motor vehicle inspection;

2. For a motor vehicle within a warranty period established pursuant to 42 U.S.C.A. 7541, the owner has used all available warranty coverage to have repairs made that are directed toward correcting the cause of the motor vehicle's failure to meet the applicable exhaust and evaporative emission standards;

3. Repairs are made pursuant to (c)2 above and (d) below, and the motor vehicle is determined to have failed the motor vehicle inspection when retested in accordance with N.J.A.C. 7:27- 15.5; and

4. The owner of the motor vehicle qualifies to apply for a waiver pursuant to (d) below.

(d) For an owner of a motor vehicle to qualify to apply for a cost waiver, the owner shall have expended on repair of the motor vehicle, subsequent to the inspection test failure specified at (c)1 above, no less than the current dollar equivalent of $450.00, in 1989 dollars, determined in accordance with (e) below; and the following:

1. The following types of expenditures may not be credited toward meeting this minimum $450.00 amount:

i. Monies expended for repairs that are directed other than to correcting the cause of the emission test failure; and

ii. Monies expended for tampering-related repairs. Such repairs are specifically those repairs needed to correct any acts prohibited at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.7(a)1;

2. For a 1980 model year or later motor vehicle, only monies expended for repairs performed by a professional repair technician may be credited toward meeting the minimum amount; and

3. For a pre-1980 model year motor vehicle, monies expended for the following may be credited toward meeting the minimum amount:

i. For repairs performed by a professional repair technician, any monies expended on the repairs; and

ii. For repairs performed by a person who is not a professional repair technician, only the direct costs of parts and components.

(e) The current dollar equivalent of $450.00, in 1989 dollars, is calculated as follows:

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

PROPOSALS

current dollars = $450.00 × (most recent CPI)/(1989 CPI)

Where:

- current dollars = current value of $450.00 expressed in 1989 dollars;
- 1989 CPI = Consumer Price Index for the calendar year 1989 (that is, 124.0); and
- most recent CPI = Consumer Price Index for the most recent calendar year.

(f) The State shall approve a request for a waiver only if the owner of the motor vehicle provides the following in the application for the waiver:

1. If the motor vehicle is within an applicable warranty period established pursuant to 42 U.S.C.A. 7541:

i. Documentation indicating that any available warranty coverage has been used to have the repairs made that are directed toward correcting the cause of the motor vehicle's failure to pass the motor vehicle inspection; or

ii. A written denial of warranty coverage for the needed repairs from the manufacturer or authorized dealer;

2. Receipt or receipts documenting that no less than the minimum amount required pursuant to (d) above has been expended on the repair of the motor vehicle;

(g) If, given their nature, the repairs performed pursuant to (c)2 or (d) above can be visually confirmed, the State shall approve a request for a waiver only if, in addition to compliance with (f) above, visual inspection of the motor vehicle during retesting performed pursuant to (c)3 above confirms that the repairs have been made.

7:27A-3.10 Civil Administrative Penalties for Violations of Rules Adopted Pursuant to the Act

(a)-(d) (No change.)

(e) The Department shall determine the amount of civil administrative penalty for offenses described in this section on the basis of the provision violated and the frequency of the violation. Footnotes 3, 4, and 8 set forth in this subsection are intended solely to put violators on notice that in addition to any civil administrative penalty assessed the Department may also revoke the violator's operating certificate or variance. These footnotes are not intended to limit the Department's discretion in determining whether or not to revoke an operating certificate or variance, but merely indicate the situations in which the Department is most likely to seek revocation. The number of the following subsections corresponds to the number of the corresponding subchapter in N.J.A.C. 7:27.

PROPOSALS

7. A motor vehicle with an automatic transmission shall be operated during the ASM5015 test with the gear selector in drive, and a motor vehicle with a manual transmission shall be operated in first (or, if more appropriate, second) gear.

(d) At the beginning of the ASM5015 test, the motor vehicle shall be accelerated to a speed of 15 MPH as indicated on the dynamometer speed indicator. This speed shall be maintained,  $\pm 1.0$  MPH, for the test duration. The test duration shall be determined as follows:

1. If the following fast-pass criteria are met within 30 seconds, the ASM5015 test shall be terminated after 30 seconds:

i. Measurement of the hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide in the exhaust emissions 30 seconds after beginning the test indicates that the concentration of each of these air contaminants is less than or equal to 60 percent of the applicable standards established in Table 3 at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6; and

ii. Measurement of the oxides of nitrogen in the exhaust emissions 30 seconds after beginning the test indicates that its concentration is less than or equal to the applicable standard established in Table 3 at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6.

2. If any one of the criteria at (d)1 is not met, the ASM5015 test shall be terminated after 90 seconds.

(e) Under either of the following circumstances, a determination shall be made that the motor vehicle has passed the ASM5015 test:

1. The motor vehicle meets the criteria for fast pass in (d)1 above; or

2. The measurements made of the hydrocarbons, carbon monoxide and oxides of nitrogen in the exhaust emissions made pursuant to (d)2 above indicates that the concentration of each of these air contaminants is less than or equal to the applicable standards established in Table 3 at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6.

(f) The ASM5015 test shall be concluded by placing the vehicle's transmission in park or neutral after safely bringing the vehicle's drive wheels to a complete stop using the vehicle's brakes.

(g) A 2500 RPM test shall then be conducted as follows:

1. The vehicle engine speed shall be increased from idle to between 2200 and 2800 RPM and maintained at that level for the duration of the test, not to exceed 30 seconds. If the engine speed falls and remains below 2200 RPM or exceeds and remains above 2800 RPM for more than two consecutive seconds during the test period, the measured value shall be invalidated for that sampling period and the test duration extended accordingly. If any excursion outside of the allowable RPM range lasts for more than 10 seconds, the test shall be invalidated, and another 2500 RPM test shall be initiated;

2. Exhaust concentrations shall be measured as percent carbon monoxide and parts per million hydrocarbons after stabilized readings are obtained or at the end of 30 seconds, whichever occurs first.

(h) A determination shall be made that the motor vehicle has failed the 2500 RPM test if the measurements made of the hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide in the exhaust emissions indicate that the concentration of either of these air contaminants is greater than the applicable standards specified in Table 2 at N.J.A.C. 7:27-15.6.

Description of the IM240/Purge
Fast-Pass/Fast-Fail Algorithm

Pass and fail decisions are made by measuring the vehicle's cumulative emissions of each pollutant in each second, and comparing them to cumulative emission fast-pass and fast-fail standards for each pollutant for the second of the test under consideration. In general, if the vehicle's cumulative emissions are above a given level for any pollutant the vehicle fails, if they are below a given level for all pollutants the vehicle passes. Testing continues until decisions are made for each pollutant and for purge. Measurements of all constituents shall continue to be taken as long as the test continues, including those constituents for which a decision has already been made.

The fast-pass and fast-fail standards are derived from the Arizona data which included 3,718 tests. Fast-fail standards for each second represent the highest cumulative emission levels in that second obtained for vehicles passing the IM240 using two-ways-to-pass criteria (which are more lenient standards than the composite test), based on composite test cutpoints of 0.80 grams per mile (gpm) HC, 15.0 gpm CO, 2.0 gpm NO<sub>x</sub>, and 1.0 liter of purge, and Phase 2 cutpoints of 0.50 gpm HC, and 12.0 gpm CO. Hence, vehicles that exceed this level are showing higher cumulative emissions at that point in the test than the dirtiest vehicles passing the full test and therefore fail. Fast-pass standards for each second represent the tenth lowest cumulative emission levels in that second obtained for vehicles failing the IM240 using the two-ways-to-pass criteria. Hence, vehicles that fall below this level are showing lower cumulative emissions at that point in the test than the cleanest vehicles failing the full test and therefore pass. Fast-pass/fast-fail determinations begin at second 30 of the IM240 cycle. The second-by-second standards are depicted in the tables which accompany this description. EPA is continuing to collect data and may revise the standards in the future to further optimize the algorithm.

Beginning at second 94, pass/fail decisions for HC and CO are based upon analysis of cumulative emissions in Phase 2, the portion of the test beginning at second 94, as well as emission levels cumulated from the beginning of the test (the "composite" test). Fast-pass and fast-fail standards are derived for Phase 2 of the test as described above; however, they are used somewhat differently to determine fast-fail conditions. Since we do not have two-ways-to-pass standards for NO<sub>x</sub>, there are no Phase 2 NO<sub>x</sub> fast-pass/fast-fail standards, and Phase 2 cumulative NO<sub>x</sub> emissions are not measured.

The fast-pass/fast-fail algorithm for purge is essentially the same as for tailpipe emissions. Second-by-second cumulative purge levels are compared with second-by-second cumulative purge pass/fail standards. Fast-pass standards correspond to the tenth highest cumulative purge levels for failing vehicles. Fast-fail standards correspond to the lowest cumulative purge levels for passing vehicles. There are no Phase 2 standards for purge.

A vehicle passes the IM240/purge test if the cumulative composite NO<sub>x</sub> emissions are below the cumulative composite NO<sub>x</sub> fast-pass standard, if cumulative composite purge is above the cumulative composite purge fast-pass standard, and if any of the following four conditions occur:

- cumulative composite emissions of both HC and CO are below the composite fast-pass standards;
- cumulative Phase 2 emissions of both HC and CO are below the Phase 2 fast-pass standards;
- Phase 2 HC emissions are below the Phase 2 HC fast-pass standard and composite CO emissions are below the composite CO fast-pass standard; or

- Phase 2 CO emissions are below the Phase 2 CO fast-pass standard and composite HC emissions are below the composite HC fast-pass standard.

A vehicle fails for a given pollutant prior to second 94 if its cumulative emissions for that pollutant exceed the cumulative composite fast-fail standard. The same failure condition applies for NO<sub>x</sub> after second 94. For a vehicle to fast-fail for HC or CO after second 94 two conditions must be satisfied simultaneously: The vehicle's cumulative composite emissions must be above a standard representing the minimum cumulative composite emission level for failing vehicles at the end of the test; and, the vehicle's Phase 2 cumulative emissions must be above a standard representing the maximum cumulative Phase 2 emission level for passing vehicles for the second under consideration.

A vehicle fails for purge if its cumulative composite purge level is below the cumulative composite fast-fail standard. Note that there is no fast-fail standard prior to second 212 of the test. This is because some passing vehicles do not begin purging until this point in the test.

Despite this constraint, EPA's data indicate that average test times using these algorithms are about 115 seconds. A little more than 20 percent of vehicles complete the test at 30 seconds. Fifty percent of vehicles complete the test at or before 120 seconds. By about 180 seconds, 75 percent of vehicles have completed the test, and 95 percent complete the test before 220 seconds.

Summary

On December 20, 1993, the Department of Environmental Protection (Department) promulgated new rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19 governing the control and prohibition of air pollution from oxides of nitrogen (NO<sub>x</sub>). R.1993 d.682, 25 N.J.R. 5957(a). The Department promulgated those rules in response to the requirements of the Federal Clean Air Act, 42 U.S.C. §7401 et seq. (Act), as amended by the Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990, P.L. 101-549, November 15, 1990 (CAAA).

Under the Act, the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has established a National Ambient Air Quality Standard (NAAQS) for ozone. 42 U.S.C. §7409(a)(1). The Act requires any state in which the ambient air quality fails to achieve the NAAQS to submit a State Implementation Plan (SIP) to EPA. 42 U.S.C. §7410. The SIP provides for the state to establish enforceable emission limits and other control measures that would enable the state to achieve the NAAQS.

New Jersey is subject to this requirement because it has not attained the NAAQS for ozone. EPA has designated 18 of the State's 21 counties as being in "severe" nonattainment for ozone, based upon ozone levels more than 50 percent above the NAAQS in those areas.

The CAAA further directs states in which severe nonattainment areas are located to revise their SIPs to require major stationary sources of NO<sub>x</sub> to implement reasonably available control technology (RACT) to reduce emissions. P.L. 101-549, §182(f). The CAAA requires this implementation as expeditiously as practicable, but no later than May 31, 1995. See §§182(b)(2), (d) and (f)(1).

When the Department proposed N.J.A.C. 7:27-19 (subchapter 19) to satisfy this requirement, members of the public and the regulated community submitted comments and suggestions. In addition, EPA has provided guidance relevant to the rules. In reviewing the public's comments and EPA's guidance on those rules, the Department determined that substantial revisions were necessary. These proposed amendments make those revisions.

Before proposing these amendments and new rules, the Department has informally sought comments and suggestions from interested persons. The Department contacted the members of the working group that had assisted in the development of the existing rules. This working group consisted of persons who had attended a meeting to which the public was invited, and at that meeting volunteered to participate in the development of the existing rules.

In addition to contacting the members of the original working group, the Department also invited members of the environmental community, and representatives of EPA to participate in the development of the proposed amendments and new rules. However, those persons did not participate. As a result, the informal discussions of the proposed amendments and new rules primarily involved members of the affected regulated communities and environmental consultants. These persons reviewed a rough draft of the proposed amendments and new rules, discussed the draft with Department staff, and submitted written comments.

The specific revisions to subchapter 19 are discussed in detail below:

Seasonal Fuel Switching

Introduction. The existing rule at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4 recognizes that NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from certain types of coal-fired utility boilers might not practically be controlled using the types of control techniques available for other utility boilers. The existing rules address that problem by allowing these utility boilers to comply with the rule by seasonally combusting natural gas instead of coal. The boiler would combust natural gas during the "ozone season" from May 1 through September 30 of each year, when ozone levels in the State are most likely to be elevated.

After the existing rules were proposed, several commenters questioned why compliance through seasonal combustion of natural gas was available only for certain utility boilers. The commenters suggested that this means of compliance should be available for all of the combustion sources regulated under subchapter 19.

EPA has supported the commenters' position in part. EPA has advised the Department that the NO<sub>x</sub> rules can allow a combustion source that has primarily burned one fuel (coal, for example) to attain compliance by burning a cleaner fuel such as natural gas during the ozone season. However, EPA has stated that a combustion source is not eligible for this method of compliance if it has historically combusted natural gas as its primary fuel.

Based on EPA's guidance, the Department sees no reason to limit seasonal combustion of natural gas to coal-fired wet-bottom utility boilers. Also based on EPA's guidance, the Department sees no reason to restrict this alternative to sources that seasonally combust natural gas; the Department believes that a source should be eligible for this method of compliance if it seasonally combusts any fuel that yields reduced NO<sub>x</sub> emissions compared to the primary fuel. For example, a source that uses coal as its primary fuel can reduce its NO<sub>x</sub> emissions during the ozone season by combusting fuel oil instead.

Accordingly, the proposed new rule at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20 allows all combustion sources subject to subchapter 19 to attain compliance through seasonal combustion of natural gas or any other fuel that is cleaner than the base year fuel. However, the Department expects that the owners and operators of most sources will use natural gas as the cleaner fuel, because natural gas tends to be plentiful and less expensive during the summer ozone season.

This approach provides greater flexibility to owners and operators seeking to comply with subchapter 19, by establishing an alternative approach to compliance that is also effective in protecting air quality. The alternative is feasible because during the ozone season, the price of natural gas in New Jersey historically has been close to the price of other fuels; in addition, compliance through this alternative may enable owners and operators of the boilers to avoid much of the initial capital costs and operating costs associated with installing low-NO<sub>x</sub> burners and making other modifications to the combustion process. Furthermore, under seasonal combustion of cleaner fuels larger reductions in NO<sub>x</sub> emissions occur during the ozone season, when it is most needed to prevent exceedances of the ozone NAAQS.

Allowing compliance through seasonal combustion of cleaner fuels also removes a disincentive to the use of cleaner fuels. Without this alternative, a source that seasonally combusts a cleaner fuel will be subject to lower NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits for that cleaner fuel; the owner or operator of the source normally will not be able to comply with those limits without making capital improvements to the source in addition to paying the usually higher cost of natural gas. The cost of those improvements, and the possibly increased cost of operating and maintaining the source, create a disincentive to using the cleaner fuel at all.

The Department notes that fuel switching may be used in conjunction with averaging. Under a fuel switching plan, a combustion source will be required to meet specified NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits each day during the ozone season, and over the entire year. Under an averaging plan, that combustion source could be assigned a more stringent emission limit (which would then allow another unit in the averaging plan to emit more NO<sub>x</sub>), or a less stringent limit (which would have to be made up by another unit in the averaging plan which would emit less NO<sub>x</sub>). The proposed amendments to N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.6 clarify that fuel switching may be used in conjunction with averaging in this manner.

The Department also notes that a combustion source using fuel switching can employ other control measures to help meet the daily, 30-day and annual NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits. It is not necessary to use fuel switching exclusively to meet these limits.

Eligibility. To be eligible for compliance through fuel switching, a combustion source must derive a higher percentage of its total heat input from cleaner fuel than it did during its base year. N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20(b). This eligibility requirement is based on EPA's guidance. EPA has stated that calendar year 1990 is an appropriate base year because many requirements of the CAAA (such as reasonable further progress and emissions inventories) stem from this date.

N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.1 defines the terms relevant to the eligibility requirement. The "base year" is calendar year 1990, unless the owner or operator of the source demonstrates that calendar year 1991, 1992 or 1993 is more representative of the source's historic operating conditions. The "primary fuel" is the fuel that provided the greatest heat input (in BTU) to the combustion source during a calendar year. A given fuel is a "cleaner fuel" if, all other circumstances being equal, the rate of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from the source (in lb/MMBTU) using the given fuel is less than the rate of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions when the primary fuel is combusted. For example, if the source's primary fuel is fuel oil, natural gas would be a "cleaner fuel."

Application requirements. The owner or operator of the combustion source seeking to attain compliance through seasonal fuel switching must submit an application to the Department within 30 days after the operative date of the proposed new rules. N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20(c). The existing provision at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4(b)1, which required the owner or operator of a utility boiler to submit this application by July 1, 1994, is proposed for deletion; as a result, the owner or operator of a utility boiler will gain additional time to submit the application. The existing rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14 establish the general procedure for the application and the time frames for Department review.

The heart of the application is a calculation of the maximum rate of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions that the combustion source must meet over various averaging times. That maximum rate will limit the NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from the source averaged over the calendar year, and the NO<sub>x</sub> emissions averaged over each calendar day during the ozone season.

The limit on the rate of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions is a weighted average of the emissions limits for each fuel that the source combusted during the base year. The weighting is based on the heat input that the source derived from each fuel during the base year.

The limit on the average rate of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions is calculated as follows:

1. For each fuel that the source combusted during the base year, determine the heat input (in millions of BTU, abbreviated as MMBTU) that the source derived from the combustion of that fuel. The proposed new rules use the abbreviation "HI<sub>i</sub>" to refer to the heat input for each fuel;
2. Determine the maximum allowable emissions rate (in pounds per million BTUs, abbreviated as lb/MMBTU) that the existing rules impose for combustion of each of the fuels listed in paragraph 1 above. The proposed new rules use the abbreviation "L<sub>i</sub>" to refer to the maximum allowable emissions rate for each fuel;
3. For each fuel, multiply HI by L;
4. Add all of the amounts determined under paragraph 3 above; and

PROPOSALS

5. Divide the total determined under 4 above by the sum of all of the heat inputs that the source derived from the combustion of each fuel. The result is the limit on the average rate of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions, expressed in pounds per million BTU. However, that limit cannot be greater than the rate that would have applied if the combustion source were combusting the primary fuel that it had used in the base year. Without this exception, a combustion source could conceivably be subject to NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits during the ozone season that were less stringent than the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits outside the ozone season (See Operational requirements—30-day emissions limit outside ozone season below). That result would contradict the purpose of subchapter 19.

The following example illustrates the calculation of the limit on the average rate of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions. The example is for a face-fired dry-bottom utility boiler. In the base year, the boiler derived heat input of 100,000 MMBTU from the combustion of coal, and 50,000 MMBTU from the combustion of fuel oil.

1. Determine the heat input that the source derived from the combustion of each fuel (HI<sub>i</sub>). HI<sub>1</sub>, for coal, is 100,000 million BTU. HI<sub>2</sub>, for fuel oil, is 50,000 million BTU.

2. Determine the maximum allowable emissions rate that the existing rules impose for combustion of each fuel (L<sub>i</sub>). Under the existing rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4, L<sub>1</sub>, for coal, is 0.45 lb/MMBTU. L<sub>2</sub>, for fuel oil, is 0.28 lb/MMBTU.

3. For each fuel, multiply HI by L.

$$HI_1 \times L_1 = 100,000 \text{ MMBTU} \times 0.45 \text{ lb/MMBTU} = 45,000 \text{ lbs.}$$

$$HI_2 \times L_2 = 50,000 \text{ MMBTU} \times 0.28 \text{ lb/MMBTU} = 14,000 \text{ lbs.}$$

4. Add all of the amounts determined under paragraph 3 above.

$$45,000 \text{ lbs.} + 14,000 \text{ lbs.} = 59,000 \text{ lbs.}$$

5. Divide the total determined under paragraph 4 above by the sum of all of the heat inputs that the source derived from the combustion of each fuel.

$$59,000 \text{ lbs.} \div (100,000 \text{ MMBTU} + 50,000 \text{ MMBTU}) = 0.39 \text{ lb/MMBTU}$$

The limit on the average rate of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions is 0.39 lb/MMBTU.

The one exception to this approach is the emissions limit for coal-fired, wet-bottom utility boilers using the tangential or face firing method. The existing rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4(b)5 establish an annual NO<sub>x</sub> emissions limit of 1.5 lb/MMBTU for such boilers, and the proposed new rules preserve that limit. As discussed in the Summary when the existing rules were first proposed (25 N.J.R. 631(a), February 16, 1993), the Department has determined that this emissions limit represents RACT for this type of boiler.

Emissions cap vs. emissions averaging. In its guidance, EPA has advised the states that compliance through seasonal fuel switching can be demonstrated by using either an emissions cap or emissions averaging. An emissions cap limits the quantity of NO<sub>x</sub> that a source can emit during the year. An emissions averaging approach limits the average rate at which the source can emit NO<sub>x</sub> during the year. As explained above, the Department has used the emissions averaging approach in the proposed new rules.

The difference between the cap approach and the averaging approach is most apparent when the actual operations of a source differ from its historical operations. If the annual heat input to the source is less than it was in the base year, under an averaging approach the quantity of emissions from the source must be reduced as well; under a cap approach, the limit on NO<sub>x</sub> emissions is unchanged. Conversely, if the annual heat input to the source is greater than it was in the base year, an averaging approach would allow the quantity of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions to increase; a cap approach would not allow such an increase, so the source would have to reduce the rate at which it emits NO<sub>x</sub> in order to maintain compliance.

Participants in the work group formed to discuss the proposed new rules preferred the averaging approach. Those participants felt that the averaging approach was more flexible and reasonable. The Department agrees, and has therefore included that approach in the proposed new rules.

Operational requirements—in general. The proposed new provision at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20(g) establishes requirements for the operation of a source that seasonally combusts a cleaner fuel. The owner or operator of the source must comply with these requirements beginning in calendar year 1995.

Operational requirements—daily emissions limit during ozone season. The source must combust a cleaner fuel during the "ozone season," from May 1 through September 15 of each year. N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20(g)2. Each day during that season, the average rate of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from the source cannot exceed the maximum allowable emission rate calculated under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20(d), discussed above.

Under the existing rules, the ozone season runs from May 1 through September 30 of each year. As noted above, under the proposed new rules the ozone season will end on September 15. This revision will make subchapter 19 consistent with the corresponding regulations now in effect in New York. The Department expects the revision to result in a cost savings for sources that seasonally combust natural gas. The savings should result primarily from the difference in price between natural gas and other fuels such as coal.

The Department does not expect that the change in the ozone season will increase the number of exceedances of the NAAQS in New Jersey. Exceedances after September 15 have been rare; none has occurred since September 16, 1991, and the last one before that date occurred in 1986.

Operational requirements—30-day emissions limit outside ozone season. Outside the ozone season, the source must comply with the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit that would have been applicable if the source had been using its historic primary fuel. Compliance with this limit is determined based on the 30-day period that ends on September 16, and each 30-day period that ends on each subsequent day until the following April 30.

For example, if the source is face-fired dry-bottom utility boiler, and its primary fuel in the base year had been coal, the boiler can emit NO<sub>x</sub> at an average rate no higher than 0.45 lb/MMBTU during each of the 30-day periods noted above. This rate is the maximum established under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.7(c) in the existing rules.

The Department had considered not having a 30-day limit for the non-ozone season, but has proposed to include this limit to be consistent with other provisions of the rule and to allow averaging to be used with fuel switching. The Department seeks comments regarding the use of the RACT limit for the primary fuel as the 30-day limit for the non-ozone season. For example, an alternative approach would be to derive the 30-day limit on a source-specific basis, in a manner consistent with the annual limit and daily ozone season limit.

Operational requirements—annual emissions limit. In addition to the daily average applicable during the ozone season, the source must also comply with an annual emissions limit. That limit is calculated by multiplying the limit on the average annual rate of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions, as set forth in the application for approval of the averaging plan, by the total heat input to the source during the year. N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20(j).

The following example illustrates the calculation of the annual limit on the annual quantity of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions. The example is the same boiler used above to illustrate how the limit on the average annual rate of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions is calculated. In 1998, the boiler derives heat input of 75,000 MMBTU from the combustion of coal, 25,000 MMBTU from the combustion of fuel oil, and 50,000 MMBTU from the combustion of natural gas.

1. As calculated in the example above, the limit on the average annual rate of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions is 0.39 lb/MMBTU.

2. To determine the total annual heat input to the boiler, add the heat input derived from each fuel:

$$75,000 \text{ MMBTU (coal)} + 25,000 \text{ MMBTU (fuel oil)} + 100,000 \text{ MMBTU (natural gas)} = 200,000 \text{ MMBTU}$$

3. To determine the limit on the quantity of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from the boiler, multiply the number in paragraph 1 above by the number in paragraph 2 above:

$$200,000 \text{ MMBTU} \times 0.39 \text{ lb/MMBTU} = 78,000 \text{ lbs.}$$

The boiler can emit no more than 78,000 pounds of NO<sub>x</sub> during 1998.

To determine whether the boiler actually complies with this limit in 1998, the owner or operator must determine the average rate at which the boiler emitted NO<sub>x</sub> while combusting each of the fuels. The average emissions rate must be based upon continuous emissions monitoring (in accordance with N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.18 in the existing rules) or source emissions testing (in accordance with N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.17 in the existing rules).

The following example illustrates how to determine whether the boiler is in compliance with the annual emissions limit. As in the example above, the boiler derived heat input of 75,000 MMBTU from the combustion of coal in 1998; stack tests show that the boiler emitted NO<sub>x</sub> at an average rate of 0.45 lb/MMBTU when it combusted coal. Fuel oil supplied 25,000 MMBTU during the year, and the boiler emitted NO<sub>x</sub> at an average rate of 0.35 lb/MMBTU when it combusted fuel oil. Natural gas supplied 100,000 MMBTU during the year, and the boiler emitted NO<sub>x</sub> at an average rate of 0.20 lb/MMBTU when it combusted natural gas.

1. For each fuel, multiply the heat input by the average NO<sub>x</sub> emissions rate, to calculate the quantity of NO<sub>x</sub> that the boiler emitted when combusting each fuel in 1998:

$$\begin{array}{l} \text{Coal} \\ 0.45 \text{ lb/MMBTU} \times 75,000 \text{ MMBTU} = 33,750 \text{ lbs. of NO}_x \end{array}$$

$$\begin{array}{l} \text{Natural Gas} \\ 0.20 \text{ lb/MMBTU} \times 100,000 \text{ MMBTU} = 20,000 \text{ lbs. of NO}_x \end{array}$$

2. Add the amounts determined under paragraph 1 above to determine the quantity of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions:

$$33,750 \text{ lbs.} + 8,750 \text{ lbs.} + 20,000 \text{ lbs.} = 62,500 \text{ lbs. of NO}_x.$$

In this example, the emissions of 62,500 pounds were less than the limit of 78,000 pounds. Accordingly, the boiler would have been in compliance.

Emergency Use of Fuel Oil

Compliance with subchapter 19 can be hindered at times by disruptions in the supply of natural gas. A combustion source that relies upon natural gas as its primary fuel, or seasonally combusts natural gas, will need to combust another fuel temporarily when the supply of natural gas is disrupted. The source may not be able to meet the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits that apply to sources using the backup fuel.

For this reason, when the Department proposed the existing rules it received comments suggesting an exemption from the rules for combustion sources that used liquid fuel as a backup for natural gas in an emergency. The Department agreed that an exemption was necessary, and made a commitment to amend subchapter 19 to include the exemption. The proposed new rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.25 establish the conditions for the exemption.

The exemption is available only for a combustion source that uses natural gas as its primary fuel year-round, or seasonally combusts natural gas pursuant to a plan approved under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20. The exemption allows the use of fuel oil or other liquid fuels during the time when natural gas is unavailable.

For each day that the exemption is in effect, the combustion source is deemed to have emitted no NO<sub>x</sub> and to have had a heat input of 0.0 BTU. As a result, there would be no violation of daily NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits each day that the exemption is in effect. In calculating compliance with a 30-day or annual emission limit, zero NO<sub>x</sub> emissions and heat input for the interrupted day would be factored into the calculation of the 30-day or annual average.

To qualify for the exemption, the owner or operator of the source must demonstrate (i) that he or she cannot practicably obtain a supply of natural gas sufficient to operate the source, and (ii) that the inability to obtain natural gas is due to circumstances beyond his or her control. The owner or operator must make this demonstration in a written notice to the Department within two days after the source begins using fuel oil or another liquid fuel.

The exemption ends as soon as a sufficient supply of natural gas becomes practicably available. At that time, the source must cease using the backup fuel.

The exemption limits the use of fuel oil or liquid fuel to 500 hours during any 12-month period. This limit is consistent with the exemption for emergency generators under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.2(d) in the existing rules. The reasons behind that limit for emergency generators apply equally to sources seeking an exemption to combust backup fuels. As discussed in the Summary when the existing rules were proposed (25 N.J.R. 633, February 16, 1993), control technologies that could be installed would not yield large enough emission reductions during the restricted hours of operation to be considered RACT. In addition, it is unlikely that the exemption will jeopardize achievement of the NAAQS for ozone because curtailments of the natural gas supply occur most commonly outside the ozone season.

Phased Compliance—In General

The CAAA requires RACT to be implemented as expeditiously as practicable, but no later than May 31, 1995. EPA has provided guidance stating that a program of "phased compliance" is consistent with this requirement in certain circumstances. Under those circumstances, some action short of what would normally be full compliance will represent RACT as of May 31, 1995; the additional actions needed to attain full compliance are phased in thereafter.

Based on EPA's guidance, the proposed new rules provide for phased compliance in three circumstances:

- When a combustion source is to be repowered;
- When compliance by May 31, 1995 is impracticable; and
- When the owner or operator of a combustion source will be implementing an innovative control technology that promises greater NO<sub>x</sub> emission reductions than required under subchapter 19, but which will not be available by May 31, 1995.

The following discussion addresses each of these circumstances and how they are handled under the proposed new rules.

Phased Compliance—Repowering

Introduction. The existing rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4(c) establish an optional alternative method for certain utility boilers to comply with subchapter 19, in lieu of complying with the emission limits in N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4(a). The alternative compliance method is available to any utility boiler which is to be "repowered" before May 1, 1999. The existing rules define "repowering" to mean the replacement of the steam generator in the boiler. The repowered source is then subject to emissions limits that are more stringent than the limits imposed on sources of the same type that are not repowered.

There are several reasons behind the "repowering" alternative. First, if a boiler is to be operated for only a few years before being repowered, the cost of installing the necessary control measures is probably excessive compared to the emission reductions that will occur over their relatively short useful life. Second, the alternative serves as an incentive for the replacement of older, higher-polluting steam generators with newer ones that operate more efficiently; as a result of this efficiency, fuel is conserved, and a smaller quantity of pollutants is emitted in producing a given amount of output. Repowering can potentially reduce NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from a source by more than 90 percent in most cases, compared to the 30 percent to 50 percent reductions that NO<sub>x</sub> RACT is expected to achieve. Finally, though the repowering alternative may delay the greatest emission reductions, this delay is offset by the more stringent emission limits applicable to the source after repowering.

When the existing rules were proposed, some commenters questioned why the repowering alternative was limited to utility boilers; they suggested that the alternative be made available to non-utility boilers and other sources. The Department agreed that the reasons behind the repowering alternative apply equally to other types of sources, and therefore made a commitment to propose rules that would make this method of compliance available to all types of sources. The proposed new rule at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21, the proposed amendments to the definition of "repowering" at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.1 and the proposed deletion of N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4(c) accomplish this. The proposed amendments to the definition of "repowering" also make the rule consistent with the definition of the term in Section 402(12) of the CAAA; 42 U.S.C. 7651a(12).

After the existing rules were promulgated, EPA provided guidance confirming that states may make the repowering alternative available to sources other than utility boilers, and outlining the requirements that a source must meet in the interim period before its repowering is completed. EPA stated that its guidance regarding utility boilers could be extended to other source categories, such as stationary internal combustion engines, gas turbines and process heaters. The proposed new rules reflect EPA's guidance, discussed in more detail below.

Application requirements; repowering plan. An owner or operator seeking authorization to comply with subchapter 19 through repowering must submit an application to the Department within 30 days after the operative date of the proposed new rules; however, the Department will begin accepting applications immediately after the proposed new rules are adopted. The existing N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4(c)3, which required the owner or operator of a utility boiler to submit this application by July 1, 1994, is proposed to be deleted; as a result, the owner or operator of a utility boiler will gain additional time to submit the application.

In addition to the general information required under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14 in the existing rules, the application must include a proposed repowering plan. The central requirements of the repowering plan, including the dates for completion of repowering milestones and the proposal of an "interim RACT," are discussed in more detail below.

Under the repowering plan, the replacement for the source being repowered need not be at precisely the same location. As stated in the amended definition of "repowering" at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.1, the replacement unit may be installed at any facility in New Jersey owned or operated by the same person who owns or operates the facility at which the source to be repowered is located. In providing for the replacement unit to be installed at another facility in New Jersey, the Department is attempting to make the rule conform to the necessities of doing business in the State, which must include the flexibility to relocate within the State. However, the Department notes that in some cases when the replacement is installed at a different facility, emission offset requirements under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.18 may be triggered.

The replacement unit must be installed within New Jersey because if the replacement unit were installed outside the State it would not currently be possible to enforce the repowering requirements. In the future, when an interstate system of emission credit trading is developed, the Department may amend N.J.A.C. 7:27-19 to provide for the replacement unit to be installed outside the State.

Under the revised definition of "repowering," the replacement unit must have a maximum gross heat output rate that is at least 50 percent of the maximum gross heat output rate of the unit being replaced, or power output rate that is at least 50 percent of the power output rate for the unit being replaced. The purpose of requiring the unit to be replaced with something that is at least roughly equivalent is to ensure that the repowering incentive does not serve as an incentive to simply shrink operations.

Interim RACT. In its guidance, EPA has stated that a State's analysis of RACT for a source being repowered would focus upon the technical and economic feasibility of controls available over the interim period between May 31, 1995 and the repowering date. This "interim RACT" analysis is central to the repowering plan; the proposed new rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21(c)3 through 10 list the information relevant to this analysis that the owner or operator must include in the repowering plan.

The framework for establishing "interim RACT" for a repowered source closely resembles the framework for establishing facility-specific RACT under the existing rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.13. The main difference between the two is that an "interim RACT" reflects the limited useful life that a control technology is likely to have in a source that will be repowered by 1999; a limited useful life results in lesser emission reductions, which means that the cost must be lower if the control technology is to be reasonable. Accordingly, the information required under the proposed new rules is essentially the same as the information required under the existing rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.13.

For the same reason, the criteria that the Department will apply to arrive at an interim RACT also closely resemble the criteria for facility-specific RACT under the existing rules. In both cases, the Department must analyze several factors: the suitability of each available control measure; the NO<sub>x</sub> emissions reductions that each available control measure can be expected to yield over its useful life; the cost of each available measure; the owner or operator's proposed rate of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from the source; whether that proposed rate is the lowest rate that can be achieved at a cost comparable to the cost that other similar sources will incur to comply with subchapter 19; and whether the cost of further emissions reductions would be disproportionate to their extent and impact. These criteria are set forth in the proposed new rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21(d)6 through 8.

The Department's approval of a repowering plan will include approval of an interim RACT. In accordance with EPA's guidance, the source being repowered must attain compliance with that approved interim RACT by May 31, 1995. N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21(e)1.

The Department expects that the owners or operators of some sources will be required to annually adjust the combustion process of the source. The proposed new rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21(e)5 require this adjustment to be completed by May 1 of each calendar year beginning in 1995, in time for the beginning of ozone season. This requirement is recodified from N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4(c)1 in the existing rules.

SIP revisions. EPA has advised that the commitment to repower and the interim RACT requirements must be submitted to EPA as a source-specific revision to the State's SIP. However, EPA has also advised that States need not submit source-specific SIP revisions if they have made these requirements federally enforceable by including them directly in their NO<sub>x</sub> rules.

This guidance is reflected in the proposed new rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21(f) and (g). Normally, the Department will obtain public comment on a repowering plan and, if the plan is approved, submit it to EPA as a proposed SIP revision. However, if a repowering plan provides for NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from a source to be controlled either by seasonal fuel switching or by the use of selective non-catalytic reduction (through which NO<sub>x</sub> is controlled by injecting a reducing agent such as ammonia, urea or cyanuric acid into the flue gas; the reducing agent converts NO<sub>x</sub> to molecular nitrogen, water, and possibly carbon dioxide), the Department will not submit the repowering plan to EPA as a SIP revision for that source. As discussed in the Summary of the proposal of the existing rules (25 N.J.R. 631, February 16, 1993), the Department has determined that the reductions in NO<sub>x</sub> emissions that can be expected from these control methods meet the RACT requirements of the 1990 CAAA.

Requirements following repowering. Under EPA's guidance, after a source has been repowered it must meet applicable requirements for new sources. In accordance with that guidance, the proposed new rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21(e)8 require the owner or operator to incorporate advances in the art of air pollution control into each source that is repowered.

In addition, the existing rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4(c) establish the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits that utility boilers must meet after they have been repowered; however, if advances in the art at the time of repowering would make a boiler capable of meeting more stringent NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits, the boiler would be required to do so. Those limits are recodified at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21(e), and continue to apply to utility boilers that are repowered.

Enforceable commitment to repower. In its utility boiler guidance, EPA has stated that an owner or operator intending to repower a boiler must make an enforceable commitment to do so by May 1, 1999. The requirements for this enforceable commitment are included in the proposed new rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21(h) and applied to owners and operators intending to repower any type of combustion source.

Under those provisions, the owner or operator of the source to be repowered will enter into an agreement with the Department requiring the owner or operator to repower the source by a specified date. The date must be no later than May 1, 1999. If the source has not been repowered by May 1, 1999, the source must cease operating by that date.

EPA has also stated that the enforceable commitment must include dates on which intermediate milestones for repowering must be completed. Those milestones include the awarding of contracts for the repowering project and the purchase of component parts, and the date on which construction and/or installation is to begin. Under the proposed new rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21(c)2, the owner or operator includes the proposed dates for achieving those milestones in the repowering plan. The repowering plan also includes an additional milestone: obtaining all necessary permits and certificates. The Department has included this additional milestone because all of the other milestones depend upon it; accordingly, it will assist the Department and the owner or operator in setting realistic dates for the other milestones. The owner or operator will be required to complete the milestones by the approved dates, under its agreement with the Department and under the Department's approval of the repowering plan.

Under the agreement that the owner or operator and the Department will sign, the Department may terminate the agreement and the approval of the repowering plan if the owner or operator materially fails to complete the repowering or any other milestone by the date specified in the approved plan. If the agreement and approval are terminated, the combustion sources covered by the repowering plan would become subject to the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits established elsewhere in subchapter 19, and would be risking enforcement action and penalties if they exceeded those limits. The Department would not expect to exercise this remedy unless less formal efforts to bring the repowering back on schedule had failed.

Sources to be retired. When subchapter 19 was originally proposed, it allowed sources that were to be shut down by April 30, 1999 to comply with the rules in the same manner as sources that were to be repowered by that date. However, EPA provided guidance stating that this provision was inconsistent with the requirements of the CAAA. Accordingly, the provision for sources to be shut down was deleted upon adoption.

Nonetheless, the Department recognizes that the limited useful life of a source that is to be shut down makes some types of control techniques economically unfeasible. For this reason, it will normally be advisable for the owner or operator of such a source to seek approval of a facility-specific NO<sub>x</sub> control plan under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.13. The Department will consider the remaining useful life in evaluating such a NO<sub>x</sub> control plan.

As discussed above, an incentive for repowering is consistent with the purpose of subchapter 19, because repowering replaces older, higher-polluting steam generators with newer ones that conserve fuel and emit a smaller quantity of pollutants. However, an incentive to retire sources would not serve the purposes of subchapter 19 or the broader public policies of the State. Accordingly, the proposed new rules do not include such an incentive.

Phased Compliance—Impracticability of Full Compliance by May 31, 1995

As discussed above, under the CAAA New Jersey must require RACT to be implemented as expeditiously as practicable, but no later than May 31, 1995. In most cases, only compliance with the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits in this subchapter will satisfy the RACT requirement. However, some combustion sources will not practicably be able to attain full compliance with those limits in the period between December 20, 1993 (the date on which subchapter 19 was promulgated) and May 31, 1995, despite the best efforts of the owners and operators of those sources.

For those sources, full compliance with the applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit is not considered RACT on May 31, 1995; full compliance will be considered RACT at a later date that depends upon each source. The proposed new rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.22 address this issue by enabling an owner or operator to meet the RACT requirement by complying with a plan for phased compliance. Phased compliance under the plan begins on May 31, 1995, and is completed at a specified date thereafter.

Application. An owner or operator seeking approval of a phased compliance plan must apply to the Department within 30 days after these amendments become operative. N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.22(b). In that application, the owner or operator will describe the efforts taken to bring each combustion source into full compliance by May 31, 1995, and the circumstances that make full compliance by that date impracticable. The application also includes the proposed phased compliance plan itself.

One key part of the phased compliance plan is the proposed schedule for bringing each combustion source into full compliance. N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.22(c)2. The milestones are essentially the same as the milestones under a repowering plan, discussed in the summary of N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21 above. The other key to the phased compliance plan is the NO<sub>x</sub> control measures or technology that the owner or operator proposes to employ from May 31, 1995 until full compliance is achieved. N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.22(c)3.

Criteria for approval. The Department will approve or disapprove a phased compliance application based on criteria listed in N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.22(d).

The application must first establish that the owner or operator made a good faith effort to bring each combustion source into compliance by May 31, 1995. N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.22(d)2. This requirement is necessary to avoid giving a competitive advantage to owners and operators who delayed compliance and penalizing those who worked to comply promptly.

The application must then establish that full compliance with the applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit by May 31, 1995 is impracticable. N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.22(d)3. Any of several factors may make timely compliance impracticable:

- The owner or operator may need to obtain a permit from the Department before beginning to construct or install the necessary control measures; the time needed to process certain permit applications may make it impracticable to complete the construction or installation on time.

- As owners and operators work to comply with the May 31, 1995 deadline, they may be competing for a limited supply of component parts and equipment needed to attain compliance. The resulting shortages may delay shipments of the parts and equipment, making it impracticable to complete the necessary construction or installation on time.

- The construction or installation itself may be too time-consuming to practicably complete on time.

- Timely compliance may require measures that will pose a risk to public safety or welfare. For example, an electric generating utility might be able to attain timely compliance only by simultaneously taking a large number of electric generating units out of service to install the necessary control technology; voltage reductions or interruptions in electric service could result. The Department will consider such risks in evaluating practicability.

Finally, the application must propose a date for full compliance that is no later than May 31, 1996. The Department expects that the additional year will be enough for almost all combustion sources to practicably attain full compliance. If an owner or operator seeks additional time, the Department will consider exercising its enforcement discretion case-by-case and possibly enter into an administrative consent order with the owner or operator.

Interim control measures. The proposed new rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-29.22(g)4 describe the NO<sub>x</sub> control measures that the owner or operator must take in the interim period between May 31, 1995 and the full compliance date. The Department has determined that the use of one of these measures represent RACT in light of the limited length of time (no more than 12 months) over which they will be used.

For boilers and other combustion sources from which NO<sub>x</sub> emissions can be reduced by adjusting the air-to-fuel ratio in the combustion process, the owner or operator will be required to make those adjustments until the deadline for reaching full compliance. For sources that are not amenable to this type of tune-up, the owner or operator can employ seasonal fuel switching under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20, or selective non-catalytic reduction (through which NO<sub>x</sub> is controlled by injecting a reducing agent such as ammonia, urea or cyanuric acid into the flue gas; the reducing agent converts NO<sub>x</sub> to molecular nitrogen, water, and possibly carbon dioxide) to control NO<sub>x</sub> emissions until the deadline. In addition, an owner or operator may use another control measure that the Department finds appropriate, based on the costs involved and the quantity of NO<sub>x</sub> reductions that will be achieved.

Phased Compliance—Innovative Control Technology

In discussions with the Department, EPA has advised that in certain cases RACT may include a phased program extending beyond May 31, 1995, for sources that are actively developing innovative control technology. The use of a phased program will create incentives for the use of innovative technology that promises significant environmental benefits. Based on that guidance, the Department is proposing a new rule at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.23 that will govern plans for phased compliance to allow owners and operators to implement innovative control technology.

A phase-in of compliance to allow innovative control technology to be used is similar to phased compliance for repowering. In both scenarios, by May 31, 1995 the combustion source is not expected to attain full compliance with the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits established elsewhere in subchapter 19. Instead, the source is expected to achieve greater NO<sub>x</sub> emission reductions at a later date.

For this reason, the proposed new rule for innovative control technology at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.23 is analogous in many ways to the proposed new rule for repowering at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21.

Innovative control technology. Proposed amendments to N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.1 define "innovative control technology." A NO<sub>x</sub> control measure is "innovative control technology" if it has a substantial likelihood of achieving greater continuous NO<sub>x</sub> emissions reductions than are required to meet the emission limits under subchapter 19, but has not been adequately demonstrated and is not available to be implemented before May 31, 1995. A control measure will not meet this standard if it promises only marginally better NO<sub>x</sub> emission reductions than are required to meet the emission limits under subchapter 19. "Innovative control technology" includes a variety of control measures, including an item of equipment or control apparatus, a change in a process, or a pollution prevention strategy.

Application requirements; innovative control technology plan. An owner or operator seeking authorization to phase in compliance through the use of innovative control technology must submit an application to the Department within 30 days after the operative date of the proposed new rules. However, the Department will begin accepting applications immediately after the proposed new rules are adopted.

The application requirements under this section are similar to the application requirements for sources to be repowered under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21, discussed above. The main difference is the information regarding the proposed innovative control technology. The owner or operator must describe the proposed innovative control technology; estimate the rate of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions that the combustion source will be able to attain when it employs the control technology; explain the basis for that estimate; and establish that the control technology is technically sound and sufficiently developed to be implemented by May 1, 1999. N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.23(c)2, 3 and 4.

Interim RACT. As is the case under the repowering rules, the innovative control technology rules require the owner or operator to implement "interim RACT" NO<sub>x</sub> control measures during the interim period between May 31, 1995 and the date on which the innovative control technology must be fully implemented. In determining what interim control measures are economically and technologically feasible, the Department will consider the limited useful life that a control measure is likely to have in a source that will be employing different control measures by 1999.

The application requirements relevant to interim RACT, and the criteria that the Department will apply to arrive at an interim RACT, are essentially identical to the corresponding requirements in the repowering rules. As is also the case under the repowering rules, the source in question must attain compliance with that approved interim RACT by May 31, 1995. N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.23(c)1.

SIP revisions. Based on discussions with EPA, the Department believes that the phased compliance plan and the interim RACT requirements must be submitted to EPA as a revision to the State's SIP following an opportunity for public comment. However, these requirements need not be submitted as source-specific SIP revisions if the requirements are included directly in the NO<sub>x</sub> rules.

Accordingly, N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21(f) provides that the phased compliance plan will normally be submitted to EPA as a proposed SIP revision; however, if the plan provides for NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from the source to be controlled either by seasonal fuel switching or by the use of selective non-catalytic reduction, the Department will not submit the repowering plan to EPA as a SIP revision for that source. As discussed in the Summary of the proposal of the existing rules (25 N.J.R. 631, February 16, 1993), the Department has determined that the reductions in NO<sub>x</sub> emissions that can be expected from these control methods meet the RACT requirements of the 1990 CAAA.

Enforceable commitment to implement innovative control technology. The proposed new rules require the owner or operator to make an enforceable commitment to implement the innovative control technology by May 1, 1999. The requirements for this enforceable commitment are included in the proposed new rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.23(h), and are essentially the same as the corresponding requirements in the repowering rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21(h).

Maximum Emergency Generation

Introduction. In commenting upon the original proposal of subchapter 19, Public Service Electric and Gas (PSE&G) suggested that the rule should recognize that electric generating utilities sometimes operate in a "maximum emergency generation" (MEG) mode. 25 N.J.R. 5961, Comment 36 (December 20, 1993). In this mode, a utility is providing the last increment of power generation available prior to voltage reductions and service interruptions. PSE&G noted that in the three years preceding its comment, it has responded to MEG alerts for a total of only 16.2 hours.

Utilities operate at MEG at the direction of the "load dispatcher" acting on behalf of the Pennsylvania-New Jersey-Maryland Interconnection (PJM). PJM is a combination of eight electric generating utilities, linked physically and through contractual arrangements, for coordinated planning and operation in the region served by PJM's member utilities. Those utilities serve approximately 97 percent of New Jersey, parts of Maryland, Pennsylvania and Virginia, and all of Delaware and the District of Columbia.

The load dispatcher is responsible for selecting the most economically available generating units throughout the PJM system, to meet the daily forecasted peak demand of the eight member companies. In meeting high levels of demand for electricity, or to compensate for an electric generating unit that is out of service, each member company of PJM can rely upon the capacity of the other companies. Conversely, in imposing a "MEG alert," the load dispatcher may call upon a member company to operate at levels in excess of the normal maximums in order to help meet the needs of other member companies.

The load dispatcher most frequently calls for MEG alerts during the summer ozone season, when air conditioners and other cooling equipment strain electric generating capacity. Less frequently, a MEG alert may occur during bitterly cold weather such as that which the State experienced in January 1994.

The Department recognizes that when a utility boiler or other source used in generating electricity is operating beyond its normal maximum capacity during a MEG alert, its rate of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions is likely to increase significantly. For this reason, an inflexible requirement to reduce NO<sub>x</sub> emissions during a MEG alert may hinder a utility's ability to provide uninterrupted electric service to customers. Failure to meet the full demand for electricity can pose a risk to the security and safety of the utility's customers. This risk must be balanced against the possible impact of uncontrolled NO<sub>x</sub> emissions on air quality; however, that balance is affected by the relatively infrequent occurrences of MEG alerts, and the availability of other measures to minimize impacts on air quality without deterring utilities from providing uninterrupted electric service.

N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.24 therefore provides that when an electric generating utility operates a source at emergency capacity during a MEG alert, that source is exempt from the emissions limits that would otherwise be applicable under subchapter 19. A discussion of the details of this exemption follows.

Definitions. The MEG alert exemption is available only for electric generating units. The proposed amendments to N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.1 define "electric generating unit" to include any combustion source that is owned or operated by an electric generating utility and used to generate electricity for commercial sale. For example, a stationary gas turbine used to generate electricity or a utility boiler would be included within the definition of "electric generating unit."

During a MEG alert, an electric generating unit is operated at "emergency capacity." Emergency capacity is the generation of electricity at a rate in excess of the unit's maximum normal power output rating. That rating is the subject of an agreement between PJM and each electric generating utility. The rating for each electric generating unit is published by the utility.

The proposed amendments to N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.1 define "MEG alert." The alert is the period in which the utility operates one or more electric generating units at emergency capacity in order to prevent or mitigate voltage reductions and/or interruptions in electric service. The alert begins when the utility begins to operate one or more electric generating units at emergency capacity after receiving notice from the load dispatcher, directing the utility to do so. The alert ends when the utility ceases operating its electric generating units at emergency capacity.

Effect of MEG alert. During the MEG alert, any electric generating unit operated at emergency capacity is exempt from the NO<sub>x</sub> emissions limit that would otherwise apply. N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.24(a). To preserve the exemption, the electric generating utility must comply with reporting requirements and emissions credit requirements, discussed below.

Emission reduction credits; reporting. Under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.24(c), the utilities will be required to compensate for the excess NO<sub>x</sub> emissions (that is, emissions in excess of what would have been authorized under the emissions limits that would have been applicable in the absence of the MEG exemption) emitted during MEG alerts. The utility will make that compensation by reducing NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from a combustion source above and beyond the reductions required under any Federal or State law, rule, regulation, permit or order. The ratio of the compensating emissions reductions to the excess emissions that occurred during the MEG alert must be at least 1.3:1. The Clean Air Act uses this ratio in Section 182(d)(2), concerning emission offset requirements. The circumstance addressed by that provision of the Clean Air Act is similar to the MEG alert situation; accordingly, the Department believes that this provision is helpful in determining the appropriate level of compensating emission reductions for MEG alerts.

N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.24(b) describes the report that the utility is required to submit to the Department within two working days after the MEG alert ends. The report contains information relevant to the compensation requirement, such as a calculation of the excess NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from each electric generating unit that operated at emergency capacity during the MEG alert. The report also states when the MEG alert began and ended.

One utility that participated in the rule development working group stated that no compensation for excess NO<sub>x</sub> emissions during MEG alerts should be required. The utility noted that when it operates a source at emergency capacity to meet electricity demand during a MEG alert, it is acting prudently and in the best interest of the community, business and industry.

The Department agrees with this reasoning, but disagrees with the conclusion. The reasons that the utility cites are the same reasons supporting the Department's decision to exempt an electric generating unit from NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits when the unit is operated at emergency capacity during a MEG alert. The need to meet electricity demand during the alert outweighs the need to control NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from the unit in question at the same time; to avoid deterring utilities from meeting electricity demand, it is necessary to eliminate the risk that they would be liable for violations of air pollution control laws. The compensation requirement enables the Department to promote the protection of air quality without creating a deterrent to meeting electricity demand.

Expiration. The MEG alert exemption is available only for MEG alerts that occur on or before November 15, 2005. That date is the primary standard attainment date for ozone established under section 181(a)1 of the Clean Air Act for much of the State. The Department expects that extending the MEG alert exemption beyond that date would hinder the State's effort to reach attainment by that date. The 10-year life of the exemption will allow for modifications to electric generating units that can eliminate the need for the exemption.

Other Amendments

Recordkeeping and reporting. The proposed amendments to N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.19 establish recordkeeping requirements for owner or operator of a combustion source that is:

- Included in a fuel switching plan approved under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14 and 19.20;
- Included in a plan for phased compliance approved under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14 and N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21 or 19.23; or
- Temporarily combusting fuel oil or other liquid fuel in place of natural gas, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.25.

The proposed amendments also establish reporting requirements for the first two classes of sources, but not for sources temporarily combusting liquid fuel. In light of the intermittent and brief nature of the temporary liquid fuel combustion, the Department does not believe that reporting is necessary to verify compliance with N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.25.

Under the proposed recordkeeping requirements, the owner or operator must record the amount, type and higher heating value of each fuel that the source consumes, and the quantity of NO<sub>x</sub> that the source emits. During the ozone season, these records must be maintained on a daily basis; at other times of the year, the records must be maintained on the basis of a rolling 30-day average (that is, each 30-day period ending on September 16 and on each subsequent day until the following April 30).

The records during the ozone season must state whether the source complied with the limit on the rate of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions each day. Outside the ozone season, the record need only state whether the total quantity of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions each 30-day period complied with the applicable limit.

By October 30 of each year, the owner or operator must submit to the Department a report regarding the ozone season of that year. The report includes the information set forth in the records. N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.19(g).

N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.19(h) requires the owner or operator of the source to submit an annual report for each calendar year. The report includes the information set forth in the records; in addition, for each combustion source included in a fuel switching plan, the report includes a determination whether the source complied with the annual limit on NO<sub>x</sub> emissions. The owner or operator must submit the report by March 1 of the following year. The owner or operator need not include in the annual report the information already submitted in the October 30 report.

Exemptions. Under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.2(f) in the existing rules, the owner or operator of a facility may apply for an exemption from subchapter 19. A facility is not eligible for the exemption unless its daily potential to emit NO<sub>x</sub> on any day from May 15 through September 15 is less than 137 pounds per day. The proposed amendments revise this exemption by changing May 15 to May 1. This change is consistent with the delineation of the ozone season throughout subchapter 19. The Department believes that May 1 is the appropriate starting date for the ozone season; in 1993, two exceedances of the ozone NAAQS occurred between May 1 and May 15.

Indirect heat exchangers. The proposed amendments to N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.1 define "indirect heat exchanger" to mean equipment in which heat from the combustion of fuel is transferred by conduction to a substance being heated, so that the substance being heated is not contacted by the products of combustion and adds nothing to them. The definition in the proposed amendments is identical to the definition of "indirect heat exchanger" in the existing rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-6.1, except that the definition in subchapter 19 makes it clear that process heaters and duct burners are considered indirect heat exchangers.

A boiler is a type of indirect heat exchanger which generates steam. Other types of indirect heat exchangers (such as process heaters) differ in their purpose, but their combustion processes that emit NO<sub>x</sub> are similar to the combustion processes in boilers. For this reason, the Department believes that the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits established in the existing rules for non-utility boilers are equally applicable to other types of indirect heat exchangers as well. The proposed amendments therefore expressly make these limits applicable to all indirect heat exchangers. For example, many petroleum refineries employ process heaters that are subject to subchapter 19; those process heaters will be subject to the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits set forth in N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.7.

The Department stresses that this amendment does not expand the scope of subchapter 19. Any indirect heat exchanger that is not regulated under subchapter 19 as it currently stands will remain unregulated. However, many indirect heat exchangers are currently subject to subchapter 19. In the absence of standardized requirements for these sources, their owners and operators must obtain approval of facility-specific NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.13.

By applying standardized NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits to these sources under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.7, the proposed amendments will simplify compliance with subchapter 19 for many owners and operators of the sources. The proposed amendments do not limit the flexibility of those owners and operators in complying with subchapter 19, because they will still have the option of developing facility-specific NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.13 as they do under the existing rules.

Annual tune-ups. The existing rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.7(a) required the owner or operator of a non-utility boiler with a maximum gross heat input rate between 20 million and 50 million BTUs per hour to begin annual tune-ups of the combustion process beginning in calendar year 1994. The proposed amendments revise this requirement in three ways.

First, the owner or operator may elect to forgo the annual tune-ups, and instead comply with the emission limits in N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.7, Table 4. Compliance with those limits would be established through continuous emissions monitoring. This option adds flexibility to the rule without sacrificing protection of air quality.

Second, annual tune-ups will be required for any non-utility boiler or other indirect heat exchanger with a maximum gross heat input rate between 50 million and 250 million BTUs per hour, unless such NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from the unit are monitored by a continuous emissions monitoring system. The purpose of this requirement is to ensure that the NO<sub>x</sub> control measures installed on such units are performing adequately. N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.7(d).

Third, for non-utility boilers the date for beginning tune-ups is being postponed from calendar year 1994 to calendar year 1995. The Department believes that it should have more widely publicized the 1994 tune-up requirement in the existing rules to make the regulated community more fully aware of the requirement. Many of the smaller boilers affected by the requirement are operated by small businesses which may have been unaware of the requirement, especially since it differed from the more widely publicized CAAA compliance deadline of May 31, 1995.

Use of refinery fuel gas. When a refinery produces petroleum products, one by-product is a gas that can be used for fuel. The proposed amendments use the term "refinery fuel gas" to refer to this fuel. The term is defined at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.1. The definition refers to gas derived from the "refining process," which is in turn defined in essentially the same manner as in N.J.A.C. 7:27-25.1.

The proposed amendments to N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.7 establish NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits for indirect heat exchangers that are combusting this gas. The Department arrived at these emissions limits following discussions with the New Jersey Petroleum Council (NJPC), which participated in the rule development working group and provided relevant information for the Department's review.

For indirect heat exchangers with a maximum gross heat input rate of at least 100 MMBTU/hr, combusting refinery fuel gas, NJPC recommended a maximum NO<sub>x</sub> emission rate of 0.2 lb/MMBTU. That limit is the same as the limit in the existing rules for gas-fired indirect heat exchangers of the same size. For smaller indirect heat exchangers combusting refinery fuel gas, NJPC recommended the same limit. However, that limit is less stringent than the limit of 0.2 lb/MMBTU applied to gas-fired indirect heat exchangers of the same size.

NJPC recommended this less stringent limit because variations in the composition of refinery fuel gas (such as the concentration of hydrogen or of heavy hydrocarbons), as well as variations in temperature and pressure, make it unlikely that the smaller indirect heat exchangers could consistently meet the 0.1 lb/MMBTU limit. In addition, existing NO<sub>x</sub> control technologies are not sufficient to enable indirect heat exchangers combusting refinery fuel gas to meet the limit of 0.1 lb/MMBTU.

The Department agrees with NJPC's reasoning, and has incorporated the 0.2 lb/MMBTU limit into the proposed amendments.

Clarification of facility-specific NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits. N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.13(a)1 states that a facility-specific NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit is necessary if a major NO<sub>x</sub> facility "contains any source operation or item of equipment not listed in N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.2(b) which has the potential to emit more than 10 tons of NO<sub>x</sub> per year." Some confusion about this provision has arisen. N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.2(b) lists types of sources, and states that each type is subject to subchapter 19 based on cutpoints regarding a particular source's output, heat input, productive capacity or potential to emit NO<sub>x</sub>.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

In promulgating N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.13(a)1, the Department did not intend to require facility-specific NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits for a type of source that is listed in N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.2(b), but falls below the applicable cutpoint. For example, N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.2(b)2 lists non-utility boilers with a maximum gross heat input rate of at least 20 million BTUs per hour; the Department did not intend that a non-utility boiler with a maximum gross heat input rate of 15 million BTUs per hour would be obtaining a facility-specific NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit. The Department intended that N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.13(a)1 would encompass only sources that were not among the types listed in N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.2(b). The proposed amendments clarify this point.

Penalties. N.J.A.C. 7:27A-3.10 establishes civil administrative penalties for violations of rules adopted pursuant to the Air Pollution Control Act. The proposed amendments to N.J.A.C. 7:27A-3.10(e)19 revise the penalty schedule to reflect the proposed amendments and new rules in subchapter 19. In establishing the proposed penalty amounts, the Department has applied the following criteria:

1. The potential or actual health and environmental impacts of the violation, including the characteristics and quality of the air contaminants regulated, the magnitude of the areas affected and the air quality of the area affected;

2. The deterrent value of the penalty and whether the proposed penalty amounts are appropriate to ensure compliance with N.J.A.C. 7:27-19; and

3. Consistency with penalties in N.J.A.C. 7:27A-3 for violations of other comparable rules in N.J.A.C. 7:27. For example, the penalties for violations of emission limits established under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19 correspond to penalties for violations of emission limit under N.J.A.C. 7:27-8 for source operations in similar source categories. Penalties for violation of recordkeeping, reporting requirements, source testing and requirement to submit reports correspond to existing penalty amounts in N.J.A.C. 7:27A for similar violations of N.J.A.C. 7:27. Except as indicated, the following table below shows the provisions of N.J.A.C. 7:27-19 for which a penalty for violation is proposed, and the rules which have comparable requirements in N.J.A.C. 7:27 and comparable penalty in N.J.A.C. 7:27A-3.

Social Impact

The proposed amendments and new rules will enhance the positive social impact of the existing rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19. That impact is discussed in the original proposal of subchapter 19 (see 25 N.J.R. 642 (February 16, 1993)) and includes a reduction in damage from acid rain and ozone exposure.

Part of the added social benefit is due to the increased flexibility under the proposed amendments and new rules. The provisions for seasonal fuel switching and phased compliance make subchapter 19 more flexible by creating alternative ways to comply with subchapter 19. As a result, owners and operators can choose the approach to compliance that minimizes any adverse social impacts.

Additional social benefit will result from the provisions governing MEG alerts and emergency use of fuel oil. Those provisions address circumstances in which some owners and operators could not comply with subchapter 19 without compromising another important social goal. The MEG alert exemption will have a positive social impact, because it will avoid deterring electric generating utilities from meeting peak demands for electricity. The exemption for emergency use of fuel oil will have a positive social impact because it will avoid penalizing industries that cannot comply with subchapter 19 when the supply of natural gas is curtailed.

The proposed amendments to N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.7, which establish NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits for indirect heat exchangers, will have a positive social impact. Under the existing rules, an owner or operator of an indirect heat exchanger subject to subchapter 19 must obtain approval of a facility-specific NO<sub>x</sub> control plan; the proposed amendments contain standardized NO<sub>x</sub> control requirements for these sources, so that the owner or operator can avoid the paperwork associated with a facility-specific NO<sub>x</sub> control plan.

The proposed amendments to N.J.A.C. 7:27A-3.10(e) will have a positive social impact, by encouraging compliance and discouraging non-compliance with the State's air pollution control laws and regulations.

Economic Impact

The Department expects the proposed amendments and new rules to have a primarily positive economic impact. In general, the proposed amendments and new rules do not impose new regulatory requirements upon the owners and operators of combustion sources regulated under subchapter 19. Instead, most of the proposed amendments and new rules fall into two categories:

- Establishing alternative means of complying with subchapter 19, thereby allowing owners and operators to choose the approach to compliance that makes the most economic and business sense; and

- Recognizing circumstances in which some owners and operators could not have practically complied with subchapter 19, and making it possible for those owners and operators to avoid violating subchapter 19 and risking enforcement action and penalties.

New rules in the first category include expanding eligibility to seasonally combust cleaner fuels and to repower. The first category also includes phased compliance to allow the use of innovative control technology. An owner or operator will have the option of either using one of these alternative means of compliance or complying with the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits already present in the existing rules. Since the owner or operator is not required to repower or to use clean fuels seasonally, the Department expects that these options will normally be employed when they will reduce compliance costs. As a result, the proposed amendments and new rules will have a positive economic impact upon owners and operators who can reduce their compliance costs in one of these ways; the proposed amendments and new rules will have no economic impact upon owners and operators who choose instead to comply with the emission limits in the existing rules.

New rules in the second category include allowing emergency use of fuel oil, allowing exceedance of emission limits during MEG alerts, and allowing phased compliance when full compliance by May 31, 1995 would be impracticable. If subchapter 19 did not provide for emergency use of fuel oil, owners and operators of gas-fired combustion sources almost certainly would exceed NO<sub>x</sub> emissions limits at times when the supply of natural gas is curtailed. If subchapter 19 did not provide for MEG alerts, electric generating utilities would frequently exceed NO<sub>x</sub> emissions limits at times of peak electricity demand. If subchapter 19 did not provide for phased compliance, a variety of combustion sources would almost certainly be unable to meet the applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits on May 31, 1995. As a result, the proposed new rules will have a positive economic impact upon owners or operators who could otherwise have been subject to enforcement action and penalties.

The economic impact of subchapter 19 upon each type of source that it regulates is discussed in detail in the original proposal of subchapter 19. 25 N.J.R. 642-644 (February 16, 1993). A discussion of the economic impact of each change under the proposed amendments and new rules follows:

Seasonal Fuel Switching

In lieu of complying with the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits in the existing rules, the owner or operator of a combustion source may elect to comply with subchapter 19 through seasonal fuel switching pursuant to N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20. The primary reason for an owner or operator to elect this alternative method of compliance is to avoid incurring the initial capital costs and operating costs associated with installing and operating the control measures that would be necessary to comply with the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits. Accordingly, the Department expects that the proposed new rule at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20 will have a positive economic impact upon an owner or operator who chooses to comply with subchapter 19 through seasonal fuel switching.

The extent of that positive economic impact depends primarily upon the following factors:

- The initial capital costs and operating costs of complying with the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits in the existing rules, as discussed in the original proposal of subchapter 19;
- The cost of the fuels that the combustion source is currently combusting;
- The particular cleaner fuel that the owner or operator chooses to combust seasonally;
- The cost of each type of fuel that is currently combusted, and the cost of each type of fuel that will be combusted under seasonal fuel switching;
- The quantity of each type of fuel that is currently combusted, and the quantity of each type of fuel that will be combusted under seasonal fuel switching; and
- The extent to which the combustion source can meet the annual emission limits, the daily emission limits during ozone season, and the 30-day rolling average emission limits outside the ozone season, without installing and operating additional control technology.

The Department expects these factors to vary substantially among any class of combustion sources. The cost of fuel is variable as well. For this reason, the Department cannot quantify the range of cost savings that will result from seasonal fuel switching.

An owner or operator electing to use seasonal fuel switching will also incur some minor costs in obtaining the Department's approval of a fuel switching plan, and maintaining that approval in effect.

Repowering

The owner or operator of a combustion source that is to be repowered by May 1, 1999 may comply with the repowering incentive provisions at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21 in lieu of complying with the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits in the existing rules. The purpose of the repowering provisions is to allow an owner or operator to avoid incurring the initial capital costs and operating costs associated with installing and operating control measures that will not be justified over the relatively short useful life that will result from the repowering. Accordingly, the Department expects that the proposed new rule at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21 will have a positive economic impact upon an owner or operator who is planning to repower a combustion source.

The extent of that positive economic impact depends primarily upon the following factors:

- The initial capital costs and operating costs of complying with the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits in the existing rules, as discussed in the original proposal of subchapter 19;
- The nature and cost of the control measures needed to meet the interim NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits established under the repowering plan, or other requirements established under the plan;
- The nature and cost of the control measures that will represent advances in the art of air pollution control when the source is repowered; and
- The extent of the saving in fuel consumption that will result from increased combustion efficiency after repowering is completed.

Innovative Control Technology

The owner or operator of a combustion source that will employ innovative control technology may comply with the phased compliance provisions at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.23 in lieu of complying with the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits in the existing rules. The phased compliance provisions allow an owner or operator to avoid incurring the initial capital costs and operating costs associated with installing and operating control measures that will not be justified over the relatively short useful life that will result from the repowering. The prospect of avoiding those costs should encourage innovative control technology. Accordingly, the Department expects that the proposed new rule at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21 will have a positive economic impact upon an owner or operator who is planning to employ innovative control technology.

The extent of that positive economic impact depends primarily upon the following factors:

- The initial capital costs and operating costs of complying with the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits in the existing rules, as discussed in the original proposal of subchapter 19;
- The nature and cost of the control measures needed to meet the interim NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits established under the phased compliance plan, or other requirements established under the plan; and
- The nature of the innovative control technology and the cost of constructing, installing and operating it.

Phased Compliance—Impracticability of Compliance by May 31, 1995

Under the proposed new rule at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.22, the owner or operator of a combustion source that cannot practically attain full compliance with the applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits by May 31, 1995 can instead begin phasing in compliance on that date. In proposing to allow this phased compliance, the Department is recognizing that in some cases, it may be impracticable for an owner or operator to attain compliance by May 31, 1995, and is providing an alternative to non-compliance. The Department expects this approach to have a positive economic impact, as discussed below.

The positive economic impact will occur because a phased compliance plan should normally enable an owner or operator to remain in compliance with subchapter 19. As a result, the owner or operator will not incur penalties for violations of subchapter 19.

The Department expects that positive impact to outweigh the cost of preparing the phased compliance plan, which should be minor. In addition, though the owner or operator will incur costs to implement interim NO<sub>x</sub> control measures, that cost should be lower than the cost of meeting the more stringent NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits that would otherwise be applicable.

MEG Alerts

Under the proposed new rule at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.24, an electric generating unit operating at emergency capacity during a MEG alert is eligible for an exemption from the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits that would otherwise apply. In proposing the MEG alert exemption, the Department is recognizing that electric generating units operating above their normal capacities during a MEG alert may often exceed their NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits. The Department expects these provisions to have a positive net economic impact, as discussed below.

First, under the MEG alert exemption an electric generating utility will normally be able to remain in compliance with subchapter 19 during a MEG alert. As a result, a utility that exceeds its NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits in its efforts to provide uninterrupted electric service during a MEG alert will not incur penalties for violations of subchapter 19.

Second, with the MEG alert exemption in place, the goal of compliance with subchapter 19 will no longer compete with the goal of meeting peak demand for electricity. Subchapter 19 therefore will not encourage voltage reductions or interruptions in electric service that could have an adverse economic impact upon the customers of electric generating utilities.

Though the Department expects the net economic impact of N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.24 to be positive, electric generating utilities will incur costs in complying with this provision. Specifically, the utilities will be required to compensate for the excess NO<sub>x</sub> emissions emitted during MEG alerts.

If a utility generates the compensating emission reductions by temporarily reducing its own NO<sub>x</sub> emissions below the limits required under applicable laws, regulations, permits or other standards, the cost will depend upon the nature of the combustion source from which the emission reductions are drawn, and the control measures employed to produce those reductions. If and when a system is established under which a utility can purchase emission reduction credits, and the utility elects to compensate for excess NO<sub>x</sub> emissions by purchasing credits, the cost of compliance will depend upon market forces at the time of the purchase.

The Department does not expect the reporting requirements of N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.24 to impose significant costs upon utilities.

Emergency Use of Fuel Oil

N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.24 addresses a situation in which a combustion source that relies upon natural gas as its primary fuel, or seasonally combusts natural gas, must temporarily combust another fuel when the supply of natural gas is disrupted. The source may not be able to meet the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits that apply to sources using the backup fuel. Accordingly, during the time that the source is combusting the backup fuel, it is eligible for an exemption from the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits.

The Department expects this exemption will have a positive economic impact upon the owners or operators of combustion sources eligible for the exemption. The exemption will allow these owners and operators to remain in compliance with subchapter 19 during disruptions in the supply of natural gas, so that they will not incur penalties for violations.

Other Amendments

Exemptions. Under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.2(f) in the existing rules, the owner or operator of a facility may apply for an exemption from subchapter 19. A facility is not eligible for the exemption unless its daily potential to emit NO<sub>x</sub> on any day from May 15 through September 15 is less than 137 pounds per day. The proposed amendments revise this exemption by changing May 15 to May 1. The Department does not expect this change to have any economic impact; any facility that is exempt under the current rules should continue to be exempt under the rules as amended.

Indirect heat exchangers. The proposed amendments define "indirect heat exchanger" and establish NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits for this type of source. The Department expects this change to have a positive economic impact upon the owners and operators of such sources.

Under the existing rules, the owner or operator of any indirect heat exchanger other than a boiler would be required to obtain the Department's approval of a facility-specific NO<sub>x</sub> control plan for the heat exchanger. In light of the similarity between boilers and other indirect heat exchangers, the Department expects that the facility-specific process would have resulted in the same emission limits that will be imposed under the proposed amendments to N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.7. Accordingly, the Department expects that the proposed amendments will not change the cost of complying with the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits; however, the proposed amendments will eliminate the cost of obtaining approval of a facility-specific NO<sub>x</sub> control plan.

According to the EPA document entitled "Alternative Control Techniques Document—NO<sub>x</sub> Emissions from Process Heaters," the owner or operator of a natural gas-fired process heater will incur costs ranging from approximately $1,200 to $2,400 per ton of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions removed. The owner or operator of an oil-fired process heater (maximum gross heat input rate greater than 50 MMBTU/hr) will incur costs ranging from approximately $500.00 to $2,300 per ton of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions removed. These costs are associated with the use of low-NO<sub>x</sub> burners, expected to be the most commonly used method of NO<sub>x</sub> control for these sources. The New Jersey Petroleum Council has indicated for process heaters combusting refinery fuel gas and using low-NO<sub>x</sub> burners, it expects the approximate cost of NO<sub>x</sub> emission control to be $1,000 to $4,000 per ton of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions removed.

Environmental Impact

The Department expects the proposed amendments and new rules to have no adverse environmental impact. The environmental impact of each major provision of the proposed amendments and new rules is discussed below.

Seasonal Fuel Switching. The proposed new rule at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20 allows all combustion sources subject to subchapter 19 to attain compliance by using cleaner fuels during the ozone season. If a source uses seasonal fuel switching to comply with subchapter 19, the overall environmental impact is likely to be positive.

EPA has provided guidance stating that fuel switching serves the primary purpose of the CAAA NO<sub>x</sub> RACT requirements: reducing ozone effects in areas of high ozone concentrations. Fuel switching provides greater NO<sub>x</sub> emission reductions during the ozone season, which EPA states is much more effective than spreading lesser emission reductions evenly over the entire year. When the cleaner fuel is natural gas and it is used in place of coal, there can also be substantial reductions in summertime emissions of sulfur dioxide, carbon dioxide, PM-10 (particles with an aerodynamic diameter no greater than a nominal 10 micrometers), and associated toxic emissions such as mercury. Reductions in the emissions of these pollutants may be especially effective in reducing regional haze and sulfate-related PM-10, which tend to peak in summer.

Outside the ozone season, seasonal fuel switching will allow the source to emit NO<sub>x</sub> at a higher rate. EPA has therefore noted the possibility that, for certain ecosystems, reductions in nitrogen deposition that occur only during the summer could be less effective than uniform year-round reductions in reducing acid deposition and nutrient impacts. This possibility would imply that some negative environmental impact during the winter could be associated with fuel switching. However, EPA has stated that it is not possible to fully determine whether this impact would occur, or to quantify it. In contrast, the ozone-related benefits and other potential benefits of fuel switching discussed above are known and quantifiable. However, the Department notes that under the proposed new rules, the emission limit outside the ozone season is the emission limit that would apply to the use of the primary fuel if a fuel switching plan were not in place; as a result, the use of fuel switching will not result in higher emissions during this period.

As discussed above in the Summary, allowing compliance through seasonal fuel switching also removes a disincentive to the use of cleaner fuels. As a result, the Department expects the use of cleaner fuels to be more widespread than it would be under the existing rules.

The precise nature of the environmental impact will depend upon the number of sources that elect to comply through seasonal fuel switching, the size of those sources, their NO<sub>x</sub> emissions when other fuels are combusted, and the extent to which their NO<sub>x</sub> emissions would be reduced under the existing rules.

For all of the reasons discussed above, the Department expects that seasonal fuel switching will have a positive environmental impact.

Repowering. Under the proposed new rule at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21, a combustion source that is to be repowered before May 1, 1999 may not be subject to the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits in the existing rules; instead, the source will be required to comply with certain less stringent requirements until it is repowered, it must incorporate advances in the art of air pollution control at the time it is repowered, and it must combust fuel more efficiently after it is repowered.

The increased fuel efficiency and use of state-of-the-art air pollution control technology can potentially reduce NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from a repowered source by more than 90 percent in most cases. This compares very favorably with the 30 percent to 50 percent reduction expected to be achieved with RACT measures; it is also a greater reduction than is anticipated to be required as part of the Phase II Ozone Transport Commission NO<sub>x</sub> reductions that are scheduled to be implemented in 1999. Therefore, encouraging repowering promotes emission reductions required to attain the ozone NAAQS.

Due to the nature of the repowering incentive, the positive environmental impact with respect to each repowered source will not occur until the source is repowered. However, there will not be a negative impact during the interim period between May 1995 and the repowering date. Under the existing rules, the upcoming repowering of a source could make it economically unfeasible to install the control technology needed to attain compliance with the applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit. As a result, the owner or operator of the source may have been eligible for a less stringent alternative NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit under the existing rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.13. The criteria for establishing an interim NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit under the proposed new repowering rules are very similar to the criteria in the existing rules at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.13. Accordingly, it is reasonable to expect that the interim limits would be the same under the proposed new rules or the existing rules, and would result in NO<sub>x</sub> emission reductions during the interim period.

For these reasons, the Department expects the repowering incentive to have a long-term positive environmental impact.

Innovative control technology. Under the proposed new rule at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.22, a combustion source that will employ innovative control technology before May 1, 1999 may not be subject to the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits in the existing rules; instead, the source will be required to comply with certain less stringent requirements until the innovative control measures are implemented. The use of innovative control technology can potentially provide greater reductions in NO<sub>x</sub> emissions than are expected to be achieved with RACT measures.

Due to the nature of the incentive for innovative control technology, the positive environmental impact in any given case will not occur until the innovative measures are implemented. During the interim period, the positive environmental impact will be less than there otherwise would have been under subchapter 19; the extent of the difference depends upon the nature of the interim control measures required, and their efficacy in reducing NO<sub>x</sub> emissions. However, the Department believes that the additional emissions reductions that result from the innovative control technology will more than balance the lower emission reductions during the interim period. In addition, the Department believes that the proposed new rules may help to spur the development and wider use of innovative control technology, resulting in wider positive environmental impacts.

Phased compliance—impracticability of compliance by May 31, 1995. The proposed new rule at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.22 allows phased-in compliance for sources that cannot practicably meet the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits in subchapter 19 by May 31, 1995. The Department expects that this provision will have no significant environmental impact. Since exceedances of the NO<sub>x</sub> limits from these sources could not practicably be prevented, they presumably would occur whether or not the source was deemed to be in compliance with subchapter 19. Accordingly, the Department does not expect that more exceedances (or more severe exceedances) would occur under the proposed new rules than would occur if subchapter 19 did not provide for phased-in compliance.

MEG Alerts. The proposed new rule at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.24 provides that when an electric generating utility operates a source at emergency capacity during a MEG alert, that source is exempt from the emissions limits that would otherwise be applicable under subchapter 19. The excess NO<sub>x</sub> emissions that will occur during a MEG alert will have a negative environmental impact, especially because the days on which MEG alerts occur often tend to be days on which ozone concentrations are already high. However, the Department expects this negative environmental impact to be offset by the compensating emission reductions that electric generating utilities will be required to provide at other times. In addition, MEG alerts tend to occur infrequently and to have a brief duration.

The extent of the environmental impact depends upon the following factors:

- The frequency with which MEG alerts occur, and their duration. PSE&G noted that in the three years preceding its comment, it has responded to MEG alerts for a total of only 16.2 hours;
- The extent of each MEG alert, including the amount of additional electricity that must be generated and the number and type of electric generating units that are operated at emergency capacity;
- The duration of each MEG alert; and
- The timing of each MEG alert. MEG alerts occur most frequently during the hottest periods of the summer, when ozone levels are likely to be elevated. Less frequently, MEG alerts occur during periods of bitterly cold weather during the winter, when exceedances of the ozone NAAQS are not likely to occur. In addition, MEG alerts on hot but overcast days are less likely to cause or contribute to an exceedance of the NAAQS because ozone forms in the presence of sunlight.

Emergency use of fuel oil. When supplies of natural gas are curtailed and combustion sources switch to liquid fuel as a temporary backup, the proposed new rule at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.24 exempts those combustion sources from the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits that would otherwise apply. The Department expects this provision to have a small negative environmental impact. However, since natural gas curtailments occur most commonly during the winter, this provision is unlikely to result in increased ozone levels.

The extent of the environmental impact in any given year will depend upon the following factors:

- The frequency, extent, timing and duration of disruptions in the supply of natural gas; and
- For each source that must temporarily use liquid fuel as a backup to natural gas, the extent to which that NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from the source will increase.

Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

Subchapter 19 applies to several classes of businesses. The classes of businesses expressly subject to subchapter 19 include electric generating utilities, asphalt manufacturers and glass manufacturers. In addition, Subchapter 19 regulates certain types of combustion sources (such as non-utility boilers, stationary internal combustion engines and other major NO<sub>x</sub> facilities) that are not limited in their use to particular types of businesses. The Department cannot estimate the number of small businesses, as defined under the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq., that own or operate such combustion sources.

The proposed amendments and new rules primarily do not impose new compliance requirements upon the owners and operators of combustion sources regulated under subchapter 19. Instead, most of the proposed amendments and new rules either establish alternative means of complying with subchapter 19, or make it possible for owners and operators to avoid violating subchapter 19 and risking enforcement action and penalties in circumstances where compliance is impracticable.

However, there are some compliance requirements associated with the provisions for seasonal fuel switching under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20 and the provisions for phased compliance under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21, 19.22 and 19.23. An owner or operator seeking authorization to use one of these methods of compliance must complete an application and submit it to the Department. The Department expects that an owner or operator applying for approval of a repowering plan under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21 or an innovative control technology plan under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.23 will need the professional services of an environmental engineer knowledgeable about air pollution control. Those professional services will be helpful in evaluating possible NO<sub>x</sub> control measures and in implementing the repowering or innovative control technology. However, the Department expects that an owner or operator applying for approval of a seasonal fuel switching plan under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20 or a phased compliance plan under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.22 will be able to prepare the application and implement the plan without these professional services.

Neither fuel switching under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20 or phased compliance under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.22 should require the expenditure of initial capital costs; annual compliance costs will vary depending upon several factors, discussed in the economic impact statement above. An owner or operator who complies with subchapter 19 through repowering or innovative control technology will incur initial capital costs to repower or to implement the innovative control technology. In addition, such an owner or operator may incur initial capital costs to implement interim NO<sub>x</sub> control measures, though those costs should be less than the capital costs involved in complying with the existing rules. As discussed in the economic impact statement above, these capital costs and the annual compliance costs will vary depending upon several factors.

In proposing the requirements for fuel switching under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20 and phased compliance under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21, 19.22 and 19.23, the Department has attempted to minimize the adverse economic impacts of subchapter 19 on the regulated community in general; however, the requirements of the CAAA as interpreted by EPA do not provide the Department with the discretion to minimize these impacts further for small businesses in particular.

There are some recordkeeping and reporting requirements associated with the proposed amendments and new rules as described in the Summary. These requirements are necessary to ensure that the added flexibility provided by the proposed amendments and new rules does not impair the Department's ability to monitor compliance with subchapter 19 and its ability to establish the State's compliance with the requirements of the CAAA. In addition, the Department does not expect that small businesses complying with these requirements will need to obtain professional services or incur significant costs beyond those already necessary to comply with subchapter 19. Accordingly, the Department has not proposed reduced recordkeeping or reporting requirements for small businesses, or exempted them from those requirements.

"Base year" means calendar year 1990 or other calendar year determined pursuant to N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20(d)1, in connection with a plan for seasonal fuel switching.

"Cleaner fuel" means a fuel other than a combustion source's primary fuel, the combustion of which results in a rate of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions that is less than the rate of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions when the primary fuel is combusted, all other circumstances being equal.
 ...

"Criteria pollutant" means any air contaminant for which a NAAQS has been promulgated under 40 CFR 50 or for which a New Jersey Ambient Air Quality Standard has been promulgated in N.J.A.C. 7:27-13.

"Duct burner" means an item of equipment used with a combined cycle gas turbine or a stationary internal combustion engine to increase the steam generating capacity of heat recovery steam generators. A duct burner consists of pipes and small burners that are placed in the exhaust duct upstream of the heat recovery steam generator; the duct burner allows firing of additional fuel to increase the exhaust heat energy. A duct burner is a type of indirect heat exchanger.

"Electric generating unit" means a combustion source owned or operated by an electric generating utility and used for generating electricity for commercial sale.

"Emergency capacity" means the generation of electricity by an electric generating unit at a rate in excess of the unit's maximum normal power output rating. This maximum normal power output rating shall be that agreed upon by PJM and the owner or operator of the unit, and published by the owner or operator.

"Indirect heat exchanger" means equipment in which heat from the combustion of fuel is transferred by conduction through a heat-conducting material to a substance being heated, so that the latter is not contacted by, and adds nothing to, the products of combustion. Examples of indirect heat exchangers include boilers, duct burners and process heaters.

"Innovative control technology" means a NO<sub>x</sub> control measure that has a substantial likelihood of achieving lower continuous levels of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions than are required under this subchapter, but has not been adequately demonstrated and is not available to be implemented before May 31, 1995. An item of equipment or control apparatus, a change in a process, or a pollution prevention strategy may qualify as an innovative control technology.

"Interim period" means the period of time beginning on May 31, 1995, and ending when phased compliance under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21, 19.22 or 19.23 (as applicable) is to be completed.

1. For purposes of phased compliance for repowering pursuant to N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.21, the interim period ends on the date when repowering of a combustion source is to be completed.

2. For purposes of phased compliance for reasons of practicability pursuant to N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.22, the interim period ends on the date when a combustion source is to attain full compliance with this subchapter.

"Lb/MMBTU" means pounds per million British Thermal Units.

"Load dispatcher" means the PJM employee or agent responsible for determining that an MEG alert is the only feasible means of preventing or mitigating either a voltage reduction or an interruption in electric service or both.

"MEG alert" means a period in which an electric generating utility operates one or more electric generating units at emergency capacity at the direction of the load dispatcher, in order to prevent or mitigate voltage reductions or interruptions in electric service, or both. A MEG alert begins and ends as follows:

1. An alert begins when the electric generating utility begins to operate one or more electric generating units at emergency capacity after receiving notice from the load dispatcher, directing the utility to do so; and

2. An alert ends when the electric generating utility ceases operating its electric generating units at emergency capacity.

"MMBTU" means million British Thermal Units.

"Peak daily heat input rate," for a combustion source that has no operating history, means the maximum gross heat input rate of the source. For a combustion source that has an operating history, "peak daily heat input rate" means the average of the daily heat inputs to a combustion source on the five days on which the heat input was highest, over the following period:

1. For a combustion source that has been operating for at least five years, the five years preceding the date on which the owner or operator applied to the Department for approval of an emissions averaging plan, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.6; and

2. For a combustion source that has been operating for less than five years, the entire period during which the combustion source has been operating.

"Pennsylvania-New Jersey-Maryland Interconnection" or "PJM" means the combination of electric generating utilities, linked physically and through contractual arrangements, for coordinated electricity planning and operation in an area that as of 1994 includes New Jersey, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Delaware and the District of Columbia.

"Primary fuel" means the fuel that provided the greatest heat input (expressed in BTU) to a combustion source in the base year.

"Process heater" means an item of equipment in which heat from fuel combustion is transferred to fluids contained in tubes without coming into contact with the fluid. A process heater is a type of indirect heat exchanger.

"Refinery fuel gas" means gaseous fuel derived from the refining process and used as a fuel at the refinery where it was produced.

"Refining process" means the combination of physical and chemical operations including, but not limited to, distillation, cracking, and reformulation, performed on crude oil (or derivatives of crude oil) in order to produce petroleum products.

"Repowering" means the series of actions described in 1 and 2 below by an owner or operator:

1. The [replacement] permanent ceasing of the operations of the [stream] steam generator in a steam generating unit, the gas turbine in a simple-cycle or combined-cycle gas turbine, or any other combustion source; and

2. The installation in the State of a new combustion source that:

i. Has a maximum gross heat output rate that is at least 50 percent of the maximum gross heat output rate of the combustion source that is shut down under 1 above, or has a power output rate that is at least 50 percent of the power output rate of the combustion source that is shut down, and

ii. Incorporates technology capable of controlling multiple combustion emissions simultaneously with improved fuel efficiency and with significantly greater waste reduction relative to the performance of technology in widespread commercial use as of November 15, 1990.

"Selective noncatalytic reduction" or "SNCR" means a noncombustion technology that reduces NO<sub>x</sub> emissions without a catalyst by injecting a reducing agent (such as ammonia, urea or cyanuric acid) into the flue gas, downstream of the combustion zone; the injection of the reducing agent converts NO<sub>x</sub> to molecular nitrogen, water, and (if the reducing agent is urea or cyanuric acid) carbon dioxide (CO<sub>2</sub>).

7:27-19.6 Emissions averaging

(a) The Department may authorize an owner or operator to comply with an averaging plan approved by the Department pursuant to this section and N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14. An owner or operator in compliance with such an approved averaging plan is not required to have each averaging unit comply with any emission limit set forth in this subchapter which would be applicable in the absence of an approved averaging plan.

(b) [The] An owner or operator of two or more source operations or items of equipment may request that the Department authorize an averaging plan for two or more averaging units designated by the owner or operator. The owner or operator seeking authorization for averaging shall submit a written [request] application to the Department [at the address set forth in (k) below] in accordance with N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14(a), (b) and (c). The owner or operator shall include the following information in the [request] application:

- 1.-4. (No change.)
5. The peak daily heat input rate, [calculated by averaging the heat input to the unit,] expressed in MMBTU[, from the five highest days in the last five years];
6. A demonstration that in operating at their peak daily heat input rates, all of the averaging units together would satisfy the following equation:

$$TPEE \leq TPAE$$

where:

- i. (No change.)
- ii. TPAE means total peak allowable emissions, and is equal to the sum of the total peak allowable emissions for each averaging unit. The peak allowable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit set forth in N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4, 19.5, 19.7, 19.8, 19.9, [or] 19.10 or 19.20 for that averaging unit, multiplied by the peak daily heat input rate listed in (b)5 above for that averaging unit. For an averaging unit that is included in

7.-9. (No change.)

(c) The Department shall approve an averaging plan only if the following requirements are satisfied:

1. (No change.)

2. The request for authorization satisfies all requirements of (b) above; and

3. The owner and operator of the averaging units to be included in the designated set enter into a Federally enforceable agreement with the Department (such as the inclusion of conditions in the applicable permits [and/or] or operating certificates, or both), requiring any averaging unit for which the NO<sub>x</sub> emission rate specified under (b)4 above is less than the applicable maximum allowable NO<sub>x</sub> emission rate specified at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4, 19.5, 19.7, 19.8, 19.9, [or] 19.10 or 19.20 to continue to emit NO<sub>x</sub> at [the] a rate no greater than that specified under (b)4 above; and].

[4. Emissions from any averaging unit exceeding the applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4 or 19.5 will not cause the concentration of NO<sub>x</sub> in the ambient air to exceed the applicable significant air quality impact level set forth in Table 1 at N.J.A.C. 7:27-18.4 or any other environmental impact inconsistent with the purposes of this chapter, the Air Pollution Control Act, N.J.S.A. 26:2C-1 et seq., or the Clean Air Act, 42 U.S.C. 7401 et seq.]

(d) The owner or operator of the designated set shall operate each unit in the designated set in compliance with the following:

2. The sum of the actual NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from all averaging units in the designated set, averaged over the appropriate time period specified in (f) below, shall not exceed the sum of the allowable NO<sub>x</sub> emissions for all averaging units in the designated set. The allowable NO<sub>x</sub> emissions for each averaging unit is calculated according to the following formula:

where:

i. (No change.)

ii. AL means the applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit set forth in N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4, 19.5, 19.7, 19.8, 19.9, [or] 19.10 or 19.20 for that averaging unit, expressed in pounds of NO<sub>x</sub> per million BTUs. For an averaging unit that is included in a seasonal fuel switching plan under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20, the applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit from May 1 through September 15 is the limit established under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20(g)3, and the applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit from September 16 through April 30 is the limit established under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20(g)4.

(e) (No change.)

1. The records listed in (d) above;

2. A statement whether the combustion source complied with the applicable limit on  $\text{NO}_x$  emissions for each 30-day period ending on each day from January 1 through April 30, and for each 30-day period ending on each day from September 16 through December 31;

3. For each combustion source included in a fuel switching plan, a statement whether the combustion source complied with the applicable limit on annual  $\text{NO}_x$  emissions; and

7:27-19.20 Fuel switching

(a) The owner or operator of a combustion source included in a plan for fuel switching is authorized to comply with the plan if the Department approves the plan pursuant to this section and N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14. The owner or operator's compliance with the plan is in lieu of causing the combustion source to comply with the emission limit under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4, 19.5, 19.7, 19.8, 19.9 or 19.10 that would otherwise apply to the combustion source.

(b) A combustion source may be included in a fuel switching plan only if it will be deriving from a cleaner fuel a greater percentage of its total heat input than it derived in the base year.

(c) An owner or operator seeking approval of a plan for fuel switching shall submit an application to the Department by (date that is 30 days after operative date of these amendments), in accordance with N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14(a), (b) and (c). In addition to the information required under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14(c), the owner or operator shall include in the application the following information regarding each combustion source that is to combust a cleaner fuel seasonally:

1. Information sufficient to identify the combustion source, including a brief description, (for example, "dry-bottom coal-fired utility boiler" or "oil-fired simple-cycle gas turbine"), its location, its permit number, its company stack designation, any other identifying numbers, and any other information necessary to distinguish it from other equipment owned or operated by the applicant;

2. The maximum gross heat input rate of the combustion source, expressed in million BTUs per hour;

3. The type of fuel or fuels combusted in the combustion source;

4. The maximum allowable  $\text{NO}_x$  emission rate for the combustion source, determined under (d) below, together with the calculations made to determine that rate;

5. The method to be used to measure the actual  $\text{NO}_x$  emission rate of each combustion source;

6. A statement that the owner or operator will operate each combustion source included in the plan in accordance with the requirements of (g) below;

7. The name and business telephone number of the individual responsible for recordkeeping and reporting required under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.19; and

8. Any other information that the Department requests, which is reasonably necessary to enable it to determine whether the source operations and items of equipment subject to fuel switching will comply with the requirements of this section.

(d) The maximum daily and annual  $\text{NO}_x$  emission rate for a combustion source included in the fuel switching plan is determined as follows:

1. Establish the base year. The base year is calendar year 1990, unless the Department approves the use of calendar year 1991, 1992 or 1993 as the base year. The Department shall approve the use of 1991, 1992 or 1993 as the base year only if the owner or operator demonstrates that the alternative year is more representative of the normal operation of the combustion source;

2. For each fuel that the combustion source combusted during the base year (established under (d)1 above), determine the heat input (in MMBTU) that the combustion source derived from the combustion of that fuel during the base year;

3. Determine the maximum allowable  $\text{NO}_x$  emissions rate (in lb/MMBTU) for the combustion of each fuel, under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4, 19.5, 19.7, 19.8, 19.9 or 19.10, as applicable;

4. For each fuel, multiply the heat input in the base year (determined under (d)2 above) by the maximum allowable emissions rate (determined under (d)3 above);

5. Add all of the amounts determined under (d)4 above;

6. Divide the total determined under (d)5 above by the sum of all of the heat inputs that the combustion source derived from the combustion of each fuel (determined under (d)2 above). The result is the maximum allowable  $\text{NO}_x$  emission rate, expressed in lb/MMBTU, provided, however, that the maximum allowable  $\text{NO}_x$  emission rate shall not be greater than the rate under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4, 19.5, 19.7, 19.8, 19.9 or 19.10 that would apply if the combustion source were combusting the primary fuel that it had used in the base year;

7. The calculations under (d)4, 5 and 6 above can be expressed in the following equation:

$$M = \frac{(HI_1 L_1) + (HI_2 \times L_2) + \dots + (HI_N \times L_N)}{(HI_1 + HI_2 + \dots + HI_N)}$$

where:

i. M is the maximum allowable  $\text{NO}_x$  emission rate, in lb/MMBTU;

ii.  $HI_1$  is the heat input that the combustion source derived from the combustion of Fuel 1 during the base year, expressed in MMBTU;

iii.  $L_1$  is the maximum allowable emissions rate (in lb/MMBTU) for the combustion of Fuel 1, under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4, 19.5, 19.7, 19.8, 19.9 or 19.10, as applicable;

iv.  $HI_2$  is the heat input that the combustion source derived from the combustion of Fuel 2 during the base year, expressed in MMBTU;

v.  $L_2$  is the maximum allowable emissions rate (in lb/MMBTU) for the combustion of Fuel 2, under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4, 19.5, 19.7, 19.8, 19.9 or 19.10, as applicable;

vi.  $N$  is number of fuels combusted during the base year;

vii.  $HI_N$  is the heat input that the combustion source derived from the combustion of Fuel  $N$  during the base year, expressed in MMBTU; and viii.  $L_N$  is the maximum allowable emissions rate (in lb/MMBTU) for the combustion of Fuel  $N$ , under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4, 19.5, 19.7, 19.8, 19.9 or 19.10, as applicable.

(e) The Department shall approve a plan for fuel switching only if the application satisfies all requirements of (c) above and N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14. A plan for fuel switching shall be deemed to meet these requirements if it provides for a combustion source to attain compliance with the emission limits under (g)3, 4 and 5 below partly through combustion of cleaner fuel and partly through the use of other  $NO_x$  control measures, and satisfies all other requirements of (c) above and N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14.

(f) Any owner or operator seeking to comply with this subchapter by fuel switching in accordance with this section shall obtain the Department's written approval of the application pursuant to N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14 before May 1, 1995, and maintain that approval in effect.

(g) Beginning in calendar year 1995, the owner or operator shall operate each combustion source included in the plan in compliance with the following:

1. All conditions of the Department's written approval of the fuel switching plan shall be met;

2. From May 1 through September 15 of each year, the combustion source shall combust the cleaner fuel exclusively, or derive a higher percentage of its total heat input from cleaner fuel than the percentage it derived from May 1 through September 15 of the base year;

3. During each calendar day from May 1 through September 15 of each year, the combustion source shall emit  $NO_x$  at an average rate no higher than the maximum allowable  $NO_x$  emission rate determined under (d) above; provided however, that a coal-fired, wet-bottom utility boiler that uses the tangential or face firing method, the maximum allowable  $NO_x$  emission rate shall be 1.0 lb/MMBTU;

4. During the 30-day period ending on September 16 of each year, and each 30-day period ending on each subsequent day thereafter until April 30 of the following year, the combustion source shall emit  $NO_x$  at an average rate no higher than the rate under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4, 19.5, 19.7, 19.8, 19.9 or 19.10 that would apply if the combustion source were combusting the primary fuel that it had used in the base year; provided however, that a coal-fired, wet-bottom utility boiler that uses the tangential or face firing method shall emit  $NO_x$  at a rate no higher than 1.5 lb/MMBTU; and

5. During each calendar year, the combustion source shall emit  $NO_x$  at an average rate no higher than the maximum  $NO_x$  emission rate determined under (d) above; provided however, that a coal-fired, wet-bottom utility boiler that uses the tangential or face firing method shall emit  $NO_x$  at a rate no higher than 1.5 lb/MMBTU. Compliance with this requirement shall be determined based on averaging over each calendar year.

(h) The owner or operator shall determine the  $NO_x$  emissions from each combustion source included in an approved fuel switching plan in accordance with N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.15(a).

(i) The owner or operator shall demonstrate compliance with this section as follows:

1. Each calendar day from May 1 through September 15 of each year, the owner or operator shall determine whether each combustion source included in the plan is in compliance with the applicable daily  $NO_x$  emission limit under (g)3 above. The owner or operator shall perform the calculations necessary to verify compliance and make a record of them within three working days after the date that is the subject of the calculation;

2. For the 30-day period ending on September 16, and for each 30-day period ending on each subsequent day until April 30 of the following year, the owner and operator shall determine whether each combustion source included in the plan is in compliance with the applicable 30-day  $NO_x$  emission limit under (g)4 above; and

3. By January 15 of each year, the owner or operator shall determine whether the total actual  $NO_x$  emissions from each combustion source included in the plan (determined under (k) below) complied with the limit on annual  $NO_x$  emissions (determined under (j) below) during the preceding calendar year.

(j) The limit on annual  $NO_x$  emissions is calculated as follows:

1. For each fuel that the combustion source combusted during the year, determine the heat input (in MMBTU) that the combustion source derived from the combustion of that fuel during the year;

2. Add all of the amounts determined under (j)1 above;

3. Multiply the sum determined under (j)2 above by the maximum  $NO_x$  emissions rate determined under (d) above. The result is the limit on annual  $NO_x$  emissions, expressed in pounds;

4. The calculations under (j)2 and 3 above can be expressed in the following equation:

$$L = M \times (AHI_1 + AHI_2 + \dots + AHI_N)$$

where:

i.  $L$  is the limit on annual  $NO_x$  emissions, in pounds;

ii.  $M$  is the maximum allowable emissions rate determined under (d) above;

iii.  $AHI_1$  is the heat input that the combustion source derived from the combustion of Fuel 1 during the year, expressed in MMBTU;

iv.  $AHI_2$  is the heat input that the combustion source derived from the combustion of Fuel 2 during the year, expressed in MMBTU;

v.  $N$  is number of fuels combusted during the year; and

vi.  $AHI_N$  is the heat input that the combustion source derived from the combustion of Fuel  $N$  during the year, expressed in MMBTU.

(k) The actual annual  $NO_x$  emissions from the combustion source are calculated as follows:

1. Determine the heat input (expressed in MMBTU) that the combustion source actually derived from each fuel it combusted during the year;

2. Determine the average rate (in lb/MMBTU) at which the combustion source actually emitted  $NO_x$  when combusting each fuel listed in 1 above, in accordance with N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.15(a);

3. For each fuel combusted during the year, multiply the heat input (determined under (k)1 above) by the average rate of  $NO_x$  emissions (determined under (k)2 above);

4. Add all of the amounts determined under (k)3 above;

5. The calculations under (k)3 and 4 above can be expressed in the following equation:

$$AE = (AHI_1 \times AR_1) + (AHI_2 \times AR_2) + \dots + (AHI_N \times AR_N)$$

where:

i.  $AE$  is the actual  $NO_x$  emissions during the year from the combustion source, expressed in pounds;

ii.  $AHI_1$  is the heat input that the combustion source actually derived from the combustion of Fuel 1 during the year, expressed in MMBTU;

iii.  $AR_1$  is the average rate at which the combustion source actually emitted  $NO_x$  when combusting Fuel 1 during the year, expressed in lb/MMBTU;

iv.  $AHI_2$  is the heat input that the combustion source actually derived from the combustion of Fuel 2 during the year, expressed in MMBTU;

v.  $AR_2$  is the average rate at which the combustion source actually emitted  $NO_x$  when combusting Fuel 2 during the year, expressed in lb/MMBTU;

vi.  $N$  is number of fuels that the combustion source actually combusted;

vii.  $AHI_N$  is the heat input that the combustion source actually derived from the combustion of Fuel  $N$  during the year, expressed in MMBTU; and viii.  $AR_n$  is the average rate at which the combustion source actually emitted  $NO_x$  when combusting Fuel N during the year, expressed in lb/MMBTU.

(l) For each combustion source included in the approved plan, the owner or operator shall comply with the recordkeeping and reporting requirements of N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.19.

7:27-19.21 Phased compliance—repowering

(a) The owner or operator of a combustion source included in a repowering plan is authorized to comply with the plan if the Department approves the plan pursuant to this section and N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14. The owner or operator's compliance with the plan is in lieu of causing the combustion source to comply with emission limit under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4, 19.5, 19.7, 19.8, 19.9 or 19.10 that would otherwise apply to the combustion source.

(b) By (date that is 30 days after operative date of these amendments), an owner or operator seeking approval of a repowering plan shall submit to the Department an application for approval of the repowering plan pursuant to N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14, including a repowering plan pursuant to (c) below. If an owner or operator fails to submit the application by (date that is 30 days after operative date of these amendments), the Department may reject the application. The Department may elect to process a late application, based on how late the application is, the nature and extent of the owner or operator's efforts to submit the application on time, whether the owner or operator advised the Department before the application due date that a late application would be submitted, and the extent of the emission reductions promised in the late application. If the Department elects to process a late application, the pendency of the application shall not be a defense to a violation of a  $NO_x$  emission limit to which the source is subject in the absence of an approved plan.

(c) The owner or operator shall include the following information in the repowering plan with respect to each combustion source included in the plan:

1. Information sufficient to identify the combustion source, including a brief description (for example, "dry-bottom coal-fired utility boiler"), its location, its permit number, the company stack designation, and any other identifying numbers, and any other information necessary to distinguish it from other equipment owned or operated by the owner or operator;

2. A proposed schedule setting dates by which the owner or operator will complete the following milestones for the combustion source:

i. Submitting applications for all necessary permits and certificates;

ii. Obtaining all necessary permits and certificates;

iii. Awarding contracts to repower the source or placing orders for the purchase of component parts and/or equipment necessary to repower the source;

iv. Initiating construction and/or installation of the replacement unit; and

v. Completing the repowering.

3. Specific procedures and schedules for implementing interim measures for control of  $NO_x$  emissions for the combustion source during the interim period;

4. A list of all  $NO_x$  control technologies available for use with the combustion source;

5. An analysis of the technological feasibility of installing and operating each  $NO_x$  emission control technology identified in 4 above for the interim period;

6. For each control technology that is technologically feasible to install and operate, an estimate of the cost of installation and operation;

7. An estimate of the reduction in  $NO_x$  emissions attainable through the use of each control technology which is technologically feasible to install and operate. If a control technology installed before the combustion source is repowered cannot be used after repowering, the owner or operator may limit the estimate of emission reductions to those that will be attained during the interim period;

8. An analysis of the cost-effectiveness of each control technology, based on the costs of installation and operation under (c)6 above and the estimated emission reductions under (c)7 above;

9. The  $NO_x$  control measures that the owner or operator proposes to employ during the interim period;

10. The proposed interim  $NO_x$  emission limit with which the source will comply during the interim period;

11. The method to be used to measure the actual  $NO_x$  emission rate of the combustion source;

12. The name and business telephone number of the person responsible for recordkeeping and reporting under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.19 and under (e)8 below;

13. The location of the proposed replacement unit; and

14. Any other information that the Department requests, which is reasonably necessary to enable it to determine whether the operation of combustion sources included in the repowering plan will comply with the requirements of this section.

(d) The Department shall approve a repowering plan only if the following requirements are satisfied:

1. The application satisfies all the requirements of N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14 and (c) above, including without limitation the requirement that the proposed repowering plan consider all control technologies available for the control of  $NO_x$  emissions from each type of combustion source included in the plan during the interim period;

2. For each combustion source included in the plan, the replacement unit will incorporate advances in the art of air pollution control for the kind and amount of air contaminant emitted;

3. The repowering will improve the efficiency with which each combustion source included in the plan combusts fuel and/or generates power;

4. The completion date listed in (c)2v above is no later than May 1, 1999;

5. For any control technologies described in (c)4 above that the owner or operator does not propose to use on the combustion source, the proposed plan demonstrates that the control technology:

i. Would be ineffective in controlling  $NO_x$  emissions from the combustion source;

ii. Is unsuitable for use with the combustion source, or duplicative of control technology which the plan proposes to use;

iii. Would carry costs disproportionate to the improvement in the reduction of the  $NO_x$  emissions rate that the control technology is likely to achieve, or disproportionately large in comparison to the total reduction in  $NO_x$  emissions that the control technology is likely to achieve over its useful life; or

iv. Would carry costs disproportionate to the costs incurred for the control of  $NO_x$  emissions from the same type of combustion sources used by other persons in the owner or operator's industry who are also subject to the  $NO_x$  RACT requirements of P.L. 101-549, §182(f).

6. For each combustion source included in the plan, the interim emission limit proposed under (c)10 above is the lowest rate that can practically be achieved at a cost within the limits described in (d)5iii and iv above;

7. For each combustion source included in the plan, the cost of achieving an additional emission reduction beyond the interim emission limit proposed under (c)10 above would be disproportionate to the size and environmental impact of that additional emission reduction; and

8. The owner or operator has entered into an agreement with the Department in accordance with the requirements of (h) below.

(e) An owner or operator who has obtained the Department's approval of a repowering plan shall:

1. Beginning on May 31, 1995, operate all combustion sources included in the approved repowering plan in a manner that complies with the plan and with all conditions of the Department's approval;

2. Meet the compliance milestones in the approved plan;

3. Repower the combustion sources included in the plan by the date specified in the approved plan;

4. Beginning on May 31, 1995, determine the actual  $NO_x$  emissions from each combustion source included in the repowering plan in accordance with N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.15(a);

5. If the approved plan provides for the owner or operator to annually adjust the combustion process for a combustion source included in the plan, do so in accordance with the general procedures set forth at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.16 before May 1 of each calendar year beginning with 1995, until repowering is completed;

6. Beginning on May 31, 1995, comply with the recordkeeping and reporting requirements of N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.19;

7. Within 15 days after the date specified in the approved repowering plan for completion of a milestone listed in (c)2 above, notify the Department in writing that the milestone has or has not been completed. If the milestone has not been completed, the owner or operator shall include in the notice the reason for the delay and the expected date on which the milestone will be completed;

8. Incorporate advances in the art of air pollution control into each repowered source, as required in the preconstruction permit for the replacement equipment;

9. If the plan includes a utility boiler, cause the repowered utility boiler to emit NO<sub>x</sub> at a rate no higher than the applicable maximum allowable NO<sub>x</sub> listed in Table 6 below (provided however, that the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits in Table 6 shall not be construed to limit the owner or operator's obligations under (e)8 above); and

10. If repowering of any combustion source included in the plan is not completed by May 1, 1999, cease operating the combustion source to be repowered by May 1, 1999.

(f) Except as provided in (g) below:

1. The Department shall seek comments from the general public before making any final decision to approve or disapprove a proposed repowering plan. The Department shall publish notice of opportunity for public comment in a newspaper of general circulation in the area in which each combustion source included in the plan is located;

2. The Department shall submit any repowering plan (and agreement to repower) approved under this section to EPA, as a proposed revision to New Jersey's State Implementation Plan; and

3. Upon EPA's approval of the revision to New Jersey's State Implementation Plan, it shall be Federally enforceable. Plans listed under (g) below shall be Federally enforceable upon the issuance of the Department's approval.

(g) A repowering plan (and agreement to repower) approved under this section is not required to be submitted to EPA as a proposed revision to New Jersey's State Implementation Plan, if the plan provides that NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from each combustion source included in the plan will be controlled during the interim period through one of the following methods:

1. Fuel switching under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20, using natural gas as the "cleaner fuel"; or

2. The use of selective non-catalytic reduction from May 1 through September 15 of each year.

(h) Before the Department approves a repowering plan, the owner or operator shall enter into a Federally enforceable agreement containing the following provisions:

1. Information sufficient to identify the owner or operator;

2. Information sufficient to identify the combustion source, including a brief description (for example, "dry-bottom coal-fired utility boiler"), its location, its permit number, the company stack designation, and any other identifying numbers, and any other information necessary to distinguish it from other equipment owned or operated by the owner or operator;

3. The owner or operator's undertaking of the following duties:

i. Completing the milestones listed in (c)2 above by specified dates;

ii. Ceasing to operate a combustion source if repowering is not completed by a date specified for that source;

iii. Implementing interim measures to control NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from each combustion source during the interim period;

iv. Causing each combustion source to emit NO<sub>x</sub> at a rate no greater than a specified interim NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit applicable during the interim period;

v. Using a specified method to measure the actual NO<sub>x</sub> emission rate of the combustion source; and

vi. Maintaining the Department's approval in effect;

4. A provision for delay of compliance caused by a "force majeure" event beyond the control of and without the fault of the owner or operator;

5. A provision under which the Department can terminate the agreement and its approval of the repowering plan if the owner or operator materially fails to complete the repowering or any other milestone by the date specified in the approved plan. Termination of the agreement and the approval of the plan is in addition to any other remedies the Department has under this chapter and N.J.A.C. 7:27A; and

6. Other provisions necessary to make the agreement Federally enforceable, to accomplish the purposes of this subchapter, or to allow the agreement to be administered effectively.

7:27-19.22 Phased compliance—impracticability of full compliance by May 31, 1995

(a) The owner or operator of a combustion source included in a phased compliance plan is authorized to comply with the plan if the Department approves the plan pursuant to this section and N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14. The owner or operator's compliance with the plan is in lieu of causing the combustion source to comply with the emission limit under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4, 19.5, 19.7, 19.8, 19.9 or 19.10 that would otherwise apply to the combustion source.

(b) By (date that is 30 days after operative date of these amendments), an owner or operator seeking approval of a phased compliance plan shall submit to the Department an application for approval of the phased compliance plan pursuant to N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14. If an owner or operator fails to submit the application by (date that is 30 days after operative date of these amendments), the Department may reject the application. The Department may elect to process a late application, based on how late the application is, the nature and extent of the owner or operator's efforts to submit the application on time, and whether the owner or operator advised the Department before the application due date that a late application would be submitted. If the Department elects to process a late application, the pendency of the application shall not be a defense to a violation of a NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit to which the source is subject in the absence of an approved plan. In the application, the owner or operator shall include the following information in addition to the information required under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14:

1. The phased compliance plan described in (c) below;

2. A description of the steps that the owner or operator has taken to cause each combustion source included in the plan to attain compliance with the applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit under this subchapter; and

3. For each combustion source included in the plan, a detailed explanation of the reasons why the owner or operator believes that compliance with the applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit by May 31, 1995 is impracticable.

(c) The owner or operator shall include the following information in the phased compliance plan with respect to each combustion source included in the plan:

1. Information sufficient to identify the combustion source, including a brief description (for example, "dry-bottom coal-fired utility boiler"), its location, its permit number, the company stack designation, and any other identifying numbers, and any other information necessary to distinguish it from other equipment owned or operated by the owner or operator;

PROPOSALS

2. A proposed schedule setting dates by which the owner or operator will complete the following milestones for the combustion source:

- i. Submit applications for all necessary permits and certificates;
- ii. Obtain all necessary permits and certificates;
- iii. Award contracts for the implementation of control measures or place orders for the purchase of component parts, equipment and/or control apparatus necessary to attain compliance with the applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit under this subchapter;
- iv. Initiate construction and/or installation of the component parts, equipment and/or control apparatus necessary to attain compliance with the applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit under this subchapter; and
- v. Attain full compliance with the applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit under this subchapter;

3. The NO<sub>x</sub> control measures or technology that the owner or operator proposes to employ during the interim period; and

4. Any other information that the Department requests, which is reasonably necessary to enable it to determine whether the operation of combustion sources included in the phased compliance plan will comply with the requirements of this section.

(d) The Department shall approve a phased compliance plan only if the following requirements are satisfied with respect to each combustion source included in the plan:

1. The application satisfies all the requirements of N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14 and (b) above;

2. The information submitted under (b)iii above establishes that the owner or operator has made a good faith effort to cause the combustion source to attain compliance with the applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit under this subchapter;

3. The information submitted under (b)liii above, evaluated in light of the criteria set forth in (e) below, establishes that it is impracticable for the combustion source to attain compliance with the applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit under this subchapter by May 31, 1995; and

4. The interim period is less than 12 months.

(e) In determining whether compliance with the applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit under this subchapter by May 31, 1995 is impracticable, the Department shall apply the following criteria:

1. The amount of time needed to obtain all permits and certificates necessary to attain compliance, following the submission of an administratively complete application;

2. The amount of time needed to obtain all component parts and/or equipment necessary to attain compliance, following the placement of orders for such parts and/or equipment. The estimate of time may reflect shortages in the supply of such parts and/or equipment;

3. The amount of time needed to complete construction and/or installation of the component parts and/or equipment necessary to attain compliance, following the initiation of construction and/or installation; and

4. The nature, extent and probability of any harm to public safety or welfare that could result from accelerating construction and/or installation in order to attain compliance by May 31, 1995. For example, if it were probable that an electric generating utility could not cause all of its electric generating units to attain compliance by that date without subjecting a substantial number of customers to voltage reductions and/or interruptions in electric service, that fact would be relevant in establishing impracticability.

(f) On the date that the approved compliance plan provides for a combustion source to attain full compliance with the applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit under this subchapter, the Department's approval of the plan shall expire. Upon expiration of the Department's approval, the combustion source shall be subject to all applicable requirements of this subchapter, including the NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits that would have applied to the source in the absence of an approved plan.

(g) An owner or operator who has obtained the Department's approval of a phased compliance plan shall:

1. Operate all combustion sources included in the plan in a manner that complies with the plan and with all conditions of the Department's approval;

2. Meet all milestones in the approved phased compliance plan;

3. Within 15 days after the date of each milestone in the approved phased compliance plan, advise the Department in writing whether the owner or operator has met the milestone; and

4. During the interim period, control NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from the combustion source as follows:

i. By adjusting the combustion process in accordance with N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.16, if the source's air-to-fuel ratio can be adjusted in a manner that reduces NO<sub>x</sub> emissions; or

ii. By seasonally combusting natural gas in accordance with N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20, implementing selective non-catalytic reduction, or implementing other measures that the Department determines are appropriate in light of the costs involved and the total quantity of NO<sub>x</sub> reductions that will be achieved until the full compliance date listed in (c)2v above.

7:27-19.23 Phased compliance—use of innovative control technology

(a) The owner or operator of a combustion source included in a phased compliance plan is authorized to comply with the plan if the Department approves the plan pursuant to this section and N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14. The owner or operator's compliance with the plan is in lieu of causing the combustion source to comply with the emission limit under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4, 19.5, 19.7, 19.8, 19.9 or 19.10 that would otherwise apply to the combustion source.

(b) By (30 days after operative date of these amendments), an owner or operator seeking approval of an innovative control technology plan shall submit to the Department an application pursuant to N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14 and the plan itself pursuant to (c) below. If an owner or operator fails to submit the application by (30 days after operative date of these amendments), the Department may reject the application. The Department may elect to process a late application, based on how late the application is, the nature and extent of the owner or operator's efforts to submit the application on time, whether the owner or operator advised the Department before the application due date that a late application would be submitted, and the extent of the emission reductions promised in the late application. If the Department elects to process a late application, the pendency of the application shall not be a defense to a violation of a NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit to which the source would be subject in the absence of an approved plan.

(c) The owner or operator shall include the following information in the innovative control technology plan with respect to each combustion source included in the plan:

1. Information sufficient to identify the combustion source, including a brief description (for example, "dry-bottom coal-fired utility boiler"), its location, its permit number, the company stack designation, and any other identifying numbers, and any other information necessary to distinguish it from other equipment owned or operated by the owner or operator;

2. A description of the NO<sub>x</sub> control measures that the owner or operator proposes to employ as innovative control technology;

3. The rate of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions that the owner or operator expects that the source will attain in employing the proposed innovative control technology, and the basis for that expectation;

4. Information establishing that the proposed innovative control technology is technically sound and sufficiently developed to be implemented by May 1, 1999;

5. A proposed schedule setting dates by which the owner or operator will complete the following milestones for the combustion source:

i. Submitting applications for all necessary permits and certificates;

ii. Obtaining all necessary permits and certificates;

iii. Awarding contracts for the implementation of the innovative control technology, or placing orders for the purchase of any component parts, equipment and/or control apparatus associated with the innovative control technology;

iv. Awarding contracts and initiating implementation of the innovative control technology (including any construction and/or installation, if applicable); and

v. Completing the implementation of the innovative control technology.

6. Specific procedures and schedules for implementing interim measures for control of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions for the combustion source during the interim period;

7. A list of all NO<sub>x</sub> control technologies available for interim use with the combustion source during the interim period;

8. An analysis of the technological feasibility of installing and operating each NO<sub>x</sub> emission control technology identified in (c)7 above for the interim period;

9. For each control technology that is technologically feasible to install and operate, an estimate of the cost of installation and operation;

10. An estimate of the reduction in NO<sub>x</sub> emissions attainable through the use of each control technology which is technologically feasible to install and operate. If a control technology installed before the innovative control technology is implemented cannot be used after that time, the owner or operator may limit the estimate of emission reductions to those that will be attained during the interim period;

11. An analysis of the cost-effectiveness of each control technology, based on the costs of installation and operation under (c)9 above and the estimated emission reductions under (c)10 above;

12. The NO<sub>x</sub> control measures that the owner or operator proposes to employ during the interim period;

13. The proposed interim NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit with which the source will comply during the interim period;

14. The method to be used to measure the actual NO<sub>x</sub> emission rate of the combustion source;

15. The name and business telephone number of the person responsible for recordkeeping and reporting under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.19 and under (e)8 below; and

16. Any other information that the Department requests, which is reasonably necessary to enable it to determine whether the operation of combustion sources included in the plan will comply with the requirements of this section.

(d) The Department shall approve an innovative control technology plan only if the following requirements are satisfied:

1. The application satisfies all the requirements of N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14 and (c) above, including the requirement that the plan consider all control technologies available for the control of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions during the interim period from each type of combustion source included in the plan;

2. The innovative control technology proposed for each combustion source in the plan:

i. Has a substantial likelihood of enabling the source to achieve greater continuous NO<sub>x</sub> emissions reductions than are required to meet the applicable limit under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4, 19.5, 19.7, 19.8, 19.9 or 19.10. If the expected extent of NO<sub>x</sub> emission reductions is only marginally greater than are required to meet the applicable limit, the proposed innovative control technology will not be deemed to meet this standard;

ii. Is technically sound;

iii. Is sufficiently developed so that it can be implemented by May 1, 1999; and

iv. Cannot practicably be implemented by May 31, 1995.

3. The completion date listed in (c)5v above is no later than May 1, 1999;

4. For any control technologies described in (c)7 above that the owner or operator does not propose to use with the combustion source during the interim period, the proposed plan demonstrates that the control technology:

i. Would be ineffective in controlling NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from the combustion source;

ii. Is unsuitable for use with the combustion source, or duplicative of control technology which the plan proposes to use;

iii. Would carry costs disproportionate to the improvement in the reduction of the NO<sub>x</sub> emissions rate that the control technology is likely to achieve, or disproportionately large in comparison to the total reduction in NO<sub>x</sub> emissions that the control technology is likely to achieve during the interim period; or

iv. Would carry costs disproportionate to the costs incurred for the control of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from the same type of combustion sources used by other persons in the owner or operator's industry who are also subject to the NO<sub>x</sub> RACT requirements of P.L. 101-549, 182(f).

5. For each combustion source included in the plan, the interim emission limit proposed under (c)13 above is the lowest rate that can practicably be achieved at a cost within the limits described in (d)4iii and iv above;

6. For each combustion source included in the plan, the cost of achieving an additional emission reduction beyond the interim emission limit proposed under (c)13 above would be disproportionate to the size and environmental impact of that additional emission reduction; and

7. The owner or operator has entered into an agreement with the Department in accordance with the requirements of (h) below.

(e) An owner or operator who has obtained the Department's approval of an innovative control technology plan shall:

1. Beginning on May 31, 1995, operate all combustion sources included in the approved plan in a manner that complies with the plan and with all conditions of the Department's approval;

2. Meet the compliance milestones in the approved plan;

3. Implement the innovative control technology for the combustion sources included in the plan by the date specified in the approved plan;

4. Beginning on May 31, 1995, determine the actual NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from each combustion source included in the innovative control technology plan in accordance with N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.15(a);

5. If the approved plan provides for the owner or operator to annually adjust the combustion process for a combustion source included in the plan, do so in accordance with the general procedures set forth at N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.16 before May 1 of each calendar year beginning with 1995, until the innovative control technology is implemented;

6. Beginning on May 31, 1995, comply with the recordkeeping and reporting requirements of N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.19;

7. Within 15 days after the date specified in the approved innovative control technology plan for completion of a milestone listed in (c)5 above, notify the Department in writing that the milestone has or has not been completed. If the milestone has not been completed, the owner or operator shall include in the notice the reason for the delay and the expected date on which the milestone will be completed;

8. Incorporate advances in the art of air pollution control into each source included in the plan, as required in the preconstruction permit for the replacement equipment; and

9. If the innovative control technology for any combustion source included in the plan is not implemented by May 1, 1999, cease operating the combustion source by May 1, 1999.

(f) Except as provided in (g) below:

1. The Department shall seek comments from the general public before making any final decision to approve or disapprove a proposed innovative control technology plan. The Department shall publish notice of opportunity for public comment in a newspaper of general circulation in the area in which each combustion source included in the plan is located;

2. The Department shall submit any innovative control technology plan (and agreement under (h) below) approved under this section to EPA, as a proposed revision to New Jersey's State Implementation Plan; and

3. Upon EPA's approval of the revision to New Jersey's State Implementation Plan, the innovative control technology plan and agreement under (h) below shall be federally enforceable. Plans listed under (g) below shall be federally enforceable upon the issuance of the Department's approval.

(g) An innovative control technology plan approved under this section is not required to be submitted to EPA as a proposed revision to New Jersey's State Implementation Plan, if the plan provides that NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from each combustion source included in the plan will be controlled during the interim period through one of the following methods:

1. Fuel switching under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.20;
2. The use of selective non-catalytic reduction.

(b) Before the Department approves an innovative control technology plan, the owner or operator shall enter into a Federally enforceable agreement containing the following provisions:

1. Information sufficient to identify the owner or operator;
2. Information sufficient to identify the combustion source, including a brief description (for example, "dry-bottom coal-fired utility boiler"), its location, its permit number, the company stack designation, and any other identifying numbers, and any other information necessary to distinguish it from other equipment owned or operated by the owner or operator;
3. The owner or operator's undertaking of the following duties:
  - i. Completing the milestones listed in (c)5 above by specified dates;
  - ii. Implementing interim measures to control NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from each combustion source during the interim period;
  - iii. Causing each combustion source to emit NO<sub>x</sub> at a rate no greater than a specified interim NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit applicable during the interim period;
  - iv. Using a specified method to measure the actual NO<sub>x</sub> emission rate of the combustion source; and
  - v. Maintaining the Department's approval in effect;
4. A provision for delay of compliance caused by a "force majeure" event beyond the control of and without the fault of the owner or operator;
5. A provision under which the Department can terminate the agreement and its approval of the innovative control technology plan if the owner or operator materially fails to complete implementation of the innovative control technology or any other milestone by the date specified in the approved plan, or if the innovative control technology program fails to achieve the required reduction levels. By the date specified by the Department in the agreement, in its approval of the plan, or in the notice of termination, the owner or operator shall attain compliance with the NO<sub>x</sub> emissions limit under this subchapter that would apply to the combustion source in the absence of an approved plan. Termination of the agreement and the approval of the plan is in addition to any other remedies the Department has under this chapter and N.J.A.C. 7:27A; and

7:27-19.24 MEG alerts

(a) During a MEG alert that occurs on or before November 15, 2005, an electric generating unit that is operating at emergency capacity may exceed the NO<sub>x</sub> emissions limits applicable under this subchapter. This exemption is available only if the electric generating utility that owns or operates the electric generating unit complies with the requirements of this section.

(b) Within two working days after the end of the MEG alert, the electric generating utility shall deliver (as opposed to send) to the Department a report confirming the occurrence of the MEG alert. The electric generating utility shall certify the report in accordance with N.J.A.C. 7:27-8.24. In the report, the electric generating utility shall include the following information:

1. Information sufficient to identify each electric generating unit that operated at emergency capacity, including a brief description (for example, "dry-bottom coal-fired utility boiler"), its location, its permit number, any other identifying numbers, and any other information necessary to distinguish it from other equipment owned or operated by the utility;
2. The date and time at which the electric generating utility received notice from the load dispatcher, directing the utility to operate one or more electric generating units at emergency capacity;
3. For each electric generating unit listed in (b)1 above, the date and time at which the electric generating utility began to operate the electric generating unit at emergency capacity;

4. The date and time at which the electric generating utility received notice from the load dispatcher, advising the utility that it could cease operating its electric generating units at emergency capacity;

5. For each electric generating unit listed in (b)1 above, the date and time at which the electric generating utility ceased operating the electric generating unit at emergency capacity;

6. For each electric generating unit listed in (b)1 above, the amount by which the unit's NO<sub>x</sub> emissions (expressed in pounds) during the MEG alert exceeded the maximum quantity of NO<sub>x</sub> emissions allowed under this subchapter. The excess NO<sub>x</sub> emissions shall be calculated as follows for each day that the MEG alert continued:

$$E = (ER - M) \times H$$

where:

- i. E is the excess NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from the electric generating unit;
- ii. ER is the average rate at which the electric generating unit emitted NO<sub>x</sub> during the day of the MEG alert, determined in accordance with N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.15(a) and expressed in lb/MMBTU;
- iii. M is the NO<sub>x</sub> emissions limit applicable under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4, 19.5, 19.7, 19.8, 19.9 or 19.10, or an applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit established under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.13, 19.20, 19.21, 19.22 or 19.23, expressed in lb/MMBTU; and
- iv. H the actual daily heat input to the electric generating unit during the MEG alert, expressed in MMBTU;
7. A copy of the calculations performed under (b)6 above; and
8. A description of the method by which the electric generating utility has provided or will provide compensatory reductions in NO<sub>x</sub> emissions as required under (c) below.

(c) The electric generating utility shall submit to the Department documentation of actual NO<sub>x</sub> emission reductions in compensation for the excess NO<sub>x</sub> emissions during the MEG alert, in accordance with the following requirements:

1. Within the period beginning three years before the MEG alert begins and ending one year after the MEG alert ends, the electric generating utility shall obtain (or shall have obtained) reductions in NO<sub>x</sub> emissions from a combustion source through measures (which may include pollution prevention measures) above and beyond those required under any Federal or State law, rule, regulation, permit or order.

2. The ratio of the amount of the NO<sub>x</sub> emission reductions under (c)1 above to the amount of the excess NO<sub>x</sub> emissions calculated under (b)6 above shall be 1.3:1; and

3. Emissions reductions from any shutdown or curtailment of operations of a combustion source shall not be credited toward meeting this requirement.

7:27-19.25 Exemption for emergency use of fuel oil

(a) If a combustion source temporarily combusts fuel oil or other liquid fuel in place of natural gas in accordance with this section, the owner or operator is not required to have the combustion source comply with the applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limits in N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.4, 19.5, 19.7, 19.8, 19.9 or 19.10, or an applicable NO<sub>x</sub> emission limit established under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.13, 19.20, 19.21, 19.22 or 19.23, while the fuel oil or other liquid fuel is burned. On each day that this exemption applies, for purposes of calculating daily or annual NO<sub>x</sub> emissions the combustion source will be deemed to have emitted no NO<sub>x</sub> and to have derived a heat input of 0.0 BTU.

(b) The exemption under (a) above is available only for a combustion source that uses natural gas as its primary fuel, or is seasonally combusting natural gas pursuant to a plan approved under N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.14 and 19.20. For a combustion source that uses natural gas as its primary fuel, the exemption under (a) above is available at any time during the year. For a combustion source that is seasonally combusting natural gas, the exemption under (a) above is available only from May 1 through September 15.

(c) The owner or operator of the combustion source is eligible for the exemption under (a) above only if the following requirements are met:

PROPOSALS

Interested Persons see Inside Front Cover

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

1. The owner or operator is not practicably able to obtain a sufficient supply of natural gas;

2. The owner or operator's inability to obtain natural gas is due to circumstances beyond the control of the owner or operator, such as a natural gas curtailment;

3. The combustion source ceases using fuel oil or other liquid fuel in place of natural gas and resumes using natural gas as soon as a sufficient supply of natural gas becomes practicably available;

4. The use of fuel oil or liquid fuel does not exceed 500 hours during any consecutive 12-month period; and

5. The owner or operator satisfies the recordkeeping requirements of N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.19(d) and (e), and the reporting requirements of (d) below.

(d) Within two days after beginning to combust fuel oil or other liquid fuel in place of natural gas in accordance with this section, the owner or operator shall send a written notice to the Department at the address designated in N.J.A.C. 7:27-19.3(h). In the notice, the owner or operator shall include the following information:

1. Information sufficient to identify each combustion source for which the owner or operator claims an exemption under this section, including a brief description of the source (for example, "dry-bottom coal-fired utility boiler"), its location, its permit number, any other identifying numbers, and any other information necessary to distinguish it from other equipment owned or operated by the utility;

2. A statement that the owner or operator is not practicably able to obtain a sufficient supply of natural gas;

3. The date and time at which the owner or operator first became practicably unable to obtain natural gas; and

4. A description of the circumstances causing the owner or operator's inability to obtain natural gas.

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

In accordance with the sunset provisions of Executive Order No. 66(1978), the Department of Human Services (DHS) proposes to re-adopt N.J.A.C. 10:15, 10:15A, 10:15B and 10:15C, which are set to expire on January 1, 1995. These rules comprise the Department of Human Services Child Care Services Manual which provides the framework for the Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG) and the Title IV-A At Risk Child Care (ARCC) Programs as administered in New Jersey under the New Jersey Cares for Kids (NJCK) Child Care Certificate Program. The proposed readoption also includes amendments to N.J.A.C. 10:15, 10:15A, 10:15B and 10:15C.

The Child Care and Development Block Grant of 1990, hereinafter referred to as CCDBG, is intended to increase the availability, affordability and quality of child care for low and moderate income families with a parent who is employed or attending a training or educational program. The program also provides for child care services for children in child protective services and foster care children, under the supervision of the Division of Youth and Family Services (DYFS), when such care is indicated as a necessary part of the child's treatment plan.

The Title IV-A At Risk Child Care Program, also known as "At-Risk" or ARCC, is intended to provide child care services to low-income working families who are not receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) and need child care in order to work, and would otherwise be at risk of becoming eligible for AFDC.

The DHS has been designated the lead State agency responsible for the operation and administration of a Statewide comprehensive child care system that supports the needs of eligible families in the State. The DHS operates these child care service programs through the coordinated efforts of the Division of Family Development (DFD) and DYFS.

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Administration for Children and Families (ACF) has approved State Plans submitted by DHS for receipt of the State's share of the block grant monies first authorized under the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act (OBRA) 1990 to establish the child care service programs.

A summary of the text as well as an explanation of the amendments which have been proposed since the initial adoption are presented as follows:

N.J.A.C. 10:15 designates DHS as the lead State agency responsible for the administration and implementation of the Statewide comprehensive system of child care services and discusses funding sources administered within the framework of Federal regulation and State law in conjunction with existing programs available through DFD and DYFS. The general principles under which these child care service programs will operate and the responsibilities of the parent/applicant receiving child care services, as well as each faction involved in the administration of the programs are delineated.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A sets forth the general child care eligibility requirements for the CCDBG and ARCC programs, procedures to follow for child care arrangements and qualification criteria for various providers of child care services. Also presented in this subchapter is the requirement for a co-payment to be made toward the cost of child care by each family receiving such care.

N.J.A.C. 10:15B describes both the ARCC and the CCDBG programs. The chapter delineates the eligibility criteria required by families in order to receive ARCC or CCDBG benefits and explains how eligible families may access either program.

N.J.A.C. 10:15C details the provisions concerning the requirement that eligible families contribute a co-payment fee toward the cost of child care services. The chapter discusses the determination of the amount of the assessed co-payment fee. The chapter also delineates procedures required concerning collection, reporting and monitoring of the co-payment process.

A summary of the changes to N.J.A.C. 10:15 since its adoption are as follows:

N.J.A.C. 10:15-1.2 and 10:15B-1.2 were amended to reflect the revised definitions of "low income" and "at risk" to include those up to 200 percent of the Federal Poverty Income Guidelines for program entry.

Tables I, II, and III at N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.2(c) were amended to reflect revised age categories and revised maximum allowable child care payment rates. This section was also amended to reflect the revised source and address to which requests for copies of the maximum child care payment rates were to be made.

N.J.A.C. 10:15B-1.2(b)3 was amended to permit families to remain eligible under the ARCC program as long as the annual gross family income did not exceed 75 percent of the State Medial Income (SMI), thus paralleling the exit level with other DHS administered child care service programs.

N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.1 was amended to reflect the revised co-payment scales.

Tables I, II and III at N.J.A.C 10:15A-1.2(c) were amended to reflect the revised maximum allowable child care payment rates.

N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.1(d) was amended to reflect the revised co-payment scales.

The following amendments are being proposed at this time as part of the proposed readoption of N.J.A.C. 10:15.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-1.1(b) reflects that the child care service programs are no longer in the planning stage of administration. All references to planning are being updated.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-1.1(c), 1.1(d), 1.9 and 2.1(a) reflect the abrogation of this Department's Office of Child Care Development.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-1.1(d) reflects compliance with final Federal regulations (45 CFR 98.20(3)) which indicate that: (1) established program eligibility criteria must clearly indicate that families of children in child protective service (CPS) under the supervision of DYFS residing in their own home may receive service in both the ARCC and CCDBG program, and (2) children in foster care under the supervision of DYFS are only eligible to receive services from the CCDBG program.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-1.1(d)11 reflects current activities conducted by DYFS regarding required efforts to promote employer-supported child care throughout the State.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-1.1(g) and 1.5 add current language as required by the Americans with Disabilities Act (P.L. 101-336). N.J.A.C 10:15-1.1(g) includes a reference to the DFD Family Development Program (FDP), deletes the reference to the now obsolete Urban Pre-Kindergarten program and replaces it with the Goodstarts program administered by the DHS and the Department of Education (DOE).

N.J.A.C. 10:15-1.2 includes and/or updates definitions for approved home, categories of care, child care centers, child protective services, co-payment, foster care, incapacitated parent, New Jersey Cares for Kids Child Care Certificate Program, Office of Child Care Development, protective service and special circumstances child. The terms were added and/or revised to reflect accurate administration of the certificate program due to changes which may have occurred in the Federal or State regulations.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-1.6 adds language to reflect the confidential nature of information regarding CPS children.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-1.9(f)1i, 2.2(a)4 and 2.3(a)16 reflect current practice in the administration of the program which pertains to the rights of families affected by adverse actions in the delivery of child care service benefits through this program. Families affected by any adverse action to which they object, have the option to request a case review from the county designated child care agency and/or an administrative review with DFD. Following clarification of the final Federal regulations, this procedure was initiated in the program effective September 1, 1992 because the regulations which govern the certificate program clearly state that these programs are not entitlement programs such as AFDC, JOBS or Transitional Child Care. The ARCC and CCDBG programs are Federally funded programs which are governed by specific eligibility criteria as set forth in Federal regulations (see 45 CFR 98.20 and 45 CFR 257.30). The Federal eligibility criteria indicate that eligible parents enrolled in these child care programs do not have the same guarantees to the receipt of services as parents receiving services from entitlement programs. N.J.A.C. 10:15 was originally adopted prior to the adoption of the final Federal regulations governing these programs. Therefore, the original adoption made in concert with interim Federal regulations contained references to DFD fair hearings practices as set forth in N.J.A.C. 10:81-6 which proved to be inaccurate based on the final Federal regulations.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-1.9(f)6 establishes that employment, education and training organizations will receive a copy of this manual upon written request.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-2.1(a) deletes reference to the Department's Office of Child Care Development which was abolished and adds in its place that DFD and DYFS will assume the responsibilities of coordination and supervision of the CCDBG and ARCC programs.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-2.1(k) reflects the current usage of a portion of the Federal funds in the CCDBG program which are set aside for activities to improve the quality of child care. These activities may change yearly and are reflected in the DHS's yearly application for CCDBG funds. This is a requirement set forth in 45 CFR 98.51.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-2.2(a)2 clarifies DFD's responsibility in the supervision of the community-based organizations which administer the child care service programs.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-2.2(a)7 reflect current practice which now requires DFD to assume responsibility to conduct periodic local market rate surveys of child care arrangements. Previously, the DYFS held responsibility for conducting a local market rate survey of child care arrangements.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-2.2(b)3 and 4 clarifies current responsibilities of DYFS in the administration and supervision of the portion of the ARCC and CCDBG programs.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-2.3(a)14 reflects current program procedures. This proposed amendment eliminates the use of the term "certificates" and replaces it with a reference to "the applicable forms and materials used." As made allowable in the final Federal CCDBG regulations, to reduce the amount of paperwork required of a county designated child care agency and a parent/applicant, DFD eliminated the certificate form as a requirement. In its place, the necessary information was included on the Parent/Applicant/Provider Agreement which consolidated several initial forms into one.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-2.3(a)19 reflects current program practices regarding DYFS Child Protective Services (CPS) children. DFD and DYFS no longer require the county designated child care agency to establish a written agreement with the local DYFS District Office to provide services to CPS children and foster children under the supervision of DYFS. This agreement need not be established separately in writing because reference to this agreement is included as a specific requirement in the contract executed between DFD and the county designated agency.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-2.3(a)22 reflects current program practices. Due to Federal limitations placed on the amount of administrative dollars which the State can allocate to the county designated agencies to administer these programs, DHS does not require the agencies to verify a child's attendance at the child care arrangement. Monthly verification of a child's attendance by the county designated child care agency is considered by DFD to be an administrative burden which is very costly and time consuming. Therefore, to guard against the misuse of funds, the county designated child care agency is required, through a contract with DFD, to verify only that the parent/applicant and the child care provider have attested to the correct attendance of a child by signing the required attendance forms (voucher). After noting these signatures, the county designated child care agency authorizes the issuance of payment.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-2.4(c) deletes all references to the inclusion of co-payment information on the voucher form. This proposed amendment reflects current program operational practice which now includes co-payment on the Parent/Applicant/Provider Agreement. As indicated above, through consolidation of forms, the change was made in program operational procedures to reduce the amount of paperwork required of the county designated child care agency and the parent/applicant.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-2.4(e) is being added to guard against child care providers receiving other public subsidies for the same child for the same eligibility period.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-2.4(f) ensures that child care providers adhere to program requirements regarding the recoupment of payments. This rule is being added to guard against the misuse of program funds.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-2.4(g) ensures that child care providers issue a ten-day notice to the parent/applicant and to the county designated child care agency when a child is terminated from their care.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-2.4(h) requires child care providers to ensure compliance with regulatory licensure, registration or authorization requirements while in receipt of services from these programs.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-2.5(a)7 adds an assurance that the parent/applicant is responsible for all costs in excess of the maximum allowable payment rates. Pursuant to Federal regulations (45 CFR 257.21) states are required to adhere to established payment rates.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-2.5(a)8 ensures that a parent/applicant maintains compliance with program eligibility requirements (pertaining to employment, training, education or child protective service status and income) while in receipt of child care services.

N.J.A.C. 10:15-2.5(a)9 ensures that a parent/applicant complies with all requirements concerning the issuance and recoupment of payments.

At N.J.A.C. 10:15A amendments are being made to N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.1(a), 1.1(b)3, 1.1(d), 1.1(d)5, 1.2(g), 1.5(a), 1.5(d) and 1.5(e) to reflect changes made as a result of the adoption of the final CCDBG and ARCC Federal regulations regarding children in CPS under the supervision of DYFS who live in their own homes and children in foster care placements under the supervision of DYFS.

The proposed amendments to these subsections clarify the program eligibility criteria and co-payment requirements for both groups of children pursuant to 45 CFR 98.20, 98.42 and 257.30(5). Families of CPS children under the supervision of DYFS who reside in their own home may receive services in both the ARCC and CCDBG programs. Children in foster care under the supervision of DYFS, may receive services from the CCDBG program only. The co-payment requirement may be waived for both groups of children, on a case-by-case basis.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.1(a), 1.1(a)5ii, 1.2(f)1 and 1.2(g) clarify the program eligibility criteria regarding full-time employment and participation in full-time training and/or educational activities for ARCC and CCDBG. To remain eligible for services in ARCC, a family must need child care services in order to obtain full-time employment within a specified period or maintain full-time employment. To be eligible in CCDBG, a family must need child care in order to accept full-time employment, or full-time participation in training/educational activities or maintain full-time employment or full-time participation in training/educational activities or to participate/enter into multiple part-time educational/training activities and/or employment which combined equal full-time.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.1(a) also deletes a reference to other child care service programs offered through DHS which are outlined in N.J.A.C. 10:81-14.18. This reference is deleted because DHS has offered many other child care service programs which were not identified in N.J.A.C. 10:81-14.18. Such a reference is not inclusive of all DHS administered child care service programs and could rapidly become outdated if included in the regulations. Since the reference serves no regulatory purpose, it is being removed.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.1(a) and 1.1(d)5 also reflect language to clarify that fiscal resources must be available and Federal eligibility criteria must be met prior to the receipt of child care services in these programs.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.1(a)3 reflects current practice in the operation of the program. The county designated child care agency is required by DFD to ensure that families placed on its waiting list, in accordance with established priorities for low income families, are eligible to receive child care services.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.1(a)4 reflects current practice in the administration of the program. Added were references which require the county designated child care agency to ensure that families retrieved from the waiting list to receive services have remained eligible for the program. Also, additional language was added to replace previous references to vacancies in the program and the receipt of services when vacancies occur. In the operation of this child care service program, subsidies are made available when funds become available. Therefore, references to vacancies are inappropriate for a voucher subsidy system and have been removed.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.1(a)5 is being deleted to reflect current practice in the program. This reference to duration of a family on the waiting list is inaccurate and was likely included as an assumption, prior to the adoption of the final Federal regulations, that practices parallel to some other DHS child care service programs would be paralleled in this program. When this provision was included, DFD had no pre-existing policy in this area to parallel. Upon implementation of the certificate program and the adoption of the final Federal regulations, it was discovered that this provision was not required, nor was it cost effective or feasible for inclusion in a voucher program due to limited administrative funds.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.1(a)6 has been renumbered as N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.1(a)5. N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.1(a)5 and 5i also replace references to families being retained in child care with language which accurately depicts current practice. In this child care program, families may receive services for up to 12 consecutive months without a redetermination of eligibility.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.1(b)3 replaces the term "protective service child" with the term "child protective services" which is now the terminology used by DYFS.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.1(b)4 reflects Federal regulations at 45 CFR 98.20 and 257.30 which permit states to provide services to families where one parent is incapacitated.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.1(d) provides clarification that the funding stream(s) for which a family is eligible, based upon the work, training, education, and/or protective service status of the family member, is indicated in parenthesis after the specific term. This subsection also clarifies the funding streams through which foster children and children under the supervision of DYFS may receive services. These proposed amendments are reflective of Federal regulations outlined in 45 CFR 98.20 and 257.30.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.1(d)2 reflects current practice in the administration of the NJCK program regarding the selection of child care arrangements and the hours of care for which payment may be issued. In current practice, the parent/applicant selects and finalizes the child care arrangement for the eligible child and the payment issued on behalf of the family must be for hours which are reasonably related to the hours of the activity which deems the family eligible. This proposed amendment was made as a result of the requirements contained in the final Federal regulations governing these programs.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.1(d)5 clarifies that funding must first be available prior to the receipt of services and that the funding stream(s) for which a family is eligible, based upon the work, training, education, and/or protective service status of the family member is indicated in parenthesis after the specific term.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.1(e) includes an additional provision, under which refusal of child care benefits may be inferred, as required at 45 CFR 98.16(a)(7)(i) and 98.16(a)(11). As the program evolved it became increasingly apparent that parents/applicants were causing a delay on the part of the county designated agency in the determination of eligibility and the issuance of payment through a failure to return completed documentation on a timely basis. Also, as a result of the final Federal regulations, it is now a requirement in the Child Care and Development Block Grant State Plan to delineate the timeframe from the point of entry into the program to the point of eligibility and to provide a description of how the parent/applicant receives services. Therefore, it seemed appropriate to include the specific timeframes in the re-adoption of N.J.A.C. 10:15. The included provision increases the number of days a parent/applicant has to notify the county agency of their intent regarding: the receipt of child care services, to submit required eligibility information, to determine a family's child care needs, to select a child care provider, and to complete any other required documents to initiate payment. These proposed amendments are being included as a result of the adoption of the final Federal regulations. In this program, the receipt of benefits is contingent upon the completion of tasks by the parent/applicant within specified time frames. These time constraints have been included in the administration of this program so vouchers will be used in a timely manner by eligible families. Large numbers of families are eligible for this program and a limited amount of funding is available. To ensure the expedient receipt of services and the authorization of payment, families are required to complete specific procedures in a specified period of time or the receipt of services from this program may be jeopardized.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.1(f) reflects current program practices regarding case and administrative reviews as previously described in N.J.A.C. 10:15-1.9(f)1i above.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.1(f)2 and 3 provide an overview of the circumstances for continuation or termination of child care benefits in this program during the case and/or administrative review process. This child care service program is not an entitlement program; therefore, a parent/applicant receiving a service is not subject to the same guarantees as someone receiving services in an entitlement program. According to the Federal regulations governing these programs, the county designated child care agency must ensure that a parent/applicant receiving a service is eligible for such service (see 45 CFR 257.10 and 98.15) at all times. In addition, these paragraphs are being amended to replace all references to fair hearings, conducted by DFD, with references regarding the case and/or administrative review process. Finally, the reference to the hearing process for families receiving DYFS contracted child care services included in these sections provide a distinction between DYFS and DFD procedures.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.2(b) reflects a change in the administration of the child care service program regarding the payments issued on behalf of school-age children. Due to limited funding and the vast amount of families eligible to receive services, an effort was made to provide services to as many families as possible with available resources. Therefore, parents of school-age children using before or after school care during the school year may receive only part-time payment for services during the school year, which represents the bulk of their expense. However, during the summer vacation periods only, these children may receive payment at the maximum allowable full-time rate. Parents of school-age children involved in non-traditional employment schedules when full-time child care is required on a year round basis, may continue to receive payment at the full-time rate.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.2(e)1 corrects a typographical error and deletes the reference to protective service children. Protective services, as indicated previously, are not automatically eligible to receive benefits from this child care service program. There are specific eligibility criteria which must be met before a child in DYFS supervised CPS, including foster care children, may receive services. N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.2(f)1 reiterates the different Federal eligibility criteria which are applied to ARCC and CCDBG.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.2(g) provides clarification that the funding stream(s) (ARCC and/or CCDBG) for which a family is eligible, based upon the work, training, education, and/or protective service status of the family member, is indicated in parenthesis after the specific term. Also added is a provision which extends the authorization of bridge payments to families in the CCDBG program who end or no longer attend training or education activities. This addition was included as allowable pursuant to 45 CFR 98.20(a)3(ii). This subsection deletes a reference to the termination of a family, if the parent/applicant no longer complies with specific eligibility criteria without good cause. The interim Federal regulations for these programs were silent in this area. Therefore an assumption was made that the final Federal regulations would parallel the other Title IV-A programs administered by DFD. The adoption of the final Federal regulations for these programs identified only the required eligibility criteria to which parent/applicants must adhere. The final Federal regulations did not require the reason(s) for the ineligibility of a family to be identified and/or to become a factor of consideration in determining continued eligibility. Therefore all references to causes for non-compliance are no longer applicable. The term "protective services" children is being replaced with "CPS" and includes foster care children which is the accurate terminology now utilized by DYFS. Finally, this subsection is also being amended to reflect current operational practice regarding families who do not maintain their eligibility status. These families are not placed on the waiting list as previously stated in the original adoption of this chapter. Instead these families are terminated from the program and may reapply when they again become eligible. This proposed amendment is congruent with 45 CFR 98.20 and 257.30.

HUMAN SERVICES*PROPOSALS

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.3(a) deletes a regulatory reference. The reference deleted is no longer applicable in accordance with the adoption of the final Federal CCDBG regulations.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.3(b) includes reference to the DYFS Manual of Requirements for Child Care Centers which became effective on May 16, 1994.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.3(b)1 and 2 include school-age children as part of the eligible population who can receive services from child care centers. This proposed amendment reflects the revisions set forth in N.J.A.C. 10:122, the DYFS Manual of Requirements for Child Care Centers.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.3(d) deletes an inaccurate reference regarding family day care, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 10:81-14.18(f). As required by Federal regulation, providers of family-based day care are permitted to receive payment for such services if they live in the home of the child. This reference was included originally in error.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.3(d)2 deletes an inaccurate reference, originally included in error, regarding the limitation on the number of children allowable in an approved home setting, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 10:81-14.18(f). This reference changes the maximum total number of children allowable in an approved home setting to eight, deletes the exception which previously permitted the maximum total number of children to increase beyond the allowable limit and permits all sibling children to receive care from the same approved home provider.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.4(b) reflects current practice in the administration of the child care service programs made allowable through the adoption of the final Federal regulations. In an effort to reduce the amount of paperwork required of the county designated child care agency and of a parent/applicant, DFD now only requires the completion of the Parent/Applicant/Provider Agreement. This form replaces three previous documents. This subsection also clarifies the current practice regarding authorization of payment. The county designated child care agency, due to limited administrative funds, now verifies the attendance of a child in care by reviewing the voucher to determine that the parent and the child care provider have both attested to the attendance of the child through their signatures.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.5(a), (d) and (e) change the terminology for "protective service" children to "children under DYFS CPS supervision and includes foster care children". These subsections also clarify the program eligibility for CPS children.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.5(a) has also been recodified to facilitate the flow of information.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.5(b) deletes an inaccurate reference regarding number of children in care and replaces it with the hours of care needed in specifying the determination of co-payment. This reference was originally included in error.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.5(c) reflects current program practices regarding case and administrative reviews as previously described in N.J.A.C. 10:15-1.9(f)1i above.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.5(d)1 adds the appropriate acronym for DYFS District Office and replaces a reference to "community referral agency" with "Adoption Resource Center". Reference to these agencies reflects current practice in the coordination of services in this program as determined by DYFS.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.5(d)2 reflects current practice in the administration of the NJCK program. The appropriate DYFS agency is responsible to ensure that CPS and foster care children have alternative care arrangements prior to being terminated as deemed appropriate. This was not clear in the original regulations but has been clarified for this readoption.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.5(e) replaces the term "Regional Contract Administrator" with "DO/ARC Liaison." This proposed amendment reflects current practice in the program as defined by DYFS. This subsection is being amended to ensure all emergency terminations of CPS children are reported to DYFS.

At N.J.A.C. 10:15B, amendments are being made to N.J.A.C. 10:15B-1.1(c)4, 1.2(b), 1.2(h), 1.3(h), 2.1(a), 2.1(c), 2.1(d), 2.1(e)1, 2.2(a), 2.2(c) and 2.2(g) to reflect changes made as a result of the adoption of the final Federal CCDBG regulations and the Federal ARCC regulations regarding children in child protective services (CPS) under the supervision of DYFS who live in their own homes, as well as children in foster care.

The proposed amendments clarify the program eligibility criteria and co-payment requirements for both groups of children pursuant to 45 CFR 98.20, 98.42, 257.30(5) and 257.31. Families of CPS children under the supervision of DYFS who reside in their own home and are otherwise eligible, may receive service in both the ARCC and CCDBG programs.

Children in foster care under the supervision of DYFS, if otherwise eligible, may receive services from the CCDBG program only. Both of these families are also permitted to have the assessed co-payment fee waived, but only on a case-by-case basis.

These sections are also being amended to clarify the program eligibility criteria regarding full-time employment and participation in full-time training and/or educational activities for ARCC and CCDBG. To remain eligible for the receipt of services in ARCC, a family must need child care services in order to obtain full-time employment within a specified period or maintain full-time employment. To be eligible in CCDBG, a family must need child care in order to accept full-time employment or full-time participation in training/educational activities or maintain full-time employment or full-time participation in training/educational activities, or to participate/enter into multiple part-time educational/training activities and employment which when combined equal full-time.

N.J.A.C. 10:15B-1.1(b), 1.1(c)4, 1.2(b) and 1.2(h) replace the term "protective services" children with the current terminology, "CPS" which also includes foster care children. This terminology has been developed by DYFS.

N.J.A.C. 10:15B-1.1(c)1 and 2 include references to the Division's Family Development Program (FDP).

N.J.A.C. 10:15B-1.2(b)1 updates the reference to the Federal Register publication in which the 1994 Federal Poverty Income Guidelines were published and clarifies the definition of low income families.

N.J.A.C. 10:15B-1.2(b)2 and 2i reflects the addition of income priority consideration for the entrance into the ARCC program. Final Federal regulations in ARCC permit State flexibility in the definition of low income (see 45 CFR 257.21(b)2). As a result, the Department of Human Services developed a broad definition of low income which permits additional families to receive services from this program as appropriate within the counties.

N.J.A.C. 10:15B-1.2(h) now includes an additional eligibility criteria in ARCC for families with one parent working and one parent incapacitated, which is permissible pursuant to 45 CFR 257.30(a).

Current N.J.A.C. 10:15B-1.2(h) has been recodified as N.J.A.C. 10:15B-1.2(i). N.J.A.C. 10:15B-1.2(i) clarifies that the final Federal regulations did not allow families under DYFS CPS supervision to have their co-payment waived in the ARCC program. In addition, Federal clarification prohibits children in DYFS supervised foster care to be served in the ARCC program.

N.J.A.C. 10:15B-2.1(a) and (c) reflect that families with moderate income levels (those up to 60 percent of the 1989 New Jersey State Median Income) are also eligible to receive services from the CCDBG program. This addition was made possible with DHS' adherence to the adoption of the final Federal regulations, pursuant to 45 CFR 98.20(a)(2).

N.J.A.C. 10:15B-2.1(d) includes special circumstances children as being given priority consideration and placement for CCDBG. This provision was made permissible with the adoption of the final Federal regulations, pursuant to 45 CFR 98.44.

N.J.A.C. 10:15B-2.1(d)1 and (e)3 reflect current practice in the administration of the CCDBG program regarding the definition of very low income, pursuant to 45 CFR 98.44.

N.J.A.C. 10:15B-2.1(e)2 includes the addition of the DHS administered School Based Youth Services Program (SBYS) and other teen parents as examples of those eligible for special circumstance consideration, pursuant to 45 CFR 98.44.

N.J.A.C. 10:15B-2.1(e)4 is being deleted as a priority consideration in this section. When DHS made the exit criteria for the ARCC program 75 percent of State Median Income, it eliminated the gap in program eligibility which existed between the income eligibility exit criteria for ARCC and income eligibility exit criteria for the CCDBG program. By allowing a family to stay in the ARCC funding stream with income above 185 percent of poverty, this revision eliminated a barrier toward uninterrupted service between the programs, pursuant to 45 CFR 98.1(a)8. It also ensured that more needy, lower income families would not be terminated from ARCC and be unable to enter into CCDBG because of the lack of funds.

N.J.A.C. 10:15B-2.2(h) provides an eligibility criteria in CCDBG which is permissible pursuant to 45 CFR 98.30. With this proposed amendment, a family where one parent who is working or participating full-time in a training/education program and the other parent who is incapacitated, may be served in the program.

At N.J.A.C. 10:15C, proposed amendments and/or additions are being made at N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.1(a)1, 1.1(b)1, 1.1(b)3 and 1.4(c)6 to reflect changes made as a result of the adoption of the final Federal CCDBG regulations and the Federal ARCC regulations regarding children in child protective services (CPS) under the supervision of DYFS who live in their own homes and children in foster care. The proposed amendments to these sections also clarify the program eligibility criteria and the co-payment requirements for both groups of children pursuant to 45 CFR 98.20 and 257.30(5).

Also, at N.J.A.C. 10:15C proposed amendments are being made at N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.1(c), 1.1(g), 1.2(a), 1.2(b), 1.2(c), 1.2(c)1, 1.2(c)2, 1.2(c)3, 1.3(a), 1.3(a)3, 1.3(a)4 and 1.3(a)5 to provide clarification of current practice in the administration of the certificate program regarding the assessment and collection of the co-payment fees. With the adoption of the final Federal regulation for ARCC and CCDBG, states were permitted to simplify the co-payment assessment and collection requirements placed on families pursuant to 45 CFR 257.31 and 45 CFR 98.42. Therefore, these sections replace the required frequency of co-payment issuance from "weekly" to "monthly." The proposed amendments also reflect the manner in which the assessment of the required co-payment was simplified. This reference replaces the term "composite" co-payment to "total monthly" co-payment.

N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.1(a)1 deletes an assurance that families receiving services for multiple DHS administered child care programs are not required to provide multiple co-payment fees to multiple child care providers and adds it as a new paragraph at N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.1(a)2. This change was made to facilitate the flow of information contained in this section.

N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.1(a)2 was added from N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.1(a)1 to facilitate the flow of information. This provision ensures that families receiving services from multiple DHS administered child care programs are not required to provide multiple co-payment fees to multiple child care providers. This provision fosters the delivery of seamless child care services in New Jersey as recommended in the final Federal regulations.

N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.1(c) reflects the program's current administrative practice made permissible with the adoption of the final Federal regulations regarding the family's issuance of a co-payment fee to child care providers. To ensure development of a flexible program which provides for the changing needs of families (45 CFR 98.1(a)5) a procedure was established which permits families to pay the entire assessed monthly co-payment fee to only one child care provider rendering services to the family. Such a provision helps to facilitate the program responsibilities of the parent/applicant.

N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.1(d) revises an inaccurate reference regarding the determination of a family's co-payment. The number of children in the family was inaccurately included as a factor and the hours during which child care is needed was inaccurately omitted in the original adoption of this manual. This subsection also clarifies the period which is covered by the family's co-payment. In this child care program the co-payment is apportioned on a monthly basis instead of weekly as indicated.

N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.1(e)1 adds the revised definition of family size for all families, including foster care families served in the CCDBG program, eligible to receive services from the ARCC and CCDBG program components.

N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.1(e)2 corrects an inaccurate reference to subparagraph (e)1i. This reference was originally made in error, since this subparagraph was never included in this chapter.

N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.1(f) reflects current administrative practice regarding the circumstances under which the assessed co-payment will change. These circumstances will include a change in family size, gross family income or a change in the care hours (full-time or part-time) needed by the family. This revision was made to adhere to requirements contained in the adoption of the final Federal regulations pursuant to 45 CFR 98.42. This subsection is also being amended to add the educational program enrollment of the parent as a factor requiring notification upon any changes. This factor was omitted in the original adoption and is a required eligibility criteria.

N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.1(f)1 provides a provision regarding the determination of a co-payment for school-age children. Whenever there is a school-age child in a family, the county designated agency will determine a part-time co-payment for that child, unless the child is in full-time care for the entire 12 month eligibility period. This provision was added to ensure that the procedures developed for determination of co-payment would be supportive of the special needs of families with school-age children. The overall intent of this program is to provide assistance and support to families so that they can work, and/or remain in training or education. The current procedure requires families to report to the designated child care agency all changes effecting the determination of co-payment (change in family size, income, work, training/education status or hours of care needed as delineated in N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.1(f)). The child care needs for families with school-age children frequently fluctuate during the school year between full-time and part-time due to regular school days, school holidays and vacation periods. As a result, the co-payment requirements of these families frequently change. Since families with school-age children would be required to comply with program procedures for reporting changes, they would be required to report changes affecting their co-payment fee amounts for frequent short or temporary changes. Such a procedure would not be supportive of families and does not reinforce the intent of the program. Therefore, a provision to assess a standard part-time monthly co-payment for the duration of the eligibility period for families with school-age children was determined to be the most beneficial procedure for both parents and the administration of the program. The alternative to this procedure for a standard monthly co-payment is to determine the child care needs (full-time and part-time) of each school-age child based on the period and/or day(s) as determined by regular school days, school holidays and/or vacation periods, for every school and/or public school district where an eligible child is enrolled. Administratively, this practice would be too cumbersome and too difficult for parents to keep track of the constantly changing co-payment amount required.

N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.1(g) moves the reference regarding the coordination of services between all DHS child care programs to N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.1(a)3. This reference ensures that the county designated agency will assess the appropriate co-payment fee when a family receives child care services from multiple Departmental child care programs. This reference was moved to facilitate the flow of information. N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.3(a)6 adds an assurance that the delivery of services for all DHS child care programs is coordinated on all levels, as required by 45 CFR 98.1. This provision ensures that in instances where a family receives services from multiple DHS administered child care programs, the county designated agency will assess the co-payment fees appropriately and, in these instances, the monthly fees will be paid by the family to the child care provider receiving a subsidy on behalf of the eligible children in the voucher program.

N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.3(c) replaces current language with a provision regarding the determination of a co-payment for school-age children. The county designated agency will determine a part-time co-payment for all school-age children, unless the child is in full-time care for the entire 12 month eligibility period. This provision was added to ensure that child care providers receive the appropriate co-payment for school-age children. Deleted from this section was a reference to rounding co-payment fees which is no longer a requirement, pursuant to the adoption of the final Federal regulations (see 45 CFR 98.42).

N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.4(a) and 1.4(c)1 and 2 reflect the current administrative procedures, pursuant to the adoption of the final Federal regulations, regarding the collection, reporting and monitoring of the co-payment (see 45 CFR 98.42) in which the child care provider is responsible for collection and monitoring the receipt of co-payment fees and for reporting all instances of non-payment to the county designated agency. These proposed amendments are being made to ensure coordination of service delivery with the operational policies of existing child care providers. These proposed amendments satisfy required assurances set forth at 45 CFR 98.1(a)4 and 5.

N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.4(a) deletes a reference to co-payment requirements for protective services children made inaccurate with the adoption of the final Federal regulations, 45 CFR 98.42(c).

N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.4(c)1 deletes the term "child care service provider" and replace it with "child care provider" which is the current terminology.

N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.4(c)3 through 7 reflect accurate terminology changes and provide updated information which reflects current practice in the administration of the program pertaining to rights of families affected by adverse actions in the delivery of child care service benefits through this program, such as termination for the failure to pay a required co-payment fee. Families that are affected by any adverse action to which they object, have the option to request a case review from the county designated child care agency and/or an administrative review from DFD. This procedure was initiated in the program effective September 1, 1992 because the child care service programs governed by these regulations are not entitlement programs such as AFDC, JOBS or Transitional Child Care. The ARCC and CCDBG programs are Federally funded and are based on specific eligibility criteria as set forth in Federal regulations (see 45 CFR 98.20 and 45 CFR 257.30). The Federal eligibility criteria indicate that eligible parents enrolled in these child care programs do not have the same rights to the receipt of services as those parents receiving services in entitlement programs. The Child Care Service Manual was adopted with these now inaccurate references to DFD fair hearings practices set forth at N.J.A.C. 10:81-6, prior to the State receiving the final Federal CCDBG regulations.

N.J.A.C. 10:15 deletes references to "recipients," "applicant," "legal guardian" and/or "caretaker" and replaces them with "parent/applicant" where appropriate. In these child care service programs, the individuals making application for and those receiving services on behalf of eligible children are referred to as the parent/applicant.

Other amendments include technical updates, such as cross references and other technical corrections, which clarify rules and improve administration of the CCDBG and ARCC programs.

Social Impact

The CCDBG and ARCC programs first made available through OBRA 1990 are expected to have an overall continuously beneficial impact on low and moderate income families and child care providers. The funding received for these programs enables the State to continue provision of subsidized child care services to a needy population so that such families can remain employed or in the case of the CCDBG program, also attend educational or training programs. The funding continues to aid the State in offering child care services to some targeted categories of needy families who may not have been eligible to receive assistance with their child care costs in the past as a priority population. The State will continue to utilize a portion of the CCDBG funds to serve families with children involved in CPS, including foster care, under the supervision of the DYFS, who need child care services as required by the child's treatment plan.

Readoption of N.J.A.C. 10:15 will result in continuous, equitable determination of eligibility for all families. The absence of the rules contained herein would cause undue hardship to needy families eligible for the CCDBG and ARCC programs. Using December 1993 as an average month in which services were granted, DFD records indicate that 4,244 children eligible for CCDBG received assistance. In the ARCC certificate program during the same month, 4,096 children received services. The readoption is also essential for the efficient and effective administration of the CCDBG and ARCC programs by the contracted child care agencies.

The proposed amendments to subchapters 1 and 2 deal with updating the general provisions and the administrative responsibilities of the program which have occurred since the adoption of the manual in January 1992. The social impact of the rulemaking, experienced since the initial adoption, was favorable, since the amended sections improved upon the administration and operation of the program. The rulemaking facilitated the delivery and coordination of services provided to eligible families by the county child care agencies and DHS. No other significant social impact is expected at this time because families already enrolled in the programs will continue to be served.

N.J.A.C. 10:15A contains extensive proposed amendments which deal with general provisions pertinent to the operations of the CCDBG and ARCC programs. These proposed amendments are being included in the readoption to ensure compliance with the adoption of the final Federal regulations governing the programs. In a majority of the instances, the final Federal regulations enabled DHS to implement provisions which were least restrictive to the general population. The social impact realized by these amendments have had favorable results for the county designated child care agencies, parents, child care providers and DHS. These amendments have enabled all entities involved with this program to either administer or receive services in a more efficient and effective manner. No further social impact is expected from this rulemaking.

N.J.A.C. 10:15B is also being amended as a result of the adoption of the final Federal regulations. As a result, extensive changes were made to the eligibility criteria for children under the protective services supervision of DYFS, including foster care children. Also included, as a result of the adoption of the final Federal regulations, are provisions which expand the eligibility criteria to enable the county child care agencies to provide services to two parent families with one incapacitated parent who would otherwise be ineligible for services through this program. There are no further significant social impacts expected at this time.

The proposed amendments included at N.J.A.C. 10:15C deal with the co-payment fees required of eligible families in the CCDBG and ARCC programs. The proposed amendments reflect revisions since the initial adoption of this manual which have a favorable social impact on all entities involved in this program. Included in these amendments as a revision are provisions which facilitate the issuance of the fee so that parents are required to pay monthly fee to only one child care provider rendering services to the family. Also included are provisions which facilitate and coordinate the delivery of services between DHS administered child care programs for child care providers. The proposed amendments to this chapter will have a social impact which is favorable for parents and child care providers. No further significant social impact is expected.

Economic Impact

For the month of December, 1993, the total amount of service dollars issued on behalf of families eligible for CCDBG was $835,934 and for the families eligible for ARCC, the total amount of service dollars issued was $628,985.

The proposed amendments to N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.2(b) and 10:15C-1.1(f)1 include a change in the operation of the child care services programs which will have an economic impact on the administration of the program. This change limits the payment for child care services to school-age children to the full-time maximum allowable rate only during the summer vacation period and/or when warranted by the work schedule of the parent/applicant.

However, in instances when the school-age child receives the part-time maximum allowable payment rate during the school year, the co-payment for this child is assessed at the part-time rate for the entire service period. The effects of this provision are that it maintains a standard payment rate for the county designated agencies and a standard co-payment requirement for the parents which enables the county designated agencies to more effectively and efficiently run the program. This results in savings which then allow the county designated agency to provide additional services to eligible families.

The effects of this provision are also of benefit to the parent/applicant, in that there is a positive economic impact and the amount of paperwork is significantly streamlined. For example, an average family of three with an income of $15,250 and one school-age child may realize an annual savings of approximately $75.00. This savings was calculated based on several variables. Taken into consideration were the estimated amount difference realized between the sum of the full-time and part-time co-payment fees for the appropriate amount of months (three months for summer and nine months for school-year) vs. the sum of a part-time co-payment fee at 12 months; the costs associated with the usage of a registered family day care provider for a part-time period during the school-year and a summer camp for a full-time period during the summer months; and the inclusion of an estimated 10 full days at the registered family day care rate for additional costs which the parent/applicant may incur for school holidays.

It is anticipated that no other significant economic impacts will be realized by the Department, the county child care agencies, child care providers or eligible families from the proposed amendments to N.J.A.C. 10:15, 10:15A, 10:15B or 10:15C.

Readoption of N.J.A.C. 10:15 is essential for the efficient and effective administration of the CCDBG and ARCC programs by the county child care agencies. Failure to readopt this chapter will jeopardize receipt of program services for those eligible, could result in loss of Federal funds to the Department, leave the county designated child care agencies without proper guidance in the administration of this program and realize a significant loss of revenue to the contracted county designated child care agencies and to the community based child care providers, since the rules are essential for proper administration of the programs in accordance with the Federal regulations. The recipient families would also realize a negative economic impact in the failure to readopt this chapter. If ARCC eligible families did not continue to receive child care assistance from this program, they would immediately become at risk of losing employment and therefore become eligible for the AFDC program and thus lose their self-sufficiency. If assistance from the CCDBG program were unavailable, these families, while they are not quite as economically vulnerable as the families eligible for ARCC, may opt for less costly forms of child care or may not be able to retain employment or participation in their training/education activity.

Regulatory Flexibility Statement

These rules have been reviewed with regard to the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq. These rules and amendments impose no reporting, recordkeeping or other compliance requirements on small businesses. A regulatory flexibility analysis is not required, inasmuch as these rules govern a child care service program, designed to provide assistance to low and moderate income families who are employed and/or participating in training or educational activities, administered by a governmental agency which contracts with county based child care agencies, rather than a private business establishment.

PROPOSALS*Interested Persons see Inside Front Cover*HUMAN SERVICES

Full text of the proposed readoption may be found in the New Jersey Administrative Code at N.J.A.C. 10:15, 10:15A, 10:15B, 10:15C, as amended and supplemented by the New Jersey Register.

Full text of the proposed amendments follows (additions indicated in boldface thus; deletions indicated in brackets [thus]).

10:15-1.1 Purpose and scope

(a) (No change.)

(b) The child care service programs, described herein, [are] were made available originally through block grant monies of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act (OBRA) of 1990, Public Law 101-508. The block grant child care service programs are: The Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) At-Risk Child Care (ARCC) Program as implemented originally by Section 5081 of OBRA 1990; and the Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG) Act of 1990 as implemented originally by Section 5082 of OBRA 1990. Through the original and subsequent allocations, [Those] funds are offered by the Administration of Children and Families (ACF), U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, to states with approved State Plans to increase the availability, affordability, and quality of child care.

(c) The AFDC At-Risk Program (also known as IV-A At-Risk Program) and the CCDBG eligibility requirements, specific for each of those funding streams, are described at N.J.A.C. 15B-1 and 10:15B-2 respectively. DHS shall operate these child care service programs through the coordination efforts of [its Office of Child Care Development in conjunction with existing Departmental programs available through] its Divisions of Youth and Family Services (DYFS) and Family Development (DFD), as described in rules set forth at N.J.A.C. 10:81 and 10:82. The policy provisions and terms in this chapter are general provisions which are applicable throughout all chapters N.J.A.C. 10:15A, 10:15B and 10:15C on child care services through the Department of Human Services.

1.-2. (No change.)

(d) New Jersey has the opportunity to expand, improve and develop child care services for the families of this State. A primary objective of the New Jersey Department of Human Services (NJ DHS) is to offer families comprehensive child care services that will enable them to secure or maintain employment and thus become self-sufficient from public assistance benefit programs. Additionally, both the IV-A "At-Risk" and the CCDBG programs emphasize the availability of child care services for families under DYFS' Child Protective Services (CPS) supervision. For families serving as substitute care settings for protective services children (foster care) identified by DYFS, the CCDBG program emphasizes the availability of child care services. Such families must satisfy the eligibility criteria for those programs. Based on its extensive experience in child care and early education programs, the Department of Human Services sets forth the following principles for a comprehensive [child care] delivery system of child care services in the State.

1.-10 (No change.)

11. The Department promotes the development of employer-supported child care. DYFS[, in conjunction with the Department's Office of Child Care Development, continues to work with the Department of Community Affairs' Division on Women and the New Jersey Task Force on Employer-Supported Child Care in directing a program of information-sharing and technical assistance to promote the creation and expansion of employer-supported child care resources] provides technical assistance and consultation services to public/private/volunteer advocacy organizations seeking to promote employer-supported child care services throughout the State.

(e) Nothing in these rules shall be construed as conferring on [an applicant or recipient of] a parent/applicant receiving child care services an entitlement to those services. If the fiscal or other resources necessary for child care service provision to [an applicant/recipient] a parent/applicant are unavailable, that individual shall not be deemed to have a right to such services and the individual and the county designated agency shall be released from all obligations for those services under these rules.

(f) (No change.)

(g) Each county shall coordinate child care service programs with units of local government; existing child care resource and referral agencies; with early childhood education programs in the county, including Head Start programs; preschool programs funded under Chapter 1 of the Education Consolidation and Improvement Act of 1981 (public Law 97-35); school and nonprofit child care programs (including community-based organizations receiving funds designated for preschool programs for [handicapped] disabled children); with organizations sponsoring before-and-after school activities; with the REACH/JOBS/FDP program; DYFS contracted centers; private providers; sectarian providers; and with Federal and/or State demonstration programs, such as the [Urban Pre-Kindergarten Pilot] Goodstarts program, the REACH/JOBS Capital Expansion Program, and the Mini-Child Care Center program.

10:15A-1.1 Child Care Service Program availability

(a) As funding and Federal criteria permit, and to [To] the extent that such child care is necessary to permit an ARCC eligible family member to accept employment or to remain employed, or to permit a CCDBG eligible family to obtain or participate in work/training or educational activities, child care service benefits are available based on the individual needs of each family. Additionally, child care services are also available for [protective services children identified] children under DYFS child protective services (CPS) supervision including children in foster care also supervised by DYFS, if child care services are necessary as part of the child's treatment plan [, and for protective services children in substitute care settings under the custody of DYFS]. Payments through the child care service programs for child care shall not be made for care provided by the child's own parents, legal guardians, or members of the [applicant's] child's family unit, on the basis of their responsibility of caring for their own child(ren). Child care service programs include the IV-A "At-Risk" Program (see N.J.A.C. 10:15B-1) and the Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG) Program (see N.J.A.C. 10:15B-2). [Other child care service programs offered through DHS are set forth at 10:81-4.18.]

1.-2. (No change.)

3. The waiting list shall be kept by the county designated agency according to the dates the application was received by the agency and the family was determined to be eligible to receive services from the program, [and] by priority group status (see N.J.A.C. 10:15B-1.1(c) [and], 2.1(e)), and by the family's annual gross income level (see N.J.A.C. 10:15B-1.2(b) and 2.2(b)).

4. The waiting list shall be reviewed and waiting list families re-evaluated for service when resources are available. If the family who is next on the waiting list remains eligible and is unable to utilize the [vacancy] subsidy when it [occurs] becomes available, the agency proceeds to the next family on the list.

[5. Names shall be retained on the list for one year. At the end of the year, the family is to be contacted (if not contacted previously) to make a new application for services if still interested and if in need of child care.]

[6.]5. Families found eligible to participate who are provided ARCC or CCDBG services shall [be retained in child care] receive a child care subsidy for up to 12 consecutive months without a redetermination of eligibility if the need for the service remains, the program eligibility criteria are met, and resources remain available.

i. A child shall not [be retained in child care] continue to receive a subsidy if the need for service no longer exists.

v. The parent is unwilling or unable to pay, and to pursue payment would place the child, the siblings or the case plan in jeopardy.

2. Additionally, no co-payment is required for purposes of other Departmental child care programs if the family has children in care through the CCDBG or IV-A At-Risk programs and the family is making a co-payment for two children under either of these child care program requirements.

(b) A co-payment scale established by the Department of Human Services will provide for some level of contribution by most [recipients of] parent/applicants receiving child care. The co-payment scale shall consider: family income, family size, [number of children], hours of care needed, and number of children in care. The co-payment scale is set forth at N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.1(d).

(c) Individuals who fail to cooperate in paying the required co-payment will, subject to appropriate notice requirements and [hearing requirements], if requested, a case or an administrative review as set forth at N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.1(f), lose eligibility for child care benefits for so long as back co-payments are owed, unless satisfactory arrangements are made with each provider to make full payment of arrearages.

(d) [Children] In the CCDBG program, children under the child protective services (CPS) supervision of DYFS [supervision and placed with a caretaker family] , including foster care children, shall not be terminated from services until:

1. The referring DYFS District Office (DO) or [community referral agency] Adoption Resource Center (ARC) has been notified;

2. [Alternate] The referring DO and/or ARC maintains the responsibility for making alternate child care arrangements [have been made] as deemed appropriate; and

3. (No change.)

(a) (No change.)

(b) Child care assistance is also available to a [protective service] child who is under the child protective services of DYFS and who resides [with a family] in their own home with their parents whose income meets the definition of low income as set forth in N.J.A.C. 10:15B-1.2(b).

(c) Services shall be provided to the extent of the State's entitlement to Federal monies, by targeting those most "at risk" of becoming AFDC-dependent. Groups identified as most "at risk" for participation include:

1. Families who are former AFDC recipients and who have completed their 12-months of REACH/JOBS/FDP transitional child care eligibility (see N.J.A.C. 10:81-14.18);

2. Families who are ineligible for Federal REACH/JOBS/FDP transitional child care benefits; of the SMI for a family of the same size. (The SMI for states is published by the Federal Administration for Children and Families in the Federal Register. The SMI was last published in the Federal Register, Vol. 53, No. 64, April 4, 1988. Subsequent updates to the SMI will be published as a public notice by the Department in the New Jersey Register.)

1. Families with "very low income" are defined as families with incomes at or below [200] 185 percent of the Federal Poverty Income Guidelines, as determined by family size.

[4. Children from families receiving assistance under the Title IV-A "At-Risk" Child Care Program who are at-risk of becoming ineligible for that child care service assistance, due to an increase in earnings, and who continue to need child care services in order to remain in full-time employment.]

10:15B-2.2 Eligibility for CCDBG Program

(h) The child(ren) shall reside with a family where one parent is working or attending a training/education program and the other parent is incapacitated, as defined in N.J.A.C. 10:15-1.2.

10:15C-1.1 Co-payment procedures

(a) All eligible families shall pay a fee toward the cost of child care services. This fee is termed a co-payment.

1. The exception to the co-payment requirement exists in the CCDBG program when the child is identified as [a] under DYFS child protective services [child by DYFS] supervision (see N.J.A.C. 10:15-1.2), including foster care. [who is living in a substitute care setting under the custody of DYFS. No co-payment is determined for such children. Additionally, no co-payment is required for purposes of the other Departmental child care programs (for example, the Social Services Block Grant (SSBG) child care program) if the family has children in care through IV-A At Risk or CCDBG and the family is making a co-payment for two children under that program's Requirements; the county designated agency shall verify and document the facts concerning co-payment circumstances under the IV-A At Risk or CCDBG program. The county designated agency shall make contact with the appropriate agency(s) in the county assessing co-payment for the other respective Departmental child care program and inform that agency that the requirement for the co-payment has been met under either the CCDBG or IV-A At Risk program.] The co-payment for CPS children including foster care may be waived on a case by case basis in the CCDBG program; such a waiver is granted by the DYFS District Office (DO) or the DYFS Adoption Resource Center (ARC) as delineated in N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.5(a).

2. Additionally, no co-payment is required for purposes of the other Departmental child care programs (for example, the Social Services Block Grant (SSBG) child care program) if the family has children in care through IV-A At-Risk or CCDBG and the family is making a co-payment for two children under that program's requirements. The county designated agency shall verify and document the facts concerning co-payment circumstances under the IV-A At-Risk and CCDBG program. The county designated agency shall make contact with the appropriate agency(s) in the county assessing co-payment for the other respective Departmental child care programs and inform that agency that the requirement for the co-payment has been met under either the CCDBG or IV-A At-Risk program.

(b) By the adoption of a Statewide co-payment scale for child care service programs provided to families, the programs seek to:

1. [Enable] In accordance with the eligibility criteria of CCDBG or IV-A At Risk, enable an eligible family to accept and maintain employment and/or to participate in work/training or educational activities through child care service program aid or to provide child care services to a child in protective services [child], including foster care, as identified by DYFS;

2. (No change.)

3. Require that all [recipient] families [of] receiving child care service program benefits [(with the exception of protective service children living in substitute care settings under the custody of DYFS)] be assessed and/or pay a portion of the cost of care based on ability to pay, as required by the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1990 (Public Law 100-508). However, the co-payment for CPS children, including foster care, may be waived on a case by case basis in the CCDBG program; such a waiver is granted by the DYFS District Office (DO) or DYFS Adoption Resource Center (ARC) as delineated at N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.5(a).

(c) The co-payment assessed for the family is compiled into one monthly fee for the entire family. Once assessed, the total monthly co-payment is deducted from the amount to be paid by the county child care agency to [the] only one provider [by the Program] rendering services to the family (see N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.3). This assessed co-payment for child care services is then paid directly by the parent/applicant to the provider of care; any remaining balance of the cost of care, up to the maximum rates established by the Department (see N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.2(c)), is paid by the [Program] county child care agency. The child care co-payment policy and procedures are applicable for all types of care arrangements available through the child care service programs including:

1.-5. (No change.)

(d) The amount of the required co-payment is based on the family's annual gross income level, family size, [number of children] hours of care needed, and number of children in care. Assessed co-payments are apportioned [weekly] monthly and are due for the entire period of time that subsidized child care assistance is received. Holidays, emergency closings, [and] absences, and starting or ending dates of child care falling within any part of the month do not exclude or reduce the required monthly co-payment. There are two co-payment scales:

Tables I and II (No change.)

(e) The criteria for determination and re-determination of the co-payment are as follows:

1. Family size, which consists of the parent/applicant, the parent's/applicant's spouse and all children for whom the parent/applicant is a legal guardian. Family size may also include dependent children who are over the age of 18 or other adults who are not legally responsible for the children but who are dependent upon the parent/applicant if the parent/applicant so chooses to include these family members in the application for child care services.

2. Family income, which includes all gross earned and unearned income received by all members of the family unit defined in (e)1[i] above. The gross annual family income amount must be verified by wage stubs or similar documentation as a condition of receiving child care benefits; and

(f) Once the co-payment is determined, it will remain unchanged for the duration of the eligibility period (up to 12 months) unless there is [an increase] a change in family size, [a reduction in] gross family income or a change in care from full-time to part-time or vice versa. The participant must notify the county designated agency of any changes occurring in the family related to family size, income, work status or training/educational program attendance. The county designated agency shall then determine any changes in the co-payment based on reported circumstances affecting co-payment calculation.

1. An exception shall be made in the case of co-payment for school-age children. The county designated agency will determine a part-time co-payment in accordance with (e) above, for all school-age children, unless the school-age child is in full-time child care for the entire period of the 12 months Parent/Applicant/Provider Agreement. Only in this instance, the co-payment determination will be based on the full-time arrangement.

(g) The co-payment assessment is based on up to two children in care in a family. If more than two children in a family are in care, no co-payment is required for the third and subsequent children in the family. The co-payment is determined on a per [week] month basis. [If a family has child(ren) in another of the Departmental child care programs, the county designated agency shall contact the appropriate agency concerning the child care program to determine the final co-payment amount for both programs.]

10:15C-1.2 Process for co-payment assessment

(a) The [weekly] monthly co-payment is based on whether the care is full-time or part-time care, on the number of children (up to two per family) in the family needing such care through the program, and on the family's annual gross income level.

(b) If only one child is in care, the [weekly] monthly co-payment is the payment which results from Table I or Table II at N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.1(d). That co-payment is assessed on that family's size, the family's annual gross income, and whether the care is full-time or part-time care for that child, resulting in the co-payment from Table I or Table II.

(c) If two or more children in the family receive child care services through the Program, the [weekly] monthly co-payment amount is a [composite] total payment for up to two children in the family receiving such services. The [weekly] monthly co-payment sum equals the full co-payment assessed for the first child from Table

I or Table II, plus one-half of the full assessed co-payment for the second child in care from Table I or Table II. The two children are selected for determination of the co-payment from all children in the family in care, based first, on the number of children in the family in full-time care arrangements.

1. If two or more children in the family are in full-time care arrangements, the full co-payment amount is assessed on two children in full-time care. A full co-payment amount is assessed for the first child in full-time care from Table I; to that co-payment amount is added one-half of the full-time co-payment amount for the second child in full-time care from Table I. The resulting [composite] total monthly co-payment equals one and one-half of the full-time co-payment amount from Table I based on the family's size and annual income level.

2. If at least one child in the family is in a full-time care arrangement and the second and subsequent children are in part-time care arrangements, the full [weekly] monthly co-payment amount is assessed from Table I on the first child in full-time care; to that co-payment amount is added one-half of the part-time co-payment amount from Table II for the second child in part-time care. The resulting [composite] total monthly co-payment equals the full-time co-payment assessed amount from Table I plus one-half of the part-time co-payment amount from Table II.

3. If all children in the family are in part-time care arrangements, the full [weekly] monthly co-payment amount is based on up to two children in care and is one and one-half times the part-time co-payment amount from Table II for the family's size and income amount.

10:15C-1.3 Provider's receipt of co-payment

(a) The [composite] total monthly co-payment is paid to only one provider of care based on the care arrangements of the family. That is, the [composite] total monthly co-payment is paid in total to the provider of the highest cost of care arrangement (that is, either the full-time care provider or the provider with the highest reimbursement rate per category of care). The following situations may result and the co-payment shall be distributed as follows:

1. (No change.)

2. If one child is receiving child care services through the Program but more than one provider is involved in giving care, the co-payment from Table I or Table II is paid by the [recipient] parent/applicant to that child care provider who provides the highest cost care arrangement (see (a) above).

3. When two children are receiving child care services from the same provider, the [composite] total monthly co-payment amount is determined in accordance with N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.2(c) above, and the sum total is paid by the [recipient] parent/applicant to that provider of care. The [composite] total monthly co-payment is based on the respective [type] hours of care (full-time or part-time) provided each child; the full assessed co-payment fee from Table I or Table II for the first child is added to one-half of the full assessed fee from Table I or Table II for the second child in care with the provider, for the total co-payment amount.

4. When both children are receiving different child care services from separate providers, the child care provider who provides either full-time care or receives the highest reimbursement rate per category of care, will receive from the [recipient] parent/applicant the full amount of the [composite] total monthly co-payment assessed for both children from Table I or Table II based on the respective type of care provided (full-time or part-time care) for both children.

5. When both children are receiving the same child care services but from different providers (for example both receiving full-time care) the provider assessed at the highest cost of care arrangement receives the full [composite] monthly assessed co-payment from the [recipient] parent/applicant.

6. When a family has a child(ren) receiving child care services from the voucher program and another Departmental child care program(s), the county designated agency shall contact the appropriate agency to inform them that the family is receiving assistance from the voucher program. In these situations, the provider receiving a subsidy on behalf of the eligible children in the voucher program shall receive the total family monthly co-payment.

(b) (No change.)

[(c) Co-payments shall be rounded down to the nearest dollar.]

(c) The county designated agency will determine a part-time co-payment for all school-age children, in accordance with N.J.A.C. 10:15C-1.1(e), unless the school-age child is in full-time child care for the entire period of the 12 month Parent/Applicant/Provider Agreement. In this instance, the co-payment determination will be based on the full-time arrangement.

10:15C-1.4 Collection, reporting and monitoring of the co-payment; notice of termination

(a) The child care [voucher process will be used by the provider to report child care co-payment collection and] provider will be responsible for the collection and reporting of all nonpayment of the co-payment fee(s) to the county designated agency. [Co-payments are not required for protective service children identified by DYFS who are living in a substitute care setting.]

(b) The county designated agency is responsible for advising the provider and the [parent/guardian] parent/applicant of the co-payment requirement, for training the provider and the [parent/guardian] parent/applicant in voucher completion, and for advising both the provider and the [parent/guardian] parent/applicant of the consequences of failure to make the required co-payments.

(c) Co-payment collection, monitoring, and procedures for late payment or nonpayment of co-payments and termination of child care benefits are as follows:

1. It is the responsibility of the child care [service] provider to collect co-payments and report nonpayment of co-payments to the county designated agency in accordance with Departmental procedures. Whenever the child care co-payment has not been paid to the provider [by the end of the voucher service period,] as required, the co-payment is considered unpaid.

i. In the event of nonpayment of the co-payment by the participant, the provider will [complete the voucher, indicate on the voucher] provide notice to the county designated agency indicating the child(ren) for whom the participant failed to pay the required co-payment and [return the voucher to the county designated agency] the total amount owed by the participant. This action by the provider will initiate the process for terminating child care benefits.

ii. (No change.)

2. It is the responsibility of the county designated agency to monitor co-payment collection by [examining the completed vouchers returned by providers and] responding to all notices of nonpayment of co-payments which are reported [on the voucher] by the provider.

3. Following receipt of a [voucher] notice from a provider indicating nonpayment of the assessed co-payment by the participant, the county designated agency worker shall:

i.-ii. (No change.)

4. The purpose of the letter in (c)3ii above is to provide written notice to:

i. Advise the [parent/guardian] parent/applicant of the amount of assessed co-payment monies which have not been paid;

ii. Advise the [parent/guardian] parent/applicant of the right to request and obtain a [hearing] case or administrative review;

iii. (No change.)

iv. Serve as written confirmation for the provider and the county designated agency that child care services will be terminated due to the late or nonpayment status of the [parent or guardian] parent/applicant; and

v. Advise the [parent/guardian] parent/applicant to pay the required co-payment arrearages and to contact the county designated agency immediately if overdue co-payment(s) have been paid so that benefits may be continued.

5. Three copies of the notification of termination letter must be completed and signed by the agency worker. The agency worker will:

i. Send the original to the [parent or guardian] parent/applicant;

ii. (No change.)

iii. Retain an agency copy [in the parent or guardian's file].

6. [Protective] In the CCDBG program child protective services children including foster care children identified by DYFS shall not be terminated until the conditions at N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.5(d) are met.

7. When child care services are terminated due to nonpayment of the co-payment, the [parent or guardian] parent/applicant of a child receiving child care services [retains the right to] may request a [hearing of the agency] case or administrative review. If child care services are terminated, no payment shall be rendered by the agency under the program from the date of termination until a [hearing] review is held [by the agency] and a final determination is made (see N.J.A.C. 10:15A-1.1(f)).

i. In all cases where a [hearing] case review is requested of the county designated agency, the agency must adhere to [its] the established procedures of the program. If the issue is not resolved through the due process proceedings at the county designated agency level, [a fair hearing] an administrative review may be requested at [the Divisional level in accordance with DFD hearing procedures at N.J.A.C. 10:81-6] DFD for those participants receiving care through the certificate (voucher) process or a fair hearing through DYFS for those receiving care through contracted child care services (see N.J.A.C. 10:120-3).

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

On March 29, 1993, the Family Support Act, P.L. 1993, c.98, was signed into law. The law requires that the Division of Developmental Disabilities, within the Department of Human Services, create a system of family support that is flexible, coordinated, family-driven and designed to strengthen and promote families that provide care at home for a loved one with a developmental disability.

Because the family is so important, one of the best possible uses of society's resources is to support families. Family support makes it possible for many families to get support services in their home that in the past were not available.

Family support is not a single service, but a varied network of supports that can change with individual family needs. Since no two families or persons with disabilities are exactly alike, the supports needed by one family might differ greatly from that needed by another family.

The family support system shall include, but not be limited to, after-school care; cash subsidies; communication and interpreter services; counseling services; crisis intervention; day care; equipment and supplies; estate and transition planning; home and vehicle modification; home health services; homemaker assistance; housing assistance; medical and dental care; parent education and training; personal assistance services; recreation services; respite care for families; self-advocacy training; service coordination; specialized diagnosis and evaluation; specialized nutrition and clothing; therapeutic or nursing services; transportation; voucher services; and other services identified by the family.

The proposed new rules will change the way families receive support services from the Division. The Statewide family support policy must acknowledge that families themselves are able to define their own needs and select their own services within available resources. Families, through the Regional Family Support Planning Councils, will decide what family support services are needed in their area or region and make recommendations to the Division of Developmental Disabilities.

N.J.A.C. 10:46A-1.1 describes the purpose and authority of the rules. It states that the Division of Developmental Disabilities in conjunction with the New Jersey Developmental Disabilities Council, must create a system of family support that is flexible and designed to strengthen and promote families that provide care at home for a family member with a developmental disability.

It notes that a Statewide family support policy must acknowledge that families themselves are able to define their own needs and select their own services; within available resources, family supports must be chosen by the families, controlled by families and monitored by families.

It also states that the amounts of funds for family support services shall be subject to the funding available in the current fiscal year.

N.J.A.C. 10:46A-1.2 indicates that the rules apply to eligible persons with developmental disabilities and/or their families. The provisions of the rules also apply to agencies under contract with or regulated by the Division, within the Department of Human Services.

N.J.A.C. 10:46A-1.3 contains the definitions used in the rules.

N.J.A.C. 10:46A-2.1 outlines the criteria for eligibility.

N.J.A.C. 10:46A-2.2 states who may apply for family support services.

N.J.A.C. 10:46A-2.3 states where and how to request family support services. It states how families are notified of the decision regarding the request for family support services. It also states how to appeal a family support service decision.

N.J.A.C. 10:46A-3.1 details the role and responsibilities of the Family Support Coordinator.

N.J.A.C. 10:46A-4.1 describes the composition requirements of the membership of the Regional Family Support Planning Councils.

N.J.A.C. 10:46A-4.2 outlines the responsibilities of the Regional Family Support Planning Councils.

N.J.A.C. 10:46A-4.3 describes the composition requirements of the membership and responsibilities of the Statewide Family Support Council.

Social Impact

The Division currently serves approximately 18,000 individuals with developmental disabilities. Due to the lack of supports and services needed in the home, many families have no alternative but to place their family member with a developmental disability out of the home.

The proposed new rules are expected to have a positive social impact in that they will afford families a greater control over the type of family support services they receive and allow their family member with a developmental disability to stay at home longer than might otherwise be possible.

Economic Impact

The proposed new rules will have a positive economic impact on individuals with a developmental disability and the families who take care of the individual in their own homes.

The proposed new rules are not a new program but a systems change. Under this systems change, individuals with developmental disabilities and their families now will choose, control and monitor their own family supports.

No funds have been allocated for this act. In Fiscal Year 1994, the Division spent approximately $12 million to provide supports to both individuals and families. The Division anticipates the same dollar amount for Fiscal Year 1995. Since the act only refers to family supports, the Division will segregate those funds that are allocated to individual supports from the total.

HUMAN SERVICES

PROPOSALS

Families that reside in New Jersey and meet eligibility requirements of the DDD as set forth in N.J.A.C. 10:46 and the income, need and other criteria established by the Commissioner, Department of Human Services, will be eligible for Family Support services.

Regulatory Flexibility Statement

In addition to affecting the way in which the Division of Developmental Disabilities will deliver family support services, approximately 800 private service providers, under contract with, or regulated by, the DDD will be affected by the proposed new rule, some of whom may be classified as small businesses pursuant to the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq.

The proposed new rules permit families and individuals with a developmental disability to choose, control and monitor their own support services, and the provider agencies will now be required to deliver the services determined by the families to be necessary, not what the providers determine necessary. To the extent this focus changes what providers do, the providers will be affected.

Because of an overriding concern for the welfare, safety and health of individuals with a developmental disability and their families, the Department will not exempt any small businesses from compliance with the proposed new rule.

Full text of the proposed new rules follows:

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

The amendments, upon adoption, will eliminate reimbursement to providers for services primarily for the diagnosis and treatment of infertility. These services include such procedures as sterilization reversals, and related office (clinic or medical) visits, drugs, laboratory services, radiological and diagnostic services, and other surgical procedures. The amendments do not impact the reimbursement to hospitals, special hospitals, independent clinics, physicians, certified nurse midwives, and independent clinical laboratories for services related to family planning, contraceptive and genetic counseling procedures.

Family planning includes medical history and physical examination (including pelvis and breast), diagnostic and laboratory tests, drugs and biologicals, medical supplies and devices, counseling, continuing medical supervision, continuity of care and genetic counseling. Federal regulations (42 CFR 440.40(c) and 42 CFR 440.250(c)) allow States latitude in defining family planning services to include only those services which either prevent or delay pregnancy, or more broadly, to define the term to include services for the treatment of infertility.

The New Jersey Medicaid program presently provides family planning services including the diagnosis and treatment for infertility-related services. The elimination of services related to infertility will impact upon both the categorically needy and the Medically Needy Medicaid recipient.

A review of the Division's policy and input from the public and other affected agencies, has lead the Division to reconsider its policy in this area. Therefore, the Division is proceeding with these proposed amendments to implement a change in the Medicaid coverage of infertility-related services. The Medical Assistance Advisory Council (MAAC) of the Division of Medical Assistance and Health Services also indicated that they support the recommendation that the Division discontinue paying for infertility services.

The amendments cover each manual which covers rules for providers who provide infertility-related services. The Administration chapter is included in the proposal, as it lists the overall services that are provided by the New Jersey Medicaid program.

It is understood that many of the infertility-related services are also provided for conditions other than primarily to diagnose and treat infertility. When an office (clinic or medical) visit, drug, laboratory service, radiology service, diagnostic service, or surgical procedure is provided for conditions other than primarily for the diagnosis and treatment of infertility, the New Jersey Medicaid program will continue to reimburse claims for these services. Providers must submit for medical review and the approval of payment, claims for services which, although used primarily for the treatment of infertility, may also be used for treatment of unrelated diseases and conditions.

Social Impact

The impact of these amendments is primarily social. The amendments, when adopted, will eliminate Medicaid reimbursement for infertility-related services. In the future, a Medicaid recipient will be required to pay for medical services provided primarily for the treatment of infertility. Medicaid reimbursement for other family planning services, including contraceptive and genetic counseling, will continue.

Economic Impact

Medicaid recipients are not required to pay towards the costs of Medicaid-covered services. If the service is a non-covered Medicaid service, payment for the service is between the patient and the provider. Since services provided primarily for the diagnosis and treatment of infertility will no longer be Medicaid covered services, the Medicaid recipient will be financially liable for the cost of these services.

It is anticipated that there will be a reduction of expenditures to the Medicaid program. For calendar year 1993, the Division expended $352,414, determined through a 1993 claims processing review, for medical, surgical and laboratory services, and $171,152 for infertility drugs. Since Federal share represents a 90 percent match on these services, State expenditures totaled $52,356.

The impact on Medicaid providers should be minimal, since the total expenditures for infertility services were dispersed over several provider types.

Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

An undeterminable number of physicians, independent clinics, certified nurse-midwives, hospitals, special hospitals, pharmacies, and independent laboratories who provide infertility-related services are affected by these proposed amendments as defined under the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq. The proposed amendments impose record keeping or other compliance requirements on these small businesses. Medical providers are presently required to document the procedures and treatments provided. In addition, providers who provide services that are the same as those provided for the treatment of infertility, but are provided for conditions/diseases other than the diagnosis and treatment of infertility will be reconsidered for reimbursement by documentation of medical justification of the treatment.

There is no differentiation in the proposed amendments based on the size of the provider who provides infertility-related services. These providers are required to have or obtain sufficient professional personnel to provide for patient care.

There should be no capital costs associated with these amendments.

Explanation of indicators and qualifiers used in this column are given below: "A" preceding any procedure code indicates that these tests can be and are frequently done as groups and combinations (profiles) on automated equipment. "F" preceding any procedure code indicates that the code primarily for the diagnosis and treatment of infertility, and therefore, is not covered by the New Jersey Medicaid program, in accordance with N.J.A.C. 10:61-1.3(d). "L" preceding any procedure code indicates that the complete narrative for the code is located in the Appendix A of this Pathology and Laboratory section. "M" preceding any procedure code indicates that this service is a medical necessity procedure. Refer to Appendix D of this Pathology and Laboratory section. "N" preceding any procedure code indicates that qualifiers are applicable to that code. These qualifiers are listed by procedure code number in Appendix B of this Pathology and Laboratory section.

HCPCS CODE	Lists the HCPCS procedure code numbers.
MOD	Lists alphabetic and numeric symbols. Services and procedures may be modified under certain circumstances. When applicable, the modifying circumstance should be identified by the addition of alphabetic and/or numeric characters at the end of the code. The New Jersey Medicaid Program's recognized modifier codes are listed at N.J.A.C. 10:61-3.5.
DESCRIP-TION	Lists the code narrative. (Narratives for Level I codes are found in CPT-4. Narratives for Level II and Level III codes are found at N.J.A.C. 10:61-3.3).
MAXIMUM FEE ALLOW-ANCE	Lists New Jersey Medicaid Program's maximum reimbursement schedule for Pathology and Laboratory services. If the symbols "B.R." (By Report) are listed instead of a dollar amount, it means that additional information will be required in order to properly evaluate the service. The agency proposal follows:

Summary

The proposed amendment deals with recoveries that are an administrative matter between the county welfare agencies (CWAs) and the Division of Medical Assistance and Health Services (DMAHS). DMAHS' current policy is to provide CWAs an incentive payment of 25 percent of any amount recovered with their assistance for DMAHS as a result of improperly granted medical assistance (to a recipient) discovered pursuant to the Unearned Income component of the Income and Eligibility Verification System (IEVS). In essence, the IEVS system has several computer matches, one of which includes unearned income, such as interest. If the CWA obtains a recovery of improperly granted medical assistance, the CWA forwards the recovery to DMAHS and receives an incentive payment of 25 percent for its participation in the collection process.

However, the current policy does not allow for an incentive payment for a recovery of improperly granted medical assistance not generated as a result of the Unearned Income component of the IEVS system. DMAHS' policy, as indicated in N.J.A.C. 10:49-14.4(b)4, is to require the CWAs to make full repayment to DMAHS from the net proceeds of any recovery.

This amendment proposes to change this policy by applying the same 25 percent incentive payment to recoveries of improperly granted medical assistance that do not result from the Unearned Income component of the IEVS. Therefore, whenever the CWAs make a recovery of improperly granted medical assistance for DMAHS, they will receive an incentive payment of 25 percent of the gross recovery. The amendment should provide a much more efficient process, facilitating the recovery and payment process for DMAHS and the CWAs.

Exceptions for Non-IEVS payments received by CWAs on or after July 1, 1989 and IEVS payments received by either DMAHS or CWAs on or after July 1, 1989 have been added at N.J.A.C. 10:49-14.4(b)1 and 2.

Social Impact

This proposed amendment potentially impacts on that segment of the Medicaid population that has been improperly granted medical assistance because they, or those responsible for generating the overpayment, will be required to make repayment. The amendment impacts on CWAs who will effect and forward such collections to DMAHS of inappropriate

Medicaid expenditures due to improperly granted medical assistance. The CWAs will be paid 25 percent of the amount recovered, regardless of whether or not the improperly granted assistance was identified pursuant to the Unearned Income component of IEVS.

This amendment does not impact on Medicaid providers.

Economic Impact

This proposed amendment does not change DMAHS' policy with the CWAs regarding collecting incorrect medical assistance, which is currently in place. However, this amendment permits the CWAs to receive 25 percent of the gross reimbursement for recoveries not originating from the Unearned Income component of IEVS, which are made on behalf of DMAHS. Although the amount of additional recoveries which can be collected as a result of this incentive is unknown, it is anticipated that recoveries will increase, since the counties now should have greater incentive to pursue recovery.

Regulatory Flexibility Statement

The proposed amendments do not impact on small businesses as defined in the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16. Therefore, no regulatory flexibility analysis is required because small businesses are not affected. The "persons" affected are governmental agencies (DMAHS and county welfare agencies), Medicaid recipients, and potentially others responsible for the improperly granted medical assistance. These "persons" would not be considered small businesses.

(b) The following pertain to incorrectly granted assistance (cash and/or medical assistance):

5. In addition, the CWA shall retain 10 percent of the gross amount of the recovery up to $250.00. The CWA shall] remit the [remaining] proceeds to DMAHS. The reimbursement to DMAHS shall be payable to the Treasurer, State of New Jersey[.], who will then reimburse the CWA in the amount of 25 percent of the gross recovery on a periodic basis to be determined by DMAHS.

6. When any CWA action, whether alone or in combination with DMAHS, results in a recovery of improperly granted medical assistance from a case generated by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) unearned income component of the IEVS match, all funds recovered shall be remitted to DMAHS payable to the Treasurer, State of New Jersey, which shall then reimburse the CWA in the amount of 25 percent of the gross recovery on a periodic basis to be determined by DMAHS.

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

These proposed amendments impact on both the New Jersey Medicaid (Title XIX) and PAAD programs. Currently, the New Jersey Medicaid program covers unit-dose packaged drugs provided to Medicaid recipients in an institutional setting. The New Jersey Medicaid program does not generally cover unit-dose packaged drugs provided to persons residing in the community. The proposed amendments will allow the New Jersey Division of Medical Assistance and Health Services to change its policy to allow coverage of unit-dose packaged drugs, if a unit-dose packaged drug is a unique product and is not otherwise available in the marketplace as a chemically-equivalent product. In these situations, the chemically equivalent product may be one of a different potency than the unit-dose packaged product. The Division does not intend to pay for a unit-dose packaged product, unless this is the only method of distribution of the drug available. The amendments apply to all persons residing in the community, including those residing in a boarding home or a residential care setting. The Division is adding the phrase "community-type setting" for clarification, to differentiate the requirements from those for nursing homes. The existing policies relating to the coverage of unit-dose packaged drugs for patients in nursing homes remain unchanged. In this type of setting, unit-dose packaged drugs are covered by the Medicaid and the PAAD programs.

Social Impact

There will be an impact on pharmacy providers because they will not be reimbursed for unit-dose packaging when a chemically equivalent product is available in non-unit-dose form, unless the product qualifies under N.J.A.C. 10:51-1.12(b)3i, 2.11(b)3i, and 4.13(b)4i.

There should be no impact on Medicaid or PAAD eligibles because they should still be able to get necessary pharmaceuticals.

Economic Impact

PAAD beneficiaries are still required to pay the $5.00 co-payment.

There is no charge to the Medicaid recipients.

It is anticipated that there will be no change in overall drug costs in State Fiscal Year 1995 by implementing this amendment, although charges for specific prescriptions may be reduced.

The proposed amendment changes an existing Division policy which limits coverage of unit-dose packaged drugs. In addition, the amendment limits coverage of new prescription drugs which are only marketed in unit-dose packages by manufacturers. Pharmacy providers will have to be aware of this policy when dispensing unit-dose medication.

Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

A regulatory flexibility analysis is required. The providers affected by this amendment are small businesses, such as retail pharmacies, as defined in the New Jersey Administrative Procedure Act, N.J.S.A.

52:14B-16 et seq. Pharmacy providers are already required to maintain sufficient records to indicate the name of the recipient to whom the service was rendered, the date of service, etc. (N.J.S.A. 30:4D-12). These amendments do not change the basic compliance requirements.

However, the proposed amendments may require pharmacies to increase their notification of prescribers to request a prescription change. A hard copy prescription would be generated for each change approved. There might be some additional capital costs associated with this proposal, because the pharmacies may have to modify their recordkeeping procedures; however, no additional professional services will be required. Since Federal Medicaid regulations require services available to any individual be equal in amount, duration and scope (see 42 CFR 240(b)), this requirement shall apply equally to all providers regardless of size of business, and no differentiation can be made.

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

The Department of Human Services (DHS) proposes to amend N.J.A.C. 10:73, which governs the provisions of case management services under the New Jersey Medicaid program. The objective of these amendments is threefold:

1. To change the billing unit for case management programs for mental health (CMP/MH) from one month to a "Unit of Service," 15 minute period. The basis for reimbursement will continue to be a fee-for-service;
2. To revise some of the requirements in order to accommodate the new billing methodology; and
3. To reword certain sections to clarify current Division policy.

Under the current methodology, providers bill for services rendered based on a monthly rate. This rate is an estimate of the average number of service hours required to provide case management services to chronically mentally ill individuals who are resistant to accessing appropriate medical, social and educational services.

At the end of the prior authorization period providers are required to reconcile the actual hours of service rendered against reimbursement received from the Medicaid program. In the event that the actual number of service hours rendered is less than the Medicaid reimbursement, providers are then required to remit the difference. This system of reconciliation and remittance has proven to be administratively burdensome to providers.

The proposed amendment seeks to simplify this billing procedure. It will require providers to bill for the number of units actually served at the time of billing, rather than receiving an estimated payment. In addition to reducing provider paperwork, this change will also adjust provider cash flow to more accurately reflect the actual amount of services that have been provided to clients. The proposed rule will not affect total reimbursement nor will it have an effect on service to clients. The amendment will simply more closely match reimbursements received to services rendered.

A summary of the proposed amendments follows:

1. N.J.A.C. 10:73-1.2: The definition of initial evaluation month is being replaced by initial evaluation services to reflect that providers will no longer bill on a monthly basis but on a date of service specific basis.
2. The definition of "unit of service" at N.J.A.C. 10:73-1.2 is also being revised to reflect that the new unit of service will be 15 minutes instead of an hour and providers will no longer be able to aggregate service contacts to meet the minimum requirements for a unit of service.
3. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.1(b) is being amended to reflect that CMP/MH case management services are not available to individuals in some recently added waiver programs. This is consistent with previous policy that individuals under the waivers or other special programs already receive case management services.

4. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.6(a): The responsibilities of the case manager supervisor are being deleted. These standards are established by the Division of Mental Health and Hospitals (DMH&H) and more appropriately belong in DMH&H regulations.

5. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.6(b) will be recodified as N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.6(a) in view of the deletion of the subsection dealing with the responsibilities of the case management supervisor.

6. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.6(b)2ii, 2iii, and 2iv are being changed to reflect the new billing methodology. This change also may allow liaison case managers some additional time to complete their responsibilities.

7. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.8(a): The basis of payment is being amended to reflect the billing unit of 15 minutes rather than the current monthly billing procedure. This is consistent with the revised "unit of service" definition.

8. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.8(a)1, 2, and 3 are being amended to replace the current five Health Care Financing Administration Common Procedure Coding System (HCPCS) codes, with three new ones to accommodate the new billing procedure. The Administrative Code references for the case management codes remain the same even though the number of codes are decreased from five to three. These are technical changes to accommodate the new billing procedure. In addition, we are adding text to indicate that for this program a child is an individual under the age of 18.

9. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.8(b) is being deleted since the policy reflecting monthly billing is being changed.

10. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.8(b)1 is being recodified in view of deletion of paragraph (b) and is being amended to reflect the use of the new procedure codes and to more clearly state the policy that a provider may only render one type of case management service at a time.

11. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.9(a) is being amended to reflect the new billing methodology.

12. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.9(b): The word "month" is being changed to "services," consistent with the terminology in this proposal.

13. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.9(b)1: The proposed amendment provides that billing for "units of service" are acceptable only when the client appears to meet the requirements for service, and continues the policy that initial evaluation services do not require prior authorization.

14. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.9(b)2: The proposed change from initial evaluation month to initial evaluation services is consistent with the technical changes of the new billing methodology.

15. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.9(b)3 and 3i: The proposed amendment to delete evaluation month and replace it with evaluation services is consistent with the new billing methodology being implemented. The change in policy requiring the provider to submit the prior authorization form within 45 days after rendering the initial reimbursable service, instead of the current one month following the month of initial services will allow in some cases additional time for providers to submit their prior authorization requests, but will shorten the time for others. Currently, providers may have from 31 to 60 days to submit the prior authorization request from the date of discharge. The change will make the time period in which a provider must submit a prior authorization request the same for each recipient.

16. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.9(b)4 is being changed as the initial evaluation month is no longer applicable. The revised language reflects a reduction in time allotted for initial evaluation services. This reduction is based on administrative experience which has shown that initial evaluation services were being adequately supplied in less than the allowable time.

17. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.10(b): The proposed amendment clarifies that risk levels are used to determine the number of "units of service" approved by DMH&H during a prior authorization period. This amendment clarifies current administrative policy and does not reflect a change in prior authorization policy.

18. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.10(b)1 is being deleted in view of the language added at N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.10(b) and also in order to be consistent with this proposed billing methodology.

19. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.10(b)2 is being recodified as paragraph (b)1 in view of deletion of the current paragraph (b)1.

20. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.10(b)2i is being recodified as subparagraph (b)1i in view of the proposed deletion of the current paragraph (b)1 and is being amended to include nursing facility (NF) residents as ineligible for case management services. This is in view of the fact that NF reimbursement already includes needed medical/social services.

HUMAN SERVICES

21. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.10(b)2ii is being recodified as subparagraph (b)1ii in view of proposed deletion of the current paragraph (b)1. In addition, revisions are proposed to clarify that Division policy is applicable if the recipient is hospitalized or admitted to a nursing facility (NF), and that claims for services post-discharge will not be honored without prior authorization if any previous prior authorization has lapsed.

22. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.10(b)3 is being amended to reflect that the current policies and procedures will continue to be applicable for services rendered prior to the implementation date of the new billing procedure. Providers will be notified via the rulemaking process and direct provider communication of the implementation date of the change in billing methodology.

23. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.11(b) through (f) is being reordered in order to provide a clearer understanding of current Division policy regarding liaison case management. In addition, subsection (d) reflects a change in policy by revising the existing rule to change the time period the provider is allowed to render liaison case management services from the month of discharge plus the month following discharge to 60 calendar days. This allows the provider increased flexibility in allocating resources to render these needed services.

24. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.11(g) is being recodified as subsection (h) and is being amended to reflect that the current reconciliation process is in effect for services rendered prior to the implementation of this proposal.

25. N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.12(a)1iv is being amended as the "units of service" definition and application to billing eliminates the requirement to specify the "aggregated, if needed" annotation in recordkeeping.

26. N.J.A.C. 10:73-3.2 is being amended to delete the old HCPCS codes and replace them with new HCPCS to accommodate the proposed billing procedure changes.

Social Impact

The proposed amendments to the existing rules will impact case management providers by reducing administrative burden. Likewise the administrative responsibilities of staff from the Divisions of Mental Health and Hospitals and Medical Assistance and Health Services will be reduced, in that the time spent analyzing reconciliations will be eliminated for future services. There will be no impact upon recipients of service, who are Medicaid eligible individuals in need of mental health services in the community.

Economic Impact

The proposed amendment will result in no significant economic impact upon recipients, providers or governmental agencies other than a reduction in administrative tasks. The proposed amendments are merely a change in methodology of billing for case management services, rather than a change in the amount of reimbursements received. The change in billing methodology should reduce the amount of time providers need to expend for billing purposes. Recipients will continue to receive these services free of charge.

Regulatory Flexibility Statement

The proposed amendments have been reviewed with regard to the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq. The proposed amendments impose no new reporting, recordkeeping, or other compliance requirements on small businesses. Medicaid providers are required to keep records to indicate the date of service, nature of service, patient(s) treated, and other information prescribed by regulation (N.J.S.A. 30:4D-12). The proposed amendments govern providers of CMP/MH service which could be either non-profit social service agencies, other types of case management provider entities, or hospital corporations. There are approximately 46 case management providers, of which many may be considered small businesses as defined in the Act.

Under current rules, providers are required to bill for services at one of the several monthly rates. At the conclusion of a period, the provider is required to reconcile actual services provided on an hourly basis to the amounts billed on a monthly basis. The proposed amendment will change the billing period from one month to a 15 minute period of time. Providers will then be billing based upon actual services delivered, rather than an estimated average, and will, therefore, no longer be required to reconcile payments received to services rendered. The proposed amendments may result in a decreased regulatory burden on the provider.

10:73-2.8 Basis of payment for CMP/MH services

(a) Reimbursement for services covered under the CMP/MH shall be determined by the Commissioner of the Department of Human Services. The provider of CMP/MH services shall be compensated on a [monthly] fee-for-service basis. Reimbursement is based upon HCPCS Codes as specified in N.J.A.C. 10:73-3.

10:73-2.9 Procedures for providing initial risk assessment and evaluation for CMP/MH services

(a) Under clinical case management, the provider shall conduct an initial risk evaluation on a prospective CMP/MH client during the initial client contact(s) to determine the "risk category" using a form approved by the Division of Mental Health and Hospitals (DMH&H). If the prospective client is found to be eligible for CMP/MH services, he or she shall be assigned to a risk category described in (a)1-3, below. The provider shall immediately initiate a request for authorization to provide services beyond the [first calendar month] initial evaluation services.

1.-3. (No change.)

(b) The following apply to the initial evaluation [month] services:

1. In order to facilitate the provision of services to the client while the initial risk evaluation is completed and the request for prior authorization is being evaluated, the initial [contact(s) and services] evaluation services may be provided [for one calendar month] without prior authorization. [The initial evaluation, risk assessment, and initial services within a calendar month shall be billed as "Initial Evaluation" using the appropriate HCPCS Codes as listed at N.J.A.C. 10:73-3.] Initial evaluation services shall only be provided to clients who appear to be in need of these services.

i. [An initial] Initial evaluation [month visit] services may be billed by the same provider for the same recipient if there has been a lapse of more than 12 calendar months since the last case management service was provided.

3. During the initial evaluation [month] services, the provider should [initiate and] submit [the request for prior authorization to DMH&H for future service units] form FD-365 (Prior Authorization Request) to DMH&H for future service units.

i. The request for prior authorization must be received by DMH&H not later than [one calendar month from the initial evaluation month] 45 days after providing the first initial evaluation service for which reimbursement is requested.

4. [A claim for an initial evaluation month will be reimbursed at the highest risk category rate within the CMP/MH rate structure. This will enable necessary services to be provided to the client.] Reimbursement for initial evaluation services shall not exceed 20 units of service.

10:73-2.10 Clinical case management services under CMP/MH

(a) (No change.)

(b) There are three levels (risk category) of clinical case management involvement based upon assessed risk of hospitalization, functional level, and willingness and/or ability to access needed services as defined by DMH&H. The three risk categories are: high risk, or intensive case management; at risk, or supportive case management; and low risk, or maintenance level case management (see N.J.A.C. 10:73-2.9). The Risk Levels determine the number of units of service approved by DMH&H during a prior authorization period.

[1. A minimum average "unit of service" shall be provided per month for each of the three codes for case management (high risk, at risk, and low risk) in order to earn reimbursement during the prior authorization period.

i. Initial evaluation month requires a minimum average of seven units of service per month.

ii. High risk (intensive case management involvement) requires a minimum average of seven units of service per month.

iii. At risk (supportive case management involvement) requires a minimum average of 3.5 units of service per month.

iv. Low risk (maintenance level case management involvement) requires a minimum average of two units of service per month.

v. Travel time shall not be included as part of the face-to-face time.

vi. Multiple contacts of less than one hour in duration may be aggregated to produce one unit of service.]

[2.]1. The following apply in recipient hospitalization or residency in Nursing Facility (NF) circumstances:

i. In the event a clinical case management recipient is hospitalized or admitted to a NF during a prior [authorized] authorization period, [for less than a full month, the case manager provider may bill for services for the entire month. The provider cannot bill for services for any month that the client remains in a hospital or an inpatient psychiatric program for an entire calendar month.] the Medicaid program shall not be charged for CMP/MH services rendered during the hospitalization or residency in a NF.

(1) (No change.)

(2) In the event a reassessment occurs following [a] hospitalization, or residency in a NF, appropriate documentation must be placed in the case file and, if the risk level has changed, a request for prior authorization for the new level of case management services must be forwarded to DMH&H, no later than 10 days after discharge. [The case manager cannot bill a new assessment month and, until a new risk level category is authorized,] Until then, the case manager must bill for continued services [and the post hospital discharge assessment] at the previously authorized risk [category] level.

ii. In the event a CMP/MH recipient's hospitalization or residency in a NF extends beyond a prior [authorized] authorization period, the provider shall request authorization from DMH&H to provide services post-discharge. Claims for [an] initial evaluation [month] services will not be processed if the recipient continues with the same provider. Claims for services post-discharge will not be honored without prior authorization.

(d) Liaison case management services shall be billed for the month of discharge and the month following discharge from an acute care hospital, psychiatric hospital, or inpatient psychiatric program discharge.

(e) Liaison case management shall be billed for each discharge from a hospital if services are provided. The provider cannot bill for services for any month that the client remains in a hospital or an inpatient psychiatric program for an entire calendar month.]

(b) Services listed in (a)1 to 4 above are reimbursed on a fee-for-service basis, not to exceed 16 units.

(c) Liaison case management services do not require prior authorization.

(d) Liaison case management services may be provided within 60 days of discharge from a hospital or inpatient psychiatric program.

(e) Liaison case management services may be billed for each discharge from a hospital, if services are provided.

(f) Liaison case management shall not be billed in conjunction with any other CMP/MH service.

(f) (No change in text.)

(g) The reconciliation process described at N.J.A.C. 10:73[2.10(b)3]2.10(b)2 with respect to clinical case management shall be required for liaison case management. The minimum average units of service to be provided are two units per month, post hospital discharge.

10:73-2.12 Recordkeeping for CMP/MH services

(a) Case management providers shall keep such individual records as are necessary to fully disclose the kind and extent of services provided to make sure such information is available as the DMA&HS or DMH&H, or its agents, may request.

1. The CMP/MH provider shall maintain the following data in support of all payment claims as required by the rules.

- i.-iii. (No change.)
- iv. The units of service [(aggregated, if needed)];
- v.-vii. (No change.)

10:73-3.1 Introduction

(a) The New Jersey Medicaid Program adopted the Health Care Financing Administration's (HCFA) Common Procedure Coding System (HCPCS). The HCPCS codes as listed in this subchapter are relevant to Medicaid case management services and must be used when filing a claim.

1.-3. (No change.)

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

The proposed new rule at N.J.A.C. 10:81-11.6A establishes the New Jersey Child Support Hotline and sets forth processing fees charged to the county welfare agencies (CWAs) for the use of the Child Support Hotline and the Federal Parent Locator Service (FPLS).

Proposed N.J.A.C. 10:81-11.6A(a) establishes the service of the New Jersey Child Support Hotline and requires that the CWAs be charged a fee for the use of this service. Federal regulations under 45 C.F.R. 302.54(b)(1) require that states send a monthly notice to all individuals who have assigned their support rights to the state, reporting the amount of child support collected for their case. Under 45 C.F.R. 302.54(c)(1)(i) and (ii), states are given the option to request a waiver to permit a state to provide a quarterly, rather than a monthly, notice if the state uses a toll-free automated voice response system which provides the information. New Jersey received Federal approval to implement this procedure and on May 11, 1992 the New Jersey Child Support Hotline was implemented on a Statewide basis.

The CWAs are charged for the hotline's 800 number, according to usage. The hotline will allow interested parties to obtain child support program information 24 hours a day, seven days a week in English or Spanish.

By dialing 1-800-621-KIDS, individuals can access the following information:

- Description of support services and how to apply;
- Information regarding emancipation, custody and visitation;
- Information regarding direct payments;
- Information regarding credit reporting;
- Information regarding the $50.00 disregard check;

HUMAN SERVICES*PROPOSALS

- Tax offset information; and
- Check and payment information.

Callers may also leave a message for a specific worker.

Proposed N.J.A.C. 10:81-11.6B requires that the CWAs be charged a fee for the use of FPLS in specific child support cases. The FPLS is a computerized network, through which the states may request location information from Federal and state agencies to find absent parents. Fees have been implemented for the use of FPLS in child support cases in which an assignment of support rights to the State is not required, non-IV-D locate-only cases, parental kidnapping cases and child custody cases.

Prior to the implementation of new Federal regulations at 45 C.F.R. 303.70(e), FPLS fees were charged only for on-IV-D locate-only cases, parental kidnapping cases and child custody cases. Although recipients of Aid to Families with Dependent Children, IV-E foster care and Medicaid are excluded from paying any fees as support rights are assigned to the State in these cases, former recipients are not excluded from paying the fee. The funds generated by FPLS fees will be used to reimburse the Federal government for the expense of operating the FPLS. The CWAs will be billed, on a quarterly basis, according to the number of cases meeting the billing criteria submitted.

The proposed amendment at N.J.A.C. 10:81-11.15(d) establishes the "quick locate" process that may be used for those interstate cases in which information indicates that the absent parent could be in one of several states. In those interstate cases, a request for "quick locate" is made directly to the State Parent Locator of each of the states the absent parent could be in. Requests for "quick locate" do not constitute an official interstate case. Because the case is not an interstate case, the requesting state must take the "quick locate" action within the 75 calendar day time frame as required by Federal regulation at 45 C.F.R. 303.3(b)(3).

Social Impact

It is anticipated that the proposed N.J.A.C. 10:81-11.6A(a) regarding the hotline will have a positive social impact. Staff will no longer be inundated with telephone inquiries that the hotline can answer and child support information will be available to callers on a 24 hour basis.

Proposed N.J.A.C. 10:81-11.6A(b) regarding the charging of FPLS fees for those cases in which an assignment of support rights is not required, may meet with minimal resistance from the CWAs, since this is a service they received free of charge in the past. However, the implementation of the fee will not require modifications to the current procedure for the submittal of cases to FPLS, nor will it require additional staff.

The proposed amendment at N.J.A.C. 10:81-11.15(d) regarding the "quick locate" process is expected to elicit a positive social reaction. Although using the "quick locate" process will require states to adhere to the 75 calendar day time frame from the point that location is determined necessary, it will also save child support workers time, because they will not have to complete all the paper work necessary to submit an official interstate case.

Economic Impact

It is anticipated that proposed N.J.A.C. 10:81-11.6A(a) regarding the hotline will have a positive economic impact. Although a fee will be assigned to the CWAs for the usage of the 24-hour hotline, staff time saved answering telephone inquiries can be used on enforcement, thereby, increasing child support collections.

The proposed requirement at N.J.A.C. 10:81-11.6A(b) regarding the charging of FPLS fees for those cases in which an assignment of support rights is not required, is expected to have minimal economic impact on the CWAs. Although they are being billed for a service they were not charged for in the past, a IV-D application is filed and an application fee is paid by the client for those cases in which an assignment of support rights is not required. The purpose of the IV-D application fee is to offset costs associated with case processing. In addition, the application fee was raised from $5.00 to $6.00 in December 1993 to cover any increased administrative costs related to case processing.

The proposed amendment at N.J.A.C. 10:81-11.15(d) regarding the "quick locate" process is expected to have a positive economic impact. It gives the requesting state the ability to initiate the location process in several states simultaneously without expending the time and energy it would take to officially establish an interstate case in another jurisdiction. This results in a savings of money through man hours and could lead to a more expedient successful location action and a more rapid establishment of the order.

Regulatory Flexibility Statement

The proposed amendment and new rules have been reviewed with regard to the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq. The proposed amendment and new rule impose no reporting, recordkeeping or other compliance requirements on small businesses; therefore, a regulatory flexibility analysis is not required. The rules govern a public assistance program designed to certify eligibility for the Aid to Families With Dependent Children Program by a governmental agency rather than a private business establishment.

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

These Initial Response rules were originally developed by the Division as part of the Operations Policy to Rules (OPTR) project in order to subject Division policies which have wide-spread coverage, continuing effect or a substantial impact on the rights or legitimate interests of the regulated public to the rulemaking process. The OPTR project consists of the Division meeting with an advisory body, with members representing the affected public, private, non-profit groups and other government agencies.

These rules were among the first products of OPTR project. They became effective January 4, 1993, and operative July 1, 1993.

These proposed amendments and new rule have six primary purposes. Certain proposed provisions (proposed N.J.A.C. 10:133A-1.10(a)1 and 10) make the circumstances under which a response is begun immediately more specific. In proposed N.J.A.C. 10:133A-1.10(a)3 and 1.12(a), the circumstances under which the Division will or may act have been broadened.

The material being repealed from N.J.A.C. 10:133A-1.9(a) is now proposed as an amendment to N.J.A.C. 10:133A-1.7(a). The proposed N.J.A.C. 10:133A-1.9 is an expansion of the statement which was formerly N.J.A.C. 10:133A-1.10(a). The Division expanded this statement to clarify that any referral and application which require a child welfare services assessment (see N.J.A.C. 10:133C-3) or a child protective services investigation must have in-person contact between the client and the Division representative.

In addition, in proposed N.J.A.C. 10:133A-1.11, the Division wishes to combine the response category of within 24 hours into the category of within 72 hours. This step will allow the Division's caseworkers to do better planning for the responses they must make.

Proposed N.J.A.C. 10:133A-1.12(b) and (c) give new information about the response time frame for child welfare services referrals and applications. This material was inadvertently omitted from the original proposal.

The Division wishes to amend these rules to clarify that N.J.S.A. 9:6-1.1 and 9:6-8.21(c) are in compliance with Federal regulations pursuant to the Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act, 42 U.S.C. 5101 et seq. The Division has interpreted the New Jersey statute that prohibits the judicial finding of child neglect in cases where a child is receiving treatment by spiritual means alone through prayer, to not eliminate the Division's obligation to screen, respond to, investigate, and protect a child so referred.

The Division is adding statements at N.J.A.C. 10:133A-1.7(b) and 1.10(b)9 to clarify that the Division will screen and investigate these referrals in order to solidify the Division's compliance with Federal regulations, 45 CFR 1340 et seq.

Social Impact

These amendments and new rule should have only a limited effect on the regulated public. The Division will now be required to make an immediate response in situations where a child may need immediate medical treatment for any reason, not only as a result of abuse or neglect. This may result in the Division making more responses.

On the other hand, some clients may receive a more delayed response as the situations now requiring a response within 24 hours may now have a response within 72 hours. The Division will also be required to respond within 72 hours to other similar situations. This may or may not add new categories to which the Division must respond. The responses may or may not be quicker than at present. Situations of all types, not just sex abuse, may now be delayed more than 72 hours under certain conditions.

This proposal allows the Division representative the opportunity to prioritize the workload of in-coming applications. It allows the Division representative to plan the response to those families not in crisis by talking with supervisory staff about the response, making an appointment with the client, making collateral contacts and researching appropriate services within and outside the Division. This planning allows the Division to provide a helpful and efficient first personal contact between the Division and the applicant, while still requiring a timely response. N.J.A.C. 10:133A-1.12(b) also guarantees an immediate in-person response to a crisis situation not related to child abuse or neglect.

The Division does not anticipate any impact on the clients or applicants due to the additions regarding a child receiving treatment by spiritual means alone through prayer. The Division routinely screens and responds to these referrals.

Economic Impact

There will be no economic impact on clients or applicants.

The economic impact of adding the amendments about screening and responding to referrals of a child receiving treatment by spiritual means alone through prayer is to assure that the Division will continue to receive Federal funds, as authorized in the Child Abuse and Prevention and Treatment Act, 42 U.S.C. 5101 et seq. The Division received $519,213 in FY 1994, plus $74,487 through P.L. 98-457 (1984).

In addition, the Children's Trust Fund in New Jersey receives Federal funds, contingent upon New Jersey complying with Federal statutes. New Jersey received $150,142 from the Children's Trust Fund and $290,247 from the Criminal Justice Act.

While the Division may need to make an immediate or 24 to 72 hour response in two categories of referrals, the response time is lengthened for other types of referrals.

It is not possible to indicate how these minor changes will influence the Division's overall caseload size, budget or staffing needs.

Regulatory Flexibility Statement

Neither the Division nor the public who apply or are referred for services from the Division are considered small businesses under the terms of N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq., the Regulatory Flexibility Act. The proposed amendments do not impose reporting, record keeping or compliance requirements on small businesses. Therefore, a regulatory flexibility analysis is not necessary.

The agency proposal follows:

Summary

These proposed amendments are being promulgated in accordance with P.L. 1993, c.164, section 8, which provides a special procedure whereby the Individual Health Coverage Program ("IHC") Board may adopt certain actions. Pursuant to this procedure, the Board is required to publish notice of its intended action in three newspapers of general circulation, which notice shall include procedures for obtaining a detailed description of the intended action and the time, place and manner by which interested persons may present their views regarding the intended action. Notice of the intended action also is required to be sent to affected trade and professional associations, carriers, and other interested persons who may request such notice.

Concurrently, the Board is required to forward the notice of the intended action to the Office of Administrative Law ("OAL") for publication in the New Jersey Register. The Board must provide a minimum 20-day period for all interested persons to submit their written comments on the intended action to the Board. The Board may adopt its intended action immediately upon the close of the specified comment period by submitting the adopted action to the OAL. If the Board elects to adopt the action immediately upon the close of the comment period, it shall nevertheless respond to the comments timely submitted within a reasonable period of time thereafter. The Board shall prepare a report for public distribution, and publication by the OAL in the New Jersey Register. The report shall include the list of commenters, their relevant comments, and the Board's responses.

The Board proposes amendments to the Basic plan policy form, policy forms B through E, and HMO policy form (N.J.A.C. 11:20 Appendix Exhibits A through F). While many of the proposed amendments are of a technical nature and will not affect benefits under the standard plans, other amendments will have the effect of increasing or decreasing specified benefits to insureds. These amendments are the first such changes to the policy forms since their original promulgation.

These changes are initiated by the Board to conform the policy forms as closely as possible to the Small Employer Health Benefits Program ("SEH") Board policy forms, to accommodate the Access Program, to conform the policy forms to changes in the law, to clarify the intent of the Board, to correct typographical or grammatical errors, and to make the policy forms internally consistent. Many of the changes are repeated in some or all of the policy forms.

Where appropriate, the Board is conforming the IHC policy forms to the corresponding plans promulgated by the SEH Program Board for the following reasons. First, the two statutes creating the IHC Program and the SEH Program were enacted together as part of a comprehensive reform of health insurance in the State, and it was intended that these two Boards work together in fulfilling their mandates. Second, by conforming the five standardized policies promulgated by the IHC Board to those promulgated by the SEH Board, the IHC Board will make comparison and analysis of the plans easier for consumers. Moreover, the proposed amendments reflect that, in some respects, the wording chosen by the SEH Board is more clear than that used in the IHC policy forms and that some of the policy decisions of the SEH Board are also applicable to health benefits plans issued pursuant to the IHC Program.

Toward the goal of conforming the policy forms as much as is appropriate to the SEH policy forms, in the definitional section of the policy forms, the proposed amendments change the definition of "Dependent" in all of the policy forms to refer to an unmarried child who is under age 19 instead of under age 20. This change represents a decrease in benefits. To conform with SEH policy forms and recognize the use of Preferred Provider Organizations ("PPOs"), the definition of "Reasonable and Customary," found in Exhibits A through E only, is amended to refer to the lesser of the usual or customary charge for the service as determined by the carrier based on a standard approved by the Board or a negotiated fee schedule. A definition of "Maintenance Drug" was added to the HMO policy form to allow an HMO choosing to use a $15.00 copayment for prescription drug coverage to distinguish maintenance drugs from non-maintenance drugs in determining applicable amounts of drugs to be furnished with each copayment.

With respect to the "Schedules of Benefits" provision in the policy forms, the proposed amendments amend Exhibit A to conform with the SEH policy form by changing the cash deductibles for inpatient services by deleting the $50.00 emergency room benefit and by providing emergency room benefit coverage only if the visit results in immediate hospitalization. The purpose of changing the emergency room benefit is to deter the unnecessary use of emergency rooms. With respect to Exhibits A through E, the proposed amendments clarify that co-insurance caps cannot be met with non-covered expenses, cash deductibles, or copayments, and add that co-insurance cannot be met with co-insurance for the treatment of mental and nervous conditions and substance abuse. Removing the coinsurance paid for mental and nervous conditions and substance abuse from contributing to the coinsurance cap is a change in the design of the benefits.

With respect to the "Covered Charges" section of the policy forms, the proposed changes amend Exhibits A through E to conform with the SEH policy forms by changing the level of coverage for private room and board charges where a hospital does not have semi-private rooms available. The proposed changes amend Exhibits A through E by including coverage for home health care charges for diagnostic or therapeutic services which would have been covered under the policy if performed as inpatient hospital services. Also in Exhibits A through E, hospice care is expanded to recognize as a covered charge any palliative and supportive care to family members who are also covered persons. Also, in Exhibits B through E, the amendments remove the 180 day limit on coverage for hospice care charges. The proposed amendments to Exhibits A through E clarify that treatment of Wilm's Tumor is a covered charge.

The amendments to the "Covered Services" section of the HMO policy form would conform to the SEH Program's HMO policy form by adding coverage for medically necessary and appropriate replacement prosthetic devices and medical equipment, and for allogeneic and autologous bone marrow transplants.

With respect to the "Charges Covered With Special Limitations" section of Exhibits B through E, in order to conform with the SEH Program's policy forms, the proposed amendments add coverage for certain dental care and treatment, for certain private duty nursing care, for treatment for Temporomandibular Joint Disorder ("TMJ"), and for allogeneic and autologous bone marrow transplants. In addition, the proposed amendments would remove certain types of therapy services from the 30 visit per benefit period cap. The proposed amendments conform the Exhibits A through E to the SEH policy forms by clarifying that prosthetic devices may be covered where they are medically necessary and appropriate.

Also in order to conform Exhibits A through E to the SEH Program policy forms, the amendments create an optional "Alternative Treatment" section which permit the development of an agreed upon treatment plan in cases of catastrophic illness or injury as defined by this new section. Also in Exhibits A through E, the amendments create an optional section on "Centers of Excellence" which permit coverage for treatment by certain providers that have entered into an agreement with carriers to provide health benefits services for specific procedures.

With respect to the "Exclusions" section of the policy forms, the amendments will conform the Basic policy form with the Basic SEH policy form by removing fluoroscopy from the list of exclusions. The amendments conform Exhibits B through F with the SEH policy forms by removing fluoroscopy and TMJ from the list of exclusions and by altering the exclusions for dental care in Exhibits B through E. Optional exclusion language was added to the HMO policy form to allow an HMO that chooses to offer prescription drug coverage with a $15 copayment to define the amount of medication a covered person may receive per $15.00 payment.

The amendments would also add a section entitled "Right to Recovery—Third Party Liability" to all of the policy forms which would require an insured to reimburse his or her carrier for payments received from a third party for health benefits received as a result of the actions and/or deeds of that third party.

In addition to the changes listed above, all of which were initiated to conform the policy forms to the SEH policy forms, other changes were initiated to address changes in the law. In this regard, the amendments address the concerns of the Off Label Drug Use Act, P.L. 1993, c.321, by altering the definition of "experimental or investigational." Moreover, to conform to the requirements of the Access Program, the amendments alter the definition of "routine foot care" by deleting symptomatic complaints of the feet and clarify that the routine foot care exclusion does not include certain medically necessary and appropriate care.

These proposed amendments reflect the Board's decision to amend the policy forms independent of the choice or necessity to conform the plans with the SEH plans and other statutes. In this regard, in all of the policy forms, the Board proposes to change all personal pronouns from the masculine gender to both masculine and feminine personal pronouns. In all policy forms, the term and definition of "doctor" has been replaced by the term and definition "practitioner." This amendment is in recognition that services intended to be covered services under the plans may be provided by certain persons who are not medical doctors. As a clarification, the definitions of "hospice," "hospital," "mental health center" and "substance abuse center" are changed in all of the policy forms to include entities which are accredited or licensed by the State. The definition of "dependent" is changed to include persons residing in a foreign country for the purpose of attending an accredited school. The amendments alter the definition of "pre-existing condition" by adding that complications of a pregnancy, as defined by N.J.A.C. 11:1-43, are not considered pre-existing conditions and by expanding the waiver of the pre-existing condition limitation to apply to prior health benefits plans delivered or issued for delivery in the United States. For purposes of clarification, definitions of "care manager," "facility" and "referral" are added by the amendments.

The definition of "non-covered expenses" in Exhibits A through E is also amended by clarifying that utilization review penalties are non-covered expenses. In Exhibits A through E, the amendments clarify the utilization review procedures and change the penalty for unauthorized treatment from a complete denial of payment to a 50 percent reduction in payment.

In the "Eligibility" section of all the policy forms, the types of coverage were amended to clarify that coverage for multiple children residing within the same residence sharing a common legal guardian and for instances where there is a valid support order requiring health benefits coverage, even in cases when there is no adult covered are included in the parent and child type of coverage. Also for clarification purposes, a category for husband and wife coverage was added to the "Types of Coverage" Section of each of the policy forms.

In the "exclusions" section of all the policy forms, vision therapy, vision or visual acuity training, orthoptics and pleoptics are removed from the list of items which are not covered charges.

The paragraph entitled "Benefits From Other Plans" in the "Benefit Deductible and Coinsurance" section of the policy forms is removed and the "Coordination of Benefits" section has been rewritten and retitled "Benefits from Other Plans." This retitled section provides that coverage under the standard policy forms is secondary to any other coverage an individual may have and that other coverage is primary. The amendments also provide that, because coverage under the standard policy forms is secondary, the premium paid by the insured is reduced to actuarially reflect the benefit reduction, provided that the insured: notifies the carrier of the fact that other coverage exists; and furnishes the carrier with an adequate description of the other coverage such that the carrier can judge the appropriate premium to be paid by the insured.

The proposed amendments amend the "General Provisions" section of the HMO policy from addressing non-compliance with medically necessary and appropriate treatment and refusal of treatment. The purpose of these changes is to address more completely the consequences of failing to comply with medically necessary and appropriate treatment and to provide a grievance procedure.

The proposed new Exhibits M and N adopt standard Point of Service ("POS") and Preferred Provider Organization ("PPO") provisions and Schedule of Benefits. These standard provisions and Schedule of Benefits create standardized language for carriers that wish to offer the Basic Plan and Plans B through E through these arrangements. These matters were previously not addressed in the policy forms.

Social Impact

The proposed amendments to Exhibits A through F are in some cases purely technical changes, in some cases substantive changes proposed at the Board's initiative or as the result of a dialogue with interested parties, and in some cases required by the passage of new laws. Most of the changes to the policy forms do not result in a change to the benefits in the plans; however, some changes may result in an increase or decrease in the benefits. Since some of these changes are substantive in nature and will alter coverage provided to insureds, these changes will affect insurers and health care providers, as well as insureds. In addition, clarifications to the policy forms should make the forms easier to read.

Economic Impact

The proposed amendments to the policy forms and the benefits offered therein may have an economic impact on individuals who enjoy greater benefits, or in some cases lesser benefits, under the amended provisions. The premium charged to individuals may, however, reflect the cost of such increases or decreases in benefits.

Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

The Board believes that all carriers subject to these rules have in excess of 100 employees or are located outside of the State of New Jersey. Therefore, a Regulatory Flexibility Statement is not required. However, to the extent that any carrier might be considered a small business under the terms of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq., the following analysis would apply.

The proposed amendments to Exhibits A through F in the Appendix to N.J.A.C. 11:20 and the proposed new rules, Exhibits M through P to N.J.A.C. 11:20, will require carriers to amend all individual policy forms, and to conform their operations (sales and administration) to the new changes in the health benefits plans. There will be capital costs involved in such compliance, in terms of printing, systems programming, staff and agent training, etc., but it is unlikely that any carrier would have to contract for outside professional services in order to comply. All of the required changes to a carrier's business fall within the normal functions a carrier performs in complying with any State insurance law or regulation. An exemption from the policy form changes for certain small businesses would be inappropriate because such an exemption would permit the sale of non-conforming health benefits plans and could result in an uneven playing field for carriers in the individual market, both of which the Act attempts to prohibit.

After two years, We cannot ask for this proof more than once a year.

A Dependent is not a person who is on active duty in any armed forces.

{DOCTOR. A medical practitioner We are required by law to recognize who:

- (a) is properly licensed or certified to provide medical care under the laws of the state where he practices; and
- (b) provides medical services which are within the scope of his license or certificate and which are covered by this Policy.)

EXPERIMENTAL or INVESTIGATIONAL.

Services or supplies, including treatments, procedures, hospitalizations, drugs, biological products or medical devices, which We Determine are:

- (a) not of proven benefit for the particular diagnosis or treatment of Your particular condition; or
- (b) not generally recognized by the medical community as effective or appropriate for the particular diagnosis or treatment of Your particular condition; or
- (c) provided or performed in special settings for research purposes or under a controlled environment or clinical protocol.

Unless otherwise required by law with respect to drugs which have been prescribed for the treatment of a type of cancer for which the drug has not been approved by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA), We will not cover any services or supplies, including treatment, procedures, drugs, biological products or medical devices or any hospitalizations in connection with Experimental or Investigational services or supplies.

We will also not cover any technology or any hospitalization in connection with such technology if such technology is obsolete or ineffective and is not used generally by the medical community for the particular diagnosis or treatment of Your particular condition.

Governmental approval of a technology is not necessarily sufficient to render it of proven benefit or appropriate or effective for a particular diagnosis or treatment of Your particular condition as explained below.

We will apply the following five criteria in Determining whether services or supplies are Experimental or Investigational:

- 1. any medical device, drug, or biological product must have received final approval to market by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for the particular diagnosis or condition. Any other approval granted as an interim step in the FDA regulatory process, e.g., an Investigational Device Exemption or an Investigational New Drug Exemption, is not sufficient. Once FDA approval has been granted for a particular diagnosis or condition, use of the medical device, drug or biological product for another diagnosis or condition may require that any or all of the five criteria be met;}
- 1. any medical device, drug, or biological product must have received final approval to market by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for the particular diagnosis or condition. Any other approval granted as an interim step in the FDA regulatory process, e.g., an Investigational Device Exemption or an Investigational New Drug Exemption, is not sufficient. Once FDA approval has been granted for a particular diagnosis or condition, use of the medical device, drug or biological product for another diagnosis or condition will require that one or more of the following established reference compendia:

INSURANCE

PROPOSALS

- The American Medical Association Drug Evaluations;
- The American Hospital Formulary Service Drug Information; or
- The United States Pharmacopeia Drug Information.

recognize the usage as appropriate medical treatment. As an alternative to such recognition in one or more of the compendia, the usage of the drug will be recognized as appropriate if it is recommended by a clinical study and recommended by a review article in a major peer-reviewed professional journal. A medical device, drug, or biological product that meets the above tests will not be considered Experimental or Investigational.

In any event, any drug which the Food and Drug Administration has determined to be contraindicated for the specific treatment for which the drug has been prescribed will be considered Experimental or Investigational.

2. conclusive evidence from the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that the technology has a definite positive effect on health outcomes; such evidence must include well-designed investigations that have been reproduced by non-affiliated authoritative sources, with measurable results, backed up by the positive endorsements of national medical bodies or panels regarding scientific efficacy and rationale;
3. demonstrated evidence as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that over time the technology leads to improvement in health outcomes, i.e., the beneficial effects outweigh any harmful effects;
4. proof as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that the technology is at least as effective in improving health outcomes as established technology, or is usable in appropriate clinical contexts in which established technology is not employable; and
5. proof as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that improvements in health outcomes, as defined in paragraph 3, is possible in standard conditions of medical practice, outside clinical investigatory settings.

A {facility} Facility for the aged or for Substance Abusers is not a Hospital.

That percentage will be Determined by Us from time to time, but will not be more than the maximum allowed by law.]

PREMIUM RATE CHANGES

The Premium rates in effect on the Effective Date are shown in the Policy's Schedule of Premium Rates]. We have the right to change Premium rates as of any of these dates:

- (a) any Premium Due Date;
- (b) any date that the extent or nature of the risk under the Policy is changed:
  - (1) by amendment of the Policy; or
  - (2) by reason of any provision of law or any government program or regulation;
- (c) at the discovery of a clerical error or misstatement as described {below} in the General Provisions section of this Policy.

We will give You 30 days written notice when a change in the Premium rates is made.

V. BENEFIT DEDUCTIBLES AND COINSURANCE

Cash Deductible: Each Benefit Period, You must have Covered Charges that exceed the Deductible before We pay any benefits to you for those Charges. For Inpatient Hospital services and supplies and Rehabilitation Center services and supplies not immediately preceded by an Inpatient Hospital Stay[.] You must pay one Inpatient Deductible per Period of Confinement before We pay any benefits. For other Covered Charges, each Benefit Period, You must have Covered Charges that exceed the Deductible before We pay any benefits to You for those charges. The Deductibles are shown in the {schedule} Schedule of Benefits section of this Policy. The Deductibles cannot be met with Non-Covered Expenses. Only Covered Charges incurred by You while insured can be used to meet the Deductible for those charges.

Once a Deductible is met, We pay benefits for other Covered Charges above the Deductible amount incurred by You, less any applicable Coinsurance and Copayments, for the rest of that Benefit Period. However, a Covered Person must satisfy two Inpatient Deductibles per Benefit Period. And all charges must be incurred while You are insured by this Policy. What We pay is based on all the terms of this Policy including benefit limitations and exclusion provisions.

Family Deductible Cap: This Policy has a family aggregate deductible cap on care equal to two Deductibles for each Benefit Period. This does not apply to the Inpatient Hospital Deductible. Once {the} a family meets the equivalent of two individual Deductibles in a Benefit Period, We pay benefits for other Covered Charges incurred by any member of the covered family for that type of care, less any applicable Copayment and Coinsurance, for the rest of that Benefit Period. What We pay is based on all the terms of this Policy, including benefit limitation and exclusion provisions.

Coinsurance Cap: This Policy limits the {Inpatient Hospital} Facility Coinsurance amounts You must pay each Benefit Period. The Coinsurance cap cannot be met with Non-Covered Expenses[, Copayments and Deductibles].

There is a Coinsurance cap for each Covered Person. The Coinsurance cap is shown in the "Schedule of Benefits."

Each Covered Person's Coinsurance amounts are used to meet the Covered Person's own Coinsurance cap. And all amounts used to meet the cap must actually be paid by You.

Once Your Coinsurance amounts in a Benefit Period exceed the individual cap, We waive Your Coinsurance for the rest of that Benefit Period for the {Inpatient Hospital} Facility benefit. But We do not provide benefits for more than 30 Inpatient Hospital days per Benefit Period.

Deductible Credit: For the first Benefit Period of this Policy, a Covered Person will receive credit for any Deductible amounts satisfied under previous coverage within the same calendar year that Your first Benefit Period starts under this Policy.

PROPOSALS*Interested Persons see Inside Front Cover*INSURANCE

This credit will be applied whether Your previous coverage was under a plan with Us or with another carrier. You will be required to provide Us with adequate documentation of the amounts satisfied.

Deductible Carryover: There will be no carryover of Deductibles or Coinsurance into the next Benefit Period. However, a Covered Person will receive credit for any Inpatient Hospital Deductible satisfied during a Period of Confinement immediately preceding or continuing into a new Benefit Period.

Payment Limits: We limit what We pay for certain types of charges.

{Benefits From Other Plans: When another plan furnishes benefits which are similar to Ours, We coordinate our benefits with the benefits from that other plan. However, You are not eligible for coverage under this Policy if You are eligible for benefits under a Group Health Benefits Plan which that provides the same or similar coverage. We do this so that no one gets more in benefits than he incurs in charges. Read the section of this Policy called "Coordination of Benefits" to see how this works.)

VI. COVERED CHARGES

We will pay benefits if, due to an Accidental Injury or Illness, You incur Medically Necessary and Appropriate Covered Charges during a Benefit Period. Unless stated, all benefits are subject to Copayment, Deductible, Coinsurance, other limits and exclusions shown in the Schedule of Benefits, along with other provisions in this Policy.

SCHEDULE OF BENEFITS WILL BE REDUCED IF YOU DO NOT COMPLY WITH THE {HOSPITAL ADMISSION} UTILIZATION REVIEW {PROGRAM IN} SECTION OF THIS POLICY.

Daily Room and Board Limits:
(During a Period of Hospital Confinement)

For semi-private room and board accommodations, We cover charges up to the Hospital's actual daily room and board charge.

For private room and board accommodations, We cover charges up to the Hospital's average daily semi-private room and board charge or, if the Hospital does not have semi-private accommodations, {90%} 80% of its lowest daily room and board charge.

For Special Care Units, We cover charges up to the Hospital's actual daily room and board charge.

  2. The services and supplies must be:
    - ordered by Your Practitioner;
    - included in the home health care plan; and
    - furnished by, or coordinated by, a Home Health Agency according to the written home health care plan.

Hospice Care Charges: Subject to Our advance written approval, We cover charges made by a Hospice for palliative and supportive care furnished to You if You are terminally Ill under a Hospice care program. Additionally, We Cover Charges for counseling provided to any family members who are also Covered Persons when that counseling is for the sole purpose of adjusting to the terminally Ill Covered Person's death.

"Palliative and supportive care" means care and support aimed mainly at lessening or controlling pain or symptoms; it makes no attempt to cure Your terminal Illness.

"Terminally Ill" means that Your {Doctor} Practitioner has certified in writing that Your life expectancy is six months or less.

Hospice care must be furnished according to a written hospice care program. A "hospice care program" is a coordinated program for meeting Your special needs if You are terminally Ill. It must be set up in writing and reviewed periodically by {the} Your {Doctor} Practitioner.

Under a Hospice care program, subject to all the terms of this Policy, We cover any services and supplies to the extent they are otherwise covered by this Policy on the basis of two Inpatient Hospice days in exchange for each Inpatient Hospital day relinquished. But We limit what We pay as shown in the Schedule of Benefits. And We cover other Hospital services and supplies provided to You during the Inpatient confinement, including Surgery. However, We do not cover specialist consultations in a Hospital.

If You incur charges as an Inpatient in a Special Care Unit, We cover the charges the same way We cover charges for any Illness.

We also cover Outpatient Hospital services, including services provided by a Hospital Outpatient clinic. [And We cover emergency room treatment, subject to this Policy's Emergency Room Copayment Requirement]

We cover emergency room treatment only if such treatment subsequently results in Your admission to a Hospital.

Any charges in excess of the Hospital semi-private daily room and board limit are Non-Covered Expenses. This Policy contains penalties for noncompliance that will reduce what We pay for Hospital charges. See the section of this Policy called "Utilization Review" for details.

{Outpatient Hospital Services: We cover Outpatient Hospital services and supplies provided in connection with the treatment of Accidental Injury, but only if the treatment is given within 72 hours of an Accident. VII. CHARGES COVERED WITH SPECIAL LIMITATIONS

Pre-Existing Condition Limitations: We do not cover services for Pre-Existing Conditions until You have been covered by this Policy for twelve months. See the "Definitions" section of this Policy for the definition of a Pre-Existing Condition.

This limitation does not affect benefits for other unrelated conditions, {or} birth defects in a covered Dependent Child or complications of pregnancy as defined in N.J.A.C. 11:1-4.3. We waive this limitation for Your Pre-Existing Condition if, under a prior group or individual health benefits plan delivered or issued for delivery in the United States, with no intervening lapse in coverage, You have been treated or diagnosed by a physician for a condition under that plan or satisfied a 12 month preexisting condition limitation for a condition covered by that plan.

Primary Care Services: We will cover up to $100 per Covered Person per Benefit Period, up to a maximum of $300 per family per Benefit Period, for routine physical examinations, Diagnostic Services, vaccina-

To obtain Our authorization, You or Your Provider must request Our review. In some instances, before We authorize the procedures, services and supplies listed above, We may require a second opinion. See "Step 3" below.

IF YOU DO NOT REQUEST OUR AUTHORIZATION, OR IF WE DO NOT AUTHORIZE THE PROCEDURES, SERVICES AND SUPPLIES WE WILL REDUCE ANY PAYMENT WE MAKE BY 50%. ANY REDUCTION OF BENEFITS UNDER THIS PROVISION ARE SUBJECT TO YOUR RIGHTS UNDER THE CLAIMS APPEAL SECTION OF THE CLAIMS PROCEDURE PROVISION OF THIS POLICY.

[NOTE: For Non-Medical Emergency procedures, services and supplies listed above, You or Your Provider must contact Us at least 3 days prior to treatment or purchase. For Medical Emergency procedures, services and supplies You or Your Provider must contact Us within 48 hours or on the next business day, from treatment whichever is later.

In some instances, before We authorize the procedures, services and supplies listed above, We may require a second opinion. See "Step 2" below.

STEP 2—Notice Requirements

For Non-Medical Emergency procedures, services and supplies listed above, You or Your Provider must contact Us at least 3 days prior to treatment or purchase.

For Medical Emergency procedures, services and supplies You or Your Provider must contact Us within 48 hours or on the next business day, from treatment whichever is later.

[For Continued Confinement as an Inpatient beyond the time authorized, You or Your Provider must contact us within 24 hours prior to preapproved discharge date for additional authorization.]

If We are notified within the required time and We Determine that the procedures, services and supplies are Medically Necessary and Appropriate, Our Payment will not be affected—We will pay up to the limits of this Policy. IF WE ARE NOT NOTIFIED WITHIN THE TIME SPECIFIED, WE WILL (MAKE NO PAYMENT) REDUCE ANY PAYMENT BY 50%.

Failure to notify Us of the procedures, services or supplies listed above will not affect Our payment if We Determine that notice was given to Us as soon as was reasonably possible.

STEP {2} 3—Obtain a Second Opinion

If We Determine that a second opinion is not necessary for the proposed procedure, then You should proceed with Step {3} 4 below.

If We Determine that a second opinion is necessary, We will arrange for a second opinion consultation prior to Your undergoing the medical, diagnostic or surgical procedure or being admitted as an Inpatient. We will pay for this consultation and for any Diagnostic Services and Pre-Admission Testing necessary for the second opinion, subject to all Policy limitations and exclusions.

If the second opinion confirms the need for the procedure, then You should proceed with Step {3} 4 below.

If the second opinion does not confirm the need for the procedure, We may require {you} You to get a third opinion. If that happens, We will arrange and pay for the third opinion. If the third opinion confirms the need for the procedure, You should then proceed with Step {3} 4 below.

NOTE: We will only pay for a second or third surgical opinion which We authorize and arrange.

IF THE SECOND AND THIRD OPINION DO NOT CONFIRM THE NEED FOR THE PROCEDURE, AND YOU PROCEED WITH THE PROCEDURE, WE WILL NOT PAY FOR THE PROCEDURE NOR ANY ASSOCIATED PROVIDER (INCLUDING FACILITY) CHARGES. IF YOU DO NOT OBTAIN A SECOND AND/OR THIRD OPINION WHICH WE HAVE ASKED YOU TO OBTAIN, OUR PAYMENT FOR THE PROCEDURE WILL BE REDUCED BY 20% PROVIDED WE DETERMINE THE PERFORMANCE OF THE PROCEDURE WAS MEDICALLY NECESSARY AND APPROPRIATE; IF WE DETERMINE THAT PERFORMANCE OF THE PROCEDURE WAS NOT MEDICALLY APPROPRIATE, WE WILL NOT MAKE ANY PAYMENT.

A confirming second or third opinion is valid for 90 days. If You do not undergo the procedure within that time, You must call Us and renew the confirming opinion prior to the procedure being performed. If the confirming opinion is not renewed, We may consider the confirming opinion not authorized.

STEP {3} 4—Obtain Hospital Admission Review

If You called for Our authorization and (a) We Determined that a second opinion was not necessary; or (b) You followed the second opinion process outlined in Step {2} 3 above and the second opinion has confirmed the need for the procedure, We will then Determine what setting (Inpatient or Outpatient) is appropriate for the proposed procedure. If We approve an Inpatient admission, You may proceed with the admission and Our Payment will not be affected—We will pay up to the limits of this Policy. IF WE DO NOT AUTHORIZE AN INPATIENT ADMISSION AND YOU PROCEED WITH THAT ADMISSION, {WE WILL NOT MAKE} ANY PAYMENT FOR FACILITY CHARGES WILL BE REDUCED BY 50%.

Our approval is valid for 30 days. If the admission does not occur as planned, You or Your Provider must contact Us to renew the approval. If the approval is not renewed, We will consider the Inpatient admission not authorized.

You may also, within 45 days of Our receipt of Your request for reconsideration, submit to Us issues and comments and any additional pertinent medical information.

We will give You a written decision within 60 days after We receive Your request for review. That written decision will indicate the reasons for the decision and refer to the Policy provision(s) on which it was based.

In special circumstances, We may Determine that additional time is necessary to make a decision. We will let You know if this happens but it will never be more than 120 days from the date {of the original declination} after We receive Your request for review.

Limitations of Actions: You cannot bring a legal action against this Policy until 60 days from the date You file proof of loss. And You cannot bring legal action against this Policy after three years from the date You file proof of loss.

XI. [XIII.] [COORDINATION OF BENEFITS] BENEFITS FROM OTHER PLANS

[This provision applies to all Covered Charges under this Policy. It does not apply to death, dismemberment, or loss of income benefits.

If You incur Covered Charges under this Policy and these same expenses are covered under Other Valid Coverage, Our Payment will be reduced so as not to exceed Our pro-rata share of the total coverage available. If We reduce Our Payment on a pro-rata basis, We will also return a pro-rata share of the Premium to You.

To determine Our pro-rata Payment, We will:

- (a) add together Our benefits (calculated without reference to Other Valid Coverage) and the amount(s) payable (for the same Covered Charges) under Other Valid Coverage of which We had notice;
- (b) add together Our benefits (calculated without reference to Other Valid Coverage) and the amount(s) payable (for the same Covered Charges) under all Other Valid Coverage (whether or not We had notice);
- (c) divide the total in (1) by the total in (2) to calculate a percentage; and
- (d) multiply the percentage calculated in step (3) by the Covered Charges; the result is Our payment.

“Other Valid Coverage” means coverage, other than Ours, provided on a group or individual basis, by insurance companies, hospital or medical service organizations, health maintenance organizations, union welfare plans, employer or employee benefit organizations, and employers; it also includes automobile medical payments insurance (other than that required by New Jersey law). If Other Valid Coverage is on a provision of service basis, "the amount(s) payable under Other Valid Coverage" shall be equal to the amount which the services rendered would have cost in the absence of such coverage.

PROPOSALS

Interested Persons see Inside Front Cover

Our Right To Certain Information: In order to coordinate benefits, We need certain information. You must supply Us with as much of that information as You can. But if You cannot give Us all the information We need, We have the right to get this information from any source. If another insurer needs information to apply its coordination provision, We have the right to give that insurer such information. If We give or get information under this section We cannot be held liable for such action. When payment that should have been made by this Policy have been made by another plan, We have the right to repay that plan. If We do so, We are no longer liable for that amount. If We pay out more than We should have, We have the right to recover the excess payment.

This provision applies to all Covered Charges under this Policy if You have Other Valid Coverage. The purpose of this provision is to make sure You do not collect more in benefits than You incur in charges.

If You have Other Valid Coverage, Your Coverage under this Policy is secondary and Your coverage under the Other Valid Coverage is primary. This means the Other Valid Coverage pays Covered Charges first and this Policy pays only any remaining unpaid Covered Charges. Neither plan pays more than it would have without this provision.

In recognition of the benefits under this Policy being secondary and thus reduced, the premium You pay for this Policy is reduced to actuarially reflect the benefit reduction. In the event We are not aware You have Other Valid Coverage at the time this Policy is issued to You, We will only reduce Your premium only after We do receive notice of the Other Valid Coverage. We will not refund any premium amounts previously paid.

Should You cancel the Other Valid Coverage, Your coverage under this Policy will become primary and Your premium amount adjusted accordingly. In the event You incur Claims under this Policy while this Policy is providing primary coverage and you are paying a reduced premium based on this Policy providing secondary coverage, You are obligated to Us for the full premium amount. To the extent You have not paid the full premium amount, We will offset the amount due from any benefit amount payable for Covered Charges.

"Other Valid Coverage" means coverage, other than Ours, provided on a group or individual basis, by insurance companies, hospital or medical service organizations, health maintenance organizations, union welfare plans, employer or employee benefit organizations, and employers; it also includes automobile medical payments insurance (other than that required by New Jersey law). If Other Valid Coverage is on a provision of service basis, the amount(s) payable under Other Valid Coverage shall be equal to the amount which the services rendered would have cost in the absence of such coverage.

Our Right To Certain Information: In order to coordinate benefits, We need certain information. You must supply Us with as much of that information as You can. But if You cannot give Us all the information We need, We have the right to get this information from any source. If another insurer needs information to apply its coordination provision, We have the right to give that insurer such information. If We give or get information under this section We cannot be held liable for such action. When payment that should have been made by this Policy, but was made by another plan, We have the right to repay that plan. If We do so, We are no longer liable for that amount. If We pay out more than We should have, We have the right to recover the excess payment.

XII. [XIV.] RIGHT TO RECOVERY—THIRD PARTY LIABILITY

"Reasonable pro-rata Expenses" are those costs such as lawyers fees and court costs, incurred to effect a third party payment, expressed as a percentage of such payment.

"Third Party" means anyone other than Us or a Covered Person.

If a Covered Person makes a claim to Us for benefits under this Policy prior to receiving payment from a Third Party or its insurer, the Covered Person must agree, in writing, to repay Us from any amount of money they receive from the Third Party, or its insurer for an Illness or Accidental Injury.

We will only require such payment when the amounts received through such settlement, judgment or otherwise, are specifically identified as amounts paid for health benefits for which We paid benefits.

The repayment will be equal to the amount of benefits paid by Us. However, the Covered Person may deduct the reasonable pro-rata expenses, incurred in effecting the third party payment from the repayment to Us.

We shall require the return of health benefits paid for an Illness or Accidental Injury, up to the amount a Covered Person receives for that Illness or Accidental Injury through:

- a. a Third Party settlement;
- b. a satisfied judgment; or
- c. other means.

The repayment agreement will be binding upon the Covered Person whether:

- a. the payment received from the Third Party, or its insurer, is the result of a legal judgment, an arbitration award, a compromise settlement, or any other arrangement, or
- b. the Third Party, or its insurer, has admitted liability for the payment.

We will not pay any benefits under this Policy to or on behalf of a Covered Person, who has received payment in whole or in part from a Third Party, or its insurer for past or future charges for an Illness or Accidental Injury, resulting from the negligence, intentional act, or no-fault tort liability of a Third Party.

[XIII.] XIII. [XV.] GENERAL PROVISIONS

CLERICAL ERROR—MISSTATEMENTS

No clerical error by Us in keeping any records pertaining to Coverage under this Policy will reduce Your Coverage. Neither will delays in making those records reduce it. However, if We discover such an error or delay, a fair adjustment of Premiums will be made.

Premium adjustments that involve returning an unearned premium to You will be limited to the twelve-month period before We received satisfactory evidence that such adjustment should be made.

If You misstate {your} Your age or any other relevant fact and the Premium is affected, a fair adjustment of Premiums will be made. If such misstatement affects the amount of coverage, the true facts will be used in Determining what coverage is in force under this Policy.

TERMINATION OF THE POLICY—RENEWAL PRIVILEGE

During or at End of Grace Period—Failure to Pay Premiums: If any Premium is not paid by the end of its grace period, the Policy will end when that period ends. But You may write to Us, in advance, to ask that the Policy be terminated at the end of any period for which Premiums have been paid. Then the Policy will end on the date requested.

{This Policy is issued for a term of one year from the Effective Date. All Benefit Periods and Benefit Months will be calculated from the Effective Date. All periods of insurance hereunder will begin and end at 12:00:01 a.m. Eastern Standard Time.)

This Policy will be renewed automatically each year on the Anniversary Date, unless one of the following circumstances occur:

- (a) nonpayment of Premiums;
- (b) fraud or misrepresentation by You or Your Dependents;
- (c) termination of Your eligibility or, with respect to Your Dependent, Your Dependent's eligibility;

INSURANCE

PROPOSALS

Also, any child over whom You have legal custody or legal guardianship is considered a Child under this Policy. (We may require that You submit proof of legal custody or legal guardianship, in Our Discretion.)

However, a foster child or grandchild of the Policyholder or his or her Spouse is not a Child for purposes of eligibility for benefits under this Policy.

DEPENDENT.

EXPERIMENTAL or INVESTIGATIONAL.

- (b) not generally recognized by the medical community as effective or appropriate for the particular diagnosis or treatment of Your particular condition; or
- (c) provided or performed in special settings for research purposes or under a controlled environment or clinical protocol.

Unless otherwise required by law with respect to drugs which have been prescribed for the treatment of a type of cancer for which the drug has not been approved by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA), We will not cover any services or supplies, including treatment, procedures, drugs, biological products or medical devices or any hospitalizations in connection with Experimental or Investigational services or supplies.

We will also not cover any technology or any hospitalization in connection with such technology if such technology is obsolete or ineffective and is not used generally by the medical community for the particular diagnosis or treatment of Your particular condition.

Governmental approval of a technology is not necessarily sufficient to render it of proven benefit or appropriate or effective for a particular diagnosis or treatment of Your particular condition as explained below.

We will apply the following five criteria in Determining whether services or supplies are Experimental or Investigational:

1. any medical device, drug, or biological product must have received final approval to market by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for the particular diagnosis or condition. Any other approval granted as an interim step in the FDA regulatory process, e.g., an Investigational Device Exemption or an Investigational New Drug Exemption, is not sufficient. Once FDA approval has been granted for a particular diagnosis or condition, use of the medical device, drug or biological product for another diagnosis or condition may require that any or all of the five criteria be met;]
1. any medical device, drug, or biological product must have received final approval to market by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for the particular diagnosis or condition. Any other approval granted as an interim step in the FDA regulatory process, e.g., an Investigational Device Exemption or an Investigational New Drug Exemption, is not sufficient. Once FDA approval has been granted for a particular diagnosis or condition, use of the medical device, drug or biological product for another diagnosis or condition will require that one or more of the following established reference compendia:
  - The American Medical Association Drug Evaluations;
  - The American Hospital Formulary Service Drug Information; or
  - The United States Pharmacopeia Drug Information.

recognize the usage as appropriate medical treatment. As an alternative to such recognition in one or more of the compendia, the usage of the drug will be recognized as appropriate if it is recommended by a clinical study and recommended by a review article in a major peer-reviewed professional journal. A medical device, drug, or biological product that meets the above tests will not be considered Experimental or Investigational.

In any event, any drug which the Food and Drug Administration has determined to be contraindicated for the specific treatment for which the drug has been prescribed will be considered Experimental or Investigational.
2. conclusive evidence from the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that the technology has a definite positive effect on health outcomes; such evidence must include well-designed investigations that have been reproduced by nonaffiliated authoritative sources, with measurable results, backed up by the positive endorsements of national medical bodies or panels regarding scientific efficacy and rationale;
3. demonstrated evidence as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that over time the technology leads to improvement in health outcomes, i.e., the beneficial effects outweigh any harmful effects;

INSURANCE

PROPOSALS

4. proof as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that the technology is at least as effective in improving health outcomes as established technology, or is usable in appropriate clinical contexts in which established technology is not employable; and
5. proof as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that improvements in health outcomes, as defined in paragraph 3, is possible in standard conditions of medical practice, outside clinical investigatory settings.

For Single Coverage .....	[$ ]
For Parent and Child(ren) Coverage .....	[$ ]
For Family Coverage .....	[$ ]
For {Policyholder and Spouse} Husband and Wife .....	[$ ]

We have the right to change any Premium rate set forth above at the times and in the manner established by the provision of this Policy entitled "Premiums."

PREMIUM AMOUNTS

The Premium due on each Premium Due Date is the sum of the Premium charges for the coverage You have. Those charges are Determined from the Premium rates then in effect.

The following will apply if one or more Premiums paid include Premium charges for a Covered Person whose coverage has ended before the due date of that Premium. We will not have to refund more than the amount of (a) minus (b):

- (a) the amounts of the Premium charges for the Covered Person that was included in the Premiums paid for the two-month period immediately {before} after the date the Covered Person's coverage has ended.

Premiums are to be paid by You to Us. That percentage will be Determined by Us from time to time, but will not be more than the maximum allowed by law.]

Once Your Coinsurance amounts in a Benefit Period exceed the individual cap, We waive Your Coinsurance for the rest of that Benefit Period {for the Inpatient Hospital benefit}.

Within 60 days after receiving Our written notice of declination, You may request that We reconsider any portion of the claim for which You believe benefits were wrongly declined. Your request for reconsideration must be in writing, and include:

- (a) name(s) and address(es) of patient and Policyholder;
- (b) Policyholder's [identification] number;

You may also, within 45 days of Our receipt of Your request for reconsideration, submit to Us issues and comments and any additional pertinent medical information.

We will give You a written decision within 60 days after We receive Your request for review. That written decision will indicate the reasons for the decision and refer to the Policy provision(s) on which it was based.

In special circumstances, We may Determine that additional time is necessary to make a decision. We will let You know if this happens but it will never be more than 120 days from the date {of the original declination} after We receive Your request for review.

Limitations of Actions: You cannot bring a legal action against this Policy until 60 days from the date You file proof of loss. And You cannot bring legal action against this Policy after three years from the date You file proof of loss.

XI. [XIII.] (COORDINATION OF BENEFITS) BENEFITS FROM OTHER PLANS

{This provision applies to all Covered Charges under this Policy. It does not apply to death, dismemberment, or loss of income benefits.

If You incur Covered Charges under this Policy and these same expenses are covered under Other Valid Coverage, Our Payment will be reduced so as not to exceed Our pro-rata share of the total coverage available. If We reduce Our Payment on a pro-rata basis, We will also return a pro-rata share of the Premium to You.

To determine Our pro-rata Payment, We will:

- (a) add together Our benefits (calculated without reference to Other Valid Coverage) and the amount(s) payable (for the same Covered Charges) under Other Valid Coverage of which We had notice;

INSURANCE

PROPOSALS

- (b) add together Our benefits (calculated without reference to Other Valid Coverage) and the amount(s) payable (for the same Covered Charges) under all Other Valid Coverage (whether or not We had notice);
- (c) divide the total in (1) by the total in (2) to calculate a percentage; and
- (d) multiply the percentage calculated in step (3) by the Covered Charges; the result is Our payment.

"Other Valid Coverage" means coverage, other than Ours, provided on a group or individual basis, by insurance companies, hospital or medical service organizations, health maintenance organizations, union welfare plans, employer or employee benefit organizations, and employers; it also includes automobile medical payments insurance (other than that required by New Jersey law). If Other Valid Coverage is on a provision of service basis, "the amount(s) payable under Other Valid Coverage" shall be equal to the amount which the services rendered would have cost in the absence of such coverage.

Small Claims Waiver: We do not coordinate payments on claims of less than $50.00. But if, during any claim determination period, more Covered Charges are incurred that raise the claim above $50.00 We will count the entire amount of the claim when We coordinate.)

This provision applies to all Covered Charges under this Policy if You have Other Valid Coverage. The purpose of this provision is to make sure You do not collect more in benefits than You incur in charges.

If You have Other Valid Coverage, Your Coverage under this Policy is secondary and Your coverage under the Other Valid Coverage is primary. This means the Other Valid Coverage pays Covered Charges first and this Policy pays only any remaining unpaid Covered Charges. Neither plan pays more than it would have without this provision.

In recognition of the benefits under this Policy being secondary and thus reduced, the premium You pay for this Policy is reduced to actuarially reflect the benefit reduction. In the event We are not aware You have Other Valid Coverage at the time this Policy is issued to You, We will only reduce Your premium only after We do receive notice of the Other Valid Coverage. We will not refund any premium amounts previously paid.

Should You cancel the Other Valid Coverage, Your coverage under this Policy will become primary and Your premium amount adjusted accordingly. In the event You incur Claims under this Policy while this Policy is providing primary coverage and you are paying a reduced premium based on this Policy providing secondary coverage, You are obligated to Us for the full premium amount. To the extent You have not paid the full premium amount, We will offset the amount due from any benefit amount payable for Covered Charges.

"Other Valid Coverage" means coverage, other than Ours, provided on a group or individual basis, by insurance companies, hospital or medical service organizations, health maintenance organizations, union welfare plans, employer or employee benefit organizations, and employers; it also includes automobile medical payments insurance (other than that required by New Jersey law). If Other Valid Coverage is on a provision of service basis, the amount(s) payable under Other Valid Coverage shall be equal to the amount which the services rendered would have cost in the absence of such coverage.

Our Right to Certain Information: In order to coordinate benefits, We need certain information. You must supply Us with as much of that information as You can. But if You cannot give Us all the information We need, We have the right to get this information from any source. If another insurer needs information to apply its coordination provision, We have the right to give that insurer such information. If We give or get information under this section We cannot be held liable for such action. When payment that should have been made by this Policy, but was made by another plan, We have the right to repay that plan. If We do so, We are no longer liable for that amount. If We pay out more than We should have, We have the right to recover the excess payment.

[XII. [XIV.] RIGHT TO RECOVERY—THIRD PARTY LIABILITY

"Reasonable pro-rata Expenses" are those costs such as lawyers fees and court costs, incurred to effect a Third Party payment, expressed as a percentage of such payment.

"Third Party" means anyone other than Us or a Covered Person.

If a Covered Person makes a claim to Us for benefits under this Policy prior to receiving payment from a Third Party or its insurer, the Covered Person must agree, in writing, to repay Us from any amount of money they receive from the Third Party, or its insurer for an Illness or Accidental Injury.

We will only require such payment when the amounts received through such settlement, judgment or otherwise, are specifically identified as amounts paid for health benefits for which We paid benefits.

The repayment will be equal to the amount of benefits paid by Us. However, the Covered Person may deduct the reasonable pro-rata expenses, incurred in effecting the Third Party payment from the repayment to Us.

We shall require the return of health benefits paid for an Illness or Accidental Injury, up to the amount a Covered Person receives for that Illness or Accidental Injury through:

- a. a Third Party settlement;
- b. a satisfied judgment; or
- c. other means.

The repayment agreement will be binding upon the Covered Person whether:

- a. the payment received from the Third Party, or its insurer, is the result of a legal judgment, an arbitration award, a compromise settlement, or any other arrangement, or
- b. the Third Party, or its insurer, has admitted liability for the payment.

We will not pay any benefits under this Policy to or on behalf of a Covered Person, who has received payment in whole or in part from a Third Party, or its insurer for past or future charges for an Illness or Accidental Injury, resulting from the negligence, intentional act, or no-fault tort liability of a Third Party.)

[DOCTOR. A medical practitioner We are required by law to recognize who:

- (a) is properly licensed or certified to provide medical care under the laws of the state where he practices; and
- (b) provides medical services which are within the scope of his license or certificate and which are covered by this Policy.)

EXPERIMENTAL or INVESTIGATIONAL.

Services or supplies, including treatments, procedures, hospitalizations, drugs, biological products or medical devices, which We Determine are:

- (a) not of proven benefit for the particular diagnosis or treatment of Your particular condition; or
- (b) not generally recognized by the medical community as effective or appropriate for the particular diagnosis or treatment of Your particular condition; or
- (c) provided or performed in special settings for research purposes or under a controlled environment or clinical protocol.

Unless otherwise required by law with respect to drugs which have been prescribed for the treatment of a type of cancer for which the drug has not been approved by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA), We will not cover any services or supplies, including treatment, procedures, drugs, biological products or medical devices or any hospitalization in connection with Experimental or Investigational services or supplies.

We will also not cover any technology or any hospitalization in connection with such technology if such technology is obsolete or ineffective and is not used generally by the medical community for the particular diagnosis or treatment of Your particular condition.

Governmental approval of a technology is not necessarily sufficient to render it of proven benefit or appropriate or effective for a particular diagnosis or treatment of Your particular condition as explained below.

We will apply the following five criteria in Determining whether services or supplies are Experimental or Investigational:

1. any medical device, drug, or biological product must have received final approval to market by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for the particular diagnosis or condition. Any other approval granted as an interim step in the FDA regulatory process, e.g., an Investigational Device Exemption or an Investigational New Drug Exemption, is not sufficient. Once FDA approval has been granted for a particular diagnosis or condition, use of the medical device, drug or biological product for another diagnosis or condition may require that any or all of the five criteria be met;]
1. any medical device, drug, or biological product must have received final approval to market by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for the particular diagnosis or condition. Any other approval granted as an interim step in the FDA regulatory process, e.g., an Investigational Device Exemption or an Investigational New Drug Exemption, is not sufficient. Once FDA approval has been granted for a particular diagnosis or condition, use of the medical device, drug or biological product for another diagnosis or condition will require that one or more of the following established reference compendia:
  - The American Medical Association Drug Evaluations;
  - The American Hospital Formulary Service Drug Information; or
  - The United States Pharmacopeia Drug Information.

recognize the usage as appropriate medical treatment. As an alternative to such recognition in one or more of the compendia, the usage of the drug will be recognized as appropriate if it is recommended by a clinical study and recommended by a review article in a major peer-reviewed professional journal. A medical device, drug, or biological product that meets the above tests will not be considered Experimental or Investigational.

In any event, any drug which the Food and Drug Administration has determined to be contraindicated for the specific treatment for which the drug has been prescribed will be considered Experimental or Investigational.

2. conclusive evidence from the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that the technology has a definite positive effect on health outcomes; such evidence must include well-designed investigations that have been reproduced by nonaffiliated authoritative sources, with measurable results, backed up by the positive endorsements of national medical bodies or panels regarding scientific efficacy and rationale;
3. demonstrated evidence as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that over time the technology leads to improvement in health outcomes, i.e., the beneficial effects outweigh any harmful effects;
4. proof as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that the technology is at least as effective in improving health outcomes as established technology, or is usable in appropriate clinical contexts in which established technology is not employable; and
5. proof as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that improvements in health outcomes, as defined in paragraph 3, is possible in standard conditions of medical practice, outside clinical investigatory settings.

For {Policyholder and Spouse} Husband and Wife .....	[$ ]

We have the right to change any Premium rate set forth above at the times and in the manner established by the provision of this Policy entitled "Premiums."

PREMIUM AMOUNTS

The Premium due on each Premium Due Date is the sum of the Premium charges for the coverage You have. Those charges are Determined from the Premium rates then in effect.

The following will apply if one or more Premiums paid include Premium charges for a Covered Person whose coverage has ended before the due date of that Premium. We will not have to refund more than the amount of (a) minus (b):

- (a) the amounts of the Premium charges for the Covered Person that was included in the Premiums paid for the two-month period immediately {before} after the date the Covered Person's coverage has ended.

To obtain Our authorization, You or Your Provider must request Our review. In some instances, before We authorize the procedures, services and supplies listed above, We may require a second opinion. See "Step 3" below.

IF YOU DO NOT REQUEST OUR AUTHORIZATION, OR IF WE DO NOT AUTHORIZE THE PROCEDURES, SERVICES AND SUPPLIES WE WILL REDUCE ANY PAYMENT WE MAKE BY 50%. ANY REDUCTION

OF BENEFITS UNDER THIS PROVISION ARE SUBJECT TO YOUR RIGHTS UNDER THE CLAIMS APPEAL SECTION OF THE CLAIMS PROCEDURE PROVISION OF THIS POLICY.

{NOTE: For Non-Medical Emergency procedures, services and supplies listed above, You or Your Provider must contact Us at least 3 days prior to treatment or purchase. For Medical Emergency procedures, services and supplies You or Your Provider must contact Us within 48 hours or on the next business day, from treatment whichever is later.

In some instances, before We authorize the procedures, services and supplies listed above, We may require a second opinion. See "Step 2" below.

STEP 2—Notice Requirements

For Non-Medical Emergency procedures, services and supplies listed above, You or Your Provider must contact Us at least 3 days prior to treatment or purchase.

For Medical Emergency procedures, services and supplies You or Your Provider must contact Us within 48 hours or on the next business day, from treatment whichever is later.

{For Continued Confinement as an Inpatient beyond the time authorized, You or Your Provider must contact us within 24 hours prior to preapproved discharge date for additional authorization.}

If We are notified within the required time and We Determine that the procedures, services and supplies are Medically Necessary and Appropriate, Our Payment will not be affected—We will pay up to the limits of this Policy. IF WE ARE NOT NOTIFIED WITHIN THE TIME SPECIFIED, WE WILL {MAKE NO PAYMENT} REDUCE ANY PAYMENT BY 50%.

Failure to notify Us of the procedures, services or supplies listed above will not affect Our payment if We Determine that notice was given to Us as soon as was reasonably possible.

STEP (2) 3—Obtain a Second Opinion

If We Determine that a second opinion is not necessary for the proposed procedure, then You should proceed with Step (3) 4 below.

If We Determine that a second opinion is necessary, We will arrange for a second opinion consultation prior to Your undergoing the medical, diagnostic or surgical procedure or being admitted as an Inpatient. We will pay for this consultation and for any Diagnostic Services and Pre-Admission Testing necessary for the second opinion, subject to all Policy limitations and exclusions.

If the second opinion confirms the need for the procedure, then You should proceed with Step (3) 4 below.

If the second opinion does not confirm the need for the procedure, We may require {you} You to get a third opinion. If that happens, We will arrange and pay for the third opinion. If the third opinion confirms the need for the procedure, You should then proceed with Step (3) 4 below.

NOTE: We will only pay for a second or third surgical opinion which We authorize and arrange.

IF THE SECOND AND THIRD OPINION DO NOT CONFIRM THE NEED FOR THE PROCEDURE, AND YOU PROCEED WITH THE PROCEDURE, WE WILL NOT PAY FOR THE PROCEDURE NOR ANY ASSOCIATED PROVIDER (INCLUDING FACILITY) CHARGES. IF YOU DO NOT OBTAIN A SECOND AND/OR THIRD OPINION WHICH WE HAVE ASKED YOU TO OBTAIN, OUR PAYMENT FOR THE PROCEDURE WILL BE REDUCED BY 20% PROVIDED WE DETERMINE THE PERFORMANCE OF THE PROCEDURE WAS MEDICALLY NECESSARY AND APPROPRIATE; IF WE DETERMINE THAT PERFORMANCE OF THE PROCEDURE WAS NOT MEDICALLY APPROPRIATE, WE WILL NOT MAKE ANY PAYMENT.

A confirming second or third opinion is valid for 90 days. If You do not undergo the procedure within that time, You must call Us and renew the confirming opinion prior to the procedure being performed. If the confirming opinion is not renewed, We may consider the confirming opinion not authorized.

STEP (3) 4—Obtain Hospital Admission Review

If You called for Our authorization and (a) We Determined that a second opinion was not necessary; or (b) You followed the second opinion process outlined in Step [2] 3 above and the second opinion has confirmed the need for the procedure, We will then Determine what setting (Inpatient or Outpatient) is appropriate for the proposed procedure. If We approve an Inpatient admission, You may proceed with the admission and Our Payment will not be affected—We will pay up to the limits of this Policy. IF WE DO NOT AUTHORIZE AN INPATIENT ADMISSION AND YOU PROCEED WITH THAT ADMISSION, [WE WILL NOT MAKE] ANY PAYMENT FOR FACILITY CHARGES WILL BE REDUCED BY 50%.

Our approval is valid for 30 days. If the admission does not occur as planned, You or Your Provider must contact Us to renew the approval. If the approval is not renewed, We will consider the Inpatient admission not authorized.

Limitations of Actions: You cannot bring a legal action against this Policy until 60 days from the date You file proof of loss. And You cannot bring legal action against this Policy after three years from the date You file proof of loss.

XI. [XIII.] {COORDINATION OF BENEFITS} BENEFITS FROM OTHER PLANS

{This provision applies to all Covered Charges under this Policy. [It does not apply to death, dismemberment, or loss of income benefits.]

If You incur Covered Charges under this Policy and these same expenses are covered under Other Valid Coverage, Our Payment will be reduced so as not to exceed Our pro-rata share of the total coverage available. If We reduce Our Payment on a pro-rata basis, We will also return a pro-rata share of the Premium to You.

To determine Our pro-rata Payment, We will:

- (a) add together Our benefits (calculated without reference to Other Valid Coverage) and the amount(s) payable (for the same Covered Charges) under Other Valid Coverage of which We had notice;
- (b) add together Our benefits (calculated without reference to Other Valid Coverage) and the amount(s) payable (for the same Covered Charges) under all Other Valid Coverage (whether or not We had notice);
- (c) divide the total in (1) by the total in (2) to calculate a percentage; and
- (d) multiply the percentage calculated in step (3) by the Covered Charges; the result is Our payment.

"Other Valid Coverage" means coverage, other than Ours, provided on a group or individual basis, by insurance companies, hospital or medical service organizations, health maintenance organizations, union welfare plans, employer or employee benefit organizations, and employers; it also includes automobile medical payments insurance (other than that required by New Jersey law). If Other Valid Coverage is on a provision of service basis, "the amount(s) payable under Other Valid Coverage" shall be equal to the amount which the services rendered would have cost in the absence of such coverage.

Our Right to Certain Information: In order to coordinate benefits, We need certain information. You must supply Us with as much of that information as You can. But if You cannot give Us all the information We need, We have the right to get this information from any source. If another insurer needs information to apply its coordination provision, We have the right to give that insurer such information. If We give or get information under this section We cannot be held liable for such action. When payment that should have been made by this Policy have been made by another plan, We have the right to repay that plan. If We do so, We are no longer liable for that amount. If We pay out more than We should have, We have the right to recover the excess payment.

Small Claims Waiver: We do not coordinate payments on claims of less than $50.00. But if, during any claim determination period, more Covered Charges are incurred that raise the claim above $50.00 We will count the entire amount of the claim when We coordinate.)

This provision applies to all Covered Charges under this Policy if You have Other Valid Coverage. The purpose of this provision is to make sure You do not collect more in benefits than You incur in charges.

If You have Other Valid Coverage, Your Coverage under this Policy is secondary and Your coverage under the Other Valid Coverage is primary. This means the Other Valid Coverage pays Covered Charges first and this Policy pays only any remaining unpaid Covered Charges. Neither plan pays more than it would have without this provision.

In recognition of the benefits under this Policy being secondary and thus reduced, the premium You pay for this Policy is reduced to actuarially reflect the benefit reduction. In the event We are not aware You have Other Valid Coverage at the time this Policy is issued to You, We will only reduce Your premium only after We do receive notice of the Other Valid Coverage. We will not refund any premium amounts previously paid.

Should You cancel the Other Valid Coverage, Your coverage under this Policy will become primary and Your premium amount adjusted accordingly. In the event You incur Claims under this Policy while this Policy is providing primary coverage and you are paying a reduced premium based on this Policy providing secondary coverage, You are obligated to Us for the full premium amount. To the extent You have not paid the full premium amount, We will offset the amount due from any benefit amount payable for Covered Charges.

"Other Valid Coverage" means coverage, other than Ours, provided on a group or individual basis, by insurance companies, hospital or medical service organizations, health maintenance organizations, union welfare plans, employer or employee benefit organizations, and employers; it also includes automobile medical payments insurance (other than that required by New Jersey law). If Other Valid Coverage is on a provision of service basis, the amount(s) payable under Other Valid Coverage shall be equal to the amount which the services rendered would have cost in the absence of such coverage.

Our Right To Certain Information: In order to coordinate benefits, We need certain information. You must supply Us with as much of that information as You can. But if You cannot give Us all the information We need, We have the right to get this information from any source. If another insurer needs information to apply its coordination provision, We have the right to give that insurer such information. If We give or get information under this section We cannot be held liable for such action. When payment that should have been made by this Policy, but was made by another plan, We have the right to repay that plan. If We do so, We are no longer liable for that amount. If We pay out more than We should have, We have the right to recover the excess payment.

[XII. [XIV.] RIGHT TO RECOVERY—THIRD PARTY LIABILITY

“Reasonable pro-rata Expenses” are those costs such as lawyers fees and court costs, incurred to effect a third party payment, expressed as a percentage of such payment.

“Third Party” means anyone other than Us or a Covered Person. If a Covered Person makes a claim to Us for benefits under this Policy prior to receiving payment from a third party or its insurer, the Covered Person must agree, in writing, to repay Us from any amount of money they receive from the third party, or its insurer for an Illness or Accidental Injury.

We will only require such payment when the amounts received through such settlement, judgment or otherwise, are specifically identified as amounts paid for health benefits for which We paid benefits.

The repayment will be equal to the amount of benefits paid by Us. However, the Covered Person may deduct the reasonable pro-rata expenses, incurred in effecting the third party payment from the repayment to Us.

We shall require the return of health benefits paid for an Illness or Accidental Injury, up to the amount a Covered Person receives for that Illness or Accidental Injury through:

- a. a third party settlement;
- b. a satisfied judgment; or
- c. other means.

The repayment agreement will be binding upon the Covered Person whether:

- a. the payment received from the third party, or its insurer, is the result of a legal judgment, an arbitration award, a compromise settlement, or any other arrangement, or
- b. the third party, or its insurer, has admitted liability for the payment.

We will not pay any benefits under this Policy to or on behalf of a Covered Person, who has received payment in whole or in part from a third party, or its insurer for past or future charges for an Illness or Accidental Injury, resulting from the negligence, intentional act, or no-fault tort liability of a third party.]

Premium adjustments that involve returning an unearned premium to You will be limited to the twelve-month period before We received satisfactory evidence that such adjustment should be made.

If You misstate {your}Your age or any other relevant fact and the Premium is affected, a fair adjustment of Premiums will be made. If such misstatement affects the amount of coverage, the true facts will be used in Determining what coverage is in force under this Policy.

TERMINATION OF THE POLICY—RENEWAL PRIVILEGE

During or at End of Grace Period—Failure to Pay Premiums: If any Premium is not paid by the end of its grace period, the Policy will end when that period ends. But You may write to Us, in advance, to ask that the Policy be terminated at the end of any period for which Premiums have been paid. Then the Policy will end on the date requested.

{This Policy is issued for a term of one year from the Effective Date. All Benefit Periods and Benefit Months will be calculated from the Effective Date. All periods of insurance hereunder will begin and end at 12:00:01 a.m. Eastern Standard Time.}

This Policy will be renewed automatically each year on the Anniversary Date, unless one of the following circumstances occur:

- (a) nonpayment of Premiums;
- (b) fraud or misrepresentation by You or Your Dependents;
- (c) termination of Your eligibility or, with respect to Your Dependent, Your Dependent's Eligibility;
- (d) You become eligible to participate in a Group Health Benefits Plan which provides the same or similar coverage;
- (e) non-renewal as authorized by the Board.

Also, any child over whom You have legal custody or legal guardianship is considered a Child under this Policy. - (a) is properly licensed or certified to provide medical care under the laws of the state where he practices; and
- (b) provides medical services which are within the scope of his license or certificate and which are covered by this Policy.)

EXPERIMENTAL or INVESTIGATIONAL.

Services or supplies, including treatments, procedures, hospitalizations, drugs, biological products or medical devices, which We Determine are:

- (a) not of proven benefit for the particular diagnosis or treatment of Your particular condition; or
- (b) not generally recognized by the medical community as effective or appropriate for the particular diagnosis or treatment of Your particular condition; or
- (c) provided or performed in special settings for research purposes or under a controlled environment or clinical protocol.

Unless otherwise required by law with respect to drugs which have been prescribed for the treatment of a type of cancer for which the drug has not been approved by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA), We will not cover any services or supplies, including treatment, procedures, drugs, biological products or medical devices or any hospitalization in connection with Experimental or Investigational services or supplies.

We will also not cover any technology or any hospitalization in connection with such technology if such technology is obsolete or ineffective and is not used generally by the medical community for the particular diagnosis or treatment of Your particular condition.

Governmental approval of a technology is not necessarily sufficient to render it of proven benefit or appropriate or effective for a particular diagnosis or treatment of Your particular condition as explained below.

We will apply the following five criteria in Determining whether services or supplies are Experimental or Investigational:

- {1. any medical device, drug, or biological product must have received final approval to market by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for the particular diagnosis or condition. Any other approval granted as an interim step in the FDA regulatory process, e.g., an Investigational Device Exemption or an Investigational New Drug Exemption, is not sufficient. Once FDA approval has been granted for a particular diagnosis or condition, use of the medical device, drug or biological product for another diagnosis or condition may require that any or all of the five criteria be met;}

- 1. any medical device, drug, or biological product must have received final approval to market by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for the particular diagnosis or condition. Any other approval granted as an interim step in the FDA regulatory process, e.g., an Investigational Device Exemption or an Investigational New Drug Exemption, is not sufficient. Once FDA approval has been granted for a particular diagnosis or condition, use of the medical device, drug or biological product for another diagnosis or condition will require that one or more of the following established reference compendia:

- The American Medical Association Drug Evaluations;
- The American Hospital Formulary Service Drug Information; or
- The United States Pharmacopeia Drug Information.

recognize the usage as appropriate medical treatment. As an alternative to such recognition in one or more of the compendia, the usage of the drug will be recognized as appropriate if it is recommended by a clinical study and recommended by a review article in a major peer-reviewed professional journal. A medical device, drug, or biological product that meets the above tests will not be considered Experimental or Investigational.

In any event, any drug which the Food and Drug Administration has determined to be contraindicated for the specific treatment for which the drug has been prescribed will be considered Experimental or Investigational.

- 2. conclusive evidence from the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that the technology has a definite positive effect on health outcomes; such evidence must include well-designed investigations that have been reproduced by nonaffiliated authoritative sources, with measurable results, backed up by the positive endorsements of national medical bodies or panels regarding scientific efficacy and rationale;

STEP {2} 3—Obtain a Second Opinion

If We Determine that a second opinion is not necessary for the proposed procedure, then You should proceed with Step {3} 4 below.

If We Determine that a second opinion is necessary, We will arrange for a second opinion consultation prior to Your undergoing the medical, diagnostic or surgical procedure or being admitted as an Inpatient. A confirming second or third opinion is valid for 90 days. If You do not undergo the procedure within that time, You must call Us and renew the confirming opinion prior to the procedure being performed. If the confirming opinion is not renewed, We may consider the confirming opinion not authorized.

STEP {3} 4—Obtain Hospital Admission Review

If You called for Our authorization and (a) We Determined that a second opinion was not necessary; or (b) You followed the second opinion process outlined in Step [2] 3 above and the second opinion has confirmed the need for the procedure, We will then Determine what setting (Inpatient or Outpatient) is appropriate for the proposed procedure. If We approve an Inpatient admission, You may proceed with the admission and Our Payment will not be affected—We will pay up to the limits of this Policy. IF WE DO NOT AUTHORIZE AN INPATIENT ADMISSION AND YOU PROCEED WITH THAT ADMISSION, {WE WILL NOT MAKE} ANY PAYMENT FOR FACILITY CHARGES WILL BE REDUCED BY 50%.

Your request for reconsideration must be in writing, and include:

- (a) name(s) and address(es) of patient and Policyholder;

You may also, within 45 days of Our receipt of Your request for reconsideration, submit to Us issues and comments and any additional pertinent medical information.

We will give You a written decision within 60 days after We receive Your request for review. That written decision will indicate the reasons for the decision and refer to the Policy provision(s) on which it was based.

In special circumstances, We may Determine that additional time is necessary to make a decision. We will let You know if this happens but it will never be more than 120 days from the date {of the original declination} after We receive Your request for review.

Limitations of Actions: You cannot bring a legal action against this Policy until 60 days from the date You file proof of loss. And You cannot bring legal action against this Policy after three years from the date You file proof of loss.

XI. [XIII.] [COORDINATION OF BENEFITS] BENEFITS FROM OTHER PLANS

{This provision applies to all Covered Charges under this Policy. [It does not apply to death, dismemberment, or loss of income benefits.]

If You incur Covered Charges under this Policy and these same expenses are covered under Other Valid Coverage, Our Payment will be reduced so as not to exceed Our pro-rata share of the total coverage available. If We reduce Our Payment on a pro-rata basis, We will also return a pro-rata share of the Premium to You.

To determine Our pro-rata Payment, We will:

- (a) add together Our benefits (calculated without reference to Other Valid Coverage) and the amount(s) payable (for the same Covered Charges) under Other Valid Coverage of which We had notice;
- (b) add together Our benefits (calculated without reference to Other Valid Coverage) and the amount(s) payable (for the same Covered Charges) under all Other Valid Coverage (whether or not We had notice);
- (c) divide the total in (1) by the total in (2) to calculate a percentage; and
- (d) multiply the percentage calculated in step (3) by the Covered Charges; the result is Our payment.

"Other Valid Coverage" means coverage, other than Ours, provided on a group or individual basis, by insurance companies, hospital or medical service organizations, health maintenance organizations, union welfare plans, employer or employee benefit organizations, and employers; it also includes automobile medical payments insurance (other than that required by New Jersey law). If Other Valid Coverage is on a provision of service basis, "the amount(s) payable under Other Valid Coverage" shall be equal to the amount which the services rendered would have cost in the absence of such coverage.

Our Right To Certain Information: In order to coordinate benefits, We need certain information. You must supply Us with as much of that information as You can. But if You cannot give Us all the information We need, We have the right to get this information from any source. If another insurer needs information to apply its coordination provision, We have the right to give that insurer such information. If We give or get information under this section We cannot be held liable for such action.

When payment that should have been made by this Policy have been made by another plan, We have the right to repay that plan. If We do so, We are no longer liable for that amount. If We pay out more than We should have, We have the right to recover the excess payment.

Small Claims Waiver: We do not coordinate payments on claims of less than $50.00. But if, during any claim determination period, more Covered Charges are incurred that raise the claim above $50.00 We will count the entire amount of the claim when We coordinate.}

This provision applies to all Covered Charges under this Policy if You have Other Valid Coverage. The purpose of this provision is to make sure You do not collect more in benefits than You incur in charges.

If You have Other Valid Coverage, Your Coverage under this Policy is secondary and Your coverage under the Other Valid Coverage is primary. This means the Other Valid Coverage pays Covered Charges first and this Policy pays only any remaining unpaid Covered Charges. Neither plan pays more than it would have without this provision.

In recognition of the benefits under this Policy being secondary and thus reduced, the premium You pay for this Policy is reduced to actuarially reflect the benefit reduction. In the event We are not aware You have Other Valid Coverage at the time this Policy is issued to You, We will only reduce Your premium only after We do receive notice of the Other Valid Coverage. We will not refund any premium amounts previously paid.

Should You cancel the Other Valid Coverage, Your coverage under this Policy will become primary and Your premium amount adjusted accordingly. In the event You incur Claims under this Policy while this Policy is providing primary coverage and you are paying a reduced premium based on this Policy providing secondary coverage, You are obligated to Us for the full premium amount. To the extent You have not paid the full premium amount, We will offset the amount due from any benefit amount payable for Covered Charges.

"Other Valid Coverage" means coverage, other than Ours, provided on a group or individual basis, by insurance companies, hospital or medical service organizations, health maintenance organizations, union welfare plans, employer or employee benefit organizations, and employers; it also includes automobile medical payments insurance (other than that required by New Jersey law). If Other Valid Coverage is on a provision of service basis, the amount(s) payable under Other Valid Coverage shall be equal to the amount which the services rendered would have cost in the absence of such coverage.

Our Right To Certain Information: In order to coordinate benefits, We need certain information. You must supply Us with as much of that information as You can. But if You cannot give Us all the information We need, We have the right to get this information from any source. If another insurer needs information to apply its coordination provision, We have the right to give that insurer such information. If We give or get information under this section We cannot be held liable for such action. When payment that should have been made by this Policy, but was made by another plan, We have the right to repay that plan. If We do so, We are no longer liable for that amount. If We pay out more than We should have, We have the right to recover the excess payment.

[XII. [XIV.] RIGHT TO RECOVERY—THIRD PARTY LIABILITY

"Reasonable pro-rata Expenses" are those costs such as lawyers fees and court costs, incurred to effect a third party payment, expressed as a percentage of such payment.

"Third Party" means anyone other than Us or a Covered Person.

If a Covered Person makes a claim to Us for benefits under this Policy prior to receiving payment from a third party or its insurer, the Covered Person must agree, in writing, to repay Us from any amount of money they receive from the third party, or its insurer for an Illness or Accidental Injury.

We will only require such payment when the amounts received through such settlement, judgment or otherwise, are specifically identified as amounts paid for health benefits for which We paid benefits.

The repayment will be equal to the amount of benefits paid by Us. However, the Covered Person may deduct the reasonable pro-rata expenses, incurred in effecting the third party payment from the repayment to Us.

We shall require the return of health benefits paid for an Illness or Accidental Injury, up to the amount a Covered Person receives for that Illness or Injury through:

- a. a third party settlement;
b. a satisfied judgment; or
c. other means.

The repayment agreement will be binding upon the Covered Person whether:

- a. the payment received from the third party, or its insurer, is the result of a legal judgment, an arbitration award, a compromise settlement, or any other arrangement, or
b. the third party, or its insurer, has admitted liability for the payment.

We will not pay any benefits under this Policy to or on behalf of a Covered Person, who has received payment in whole or in part from a third party, or its insurer for past or future charges for an Illness or Accidental Injury, resulting from the negligence, intentional act, or no-fault tort liability of a Third Party.]

CHILD. Your own issue or Your legally adopted child, and Your step-child if the child depends on You for most of the child’s support and maintenance. We treat a child as legally adopted from the time the child is placed in the home for purpose of adoption. We treat such a child this way whether or not a final adoption order is ever issued. Also, any child over whom You have legal custody or legal guardianship is considered a Child under this Policy. (We may require that You submit proof of legal custody or legal guardianship, in Our Discretion.)

However, a foster child or grandchild of the Policyholder or his or her Spouse is not a Child for purposes of eligibility for benefits under this Policy.

DEPENDENT.

(a) Your:

- (1) Spouse;
- (2) unmarried Child who is under age {20} 19;
- (3) unmarried Child from age {20} 19 until the Child’s 23rd birthday, who is enrolled as a full-time student at an accredited school (We can ask for periodic proof that the Child is so enrolled); and
- (4) unmarried Child for whom You are obligated by a court order to provide health benefit plan coverage.

(b) Your unmarried Child who has a mental or physical handicap, or developmental disability, remains a Dependent beyond this Policy’s age limit, if:

INSURANCE

treatment, procedures, drugs, biological products or medical devices or any hospitalizations in connection with Experimental or Investigational services or supplies.

We will also not cover any technology or any hospitalization in connection with such technology if such technology is obsolete or ineffective and is not used generally by the medical community for the particular diagnosis or treatment of Your particular condition.

Governmental approval of a technology is not necessarily sufficient to render it of proven benefit or appropriate or effective for a particular diagnosis or treatment of Your particular condition as explained below.

We will apply the following five criteria in Determining whether services or supplies are Experimental or Investigational:

1. any medical device, drug, or biological product must have received final approval to market by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for the particular diagnosis or condition. Any other approval granted as an interim step in the FDA regulatory process, e.g., an Investigational Device Exemption or an Investigational New Drug Exemption, is not sufficient. Once FDA approval has been granted for a particular diagnosis or condition, use of the medical device, drug or biological product for another diagnosis or condition may require that any or all of the five criteria be met;

1. any medical device, drug, or biological product must have received final approval to market by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for the particular diagnosis or condition. Any other approval granted as an interim step in the FDA regulatory process, e.g., an Investigational Device Exemption or an Investigational New Drug Exemption, is not sufficient. Once FDA approval has been granted for a particular diagnosis or condition, use of the medical device, drug or biological product for another diagnosis or condition will require that one or more of the following established reference compendia:

- The American Medical Association Drug Evaluations;
- The American Hospital Formulary Service Drug Information; or
- The United States Pharmacopeia Drug Information.

recognize the usage as appropriate medical treatment. As an alternative to such recognition in one or more of the compendia, the usage of the drug will be recognized as appropriate if it is recommended by a clinical study and recommended by a review article in a major peer-reviewed professional journal. A medical device, drug, or biological product that meets the above tests will not be considered Experimental or Investigational.

In any event, any drug which the Food and Drug Administration has determined to be contraindicated for the specific treatment for which the drug has been prescribed will be considered Experimental or Investigational.

2. conclusive evidence from the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that the technology has a definite positive effect on health outcomes; such evidence must include well-designed investigations that have been reproduced by nonaffiliated authoritative sources, with measurable results, backed up by the positive endorsements of national medical bodies or panels regarding scientific efficacy and rationale;
3. demonstrated evidence as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that over time the technology leads to improvement in health outcomes, i.e., the beneficial effects outweigh any harmful effects;
4. proof as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that the technology is at least as effective in improving health outcomes as established technology, or is usable in appropriate clinical contexts in which established technology is not employable; and
5. proof as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that improvements in health outcomes, as defined in paragraph 3, is possible in standard conditions of medical practice, outside clinical investigatory settings.

We will give You 30 days written notice when a change in the Premium rates is made.

V. BENEFIT DEDUCTIBLES AND COINSURANCE

Cash Deductible: Each Benefit Period, You must have Covered Charges that exceed the Deductible before We pay any benefits to You for those charges. The Deductibles are shown in the [schedule] Schedule of Benefits section of this Policy. The Deductibles cannot be met with Non-Covered Expenses. Only Covered Charges incurred by the You while insured can be used to meet the Deductible for those charges.

Once a Deductible is met, We pay benefits for other Covered Charges above the Deductible amount incurred by You, less any applicable Coinsurance and Copayments, for the rest of that Benefit Period. But all charges must be incurred while You are insured by this Policy. And what We pay is based on all the terms of this Policy including benefit limitations and exclusion provisions.

Family Deductible Cap: This Policy has a family deductible cap on care equal to two Deductibles for each Benefit Period. Once a family meets the equivalent of two individual Deductibles in a Benefit Period, We pay benefits for other Covered Charges incurred by any member of the covered family for that type of care, less any applicable Copayment and Coinsurance, for the rest of that Benefit Period. Each Covered Person's Coinsurance amounts are used to meet his /her own Coinsurance cap. And all amounts used to meet the cap must actually be paid by You.

Once Your Coinsurance amounts in a Benefit Period exceed the individual cap, We waive Your Coinsurance for the rest of that Benefit Period.

THERE WILL BE NO CARRYOVER OF DEDUCTIBLES OR COINSURANCE INTO THE NEXT BENEFIT PERIOD.

Deductible Credit: For the first Benefit Period of this Policy, a Covered Person will receive credit for any Deductible amounts satisfied under previous coverage within the same calendar year that Your first Benefit Period starts under this Policy.

This credit will be applied whether Your previous coverage was under a plan with Us or with another carrier. You will be required to provide Us with adequate documentation of the amounts satisfied.

Payment Limits: We limit what We pay for certain types of charges. (Benefits From Other Plans: When another plan furnishes benefits which are similar to Ours, We coordinate our benefits with the benefits from that other plan. However, You are not eligible for coverage under this Policy if You are eligible for benefits under a Group Health Benefits Plan that provides the same or similar coverage. We do this so that no one gets more in benefits than he incurs in charges. Read the section of this Policy called "Coordination of Benefits" to see how this works.)

VI. COVERED CHARGES

We will pay benefits if, due to an Accidental Injury or Illness, You incur Medically Necessary and Appropriate Covered Charges during a Benefit Period. Unless stated, all benefits are subject to Copayment, Deductibles, Coinsurance, other limits and exclusions shown in the Schedule of Benefits, along with other provisions in this Policy.

XI. [XIII.] {COORDINATION OF BENEFITS} BENEFITS FROM OTHER PLANS

{This provision applies to all Covered Charges under this Policy. It does not apply to death, dismemberment, or loss of income benefits.

If You incur Covered Charges under this Policy and these same expenses are covered under Other Valid Coverage, Our Payment will be reduced so as not to exceed Our pro-rata share of the total coverage available. If We reduce Our Payment on a pro-rata basis, We will also return a pro-rata share of the Premium to You.

To determine Our pro-rata Payment, We will:

- (a) add together Our benefits (calculated without reference to Other Valid Coverage) and the amount(s) payable (for the same Covered Charges) under Other Valid Coverage of which We had notice;
- (b) add together Our benefits (calculated without reference to Other Valid Coverage) and the amount(s) payable (for the same Covered Charges) under all Other Valid Coverage (whether or not We had notice);
- (c) divide the total in (1) by the total in (2) to calculate a percentage; and
- (d) multiply the percentage calculated in step (3) by the Covered Charges; the result is Our payment.

"Other Valid Coverage" means coverage, other than Ours, provided on a group or individual basis, by insurance companies, hospital or medical service organizations, health maintenance organizations, union welfare plans, employer or employee benefit organizations, and employers; it also includes automobile medical payments insurance (other than that required by New Jersey law). If Other Valid Coverage is on a provision of service basis, "the amount(s) payable under Other Valid Coverage" shall be equal to the amount which the services rendered would have cost in the absence of such coverage.

Our Right To Certain Information: In order to coordinate benefits, We need certain information. You must supply Us with as much of that information as You can. But if You cannot give Us all the information We need, We have the right to get this information from any source. If another insurer needs information to apply its coordination provision, We have the right to give that insurer such information. If We give or get information under this section We cannot be held liable for such action.

When payment that should have been made by this Policy have been made by another plan, We have the right to repay that plan. If We do so, We are no longer liable for that amount. If We pay out more than We should have, We have the right to recover the excess payment.

Small Claims Waiver: We do not coordinate payments on claims of less than $50.00. But if, during any claim determination period, more Covered Charges are incurred that raise the claim above $50.00 We will count the entire amount of the claim when We coordinate.)

This provision applies to all Covered Charges under this Policy if You have Other Valid Coverage. The purpose of this provision is to make sure You do not collect more in benefits than You incur in charges.

If You have Other Valid Coverage, Your Coverage under this Policy is secondary and Your coverage under the Other Valid Coverage is primary. This means the Other Valid Coverage pays Covered Charges first and this Policy pays only any remaining unpaid Covered Charges. Neither plan pays more than it would have without this provision.

In recognition of the benefits under this Policy being secondary and thus reduced, the premium You pay for this Policy is reduced to actuarially reflect the benefit reduction. In the event We are not aware You have Other Valid Coverage at the time this Policy is issued to You, We will only reduce Your premium only after We do receive notice of the Other Valid Coverage. We will not refund any premium amounts previously paid.

Should You cancel the Other Valid Coverage, Your coverage under this Policy will become primary and Your premium amount adjusted accordingly. In the event You incur Claims under this Policy while this Policy is providing primary coverage and you are paying a reduced premium based on this Policy providing secondary coverage, You are obligated to Us for the full premium amount. To the extent You have not paid the full premium amount, We will offset the amount due from any benefit amount payable for Covered Charges.

When payment that should have been made by this Policy, but was made by another plan, We have the right to repay that plan. If We do so, We are no longer liable for that amount. If We pay out more than We should have, We have the right to recover the excess payment.

[XII. [XIV.] RIGHT TO RECOVERY—THIRD PARTY LIABILITY

"Reasonable pro-rata Expenses" are those costs such as lawyers fees and court costs, incurred to effect a third party payment, expressed as a percentage of such payment.

"Third Party" means anyone other than Us or a Covered Person.

If a Covered Person makes a claim to Us for benefits under this Policy prior to receiving payment from a third party or its insurer, the Covered Person must agree, in writing, to repay Us from any amount of money they receive from the third party, or its insurer for an Illness or Accidental Injury.

We will only require such payment when the amounts received through such settlement, judgment or otherwise, are specifically identified as amounts paid for health benefits for which We paid benefits.

The repayment will be equal to the amount of benefits paid by Us. However, the Covered Person may deduct the reasonable pro-rata expenses, incurred in effecting the third party payment from the repayment to Us.

We shall require the return of health benefits paid for an Illness or Accidental Injury, up to the amount a Covered Person receives for that Illness or Accidental Injury through:

- a. a third party settlement;
- b. a satisfied judgment; or
- c. other means.

The repayment agreement will be binding upon the Covered Person whether:

- a. the payment received from the third party, or its insurer, is the result of a legal judgment, an arbitration award, a compromise settlement, or any other arrangement, or
- b. the third party, or its insurer, has admitted liability for the payment.

We will not pay any benefits under this Policy to or on behalf of a Covered Person, who has received payment in whole or in part from a third party, or its insurer for past or future charges for an Illness or Accidental Injury, resulting from the negligence, intentional act, or no-fault tort liability of a third party.]

- (b) not generally recognized by the medical community as effective or appropriate for the particular diagnosis or treatment of Your particular condition; or
- (c) provided or performed in special settings for research purposes or under a controlled environment or clinical protocol.

Unless otherwise required by law with respect to drugs which have been prescribed for the treatment of a type of cancer for which the drug has not been approved by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA), We will not cover any services or supplies, including treatment, procedures, drugs, biological products or medical devices or any hospitalizations in connection with Experimental or Investigational services or supplies.

We will also not cover any technology or any hospitalization in connection with such technology if such technology is obsolete or ineffective and is not used generally by the medical community for the particular diagnosis or treatment of Your particular condition.

Governmental approval of a technology is not necessarily sufficient to render it of proven benefit or appropriate or effective for a particular diagnosis or treatment of Your particular condition as explained below.

We will apply the following five criteria in Determining whether services or supplies are Experimental or Investigational:

- {1. any medical device, drug, or biological product must have received final approval to market by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for the particular diagnosis or condition. Any other approval granted as an interim step in the FDA regulatory process, e.g., an Investigational Device Exemption or an Investigational New Drug Exemption, is not sufficient. Once FDA approval has been granted for a particular diagnosis or condition, use of the medical device, drug or biological product for another diagnosis or condition may require that any or all of the five criteria be met;)

1. any medical device, drug, or biological product must have received final approval to market by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for the particular diagnosis or condition. Any other approval granted as an interim step in the FDA regulatory process, e.g., an Investigational Device Exemption or an Investigational New Drug Exemption, is not sufficient. Once FDA approval has been granted for a particular diagnosis or condition, use of the medical device, drug or biological product for another diagnosis or condition will require that one or more of the following established reference compendia:

- The American Medical Association Drug Evaluations;
- The American Hospital Formulary Service Drug Information; or
- The United States Pharmacopeia Drug Information.

recognize the usage as appropriate medical treatment. As an alternative to such recognition in one or more of the compendia, the usage of the drug will be recognized as appropriate if it is recommended by a clinical study and recommended by a review article in a major peer-reviewed professional journal. A medical device, drug, or biological product that meets the above tests will not be considered Experimental or Investigational.

In any event, any drug which the Food and Drug Administration has determined to be contraindicated for the specific treatment for which the drug has been prescribed will be considered Experimental or Investigational.

2. conclusive evidence from the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that the technology has a definite positive effect on health outcomes; such evidence must include well-designed investigations that have been reproduced by nonaffiliated authoritative sources, with measurable results, backed up by the positive endorsements of national medical bodies or panels regarding scientific efficacy and rationale;
3. demonstrated evidence as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that over time the technology leads to improvement in health outcomes, i.e., the beneficial effects outweigh any harmful effects;
4. proof as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that the technology is at least as effective in improving health outcomes as established technology, or is usable in appropriate clinical contexts in which established technology is not employable; and
5. proof as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that improvements in health outcomes, as defined in paragraph 3, is possible in standard conditions of medical practice, outside clinical investigatory settings.

VII. GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

[Grievance Procedure: Variable by Carrier as approved by the State of New Jersey.]

VIII. (COORDINATION OF BENEFITS) BENEFITS FROM OTHER PLANS

SERVICES AVAILABLE UNDER OTHER POLICIES

{If Covered Services are provided under this Policy and these same Covered Services or expenses are covered under Other Valid Coverage, Our liability will be reduced so as not to exceed Our pro-rata share of the total coverage available. If We reduce Our liability on a pro-rata basis, We will also return a pro-rata share of the Premium to You.

To determine Our pro-rata Payment, We will:

- (a) add together Our benefits (calculated without reference to Other Valid Coverage) and the amount(s) payable (for the same Covered Services) under Other Valid Coverage of which We had notice;

- (b) add together Our benefits (calculated without reference to Other Valid Coverage) and the amount(s) payable (for the same Covered Services) under all Other Valid Coverage (whether or not We had notice);
- (c) divide the total in (1) by the total in (2) to calculate a percentage; and
- (d) multiply the percentage calculated in step (3) by the reasonable cash value of the Covered Charges; the result is Our payment.

"Other Valid Coverage" means coverage, other than Ours, provided on an individual basis, by insurance companies, hospital or medical service organizations, health maintenance organizations, union welfare plans, employer or employee benefit organizations, and employers; it also includes automobile medical payments insurance (other than that required by New Jersey law). If Other Valid Coverage is on a provision of service basis, "the amount(s) payable under Other Valid Coverage" shall be equal to the amount which the services rendered would have cost in the absence of such coverage.)

This provision applies to all Covered Services and Supplies under this Policy if You have Other Valid Coverage. The purpose of this provision is to make sure You do not collect more in benefits than You incur in charges.

If You have Other Valid Coverage, Your Coverage under this Policy is secondary and Your coverage under the Other Valid Coverage is primary. This means the Other Valid Coverage pays Covered Charges or provides Covered Services and Supplies first and this Policy pays only any remaining unpaid Covered Charges. Neither plan pays more than it would have without this provision.

In recognition of the benefits under this Policy being secondary and thus reduced, the premium You pay for this Policy is reduced to actuarially reflect the benefit reduction. In the event We are not aware You have Other Valid Coverage at the time this Policy is issued to You, We will only reduce Your premium only after We do receive notice of the Other Valid Coverage. We will not refund any premium amounts previously paid.

Should You cancel the Other Valid Coverage, Your coverage under this Policy will become primary and Your premium amount adjusted accordingly. In the event You receive Covered Services and Supplies under this Policy while this Policy is providing primary coverage and you are paying a reduced premium based on this Policy providing secondary coverage, You are obligated to Us for the full premium amount.

"Other Valid Coverage" means coverage, other than Ours, provided on a group or individual basis, by insurance companies, hospital or medical service organizations, health maintenance organizations, union welfare plans, employer or employee benefit organizations, and employers; it also includes automobile medical payments insurance (other than that required by New Jersey law). If Other Valid Coverage is on a provision of service basis, the amount(s) payable under Other Valid Coverage shall be equal to the amount which the services rendered would have cost in the absence of such coverage.

Our Right To Certain Information: In order to coordinate benefits, We need certain information. You must supply Us with as much of that information as You can. But if You cannot give Us all the information We need, We have the right to get this information from any source. If another insurer needs information to apply its coordination provision, We have the right to give that insurer such information. If We give or get information under this section We cannot be held liable for such action. When payment that should have been made by this Policy, but was made by another plan, We have the right to repay that plan. If We do so, We are no longer liable for that amount. If We pay out more than We should have, We have the right to recover the excess payment.

XI. RIGHT TO RECOVERY—THIRD PARTY LIABILITY

"Reasonable pro-rata Expenses" are those costs such as lawyers fees and court costs, incurred to effect a third party payment, expressed as a percentage of such payment.

"Third Party" means anyone other than Us or a Covered Person.

If a Covered Person makes a claim to Us for benefits under this Policy prior to receiving payment from a third party or its insurer, the Covered Person must agree, in writing, to repay Us from any amount of money they receive from the third party, or its insurer for an Illness or Accidental Injury.

INSURANCE*PROPOSALS

We will only require such payment when the amounts received through such settlement, judgment or otherwise, are specifically identified as amounts paid for health benefits for which We paid benefits.

The repayment will be equal to the amount of benefits paid by Us. However, the Covered Person may deduct the reasonable pro-rata expenses, incurred in effecting the third party payment from the repayment to Us.

We shall require the return of health benefits paid for an Illness or Accidental Injury, up to the amount a Covered Person receives for that Illness or Accidental Injury through:

- a. a third party settlement;
- b. a satisfied judgment; or
- c. other means.

The repayment agreement will be binding upon the Covered Person whether:

- a. the payment received from the third party, or its insurer, is the result of a legal judgment, an arbitration award, a compromise settlement, or any other arrangement, or
- b. the third party, or its insurer, has admitted liability for the payment.

We will not pay any benefits under this Policy to or on behalf of a Covered Person, who has received payment in whole or in part from a third party, or its insurer for past or future charges for an Illness or Accidental Injury, resulting from the negligence, intentional act, or no-fault tort liability of a Third Party.

CLERICAL ERROR—MISSTATEMENTS

No clerical error by Us in keeping any records pertaining to Coverage under this Policy will reduce Your Coverage. Neither will delays in making those records reduce it. However, if We discover such an error or delay, a fair adjustment of Premiums will be made. premium adjustments that involve returning an unearned premium to You will be limited to the twelve-month period before We received satisfactory evidence that such adjustment should be made.

If You misstate (your) Your age or any other relevant fact and the Premium is affected, a fair adjustment of Premiums will be made. If such misstatement affects the amount of coverage, the true facts will be used in Determining what coverage is in force under this Policy.

such service is rendered by a Primary Care Physician or a provider referred in writing by the Primary Care Physician without notifying the Member that such benefit would not be covered under this Policy.

{REFUSAL OF TREATMENT/NON-COMPLIANCE WITH TREATMENT RECOMMENDATION

A Member may, for personal reasons disagree or not comply with procedures, medicines, or courses of treatment recommended by a Participating Physician or ignore treatment that is deemed Medically Necessary by a Participating Physician. If such Participating Physician (after a second Participating Physician's opinion, if requested by Member), believes that no professionally acceptable alternative exists, and if after being so advised, Member still refuses to comply with or accept the recommended treatment or procedure, neither the Physician, nor HMO, or any Participating Provider will have further responsibility to provide any of the benefits available under this Policy for treatment of such condition or its consequences or related conditions. We reserve the right to expedite the Grievance Procedure. If the Grievance Procedure results in a decision upholding position of the Participating Physician(s) and the dispute is unresolved, We will have no further responsibility to provide any of the benefits available under this Policy for treatment of such condition or its consequences unless the Member asks, in writing and within 7 days of being informed of the result of the Grievance Procedure, to terminate this Policy in accordance with Section IX. The agency proposal follows:

Summary

The proposed new rule and amendments are being promulgated in accordance with N.J.S.A. 17B:27A-51, which provides a special procedure whereby the Small Employer Health Benefits Program ("SEH") Board may adopt certain actions. Pursuant to this procedure, the Board is required to publish notice of its intended action in three newspapers of general circulation, which notice shall include procedures for obtaining a detailed description of the intended action and the time, place and manner by which interested persons may present their views regarding the intended action. Notice of the intended action also is required to be sent to affected trade and professional associations, carriers, and other interested persons who may request such notice.

Concurrently, the Board is required to forward the notice of the intended action to the Office of Administrative Law ("OAL") for publication in the New Jersey Register. The Board must provide a minimum 20-day period for all interested persons to submit their written comments on the intended action to the Board. The Board may adopt its intended action immediately upon the close of the specified comment period by submitting the adopted action to the OAL. If the Board elects to adopt the action immediately upon the close of the comment period, it shall nevertheless respond to the comments timely submitted within a reasonable period of time thereafter. The Board shall prepare a report for public distribution, and publication by the OAL in the New Jersey Register. The report shall include the list of commenters, their relevant comments and the Board's responses. Due to the expedited nature of this process, a proposed rule may have been adopted before it appears as a proposal in the New Jersey Register.

On April 4, 1994, the Governor signed P.L. 1994, c.11 ("the Act"). The Act significantly amended P.L. 1992, c.162 ("the SEH Act"), the law that created the SEH Program, which regulates health insurance coverage offered to employers with two to 49 eligible employees. The Act substantially changed the SEH Program, with respect to the health benefits plans that may be offered to small employers and the conditions that apply to such plans. In order to implement the Act, the SEH Board proposes amendments to N.J.A.C. 11:21-1, 2, 3A, 7, 7A and Exhibits N, O, Q, R and S of the Appendix to N.J.A.C. 11:21.

In N.J.A.C. 11:21-1.1, the definition of "eligible employee" has been changed in conformance with the Act to exclude employees who are participating in an employee welfare arrangement pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement. Such employees, therefore, will no longer be counted for purposes of determining whether an employer is a "small employer" or whether minimum participation requirements have been met. The definition of "health benefits plan" has been modified in conformance with the Act to clarify that all hospital confinement or other supplemental limited benefit insurance is excluded. The definition of "multiple employer arrangement" has been amended to conform with the Act to clarify that the term means an insured plan purchased from a carrier in which the carrier assumes all or a substantial portion of the risk as determined by the Commissioner of Insurance. A definition of "supplemental limited benefit insurance" has been added, pursuant to the Act. N.J.A.C. 11:21-1.3 has been amended to reflect the new mailing address of the Executive Director of the SEH Program Board.

The definitions enumerated above are repeated, and similarly amended, in N.J.A.C. 11:21-2.2, the SEH Plan of Operation.

The proposed new rules, N.J.A.C. 11:21-3A, set forth the rules that apply to issuance, renewal and continuation of health benefits plans issued to small employers prior to January 1, 1994 and which remained in effect on February 28, 1994. The Act changed a provision of the SEH Act which would have required all small employers to convert, beginning on March 1, 1994, to one of the five health benefits plans, and HMO plan, formulated by the Board and approved by the Commissioner of Insurance. The Act has delayed the so-called "mandatory conversion" for two years. Because different rules and conditions apply to different types of health benefits plans, a new subchapter was necessary to regulate the small employer health insurance market while it is in transition toward a standardized, reformed market over the next three years.

A definition of "anniversary date" and "12-month anniversary date" has been established in N.J.A.C. 11:21-3A.2 to ensure that all carriers understand when and for how long non-standard health benefits plans may be issued, continued or renewed. The term "non-standard health benefits plan" describes a health benefits plan issued to small employers prior to January 1, 1994 and which remained in effect on February 28, 1994. "Standard health benefits plan" describes one of the health benefits plans formulated by the SEH Board and approved by the Commissioner. The term "health benefits plan" has been added to describe both a non-standard and standard health benefits plan. The SEH Board needed the additional definitions because different conditions and rules apply to different health benefits plans. Wherever it appears, the term "small employer" has been deleted where it precedes "health benefits plan" so that terms are used consistently and accurately.

N.J.A.C. 11:21-3A.3 provides that, during the period commencing with the enactment of the Act and ending September 13, 1994 (60 days after the effective date of N.J.A.C. 11:21-7.15), the rule establishing permissible rating factors for modified community rating of health benefits plans, a carrier, association, multiple employer arrangement, or out-of-State trust shall renew or continue a non-standard health benefits plan at the option of the small employer as provided in the Act. Beginning on its first anniversary date on or after September 11, 1994, a non-standard health benefits plan must conform with the many of the requirements of SEH Act, including: guaranteed issuance; limitations on pre-existing condition waiting periods; guaranteed renewal; minimum participation and employer contributions; modified community rating; and continuation of coverage. A small employer may renew a non-standard health benefits plan on each anniversary date that occurs between February 28, 1994 and February 28, 1996, and the plan may remain in effect until the end of the contract year occurring after the last permissible renewal. A non-standard health benefits plan may not be amended, except as required to comply with the specified provisions of the SEH Act or for the purpose of changing deductibles or copayments of that plan. A non-standard health benefits plan must be filed in accordance with regulations promulgated by the Commissioner of Insurance.

N.J.A.C. 11:21-3A.4 provides that non-standard health benefits plans that were converted to standard health benefits plans on an anniversary date that occurred between March 1, 1994 through April 4, 1994 were permitted to be reinstated within 60 days of the anniversary date upon written notice to the carrier and may be renewed under the same conditions as apply to non-standard health benefits plans generally.

N.J.A.C. 11:21-3A.5 provides that associations, multiple employer arrangements, and out-of-State trusts may issue non-standard health benefits plans that were available for purchase to their members as of December 31, 1993, subject to the conditions described above with respect to renewal and continuation of non-standard health benefits plans. A carrier, acting alone, may not issue non-standard health benefits plans. Associations, multiple employer arrangements, and out-of-State trusts may issue non-standard health benefits plans only to members, but on a guaranteed issue basis, without regard to health status of employees or their dependents. To the extent such coverage is offered to new employees of the small employer member, associations, multiple employer arrangements, and out-of-State trust may not discriminate between employers or between new employees.

N.J.A.C. 11:21-3A.6 makes clear that no non-standard health benefits plan may remain in effect beyond the anniversary date that occurs after February 28, 1996 and on or before February 28, 1997. Carriers are required to give small employers 60 days notice of cancellation and provide information about standard health benefits plans available to replace the cancelled coverage.

N.J.A.C. 11:21-3A.7 provides for penalties for violations of the subchapter.

The Board has repeated in N.J.A.C. 11:21-7.2 the definitions of "non-standard health benefits plan," "standard health benefits plan," and "health benefits plan" and inserted them, where appropriate throughout subchapter 7, to reflect the continuation of non-standard health benefits plans provided in subchapter 3A.

N.J.A.C. 11:21-7.3 has been amended to cross reference subchapter 3A. N.J.A.C. 11:21-7.3(e) has been amended to clarify that a small employer carrier may continue to offer coverage to part-time employees of an employer that provided such coverage to part-time employees prior to January 1, 1994 when the carrier renews or reinstates the health benefits plan under N.J.A.C. 11:21-3A. Employees that are hired or become part-time employees after January 1, 1994 may also be covered. N.J.A.C. 11:21-7.3(f) has been amended to clarify that a small employer carrier may continue to offer coverage to retired employees of an employer that provided such coverage to retired employees prior to January 1, 1994 when the carrier renews or reinstates the health benefits plan under N.J.A.C. 11:21-3A. Employees who retire after January 1, 1994 may also be covered. N.J.A.C. 11:21-7.3(g) has been amended to clarify that a small employer carrier may continue to offer coverage to part-time or retired employees of an employer that becomes a small employer after January 1, 1994 when the carrier renews or reinstates the health benefits plan under N.J.A.C. 11:21-3A. Employees who are hired part-time, become part-time employees, or retire after January 1, 1994 also may be covered. The Board has determined, and will promulgate rules in the future, that carriers that choose to continue to cover part-time and retired employees as permitted under N.J.A.C. 11:21-7.3(e), (f), or (g) will not be eligible for reimbursement of losses attributable to claims by part-time and retired employees. Therefore, carriers must segregate such claims for reporting purposes.

N.J.A.C. 11:21-7.5 has been amended to clarify that the rule applies to standard health benefits plans.

N.J.A.C. 11:21-7.6 has been amended to clarify that a carrier or carriers offering a health benefits plan to a small employer should count employees participating in an HMO plan or plans, if more than one HMO plan is offered, and employees participating in an indemnity plan when calculating the small employer's participation rate. For example, if half of the eligible employees of a small employer enrolled in an HMO plan offered by one carrier and the other half enrolled in an indemnity plan offered by another carrier, each carrier should view the employer as having a participation rate of 100 percent. The change reflects only a clarification of the SEH Act.

N.J.A.C. 11:21-7.7, 7.8, 7.9 and 7.12, regarding contributions requirements, pre-existing condition exclusion limitations, effective dates of coverage, and guaranteed renewals, respectively, are being proposed for amendment to clarify that each provision is applicable to both standard and nonstandard health benefits plans. N.J.A.C. 11:21-7.8(b) has been further amended to implement a change in the SEH Act made by P.L. 1993, c.162 to provide that a small employer carrier shall waive any time period applicable to a preexisting condition limitation period for the period of time an individual was covered under any previous hospital and medical expense insurance policy or certificate, or health hospital or medical service corporation contract or certificate, or health maintenance organization subscriber contract or certificate delivered or issued for delivery in the United States, as long as the employee's condition was covered by the prior plan. The amendment is intended to clarify that an employee with prior coverage under an individual health benefits plan, or other health insurance coverage issued outside of New Jersey, would receive credit for the time covered toward any pre-existing condition limitation a carrier might otherwise impose. However, if a condition was not covered by the employee's prior health coverage, a carrier could impose a pre-existing condition waiting period on the employee with respect to that condition.

N.J.A.C. 11:21-7.13 has been amended to require carriers to report separately information about issuance and enforce standard and non-standard health benefits plans on a quarterly and annual basis. Annually, carriers will be asked to report the two digit Major Group of the Standard Industrial Classification of small employers that apply for health benefits plans. The new quarterly reporting requirement is less comprehensive than the annual report. The SEH Board believes this information is essential to evaluate and make any determinations about the effectiveness of reforms in the small employer market.

Subchapter 7A has been deleted in its entirety because its provisions dealing with conversion conflict with the Act.

The Application for a Small Employer Health Benefits Policy, Exhibit N in the Appendix to N.J.A.C. 11:21, has been amended as follows: in section I, line 7, the partial definition of "eligible employee" has been deleted and a reference to a more complete definition has been added; in section I, the request for information with regard to affiliates, subsidiaries, or branches has been amended to include a statement that such information must be included for participation purposes (to determine participation rates).

The New Jersey Small Employer Certification, Exhibit O in the Appendix to N.J.A.C. 11:21, has been amended as follows: a change has been made to include an additional status for employees participating in an employee welfare arrangement pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement to reflect that such employees shall not be counted for purposes of participation; a corresponding statement that such employees shall not be counted has been added to the "Group Health Benefits Policy Participation" section; and two fields have been added to capture "job title" and "work location" information, which will be used to verify employment status.

The Small Group Employer Benefits Enrollment Form and Health Statement, Exhibits Q and S of the Appendix to N.J.A.C. 11:21, have been amended as follows: the word "Health" has been deleted and replaced with "Pre-existing Conditions" in the title of Exhibit Q, and throughout the form wherever those terms appear, to reflect that health status will not be taken into account for rating purposes, but only to determine whether a preexisting condition limitation may apply; in Section II, information on place of birth, height, and weight, will not be requested; in section III, which is Exhibit S, the word "health" in the title will be changed to "pre-existing conditions," and language will be added immediately thereunder to reflect that the questions about health may only be used to determine whether an employee has a preexisting condition, not for issuance or rating. With respect to specific conditions enumerated in 1(a) through (n), these questions are now variable at the carrier's option and a statement has been added to restrict the time period to which the questions pertain to the six months prior to the effective date of the group coverage. Question 2, relating to the AIDS virus, has been deleted. Question 3 has been renumbered, a statement has been added to restrict the time period to which the questions pertain to the six months prior to the effective date of the group coverage, and the question about the use of tobacco products has been deleted. In section IV of Exhibit Q, the term "premiums" has been deleted and replaced by "contributions." Under the paragraph titled "Authorization" in Section IV, the term "the Medical Information Bureau" has been deleted. The paragraph titled "MIB" Disclosure Notice has been deleted.

Conforming changes are proposed on the HMO enrollment form, Exhibit R, and The Small Employer Health Benefits Waiver of Coverage form, Exhibit T, to reflect the changes to Exhibits Q and S.

Social Impact

The proposed amendments to N.J.A.C. 11:21-1, 2, and 7, the repeal of N.J.A.C. 11:21-7A and proposed new rules N.J.A.C. 11:21-3A all implement the Act by permitting the issuance, renewal or continuation of health benefits plans issued to small employers prior to January 1, 1994 and which remained in effect on February 28, 1994. The proposed rule changes implement the Act's delay of the requirement that all small employers convert, beginning on March 1, 1994, to one of the five health benefits plans, and HMO plan, formulated by the Board and approved by the Commissioner of Insurance.

The amendments, new rules and repeal will affect all carriers, associations, multiple employer arrangements and out-of-State trusts issuing or renewing health benefits plans to New Jersey small employers by allowing them, with restrictions, to issue, renew, reinstate, or continue non-standard health benefits plans. These entities will be required, beginning on the first anniversary date of a non-standard health benefits plan that occurs on or after September 11, 1994, to amend all non-standard health benefits plans to conform with the SEH Act's requirements of guaranteed issuance, limitations on pre-existing condition waiting periods, guaranteed renewal, minimum participation, modified community rating, and continuation of coverage.

Small employers will be able to renew non-standard health benefits plans. While the benefits offered by those plans will not change, the rules that apply to their issuance and renewal, employee participation, employer contributions, limits on preexisting conditions, and rating will change. Pursuant to regulations already adopted by the SEH Board at N.J.A.C. 11:21-7.15, the factors used to rate non-standard health benefits plans will be restricted and may impact the cost of coverage. Some small employers may find a reduction in cost, while others experience an increase, due to modified community rating.

Employees of small employers will be affected to the extent that all health benefits plans must be offered on a guaranteed issue basis, not only to all small employers, but to all employees of small employers. Individual employees may not be excluded from coverage because of health status, age, gender, or any other factor. Employees who have been excluded from coverage by a non-standard health benefits plan in the past will now be eligible for coverage by their employer's plan. To the extent that changes to a non-standard health benefits plan increase or decrease the cost of that plan to the small employer policyholder, employees may see their contributions increase or decrease accordingly.

Economic Impact

The proposed amendments to N.J.A.C. 11:21-1, 2 and 7, the repeal of N.J.A.C. 11:21-7A and proposed new rules N.J.A.C. 11:21-3A will have an economic impact on all carriers, associations, multiple employer arrangements and out-of-State trusts issuing or renewing health benefits plans to New Jersey small employers by allowing them, with restrictions, issue, renew, reinstate, or continue non-standard health benefits plans. These entities would have been required by the SEH Act to convert their existing small group business to standard health benefits plans beginning on anniversary dates of March 1, 1994 and thereafter. The change in the law as a result of the Act is likely to result in continuation of many health benefits plans that might otherwise have been cancelled. However, beginning on the first anniversary date of a non-standard health benefits plan that occurs on or after September 11, 1994, all non-standard health benefits plans must conform with the SEH Act's requirements of guaranteed issuance, limitations on pre-existing condition waiting periods, guaranteed renewal, minimum participation, modified community rating, and continuation of coverage. Some additional costs are likely to be incurred in bringing non-standard health benefits plans into conformity with the Act.

Small employers will be able to renew non-standard health benefits plans. While the benefits offered by those plans will not change, the rules that apply to their issuance and renewal, rating, employee participation, employer contributions, and limits on preexisting conditions will change. Some small employers may find a reduction in cost, while others experience an increase in cost.

The economic impact on employees of small employers will depend on whether the employer experiences an increase or decrease in the cost of coverage. To the extent that employees will be guaranteed access to coverage, if an employer offers a health benefits plan, employees who had previously been forced to maintain separate coverage or pay for their own health care services, may experience a reduction in the cost of health care coverage. To the extent that the inclusion of all employees may result in an increase in the cost of the health benefits plan, employees who were previously covered may experience an increase in the cost of their contributions.

The amendments to the Exhibits in the Appendix to N.J.A.C. 11:21 will have a minimal administrative economic impact on carriers who are members of the SEH Program.

Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

The Board believes that all carriers subject to these rules have in excess of 100 employees or are located outside of the State of New Jersey. Therefore, a regulatory flexibility analysis is not required. However, to the extent that any carrier might be considered a small business under the terms of N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq., the Regulatory Flexibility Act, the following analysis would apply:

The proposed amendments to N.J.A.C. 11:21-1, 2 and 7, the repeal of N.J.A.C. 11:21-7A and the proposed new rules, N.J.A.C. 11:21-3A, will require carriers to amend all small employer policy forms, upon their anniversary dates, and to conform their operations (sales and administration) to the new requirements of the SEH Program. There will be capital costs involved in such compliance, in terms of printing, systems programming, staff and agent training, etc., but it is unlikely that any carrier would have to contract for outside professional services in order to comply. All of the required changes to a carrier's business fall within the normal functions a carrier performs in complying with any state insurance law or regulation. In general, the passage of the Act and these rules to implement it provide carriers with greater flexibility with regard to the health benefits plans they are permitted to offer. Carriers may elect to renew non-standard health benefits plans or to offer only standard plans. The amendments and rules expand existing annual reporting requirements and creates new quarterly reporting requirements for carriers issuing or renewing health benefits plans to New Jersey small employers. Specifically N.J.A.C. 11:21-7.13 will require separate reporting about standard and non-standard health benefits plans on both an annual and quarterly basis. In addition, the SIC code classification of small employers will be collected in the annual report. There is therefore, a reporting and compliance burden. The Board has sought the minimum amount of information it deems essential to judge the effectiveness of the SEH Program. An exemption from compliance, or lesser requirements, for a carrier that were a small business is not authorized by the SEH Act. In addition, it is essential that the SEH Program be administered uniformly, so an exemption would potentially undermine this important tenet of health insurance reform. With respect to expanded reporting requirements, information about carriers' sales of standard and non-standard health benefits plans is essential to the SEH Board; therefore, an exemption for small employers from the reporting requirements of the rules would result in the Board's collection of incomplete information about the effects of health insurance reform on the small employer market and impede the Board's efforts to make policy determinations.

Any aspect of the hearing not covered by these special hearing rules shall be governed by the Uniform Administrative Procedure Rules (U.A.P.R.) contained in N.J.A.C. 1:1. ## INSURANCE

DIVISION OF PROPERTY AND CASUALTY

Reporting Financial Disclosure and Excess Profits

Adopted Amendment: N.J.A.C. 11:3-20.6

Proposed: May 16, 1994 at 26 N.J.R. 1938(b).

Adopted: July 25, 1994 by Andrew J. Karpinski, Commissioner, Department of Insurance.

Filed: July 25, 1994 as R.1994 d.425, without change.

Authority: N.J.S.A. 17:1C-6(e), 17:1-8.1 and 17:29A-5.6 et seq.

Effective Date: August 15, 1994.

Expiration Date: January 4, 1996.

Summary of Public Comments and Agency Responses:

The Department received five timely written comments from insurers as follows:

1. Allstate Insurance Company;
2. Selective Insurance Group, Inc.;
3. United Services Automobile Association and USAA Casualty Insurance Company;
4. New Jersey Manufacturers Insurance Companies; and
5. State Farm Indemnity Company.

COMMENT: All of the commenters supported the proposed amendment to N.J.A.C. 11:3-20.6, which provides that for purposes of evaluating the excess profits due July 1, 1994 and July 1, 1995, the excess profits computation shall be performed solely on the insurance holding company system's combined profits report.

In addition, virtually all of the commenters stated that the proposed amendment should be made "permanent" rather than limited only to the 1994 and 1995 profits report. In other words, the commenters stated that the excess profit calculation should be performed solely on the insurance holding company system's combined report. The commenters generally believe that this change is necessary since certain companies use affiliated companies to manage the differing risks in the automobile insurance market. Moreover, the commenters generally believe that the change would accurately recognize that using affiliates is "essentially the same as using multiple rating tiers or classifications within a single company."

One commenter specifically stated that the continuing effects of the requirement that automobile insurers insure all eligible persons are distortions in individual company's results similar to those resulting from depopulation that the Department noted in the Summary to the proposal. The commenters asserted that since the basis for the rule will continue to exist after 1995 (that is, material losses in one member of a holding company and less severe losses in another), the two-year limitation on the application of the rule should be eliminated.

Another commenter specifically suggested that the proposed amendment be extended to include the excess profits report due July 1, 1996 because the transfer of business between its affiliates took place between October 1992 and March 1994, with virtually all transfers taking place in 1993. The commenter stated that because the excess profits report due in 1996 will include results in 1993, individual company results may be distorted. In addition, the commenter stated that because, in many cases, the rates charged by different affiliates were either identical or substantially similar, it would be appropriate to determine excess profits based solely on the combined report. The commenter further believes that computation based on each affiliate would be appropriate only where each affiliate sets its own rates based on its own experience independently of other affiliates. The commenter does not believe that affiliates in any insurer group currently set rates based on individual experience.

RESPONSE: The Department notes the commenters' support for the proposed amendment. With respect to the extension of the two-year limitation provided for in the proposed amendment, the Department notes that such a change would be substantive and could not be made upon adoption, that is, without notice and opportunity to comment. In order to implement the commenters' suggestion would require repeal or modification of N.J.A.C. 11:3-20.6(c), as well as changes to other provisions in the rules.

The Department will, however, monitor the effect of this amendment and evaluate conditions existing in 1995 with respect to the filing of future excess profits reports, and will determine whether any amendments to the existing rules are necessary and appropriate.

COMMENT: Two commenters recommended that the Department evaluate other provisions of the excess profits rules, N.J.A.C. 11:3-20 and 11:3-20A, to address those provisions which the commenters believe may have the effect of "ignoring" or distorting actual financial results of insurers.

RESPONSE: As one of the commenters noted, such comments are outside the scope of this proposal. Moreover, no specific comments or suggestions were provided with respect to the existing excess profits rules.

INSURANCE

ADOPTIONS

However, the Department would consider any comments or suggestions that may be submitted by interested parties with respect to the current excess profits requirements for possible future amendment.

Full text of the adoption follows:

11:3-20.6 Reporting requirements for insurance holding companies (a)-(c) (No change.)

(d) Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, for purposes of evaluating the Excess Profits Reports due July 1, 1994 and July 1, 1995, the excess profits computation shall be performed solely on the insurance holding company system's combined profits report.

Educational Requirements for Salespersons and Brokers in Making Application for Licensure Examinations
N.J.A.C. 11:5-1.27

Take notice that the New Jersey Real Estate Commission has discovered an error in the text of N.J.A.C. 11:5-1.27(g)1xvi, in that that subparagraph's cross-reference to subparagraphs "(a)1xvi(1) through (6) below" needs to instead refer to "(g)1xvi(1) through (6) below." Those subparagraphs in subsection (g) clearly contain the appropriate subject matter, and the erroneously cited codification in subsection (a) does not exist. This notice is published pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:30-2.7.

Full text of the corrected rule follows (addition indicated in boldface thus; deletions indicated in brackets [thus]):

11:5-1.27 Educational requirements for salespersons and brokers in making application for licensure examination

(g) The 150 hours of prelicensure education required of candidates for licensure as a broker or broker-salesperson by N.J.S.A. 45:15-10 shall be acquired as provided in this subsection. A 90 hour general broker's prelicensure course shall first be completed in accordance with the following syllabus and directives. Thereafter, two 30 hour broker courses as described in (g)5, 6 and 7 below shall be completed. All three courses, totalling 150 hours of instruction, must be successfully completed within a period of two years. Where the three courses are not so completed, a candidate must again successfully complete any previously taken course and all courses not previously taken within the two year time frame, and again fulfill the experience requirement established at N.J.S.A. 45:15-9 and N.J.A.C. 11:5-1.3 in order to qualify to challenge the broker license examination.

1. The 90 hour general broker's prelicensure course may be taught in blocks or modules of material. The maximum number of modules into which the course may be divided is 23, with their content corresponding to the 23 subject matter areas identified in the syllabus below. No student may commence a course which is offered in modules on a date other than the starting date of any module. No student shall be given credit for the successful completion of a 90 hour general broker's prelicensure course unless and until they have received instruction in all of the subject matter areas identified below for approximately the number of hours indicated, and passed a comprehensive final examination. SMALL EMPLOYER HEALTH BENEFITS PROGRAM BOARD

Small Employer Health Benefits Program
Enrollment; Permissible Rate Classification Factors; Optional Benefit Riders

Adopted New Rule: N.J.A.C. 11:21-7.15
Adopted Amendments: N.J.A.C. 11:21-3.2(d), 4.1(c), and Exhibits A through F

Proposed: June 1, 1994 in accordance with N.J.S.A. 17B:27A-51, at 26 N.J.R. 2843(a).

Adopted: July 13, 1994 by the New Jersey Small Employer Health Benefits Program Board, Maureen Lopes, Chair.

Filed: July 15, 1994 as R.1994 d.418, with substantive and technical changes not requiring additional public notice and comment (see N.J.A.C. 1:30-4.3).

Authority: N.J.S.A. 17B:27A-17 et seq., as amended by N.J.S.A. 17B:27A-51 and P.L. 1994, c.11.

Effective Date: July 15, 1994.

Operative Date of N.J.A.C. 11:21-7.15: September 11, 1994.

Expiration Date: October 15, 1998.

This new rule was proposed and is being adopted pursuant to the procedures of N.J.S.A. 17B:27A-17 et seq., as therein authorized. Accordingly, notice of the proposal was published in three newspapers of general circulation in New Jersey, and mailed to all known interested parties when submitted to the Office of Administrative Law ("OAL") for publication in the New Jersey Register. Upon expiration of a 20-day public comment period following the publication of notice of the proposal, the proposed rules may be adopted immediately. The Board must respond to comments received within a reasonable period following the adoption of the proposal and submit the Board's responses to the OAL for publication in the New Jersey Register. The Board's responses to public comments received are contained herein.

Comments were received from the following:

- Blue Cross and Blue Shield of New Jersey
- The Prudential Insurance Company of America

COMMENT: One commenter took issue with a statement contained in the "Summary" section of the proposal, not in the rule itself, that all health benefits plans issued or renewed after September 1, 1996 would have to be community rated. The commenter suggested that the correct date for the requirement of community rating should be January 1, 1997.

RESPONSE: The Board agrees that September 1, 1996 is not correct. The law provides that health benefits plans issued to small employers must be community rated beginning on the third 12-month anniversary date of any policy or contract issued in 1994. Therefore, all health benefits plans will have to be community rated beginning on the issuance or anniversary date occurring during calendar year 1997. Since the date after which community rating is required is not contained in the rule, and is statutory, no change in the rule is required.

COMMENT: One commenter pointed out that the proposed amendment to N.J.A.C. 11:21-6.3(c) should not have contained the word "or" before the term "pre-existing condition" and that "or" should be deleted from the adoption.

RESPONSE: The Board agrees that the word "or" should not appear before the term "pre-existing condition." Its inclusion was a technical drafting error, and its deletion is a technical change to the final rule not requiring reproposal.

COMMENT: One commenter asked whether N.J.A.C. 11:21-7.15 provides for a rate differential on the basis of whether Medicare is considered primary or secondary insurance.

ADOPTIONS

INSURANCE

RESPONSE: The rule only addresses the three rating factors provided in P.L. 1994, c.11: age, gender and geography; and, as provided in P.L. 1992, c.162, N.J.S.A. 17B:27A-25(e), family structure.

Summary of Agency-Initiated Changes:

1. N.J.A.C. 11:21-3.2(d)4iv has been changed by adding a requirement that the certification therein referenced contain a statement that the carrier has made a rate filing with the Commissioner pursuant to N.J.A.C. 11:21-9. This additional language is intended to ensure that carriers do not fail to file rates with the Commissioner before issuing a rider. This addition to the certification does not impose any substantive requirement on carriers seeking to issue riders; rather, the additional statement is a cross reference to the Commissioner's rate filing rule. The change is not so substantive as to require reproposal or opportunity for public comment.

2. N.J.A.C. 11:21-3.2(d)5 has been changed by deleting a comma after the word "subsection" in the first sentence. The change is technical, not substantive, and does not require reproposal or opportunity for public comment.

3. N.J.A.C. 11:21-6.3(c)1 and 7.15(a) have been changed to reflect that the various reforms affecting non-standard health benefits plans take effect on and after September 11, 1994, which is the sixtieth day after the Board's adoption of N.J.A.C. 11:21-7.15, the date provided in P.L. 1994, c.11, section 3(j). The change is technical, not substantive, and does not require reproposal or opportunity for public comment.

Full text of the adoption follows (additions to proposal indicated in boldface with asterisks *thus*; deletions from proposal indicated in cursive brackets with asterisks *{thus}*):

(1) Whether the rider or amendment thereof increases or decreases the benefits or actuarial value of Plan A, B, C, D, E, or HMO and include a detailed actuarial memorandum that supports the statement of actuarial value;

(2) That the filing is complete and in accordance with all the requirements of this subsection*{; and}*

(4) That a rate filing has been made with the Commissioner pursuant to N.J.A.C. 11:21-9*.

5. The Board shall notify a member in writing of its determination of whether an informational filing is complete and in substantial compliance with this subsection*{,}* within 30 days of the member's submission of a rider or amendment thereof. If the Board does not notify a member of its determination with respect to an informational filing within 30 days of the date of submission thereof, the informational filing shall be deemed complete.

If an informational filing is incomplete, but in substantial compliance with the requirements of this subchapter, the notification shall provide the reasons the filing is incomplete and what additional information needs to be submitted by the member. The member shall provide the Board with the information required to complete the filing.

ii. If an informational filing is incomplete and not in substantial compliance with the requirements of this subchapter, the notification shall provide the reasons the filing is incomplete and what additional information needs to be submitted by the member. The member shall provide the Board with the information required to complete the filing. Upon receipt of notice from the Board that a filing is incomplete and not in substantial compliance with the requirements of this subchapter, the member shall not sell the rider or amendment thereof until the member has received written notice from the Board that the informational filing is in substantial compliance or complete.

iii. If the Board takes no action within 30 days of a member's submission of information requested by the Board to complete an informational filing, the filing shall be deemed to be in substantial compliance.

(c) In issuing riders pursuant to N.J.A.C. 11:21-3.2(c), members shall use the standard rider forms which are set forth in the Appendix to this chapter as Exhibits H, I and J, as applicable.

(d)-(j) (No change.)

11:21-6.3 Enrollment

(a)-(b) (No change.)

(c) A small employer carrier may require a report of an eligible employee's health status for the purpose of determining *{or}* the applicability of a preexisting condition limitation in accordance with the Act. The carrier shall require eligible employees to complete the Health Status form approved by the Board and specified in Exhibit S of the Appendix to this chapter incorporated herein by reference.

1. *{After the 60th day following the effective date of N.J.A.C. 11:21-7.15}* *Beginning on September 11, 1994*, such report may be used only for the purpose of determining the applicability of a preexisting condition limitation in accordance with the Act.

PREMIUM RATE CHANGES

The premium rates in effect on the Effective Date are shown in this Policy's Schedule. [Carrier] has the right to change premium rates as of any of these dates:

- a. Any premium due date.
- b. Any date that an Employer becomes, or ceases to be, an Affiliated Company.
- c. Any date that the extent or nature of the risk under this Policy is changed:
  - by amendment or this Policy; or
  - by reason of any provision of law or any government program or regulation; or
  - if this Policy supplements or coordinates with benefits provided by another insurer, non-profit hospital or medical service plan, or health maintenance organization, on any date [Carrier's] obligation under this Policy is changed because of a change in such other benefits.
- d. At the discovery of a clerical error or misstatement as described below.

PARTICIPATION REQUIREMENTS

CLERICAL ERROR—MISSTATEMENTS

Neither clerical error by the Policyholder, nor the [Carrier] in keeping any records pertaining to coverage under this Policy, nor delays in making entries thereon, will not invalidate coverage which would otherwise be in force, or continue coverage which would otherwise be validly terminated. However, upon discovery of such error or delay, an equitable adjustment of premiums will be made.

Premium adjustments involving return of unearned premium to the Policyholder will be limited to the period of 12 months preceding the date of [Carrier's] receipt of satisfactory evidence that such adjustments should be made.

If the age of an Employee, or any other relevant facts, are found to have been misstated, and the premiums are thereby affected, an equitable adjustment of premiums will be made. If such misstatement involves whether or not the person's coverage would have been accepted by [Carrier], subject to this Policy's Incontestability section, the true facts will be used in determining whether coverage is in force under the terms of this Policy.

TERMINATION OF THE POLICY—RENEWAL PRIVILEGE

The Employer must certify to [Carrier] the Employer's status as a Small Employer every year. Certification must be given to [Carrier] within 10 days of the date [Carrier] requests it. If Employer fails to do this, [Carrier] retains the right to take the action described above as of the Employer's Policy Anniversary.

DEFINITIONS

Employee means a Full-Time Employee (25 hours per week) of the Employer. Partners, Proprietors, and independent contractors will be treated like Employees, if they meet all of this Policy's conditions of eligibility. Employees who work on a temporary or substitute basis or who are participating in an employee welfare arrangement established pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement are not considered to be Employees for the purpose of this Policy.

Employee's Eligibility Date means the later of:

- a. the date of employment; or
- b. the day after any applicable waiting period ends.

Employer means [ABC Company].

Experimental or Investigational means [Carrier] determines a service or supply is:

- a. not of proven benefit for the particular diagnosis or treatment of a particular condition; or
- b. not generally recognized by the medical community as effective or appropriate for the particular diagnosis or treatment of a particular condition; or
- c. provided or performed in special settings for research purposes or under a controlled environment or clinical protocol.

Unless otherwise required by law with respect to drugs which have been prescribed for the treatment of a type of cancer for which the drug has not been approved by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA), [Carrier] will not cover any services or supplies, including treatment, procedures, drugs, biological products or medical devices or any hospitalizations in connection with Experimental or Investigational services or supplies.

[Carrier] will also not cover any technology or any hospitalization primarily to receive such technology if such technology is obsolete or ineffective and is not used generally by the medical community for the particular diagnosis or treatment of a particular condition.

Governmental approval of technology is not necessarily sufficient to render it of proven benefit or appropriate or effective for a particular diagnosis or treatment of a particular condition, as explained below.

[Carrier] will apply the following five criteria in determining whether services or supplies are Experimental or Investigational:

- a. Any medical device, drug, or biological product must have received final approval to market by the FDA for the particular diagnosis or condition. Any other approval granted as an interim step in the FDA regulatory process, e.g., an Investigational Device Exemption or an Investigational New Drug Exemption, is not sufficient. Once FDA approval has been granted for a particular diagnosis or condition, use of the medical device, drug or biological product for another diagnosis or condition will require that one or more of the following established reference compendia:
  - 1. The American Medical Association Drug Evaluations;
  - 2. The American Hospital Formulary Service Drug Information; or
  - 3. The United States Pharmacopeia Drug Information recognize the usage as appropriate medical treatment. As an alternative to such recognition in one or more of the compendia, the usage of the drug will be recognized as appropriate if it is recommended by a clinical study and recommended by a review article in a major peer-reviewed professional journal. A medical device, drug, or biological product that meets the above tests will not be considered Experimental or Investigational.

In any event, any drug which the Food and Drug Administration has determined to be contraindicated for the specific treatment for which the drug has been prescribed will be considered Experimental or Investigational.

- b. Conclusive evidence from the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that the technology has a definite positive effect on health outcomes; such evidence must include well-designed investigations that have been reproduced by non-affiliated authoritative sources, with measurable results, backed up by the positive endorsements of national medical bodies or panels regarding scientific efficacy and rationale;
- c. Demonstrated evidence as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that over time the technology leads to improvement in health outcomes, i.e., the beneficial effects outweigh any harmful effects;
- d. Proof as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that the technology is at least as effective in improving health outcomes as established technology, or is usable in appropriate clinical contexts in which established technology is not employable; and
- e. Proof as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that improvements in health outcomes; as defined in item c. above, is possible in standard conditions of medical practice, outside clinical investigatory settings.

Health Benefits Plan means any hospital and medical expense insurance policy or certificate; health, hospital, or medical service corporation contract or certificate; or health maintenance organization subscriber contract or certificate delivered or issued for delivery in New Jersey by any carrier to a Small Employer group pursuant to section 3 of P.L. 1992, c.162 (C. 17B:27A-19). Health Benefits Plan excludes the following plans, policies, or contracts: accident only, credit, disability, long term care, coverage for Medicare services pursuant to a contract with the United States government, Medicare supplement, dental only, or vision only, insurance issued as a supplement to liability insurance, coverage arising out of a workers' compensation or similar law, hospital confinement or other Supplemental Limited Benefit Insurance coverage, automobile medical payment insurance, or personal injury protection coverage issued pursuant to P.L. 1972, c.70 (C. 39:6A-1 et seq.).

Preventive Care means charges for routine physical examinations, including related laboratory tests and x-rays, immunizations and vaccines, well baby care, pap smears, mammography and screening tests.

Supplemental Limited Benefit Insurance means insurance that is provided in addition to a Health Benefits Plan on an indemnity non-expense incurred basis.

HEALTH BENEFITS INSURANCE

This health benefits insurance will pay many of the medical expenses incurred by a Covered Person.

Note: [Carrier] payments will be reduced or eliminated if a Covered Person does not comply with the Utilization Review and Pre-Approval requirements contained in this Policy.

BENEFIT PROVISION

The Cash Deductible

[Coinsured Charge Limit

The Coinsured Charge Limit is the amount of Covered Charges a Covered Person must incur each Calendar Year before no Co-Insurance is required.]

If This Plan Replaces Another Plan

The Employer who purchased this Policy may have purchased it to replace a plan the Employer had with some other insurer.

The Covered Person may have incurred charges for covered expenses under the Employer's old plan before it ended. If so, these charges will be used to meet this Policy's Cash Deductible if:

- a. the charges were incurred during the Calendar Year in which this Policy starts;

INSURANCE

- b. this Policy would have paid benefits for the charges, if this Policy had been in effect;
- c. the Covered Person was covered by the old plan when it ended and enrolled in this Policy on its Effective Date; and
- d. this Policy starts right after the old plan ends.

The Covered Person may have satisfied part of the eligibility waiting period under the Employer's old plan before it ended. If so, the time satisfied will be used to satisfy this Policy's eligibility waiting period if:

- a. the Employee was employed by the Employer on the date the Employer's old plan ended; and
- b. this Policy starts right after the old plan ends.

Purpose Of This Provision

A Covered Person may be covered for health expense benefits by more than one plan. For instance, he or she may be covered by this Policy as an Employee and by another plan as a Dependent of his or her spouse. If he or she is, the provision allows [Carrier] to coordinate what [Carrier] pays with what another plan pays. [Carrier] does this so the Covered Person does not collect more in benefits than he or she incurs in charges.

DEFINITIONS

"Plan" means any of the following that provide health expense benefits or services:

- a. group or blanket insurance plans;
- b. group hospital or surgical plans, or other service or prepayment plans on a group basis;
- c. union welfare plans, Employer plan, Employee benefits plans, trustee labor and management plans, or other plans for members of a group;
- d. programs or coverages required by law; or
- e. Medicare or other government programs which [Carrier] is allowed to coordinate with by law.

"Plan" does not include:

- a. Medicaid or any other government program or coverage which [Carrier] is not allowed to coordinate with by law;
- b. school accident type coverages written on either a blanket, group, or franchise basis;
- c. any group or group-type hospital indemnity benefits;
- d. Supplemental Limited Benefits Insurance; nor
- e. any plan [Carrier] says [Carrier] supplements, as named in the Schedule.

PREMIUM RATE CHANGES

The premium rates in effect on the Effective Date are shown in this Policy's Schedule. [Carrier] has the right to change premium rates as of any of these dates:

- a. Any premium due date.
- b. Any date that an Employer becomes, or ceases to be, an Affiliated Company.
- c. Any date that the extent or nature of the risk under this Policy is changed:
  - by amendment or this Policy; or
  - by reason of any provision of law or any government program or regulation; or
  - if this Policy supplements or coordinates with benefits provided by another insurer, non-profit hospital or medical service plan, or health maintenance organization, on any date [Carrier's] obligation under this Policy is changed because of a change in such other benefits.
- d. At the discovery of a clerical error or misstatement as described below.

[Carrier] will give the Policyholder 30 days advance written notice when a change in the premium rates is made.

...

CLERICAL ERROR—MISSTATEMENTS

Neither clerical error by the Policyholder, nor the [Carrier] in keeping any records pertaining to coverage under this Policy, nor delays in making entries thereon, will not invalidate coverage which would otherwise be in force, or continue coverage which would otherwise be validly terminated. However, upon discovery of such error or delay, an equitable adjustment of premiums will be made.

Premium adjustments involving return of unearned premium to the Policyholder will be limited to the period of 12 months preceding the date of [Carrier's] receipt of satisfactory evidence that such adjustments should be made.

If the age of an Employee, or any other relevant facts, are found to have been misstated, and the premiums are thereby affected, an equitable adjustment of premiums will be made. If such misstatement involves whether or not the person's coverage would have been accepted by [Carrier], subject to this Policy's Incontestability section, the true facts will be used in determining whether coverage is in force under the terms of this Policy.

...

The Employer must certify to [Carrier] the Employer's status as a Small Employer every year. Certification must be given to [Carrier] within 10 days of the date [Carrier] requests it. If Employer fails to do this, [Carrier] retains the right to take the action described above as of the Employer's Policy Anniversary.

...

Employee means a Full-Time Employee (25 hours per week) of the Employer. Partners, Proprietors, and independent contractors will be treated like Employees, if they meet all of this Policy's conditions of eligibility. Employees who work on a temporary or substitute basis or who are participating in an employee welfare arrangement established pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement are not considered to be Employees for the purpose of this Policy.

Employee's Eligibility Date means the later of:

- a. the date of employment; or
- b. the day after any applicable waiting period ends.

Employer means [ABC Company].

Experimental or Investigational means [Carrier] determines a service or supply is:

- a. not of proven benefit for the particular diagnosis or treatment of a particular condition; or
- b. not generally recognized by the medical community as effective or appropriate for the particular diagnosis or treatment of a particular condition; or

INSURANCE

c. provided or performed in special settings for research purposes or under a controlled environment or clinical protocol.

Unless otherwise required by law with respect to drugs which have been prescribed for the treatment of a type of cancer for which the drug has not been approved by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA), [Carrier] will not cover any services or supplies, including treatment, procedures, drugs, biological products or medical devices or any hospitalizations in connection with Experimental or Investigational services or supplies.

[Carrier] will also not cover any technology or any hospitalization primarily to receive such technology if such technology is obsolete or ineffective and is not used generally by the medical community for the particular diagnosis or treatment of a particular condition.

Governmental approval of technology is not necessarily sufficient to render it of proven benefit or appropriate or effective for a particular diagnosis or treatment of a particular condition, as explained below.

[Carrier] will apply the following five criteria in determining whether services or supplies are Experimental or Investigational:

a. Any medical device, drug, or biological product must have received final approval to market by the FDA for the particular diagnosis or condition. Any other approval granted as an interim step in the FDA regulatory process, e.g., an Investigational Device Exemption or an Investigational New Drug Exemption, is not sufficient. Once FDA approval has been granted for a particular diagnosis or condition, use of the medical device, drug or biological product for another diagnosis or condition will require that one or more of the following established reference compendia:

1. The American Medical Association Drug Evaluations;
2. The American Hospital Formulary Service Drug Information; or
3. The United States Pharmacopeia Drug Information recognize the usage as appropriate medical treatment. As an alternative to such recognition in one or more of the compendia, the usage of the drug will be recognized as appropriate if it is recommended by a clinical study and recommended by a review article in a major peer-reviewed professional journal. A medical device, drug, or biological product that meets the above tests will not be considered Experimental or Investigational.

In any event, any drug which the Food and Drug Administration has determined to be contraindicated for the specific treatment for which the drug has been prescribed will be considered Experimental or Investigational.

- b. Conclusive evidence from the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that the technology has a definite positive effect on health outcomes; such evidence must include well-designed investigations that have been reproduced by non affiliated authoritative sources, with measurable results, backed up by the positive endorsements of national medical bodies or panels regarding scientific efficacy and rationale;
- c. Demonstrated evidence as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that over time the technology leads to improvement in health outcomes, i.e., the beneficial effects outweigh any harmful effects;
- d. Proof as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that the technology is at least as effective in improving health outcomes as established technology, or is usable in appropriate clinical contexts in which established technology is not employable; and
- e. Proof as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that improvements in health outcomes; as defined in item c. above, is possible in standard conditions of medical practice, outside clinical investigatory settings.

arising out of a workers' compensation or similar law, hospital confinement or other Supplemental Limited Benefit Insurance coverage, automobile medical payment insurance, or personal injury protection coverage issued pursuant to P.L. 1972, c.70 (C. 39:6A-1 et seq.).

...

[Coinsured Charge Limit

The Coinsured Charge Limit is the amount of Covered Charges a Covered Person must incur each Calendar Year before no Co-Insurance is required, except as stated below.

Exception: Charges for Mental and Nervous Conditions, and Substance Abuse Treatment are not subject to or eligible for the Coinsured Charge Limit.

If This Plan Replaces Another Plan

The Employer who purchased this Policy may have purchased it to replace a plan the Employer had with some other insurer.

The Covered Person may have incurred charges for covered expenses under the Employer's old plan before it ended. If so, these charges will be used to meet this Policy's Cash Deductible if:

- a. the charges were incurred during the Calendar Year in which this Policy starts;
- b. this Policy would have paid benefits for the charges, if this Policy had been in effect;
- c. the Covered Person was covered by the old plan when it ended and enrolled in this Policy on its Effective Date; and
- d. this Policy starts right after the old plan ends.

The Covered Person may have satisfied part of the eligibility waiting period under the Employer's old plan before it ended. If so, the time satisfied will be used to satisfy this Policy's eligibility waiting period if:

- a. the Employee was employed by the Employer on the date the Employer's old plan ended; and
- b. this Policy starts right after the old plan ends.

Prescription Drugs

[Carrier] covers drugs to treat an Illness or Injury which require a Practitioner's prescription. But [Carrier] only covers drugs which are:

- a. approved for treatment of the Covered Person's Illness or Injury by the Food and Drug Administration;
- b. approved by the Food and Drug Administration for the treatment of a particular diagnosis or condition other than the Covered Person's and recognized as appropriate medical treatment for the Covered Person's diagnosis or condition in one or more of the following established reference compendia:
  1. The American Medical Association Drug Evaluations;
  2. The American Hospital Formulary Service Drug Information;
  3. The United States Pharmacopeia Drug Information; or
- c. recommended by a clinical study and recommended by a review article in a major peer-reviewed professional journal.

Coverage for the above drugs also includes medically necessary services associated with the administration of the drugs.

In no event will [Carrier] pay for:

- a. drugs labeled: "Caution—Limited by Federal Law to Investigational Use"; or
- b. any drug which the Food and Drug Administration has determined to be contraindicated for the specific treatment for which the drug has been prescribed.

ADOPTIONS

And [Carrier] excludes drugs that can be bought without a prescription, even if a Practitioner orders them.

[Carrier] does not cover drugs to treat Mental and Nervous Conditions and Substance Abuse as part of the Prescription Drugs Covered Charge. Drugs for such treatment are subject to the Mental and Nervous Conditions and Substance Abuse section of this Policy.

Purpose Of This Provision

A Covered Person may be covered for health benefits by more than one plan. For instance, he or she may be covered by this Policy as an Employee and by another plan as a Dependent of his or her spouse. If he or she is, the provision allows [Carrier] to coordinate what [Carrier] pays with what another plan pays. [Carrier] does this so the Covered Person does not collect more in benefits than he or she incurs in charges.

DEFINITIONS

"Plan" means any of the following that provide health expense benefits or services:

- a. group or blanket insurance plans;
- b. group hospital or surgical plans, or other service or prepayment plans on a group basis;
- c. union welfare plans, Employer plan, Employee benefits plans, trustee labor and management plans, or other plans for members of a group;
- d. programs or coverages required by law; or
- e. Medicare or other government programs which [Carrier] is allowed to coordinate with by law.

"Plan" does not include:

- a. Medicaid or any other government program or coverage which [Carrier] is not allowed to coordinate with by law;
- b. school accident type coverages written on either a blanket, group, or franchise basis;
- c. any group or group-type hospital indemnity benefits;
- d. Supplemental Limited Benefits Insurance; nor
- e. any plan [Carrier] says [Carrier] supplements, as named in the Schedule.

- b. not generally recognized by the medical community as effective or appropriate for the particular diagnosis or treatment of a Member's particular condition; or
- c. provided or performed in special settings for research purposes or under a controlled environment or clinical protocol.

INSURANCE

Unless otherwise required by law with respect to drugs which have been prescribed for the treatment of a type of cancer for which the drug has not been approved by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA), We will not cover any services or supplies, including treatment, procedures, drugs, biological products or medical devices or any hospitalizations in connection with Experimental or Investigational services or supplies.

We will also not cover any technology or any hospitalization in connection with such technology if such technology is obsolete or ineffective and is not used generally by the medical community for the particular diagnosis or treatment of a Member's particular condition.

Governmental approval of a technology is not necessarily sufficient to render it of proven benefit or appropriate or effective for a particular diagnosis or treatment of a Member's particular condition, as explained below.

recognize the usage as appropriate medical treatment. A medical device, drug, or biological product that meets the above tests will not be considered Experimental or Investigational.

In any event, any drug which the Food and Drug Administration has determined to be contraindicated for the specific treatment for which the drug has been prescribed will be considered Experimental or Investigational.

3. demonstrated evidence as reflected in the published peer-reviewed medical literature must exist that over time the technology leads to improvement in health outcomes, i.e., the beneficial effects outweigh any harmful effects;

Adopted Amendment: N.J.A.C. 13:40A-2A.3

Proposed: February 22, 1994 at 26 N.J.R. 902(a).
Adopted: April 12, 1994 by the Board of Real Estate Appraisers, Carmen D. Mistichelli, President.
Filed: July 19, 1994 as R.1994 d.420, without change.
Authority: N.J.S.A. 45:14F-8(n).
Effective Date: August 15, 1994.
Expiration Date: December 16, 1996.

Summary of Public Comments and Agency Responses:

The Board received one written comment regarding the proposal from Mike Damato, Executive Administrator, Appraisal Institute, Metro NJ Chapter.

Question was raised as to whether the proposal should be amended to state that the applicant is required to "successfully" complete 120 classroom hours, and concerning the criteria for the additional 15 classroom hours of courses to be required pursuant to this proposal. The commenter stated that there are very few courses of 15 classroom hours, and asked not only if there must be an examination at the completion of the 15 hours but also if the requirement for 15 classroom hours can be met by taking two one-day seminars on residential subjects.

Pursuant to existing Board regulations governing education requirements for certification as a Real Estate Appraiser (N.J.A.C. 13:40A-2A.3(b)), educational programs must be at least 15 hours in duration, and include an examination.

Credit cannot be granted without passage of the examination; thus, the term "successful" is implicit in the process. Further, the Board notes that there exists a sufficient number of courses with a duration of at least 15 classroom hours that licensees can attend to comply with this rule. The Board also notes that individuals may take courses that exceed 15 credit hours in duration.

Finally, it should be noted that seminars will not qualify as acceptable under the terms of this rule because seminars do not typically include examinations.

Effective Date: August 15, 1994.

Expiration Date: May 1, 1998.

Summary of Public Comments and Agency Responses:

Written comment was received from Jonus Reilly, Director of Research and Economic Services, New Jersey Education Association, as follows:

"We feel that changing the system to provide a dollar-for-dollar offset for workers' compensation benefits is a major improvement over the current system of highly unpredictable life actuarial reductions.

We have two questions:

1. The actual language discusses only accidental disability retirements and seems to provide only dollar-for-dollar offsets. The description suggests in the last sentence of the summary that some kind of actuarial reduction will apply to accidental disability retirements. We are thus somewhat confused about whether there will still be some kind of actuarial reduction applying to accidental disability retirements.

2. There is no specific mention of ordinary disability. Are ordinary disabilities thus exempt from offsets?

If there are to be no offsets for ordinary disability, and only dollar-for-dollar offsets for accidental disability, the code should so state explicitly."

RESPONSE: The statutes governing the various retirement systems permit members to retire while receiving periodic Workers' Compensation benefits. In this event the pension portion of the retirement allowance is subject to reduction as a result of the Workers' Compensation award. N.J.S.A. 18A:66-32.1 stipulates that "the actuarial equivalent of such periodic benefits remaining to be paid shall be computed and will serve to reduce the pension portion of the retirement allowance payable to the retirant..." The statute, therefore, mandates some form of actuarial reduction.

In the past the Division of Pensions and Benefits employed two methods of actuarial reduction to offset disability retirement allowances when retirees received periodic Workers' Compensation benefits. The most common offset involved the use of the present value disability retirement annuity tables to calculate the reduction. This method of calculation was employed whenever the total value of the Workers' Compensation award was known. The result was a lifetime reduction in the pension portion of the retiree's allowance. In those few cases when the termination date of the compensation award was unknown, the pension portion of the monthly retirement allowance was reduced on a dollar-for-dollar basis by the monthly amount of the periodic Workers' Compensation payment received by the retiree. If and when a termination date for the award became available, the reduction calculation was revised to employ the disability retirement annuity tables.

This second method (the dollar-for-dollar reduction) was still considered to be a form of actuarial reduction as required by the statute. The Division is proposing that this second method be utilized in all future calculations of allowance reductions resulting from the payment of periodic Workers' Compensation benefits after retirement.

The Division's former use of the present value disability retirement annuity tables to calculate the retirement allowance reduction had the advantage of administrative ease and usually resulted in a lesser monthly reduction than would be achieved from a dollar-for-dollar offset. The lifetime nature of the reduction disadvantaged long-lived pensioners, who over time, lost more in retirement allowance reductions than they received from the Workers' Compensation award. Further, the lifetime reductions caused some pensioners economic hardship because the reduction in the retirement allowance continued even though the pensioner was no longer receiving any periodic Workers' Compensation benefit. The Division believes the proposed method of actuarial reduction will be more equitable to its pensioners.

The proposed rule details the method of future calculations for actuarial reductions due to Workers' Compensation awards for individuals who are retired under the accidental disability retirement provisions of the statutes. Reductions for ordinary disability retirements were deliberately omitted as the Division does not intend to calculate future Workers' Compensation reductions in cases other than accidental disability retirements. While there is a readily apparent link between compensable injury under Workers' Compensation law and the statutes governing accidental disability retirement, the Division believes there is no inherent link between the ordinary disability statutes (which require applicants to meet certain years of service standards) and Workers' Compensation benefits.

17:1-4.32 Workers' compensation; reduction of retirement allowance

(a) A member who retires on an accidental disability retirement under the provisions of the applicable statutes governing the various State-administered retirement systems and who receives periodic benefits under the workers' compensation law after the date of retirement shall be subject to a reduction in the pension portion of his or her retirement allowance in the amount of the periodic benefits received after the date of retirement.

1. The reduction shall be a dollar-for-dollar reduction in the pension portion of the retirement allowance in the amount of the periodic benefits for the time period for which the periodic benefits are received.

2. If an accidental disability retiree receives a retirement allowance without reduction and periodic benefits under the workers' compensation law for any time period after the date of retirement, the retiree shall repay to the retirement system the amount of the pension portion of his or her retirement allowance which should have been subject to reduction under the applicable statute and this rule. The repayment may be in the form of a lump sum payment or scheduled as deductions from the retiree's retirement allowances and pension adjustment benefits, except that, if the retiree does not respond by remitting payment in a lump sum within 60 days, the Division shall establish a repayment schedule. In the event of the death of the retiree before full repayment of the amount required under this rule, the remaining balance shall be deducted from any death benefits payable on behalf of the retiree.

3. The reduction under this rule shall not affect the retiree's pension adjustment benefits or survivor benefits that may be payable upon the death of the retiree.

(b) Any retiree or beneficiary receiving pension adjustment benefits based upon a retirement allowance reduced due to receipt of periodic workers' compensation benefits shall be entitled to receive pension adjustment benefits based upon the full retirement allowance.

SUBCHAPTER 15. URBAN ENTERPRISE ZONES ACT

18:7-15.1 General

(a) The New Jersey Urban Enterprise Zones Act, Chapter 303, Laws of 1983, N.J.S.A. 52:27H-60 et seq., approved August 15, 1983, provides for the establishment of up to 10 urban enterprise zones in urban areas suffering from high unemployment and economic distress. P.L. 1985, c.391 made certain changes to eligibility requirements for designation as a zone. P.L. 1988, c.93 modified the definition of a qualified business, made adjustments to the eligibility requirements for the employee tax credit, and provided for an alternative investment tax credit. P.L. 1993, c.367 further modified the definition of a qualified business and provided for the designation of 10 additional enterprise zones. Zones are designated by an Urban Enterprise Zone Authority. The Authority may grant certain corporation tax and other benefits to businesses existing in, or formed in, enterprise zones, which have met the definition of a qualified business. This subchapter of the corporation tax rules sets forth the possible benefits, the necessary definitions, and the procedures for qualifying for any or all of these corporation tax benefits. Rules on the sales and use tax and urban enterprise zones are in N.J.A.C. 18:24-31. For Urban Enterprise Zone Authority rules and policies, see N.J.A.C. 12A:120 and 12A:121.

(b) (No change.)

18:7-15.2 Definitions

The following words and terms, when used in this subchapter, shall have the following meanings, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise.

A "qualified business" means either:

1. (No change.)
2. An entity which, after that designation but during the designation period of 20 years, becomes newly engaged in the active conduct of a trade or business in that zone, and has at least 25 percent of its full-time employees at a business location in the zone, who meet at least one of the following criteria:
  - i. Resident within the zone, within another zone, or within a qualifying municipality;
  - ii. Either unemployed, while residing in New Jersey, for at least six months prior to being hired, or recipients of New Jersey public assistance programs, for at least six months prior to being hired;
  - iii. Determined to be economically disadvantaged pursuant to the Jobs Training Partnership Act, P.L. 97-300 (29 United States Code 1501, et seq.). Section 1503(8) of that Act defines the term as follows: "The term 'economically disadvantaged' means an individual who (A) receives, or is a member of a family which receives, cash welfare payments under a Federal, state or local welfare program; (B) has, or is a member of a family which has received a total family income for the six-month period prior to application for the program involved (exclusive of unemployment compensation, child support payments, and welfare payments) which, in relation to family size, was not in excess of the higher of (i) the poverty level determined in accordance with criteria established by the Director of the Office of Management and Budget, or (ii) 70 percent of the lower living standard income level; (C) is receiving food stamps pursuant to the Food Stamp Act of 1977; (D) is a foster child on behalf of whom state or local government payments are made; or (E) in cases permitted by regulations of the Secretary (U.S. Secretary of Labor), is an adult handicapped individual whose own income meets the requirements of clause (A) or (B), but who is a member of a family whose income does not meet such requirements."

For purposes of the corporation business tax credits, the "qualified business" must be a corporation. The credits shall not be passed through a partnership doing business in a zone to an unqualified corporation which is a partner in the partnership.

"Qualifying municipality" means any municipality in which there was, in the last full calendar year immediately preceding the year in which the municipality makes application for enterprise zone designation, an annual average of at least 2,000 unemployed persons, and in which the municipal average annual unemployment rate for that year exceeded the state average annual unemployment rate; except that any municipality which qualifies for state aid pursuant to P.L. 1978, c.14 (C.52:27D-178, et seq.) shall qualify if its municipal average unemployment rate for that year exceeded the state average annual unemployment rate. The annual average of unemployed persons and the average annual unemployment rates shall be estimated for the relevant calendar year by the Office of Labor Statistics, Division of Planning and Research of the State Department of Labor. For purposes of P.L. 1983, c.303 (N.J.S.A. 52:27H-60 et seq.), the seven municipalities in which the six enterprise zones are to be designated pursuant to criteria according priority consideration for designation of these zones pursuant to section 7 of P.L. 1983, c.303 (N.J.S.A. 52:27H-66) shall be deemed qualifying municipalities.

18:7-15.3 (Reserved)

18:7-15.4 Credits against total tax for new employees and investments in urban enterprise zones

(a) (No change.)

(b) A one-time credit against the tax of $1,500 shall be allowed for each new full-time, permanent employee employed at that location who is a resident of the qualifying municipality (as defined in N.J.A.C. 18:7-15.2) in which the designated enterprise zone is located, or any other qualifying municipality in which an urban enterprise zone is located, who was, immediately before employment by the taxpayer, unemployed for at least 90 days, or dependent upon public assistance as the primary source of income. Further qualifications for this benefit are in (e) and (f) below.

(c) A one-time credit against the tax of $500.00 shall be allowed for each new full-time, permanent employee employed at that location who is a resident of the qualifying municipality (as defined in N.J.A.C. 18:7-15.2) in which the designated enterprise zone is located, or any other qualifying municipality in which an urban enterprise zone is located, who does not meet the requirements of (b) above, and who was not, immediately before employment by the taxpayer, employed at a location within the qualifying municipality in which the qualified business is located. Further qualifications for this credit are in (e) and (f) below.

(d) (No change.)

(e) The enterprise zone employee tax credits provided in (b) and (c) above, shall be allowed in the tax year immediately following the tax year in which the new full-time, permanent employee was first employed by the taxpayer, but shall only be allowed if the employee for whom credit is claimed was employed by the taxpayer for at least six continuous months during the tax year for which the credit is claimed. The credit shall be permitted in any tax year of a 20 year period from the date of designation of the enterprise zone, or in any tax year of a period of 20 tax years from the date within that designation period upon which the taxpayer is first subject to the corporation business tax under N.J.S.A. 54:10A-1 et seq., which-ever is later. The termination of designation as an enterprise zone at the end of the 20 year designation period shall not terminate the eligibility period under this section.

(f) The employee tax credit is available only for new full-time, permanent employees who have been employed by the qualified business for at least six continuous months during the year for which the credit is claimed. For a new employee to be considered a full-time, permanent employee, the total number of full-time, permanent employees, including the new employee, employed by the qualified business during the calendar year must exceed the greatest number of full-time, permanent employees employed in the zone by the qualified business during any prior calendar year since the zone was designated. "Calendar year" means the year the new employees are hired. The comparison is made to the peak employment on any date during the calendar years prior to the calendar year in which the new employees are hired, not the employment level on the last date of prior calendar years. The new employees must then continue to be employed during the following year in which the credit is claimed for six continuous months.

Example 1: ABC Company is a qualified business. The highest number of full-time permanent employees the company has employed in any prior calendar years since the zone was designated was 100. ABC Company employs 100 employees in 1985 and hires five new employees in June 1995. The five new employees reside in the qualifying municipality in which the zone is located and, immediately prior to employment by the qualified business, were unemployed for at least 90 days. The five new employees remain with the company through June 30, 1996. ABC may claim the employee tax credit for the 1996 tax year for the employees hired in 1995. The employees remained employed by ABC Company for at least six continuous months during the year for which the credit is claimed (1996). The five new employees are considered full-time permanent employees because the total number of full-time permanent employees, including the new employees, employed by ABC during the 1995 calendar year (105) exceeded the greatest number of full-time permanent employees employed in the zone by ABC in prior calendar years (100). The total credit is $7500 ( $$1500 \times 5$ ).

Example 2: Same facts as above except that in March 1996 ABC Company terminated two of the employees hired in 1995, and in April 1996 hires three new employees. The new employees reside in the qualifying municipality in which the zone is located and, although they were not unemployed for at least 90 days prior to employment by the qualified business or on public assistance, they were not employed, immediately prior to employment by the qualified business, within the qualifying municipality in which the qualified business is located. The new employees remained with ABC through December 1997. ABC may claim the $1500 credit for tax year 1996 only for the three employees hired in 1995 who were not terminated, since the two terminated employees would not have worked for six continuous months during the year for which the credit is claimed. ABC may claim the $500.00 credit for tax year 1997 for each of the three employees hired in 1996 since they remained with ABC for six continuous months in 1997 and the highest number of employees in 1996 (106) exceeded the highest number of full-time permanent employees (105) in prior calendar years. The $1500 credit could not be claimed for the three employees hired in 1996 because they were not unemployed or on public assistance.

(g) Enterprise zone employee tax credits or enterprise zone investment tax credits under this section shall not reduce the taxpayer's tax liability under N.J.S.A. 54:10A-1 et seq. in any tax year by more than 50 percent or the amount otherwise due, but any unused employee or investment tax credits may be carried forward by the taxpayer to the next succeeding tax year and be applied against 50 percent of that year's tax, but not beyond the 20 year totals set forth in (e) above.

(h) The credit shall not exceed an amount which would reduce the total tax liability below the statutory minimum. For minimum tax see N.J.A.C. 18:7-3.4.

18:7-15.5 Qualification for benefits

There is no formal procedure for registration as a qualified business for the purpose of obtaining the corporation tax benefits. However, each annual CBT-100 Corporation Business Tax Return which claims any urban enterprise zone corporation tax benefits must include proof that it is a qualified business. This proof may consist of a certificate or other proof of status as a qualified business for sales tax purposes under N.J.A.C. 18:24-31. If a sales tax certificate or some other form of proof has not been obtained, the taxpayer should attach a statement setting forth how it qualifies as a "qualified business" as defined in N.J.A.C. 18:7-15.2, with sufficient detail to permit verification by the Division of Taxation.

Take notice that the Casino Control Commission shall, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 5:12-69(e), conduct an experiment for the purpose of determining whether a game known as Caribbean Stud Poker is suitable for casino use.

The experiment will be conducted in accordance with temporary rules, which will be posted in each casino participating in this experiment, and will also be available from the Commission upon request.

This test would allow a casino licensee which wishes to participate in the experiment, and which meets all the terms and conditions established by the Commission, to conduct the game of Caribbean Stud Poker in its casino.

This experiment could begin no sooner than August 22, 1994, and continue for a maximum of 270 days from that date, unless otherwise terminated by the Commission or any of the participating casino licensees prior to that time, pursuant to the terms and conditions of the experiment.

Should the temporary amendments prove successful, in the judgment of the Commission, the Commission will propose them for final adoption, in accordance with the public notice and comment requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act and N.J.A.C. 1:30.

Summary of Public Comments and Agency Responses:

COMMENT: Greate Bay Hotel and Casino, Inc., t/a Sands Hotel and Casino, has no objection to the proposal.

RESPONSE: Accepted.

COMMENT: The Division of Gaming Enforcement (Division) objects to proposed new rule N.J.A.C. 19:45-1.41A insofar as it would permit slot attendants and slot mechanics to enter a slot hopper to complete a machine paid jackpot, or to return coin or tokens not credited, of a slot machine which accepts coins or slot tokens in denominations of less than $25.00. The Division recommends that only slot supervisors be permitted to enter the slot hopper for these purposes, as the proposed rule provides in the case of slot machines which accept slot tokens of $25.00 or more.

RESPONSE: Rejected. The new rule is consistent with N.J.A.C. 19:45-1.36(e)1, which provides that any slot machine equipped to accept slot tokens in denominations of $25.00 or more shall be opened only by a slot department supervisor or supervisor thereof. The Commission is satisfied that this additional measure of security is required only with respect to these higher denomination slot machines.

COMMENT: The Division also objects to that portion of proposed new rule N.J.A.C. 19:45-1.41A(d) which permits nine slugs to be accumulated in a slot machine prior to the completion and filing of a Slug Report. The Division asserts that the use of a slug in playing a slot machine would result in a violation of N.J.S.A. 5:12-114b(1), a crime of the fourth degree, and notes that, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 5:12-80g, all licensees have a duty to inform the Commission and Division of any action which they believe would constitute a crime. The Division asserts that the finding of a slug in a slot machine indicates a crime has occurred and that a casino licensee is therefore required to immediately report the finding of any slug.

RESPONSE: Rejected. The new rule requires a casino licensee to report the finding of slugs as soon as nine slugs are accumulated in a slot machine. N.J.S.A. 5:12-80g does not require notification of any action which may constitute a violation of the Act to be made immediately. While notification of most possible violations should be made as soon as possible, the Commission does not believe that the finding of a single slug in a slot machine requires immediate notification. The Commission believes that the nine-slug threshold for the filing of a Slug Report strikes a reasonable balance in this situation between the duty of licensees to report possible violations of the Act and the need for the Commission and Division to receive such information in a timely and meaningful manner.

Summary of Agency-Initiated Changes:

The definition of "slug" in N.J.A.C. 19:40-1.2 has been modified slightly to reflect the fact that, although coin may be properly used to activate a slot machine, coin, unlike slot tokens, is not subject to Commission approval pursuant to N.J.A.C. 19:46-1.33.

19:45-1.1 Definitions

The following words and terms, when used in this chapter, shall have the following meanings unless the context clearly indicates otherwise.

19:45-1.41A Procedures governing the removal of coin, slot tokens and slugs from a slot machine hopper

(a) Except as provided in N.J.A.C. 19:45-1.38(d), and (b) through (d) below, no coin, slot tokens, or slugs shall be removed from a slot machine hopper.

(b) If a slot machine malfunctions during a payout and the slot machine cannot be repaired in a timely manner, coin and slot tokens may be removed from a slot machine's hopper in order to complete the slot machine paid jackpot. The coin or slot tokens shall be removed from the slot machine hopper by a slot attendant, slot mechanic or supervisor thereof for slot machines which accept coin or slot tokens in denominations less than $25.00, or a slot department supervisor for slot machines which accept slot tokens in denominations of $25.00 or more. The removal of the coin or slot tokens shall be documented on the Machine Entry Authorization Log pursuant to N.J.A.C. 19:45-1.36(k). Nothing in this section shall preclude a casino licensee from preparing a Jackpot Payout Slip for the amount of coin or slot token owed the patron provided that the payout is completed in accordance with N.J.A.C. 19:45-1.40 and a notation is made on the Jackpot Payout Slip indicating the reason for the slip.

(c) If coin or slot tokens are inserted by a patron and are neither registered nor returned to the patron by the slot machine, a member of the slot department in accordance with (b) above may remove the coin or slot tokens from the slot machine hopper and return them to the patron. The removal of the coin or slot tokens shall be documented on the Machine Entry Authorization Log pursuant to N.J.A.C. 19:45-1.36(k). Under no circumstances shall a casino licensee remove more coin or slot tokens than the maximum number of coin or slot tokens which can be wagered on one handle pull of the slot machine.

(d) Whenever slugs are found in a slot machine's hopper the following procedures and requirements shall be followed:

1. A slot attendant, slot mechanic or supervisor thereof shall, for slot machine denominations less than $25.00, or a slot department supervisor for slot machine denominations of $25.00 or more, immediately remove the slugs from the slot machine hopper and place the slugs into an envelope or container. The individual who found the slugs shall record the asset number and denomination of the slot machine, the quantity of slugs found, the date the slugs were found, and his or her signature on the Machine Entry Authorization Log pursuant to N.J.A.C. 19:45-1.36(k). The envelope or container may be maintained inside the slot machine until the number of slugs in the envelope or container is nine. When the number of slugs in the envelope or container reaches nine or at such other times as may be necessary, the slot attendant, slot mechanic or slot supervisor shall complete a three-part Slug Report which contains, at a minimum, the following:

- i. The date and time;
- ii. The asset number of the slot machine from which the slugs were removed;
- iii. The denomination of the slot machine;
- iv. The denomination and quantity of slugs;
- v. A brief description of the slugs; and

vi. The signature of the slot attendant, slot mechanic or slot department supervisor completing the Slug Report.

2. Upon completion of the Slug Report required by (d)1 above, the slot attendant, slot mechanic or slot department supervisor shall remove the envelope or container, seal the envelope or container and transport it with the Slug Report to the Master Coin Bank or other location as approved by the Commission. The individual accepting receipt of the slugs shall sign all three parts of the Slug Report. The slot department member shall deliver the original copy of the Slug Report to the Commission's Principal Inspector and the triplicate to the Division's in-house office. The duplicate Slug Report shall remain with the slugs until their destruction.

3. If more than nine slugs are found at any one time in a slot machine's hopper, the slot department member shall place the slugs into the envelope or container and immediately complete the Slug Report required by (d)1 above. The slugs shall be immediately transported in accordance with (d)2 above. The slot department member shall inspect the slot machine and coin mechanism to determine if there is a malfunction. The results of this inspection shall be documented on the Machine Entry Authorization Log pursuant to N.J.A.C. 19:45-1.36(k).

4. All slugs shall be destroyed in accordance with procedures submitted to and approved by the Commission and the Division.

Summary of Changes Upon Adoption:

The Division, in reviewing the proposed new rules and the approved waiver language as received from the Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA) for the Traumatic Brain Injury Program, has discovered some inconsistencies which are being corrected at the time of adoption. Those changes which do not affect eligibility are as follows:

N.J.A.C. 10:49-17.1(e) identified five waiver programs administered by the Division. With the addition of the "Traumatic Brain Injury" program, the Division now administers six waiver programs, which will be included at N.J.A.C. 10:49-17.1(e).

N.J.A.C. 10:60-5.2(a), which duplicates N.J.A.C. 10:49-17.5(f), was inadvertently omitted from the proposal, and is added upon adoption.

N.J.A.C. 10:49-17.5(f)1 (and 10:60-5.2(a)1) have had language added to ensure that individuals enrolled in the TBI program prior to age 65 will continue receiving services that age has been reached.

Language has been added to N.J.A.C. 10:49-17.5(f)2 (and 10:60-5.2(a)2), which identifies that only those individuals injured over the age of 16 may submit an application to receive TBI program services. This clarification ensures that those individuals receiving traumatic brain injuries at an earlier age will be able to avail themselves of services provided by the Division of Developmental Disabilities. This modification has been authorized by HCFA which approved the waiver.

This waiver program is small having only 75 slots currently with up to 200 slots as a maximum. Age of on-set limitations are necessary to include those with no options and to prevent filling the program with persons who have options for other services such as those provided by the Division of Developmental Disabilities. Services required by individuals injured from infancy or childhood may differ from those provided under this program. DDD has the responsibility of developing the appropriate services for this group.

At N.J.A.C. 10:49-17.5(n), the phrase "prior to the initiation of the plan" is deleted because the plan of care may be initiated with immediacy by the case manager when the client is in the community. This may be done without official review and approval by the MDO. Each plan is subject to the approval of the MDO after the immediate actions have been taken and may be modified if there are problems or objections.

In proposed N.J.A.C. 10:49-17.5(j), the second sentence references the creation of a waiting list when all slots are filled. The implication of the term "waiting" is that each individual applicant will be given a number which moves forward every time a slot is filled. In reality, individuals accepted into the TBI waiver program are selected on the basis of medical need and readiness to enter the program. The Division therefore believes that "waiting list" may be misleading and set-up unrealistic expectations, and has deleted the sentence.

The number of days provided for out-of-home respite care at N.J.A.C. 10:60-5.5(a)3ii, has been increased to 42 from 30 in accordance with the approved waiver as received from HCFA.

The procedure codes Y7458, Y7459 and Y7463 cited at N.J.A.C. 10:60-5.8(c) were designed to provide continuing care to eligible TBI program recipients beyond eight and 12 hours. However, due to an inadvertent oversight the hours between eight and nine, and 12 and 13 were not correctly identified in the proposal. In order to ensure the continuity of care for the TBI recipient, the Department is clarifying that coverage is provided beyond eight and 12 hours by inserting "greater than" and changing the hours to be eight and 12 rather than nine and 13 which appeared in the proposal. There is no effect on client eligibility or program cost as a result of this change.

Interventions shall include placement development, evaluation, and counseling, placement and follow-up in a setting where the setting itself is not paid to supervise the recipient. The professional shall be a person trained and licensed or certified in a specific profession. Examples include, but are not limited to, social work, vocational rehabilitation, psychology, nursing and therapeutic recreation. The program of activities shall promote independence and community reintegration. The professional support shall be reimbursed on an hourly basis, depending on the amount of support required within the plan of care. This service is not otherwise available under a program funded by either the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, or P.L. 94-142.

i. Supported day program staff employed by the day program are paid to develop and monitor a community-based placement for the individual recipient as part of the plan of care. The community-based placement is not paid to provide the activity to the recipient. Examples include prevocational settings, volunteer programs or social clubs where the recipient can participate in meaningful activities. The supported day program provider is paid on an hourly basis for activity development and follow-up to ensure that the recipient has made a satisfactory adjustment in the placement. Supported day program is a step-down alternative to structured day program and a less costly service.

(1) "Placement development" means the identification of and negotiation with an organization, business, association or other group in the community to accept a brain injured person to participate in or engage in some productive activity as a part of that group. The activity shall be related to the brain injured person's skills, interests and abilities.

(2) "Evaluation and counseling" means review of the supported day program to determine that the placement is suitable for the recipient, and availability to the recipient and the community program to resolve any problems or to support the recipient's placement.

(3) "Placement and follow-up in the setting where the setting is not paid to supervise the recipient" means that the supported day program provider arranges the placement, provides intervention if there are problems, but will not provide ongoing supervision of the recipient at his or her activity site.

ii. Supported day program services shall be provided as an alternative to structured day program, when the recipient does not require continual supervision.

iii. The providers of supported day program services shall be the same as those providing structured day programs.

13. Counseling services shall be provided to resolve intrapsychic or interpersonal conflict resulting from brain injury as an adjunct to behavioral program services in severe cases or for substance abuse problems. Counseling shall be provided to the recipient and family if necessary. Counseling for substance abuse problems shall be provided by a certified alcohol and drug counsel (CADC) familiar with brain injury or by a local alcohol/drug treatment program. Due to the high correlation between TBI and substance abuse, detailed drug/alcohol abuse history shall be obtained by the case manager for each recipient to monitor a potential for substance abuse. Waiver services shall be utilized only if State Plan counseling services for mental health or drug treatment are either unavailable or inappropriate to meet recipient needs.

i. Providers of counseling service shall be licensed mental health professionals, practicing independently, employed by an agency or under contract to an agency. These professionals include psychologists, psychiatrists, social workers and nurses.

ii. Registered professional nurses shall be licensed by the State of New Jersey and certified as a clinical specialist in psychiatric or mental health nursing by the American Nurses Association (N.J.S.A. 45:11-26).

iii. A social worker shall be licensed as a clinical social worker (LCSW) under New Jersey statutes and rules. (N.J.S.A. 45:1-15 and N.J.A.C. 13:44G).

iv. A psychologist shall be licensed (see N.J.A.C. 13:42) as a clinical psychologist under New Jersey statute, with competencies in areas related to diagnosis and treatment of brain injury.

HUMAN SERVICES

ADOPTIONS

v. A psychiatrist shall be a physician licensed under the New Jersey Board of Medical Examiners and Board Certified or Board Eligible under the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology (N.J.A.C. 13:35).

vi. A certified alcohol drug counselor (CADC) shall be certified by the Alcohol and Drug Counselor Certification Board of New Jersey (ADCCBNJ, 90 Monmouth St., Suite One, Red Bank, NJ 07701, Phone 908-741-3835).

vii. All mental health professionals providing counseling services shall have experience and knowledge in treating persons with brain injuries.

14. Behavioral program services is a daily program provided by and under the supervision of a licensed psychologist and by behavioral aides (specialists) trained by a licensed psychologist, which is designed to serve recipients who display severe maladaptive or aggressive behavior which is potentially destructive to the individual or others. The program provided in or out of the home, is time limited and designed to treat the individual and caregivers, if appropriate, on a short term basis.

i. Behavior programming shall include a complete assessment of the maladaptive behavior(s), development of a structured behavior modification plan, ongoing training and supervision of caregivers and behavioral aides (specialists) and periodic reassessment of the plan. The goal of the program shall be to return the individual to prior level of functioning which is safe for himself or herself and others.

ii. Enrollment in the behavioral program shall require prior authorization and recommendation by a licensed clinical psychologist (N.J.A.C. 13:42) or psychiatrist (N.J.A.C. 13:35), with subsequent consultation by same on an as needed basis. The case manager shall also prior-approve the service within the plan of care.

iii. Providers of this service shall be a licensed CRS provider (N.J.A.C. 10:44A and 10:44B), rehabilitation hospital (N.J.A.C. 8:43H), community mental health agency (N.J.A.C. 10:37 and 10:37C), clinical psychologist (N.J.A.C. 13:42), or Board Certified, Board eligible psychiatrist (N.J.A.C. 13:35).

iv. Rehabilitation hospitals shall have been licensed by the Department of Health (DOH) (N.J.A.C. 8:43H).

v. Community mental health agencies shall be approved by the Division of Mental Health and Hospitals (DMHH) (N.J.A.C. 10:37 and 10:37C).

vi. Community residential services providers shall be licensed by the Division of Developmental Disabilities (DDD) (N.J.A.C. 10:44A and 10:44B).

vii. Additionally, to supervise the program, the provider shall employ staff or contract with a Board Certified or Board Eligible psychiatrist or licensed clinical psychologist with two years experience in head injury and/or behavioral programming.

viii. Behavioral aides (specialists) employed to implement the behavior modification program shall possess a high school diploma at a minimum and have 24 hours of behavioral training from a qualified psychologist or psychiatrist. Behavioral aides (specialists) shall also receive an additional 16 hours of training in crisis management during the first 90 days of employment.

10:60-5.6 Program costs

Total program costs in the TBI waiver are limited by the number of community care slots used each year and by costs per recipient. The cost of the recipient service package shall be no more than the cost of institutional care for the recipient determined at a projected weighted cost of institutional care by the Division. The Division may elect to exclude individuals from the waiver program for whom there is an expectation that costs to Medicaid for services under the waiver may exceed the cost of nursing facility care.

10:60-5.7 Basis for reimbursement for TBI services

(a) A fee-for-service reimbursement methodology shall be utilized for TBI waiver services. Providers shall be precluded from receiving additional reimbursement for the cost of these TBI Waiver services above the fee established by the Medicaid program. (See N.J.A.C. 10:60-5.8(c).)

(b) The health insurance claim form 1500 N.J. shall be used when billing for waiver services provided. Refer to the Fiscal Agent Billing Supplement (Appendix A of this chapter) for information in the completion of the 1500 N.J.

(c) Fees for TBI waiver services are established for each service by the Division, after a review of the range of fees charged for the service by providers throughout the State and in other states with similar waiver programs. Once a fee for a particular service has been established, that fee becomes the maximum fee that Medicaid will pay for that service. Providers seeking approval to render that service are subject to this fee ceiling.

10:60-5.8 Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA) Common Procedure Coding System (HCPCS) for Traumatic Brain Injury Program

(a) The New Jersey Medicaid Program utilizes the Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA) Common Procedure Coding System (HCPCS). The HCPCS codes as listed in this subchapter are relevant only to the Traumatic Brain Injury Program.

(b) The HCPCS procedure codes are used when requesting reimbursement for services provided through the Traumatic Brain Injury Program and when a Health Insurance Claim Form (1500 N.J.) is required.

(c) The HCPCS procedure codes for the Traumatic Brain Injury Program are as follows:

APPENDIX I RANCHO SCALE

Level	Response	Patient Function
I	No response	Patient is completely unresponsive to any stimulus.
II	Generalized response	Patient reacts to the environment, but not as a specific response to the stimulus—responses are often the same despite change of stimuli. The earliest response is often gross movement to deep pain.
III	Localized response	Patient reacts in a specific manner to the stimulus, but may inconsistently turn head to sound, withdraw an extremity to pain, squeeze fingers placed in the hand, or respond to family members more than others.
IV	Confused, agitated	Patient is in a heightened state of activity, but is still severely detached from the surroundings. Internal confusion and very limited ability to learn is combined with short attention span and easy fatigue. The patient is unable to cooperate and may be aggressive, combative, or incoherent.
V	Confused, inappropriate/nonagitated	Patient appears alert and is able to respond to simple commands. Responses are best with familiar routines, people, and structured situations. Distractibility and short attention span lead to difficulty learning new tasks and agitation in response to frustrations. If physically mobile, there may be wandering. Much external structure is needed. Initiation and memory are limited.
VI	Confused, appropriate	Patient shows goal-directed behavior, but still is dependent on external structure and direction. Simple directions are followed consistently and there is carry-over of relearned skills (like dressing), yet new learning progresses very slowly with little carry-over. Orientation is better and there is no longer inappropriate wandering.
VII	Automatic, appropriate	Patient appears appropriate and oriented with familiar settings such as home and hospital, but is confused and often helpless in unfamiliar surroundings. The daily routine can be managed with minimal confusion as long as there are no changes. There is little recall of what has just been done. There is only a superficial understanding of the disability, with lack of insight into the significance of the remaining deficits. Judgment is impaired with inability to plan ahead. New learning is slow and minimal supervision is needed. Driving is unsafe; supervision is needed for safety in the community or in school and workshop settings.
VIII	Purposeful, appropriate	Patient may not function as well as before the injury, but is able to function independently in home and community skills, including driving. Alert, oriented, and able to integrate past and present events. Vocational rehabilitation is indicated. Difficulties dealing with stressful or unexpected situations can arise, as there may be a decrease in abstract reasoning, judgment, intellectual ability, and tolerance of stress relative to premorbid capabilities.

DIVISION OF MEDICAL ASSISTANCE AND HEALTH SERVICES

Manual for Hospital Services Hospital Subsidy Fund for Mentally Ill and Developmentally Disabled Clients

Adopted Amendment: N.J.A.C. 10:52-8.2

Proposed: June 6, 1994 at 26 N.J.R. 2241(a).

Adopted: July 25, 1994 by William Waldman, Commissioner, Department of Human Services.

Filed: July 25, 1994 as R.1994 d.432, with substantive changes not requiring additional public notice and comment (see N.J.A.C. 1:30-4.3).

Authority: N.J.S.A. 30:4D-6a(1), 30:4D-7, 7a, b and c; 30:4D-12;
42 CFR 447.251,253.

Agency Control Number: 94-A-18.

Effective Date: August 15, 1994.

Expiration Date: February 8, 1995.

Summary of Public Comments and Agency Responses:

There were three comments on the proposal.

COMMENTS: Kalison and McBride, P.A., Counsellors at Law representing Kimball Medical Center, requests that the Division interpret the proposed amendments as entitling a hospital adding STCF or CCIS beds to receive a full year's distribution regardless of the point in time the amendments were adopted.

Kimball Medical Center directly commented as a disproportionate share hospital that services many low income mentally ill or developmentally disabled clients. They indicate their support of the redistribution of funds among eligible hospitals on the first of the month following adoption (in 1994) and their need for these funds to service these clients.

RESPONSE: The Division will be making the initial redistribution of the funds among eligible hospitals in the month of adoption (in 1994) and the Division intends to adopt the proposal in a timely manner to facilitate the redistribution of funds.

COMMENT: St. Mary's (Passaic) Hospital commented that they supported the proposal in light of their increase in the number clients served and their qualification for distribution of the Subsidy Fund for the Mentally Ill and Developmentally Disabled Clients.

RESPONSE: The agency appreciates the commenter's support for the rules.

Summary of Changes Upon Adoption:

There is one textual change upon adoption. The change is to change the effective date from "on the first of the month following adoption" to be "in the month of adoption," that is, August, 1994. This technical change is made to assure that payments can be made to hospitals in the month of August which has always been the intended effective date of these amendments. The Division did not intend to begin the redistribution of the payments in September.

This change is not substantial enough to require republication. There is no change in the amount of payment to providers. The change will not enlarge or curtail those providers that are entitled to receive this payment.

Full text of the adoption follows (additions to proposal indicated in boldface with asterisks *thus*; deletions from proposal indicated in brackets with asterisks *[thus]*):

10:52-8.2 Method of payment

(a)-(d) (No change.)

(e) Disproportionate Share Hospitals which service a large number of low income mentally ill or developmentally disabled clients may also be eligible to receive increased disproportionate share payment. The amount of payments to be made to facilities which serve a large number of mentally ill low income clients will be based upon recommendation by the Division of Mental Health and Hospitals within the Department of Human Services to the Commissioner of the Department of Human Services. This recommendation will identify hospitals essential to preserve the fragile network of mental health providers in the State. The Division of Developmental Disabilities may also recommend an additional payment to facilities who serve a large number of developmentally disabled clients. These additional payments will assure that these low income and special needs clients continue to have access to critical care.

HUMAN SERVICES*ADOPTIONS

1. The Hospital Subsidy Fund for Mentally Ill and Developmentally Disabled Clients shall be an amount allocated by the Commissioner during the fiscal year for this purpose. It shall be distributed in the following manner:

i. Hospitals who receive funding from the Hospital Relief Subsidy Fund shall only be eligible for a payment from this fund if recognized by the Division of Mental Health and Hospitals and a Short Term Care Facility (STCF) or a Child Community Inpatient Service (CCIS). Payments to STCF and CCIS shall be based upon its distribution of beds for these services times a projection of the cost of providing the service in a state facility. Any hospital adding these beds will be eligible for payments from this fund. The initial redistribution of the funds among eligible hospitals will be carried out *[on the first of the month following adoption]* *[(in *August,* 1994*)]*. In subsequent years, the redistribution will be carried out in January of each year.

ii. Hospitals who are not STCF or CCIS, but which are under contract with the Division of Mental Health and Hospitals shall receive an allocation of funds based upon the percentage of services provided by the hospital as a percentage of all services provided by all hospitals. The initial redistribution of the funds among eligible hospitals will be carried out *[on the first of the month following adoption]* *[(in *August,* 1994*)]*. In subsequent years, the redistribution will be carried out in January of each year.

Summary of Public Comments and Agency Responses:

Comments were received from the Cerebral Palsy League of Union County, William and Myrle Garbe Treatment Center; Visiting Nurse and Health Services, Elizabeth, New Jersey; and the New Jersey Department of Health. Comments and responses are as follows:

Cerebral Palsy League of Union County

COMMENT: The Cerebral Palsy League of Union County, a licensed Pediatric Medical Day Care Center, supports the proposed changes/additions to N.J.A.C. 10:65. It is not often that we, the service providers, are presented with Rules and Regulations that are clearly written and evidently reflect the needs of the client to be served as well as the provider.

RESPONSE: The Division appreciates your interest and concern and will continue to pursue clear, understandable language in proposed rulemaking.

(CITE 26 N.J.R. 3474)

Visiting Nurse and Health Services

COMMENT: Include skilled nursing observation and direct care of a licensed practical or registered professional nurse in N.J.A.C. 10:65-1.1(a), under Purpose and scope.

RESPONSE: The Division feels that the skilled nursing observation and direct care responsibilities are adequately covered at N.J.A.C. 10:65-1.4(a)4, which describes the duties of the nurse.

COMMENT: Portal-to-portal travel time should be included in the minimum of eight hours a day in which pediatric medical day care centers shall provide services in the center—N.J.A.C. 10:65-1.4(b)3i.

RESPONSE: The Division agrees. The phrase "in the center" has been deleted at N.J.A.C. 10:65-1.4(b)3i, to accommodate this request. Care can be provided during travel time, and in the center, for a minimum of eight hours a day.

COMMENT: The correct terminology at N.J.A.C. 10:65-1.4(b)6i(2) should read intermittent urinary catheterization, not coronary catheterization.

RESPONSE: The Division agrees and this oversight is being corrected during adoption.

COMMENT: Recommend the elimination of the requirement for a maximum daily census of 27 children, as cited at N.J.A.C. 10:65-1.5(b).

RESPONSE: The Division, after careful consideration, has decided to retain this maximum limitation, since it does not believe it would be in the best interest of these medically fragile children to be served in a larger setting. The maximum program size will be reviewed prior to re-adoption of the chapter after staff has had more experience with this newly served population.

COMMENT: There should be one nurse to every five children (N.J.A.C. 10:65-1.5(b)1).

RESPONSE: Division staff have determined that the requirement of a one to five nurse-participant ratio would be cost prohibitive and would exceed the cost of institutional care. However, it is the Division's opinion that the required staff of two nurses in attendance, plus the requirement for certification in Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation (CPR), adequately addresses any crisis situations which may arise.

Department of Health

COMMENT: Concerning N.J.A.C. 10:65-1.5(a)1i(1), the requirement that the administrator-director must have a Master of Science in Nursing (MSN), Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN), or Pediatric Nurse Practitioner with recent pediatric experience (PNP) is above that necessary for this position. We recommend deletion of the degree requirements for the registered nurse serving in this position.

RESPONSE: Only after careful consideration did the Division staff determine that a higher education level is required for pediatric medical day care, which is designed to care for technology dependent and medically unstable children. This rationale was based on the fact that the geriatric population in medical day care is generally frail but more medically stable than the highly medically involved pediatric population. The MSN or PNP degrees are optional for the Administrator's position; however, it is felt that a Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing is minimally needed since these children do require a nursing leader with a specialized body of knowledge to provide appropriate administration, direct supervision and care.

COMMENT: Concerning N.J.A.C. 10:65-1.5(a)2, once again, we recommend deletion of the BSN degree requirement.

RESPONSE: Proposed N.J.A.C. 10:65-1.5(a)2 requires that one of the on-duty registered professional nurses shall possess a BSN or at least one-year recent full-time pediatric experience, not both. Since the BSN degree is an option for the medical day care centers, the Division has elected to retain the BSN. This concept was designed in this manner to allow for a new BSN graduate to work with other professional nurses who have pediatric experience so that she or he may learn from and with them at the pediatric medical day care center.

COMMENT: Concerning N.J.A.C. 10:65-1.5(a)3, the qualification for social workers and social work consultants do not comply with recently adopted requirements for licensure or certification of social workers.

RESPONSE: This paragraph has been recodified from N.J.A.C. 10:65-1.5(a)7 and remains unchanged from the current rule. However, social work and social work consultant qualifications will be reviewed at a future time to ensure conformity with all rules of the New Jersey Board of Social Work Examiners.

COMMENT: Concerning N.J.A.C. 10:65-1.5(a)4i, qualifications for the activities consultant do not comply with N.J.A.C. 8:43F.

RESPONSE: This subparagraph has been recodified from N.J.A.C. 10:65-1.5(a)1, and remains unchanged from the current rule. The activities consultant position, however, will be reviewed in conjunction with Executive Order No. 66 for refinement or possible deletion.

ADOPTIONS

COMMENT: Concerning N.J.A.C. 10:65-1.5(a)6, we recommend deletion of the requirement that the Pharmaceutical Consultant be certified by the Joint Board for Certification of Consultant Pharmacies.

RESPONSE: This paragraph remains unchanged from the current rule. The requirement for certification of the Pharmaceutical Consultant will be reviewed in conjunction with Executive Order No. 66 (sunset provision) in the near future.

COMMENT: Concerning N.J.A.C. 10:65-1.5(b), we recommend that an additional nurse be present for each five children attending.

RESPONSE: Division staff, after careful consideration, have determined that the ratio of one nurse to every five children would be cost prohibitive for a community-based service, designed to serve as a health care alternative. Additionally, the Division feels that the required staff of two nurses in attendance, plus the requirement for CPR certification adequately addresses any crisis situation which may arise.

COMMENT: We recommend that staff be certified in the course, "CPR for Health Care Providers," offered by the American Heart Association. We also recommend policies on employee physicals as well as Rubella, Rubeola and Mantoux tuberculin skin tests.

RESPONSE: Concerning N.J.A.C. 10:65-1.5(c), the Division does not recommend agency specific cardio-pulmonary resuscitation course for attendance by pediatric medical day care staff. It is felt that administrative staff at the day care center have the ability to determine an appropriate program for their staff.

Since Department of Health (DOH) licensure is a prerequisite to Division provider approval, that Department's regulations should reflect those requirements for employee physicals which must be followed by Medicaid providers.

Summary of Changes upon Adoption:

N.J.A.C. 10:65-1.4(b)5v is being deleted upon adoption due to confusing terminology. Individuals in Residential Health Care Facilities (RHCF) do not participate in CCPED or HCEP because:

(1) The Department of Health, in its rules, mandates that a resident of a RHCF must not be in need of the services provided by a nursing facility. All participants in CCPED and HCEP must meet the Medicaid requirement for nursing facility level of care. These are mutually exclusive definitions of the need for health care services.

(2) The Department of Health rules require a RHCF to provide a package of health care services which are essentially the same as those provided in a Medical Day Care program. It would be inappropriate for residents to receive a duplication of these services and for the State to reimburse for similar services.

Therefore, the statement "Since individuals who reside in residential health care facilities are not eligible for CCPED or HCEP Medical Day Care Services are not available to these residents" is not necessary and has been deleted on adoption.

Full text of the changes between the proposal and adoption follows (additions to proposal indicated in boldface with asterisks *thus*; deletions from proposal indicated in brackets with asterisks *[thus]*).

10:65-1.1 Purpose and scope

(a) The Medical Day Care Program is concerned with the fulfillment of the health needs of Medicaid recipients and/or those who are served under the Division's Home Care Expansion Program and who could benefit from a health services alternative to total institutionalization. Medical day care is a program of medically supervised, health related services provided in an ambulatory care setting to persons who are non-residents of the facility, and who, due to their physical and/or mental impairment, need health maintenance and restorative services supportive to their community living. Pediatric medical day care services are available only for technology-dependent and/or medically unstable children who require continuous, rather than part-time or intermittent, care of a licensed practical or registered professional nurse in a developmentally appropriate environment.

(b) In order to be eligible for services through the Medical Day Care Program, an individual must be eligible for one of the following: community Medicaid, New Jersey Care . . . Special Medicaid Programs (including the medically needy segment), certain home care programs including Community Care Program for the Elderly and Disabled (CCPED), Model Waivers, the AIDS Community Care Alternatives Program (ACCAP), the Traumatic Brain Injury Program, or the ABC Program for medically fragile children. Persons enrolled in the Home Care Expansion Program are likewise eligible for medical day care services.

HUMAN SERVICES

10:65-1.2 Definitions

The following words and terms, when used in this chapter, shall have the following meanings, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise.

"Administration—medical day care center" means an identifiable administrative unit within the medical day care center headed by a Director/Administrator, responsible for the overall conduct of all day care program activities.

"Medical day care center" means an identifiable part of a nursing facility, or a hospital affiliated facility, or a freestanding ambulatory care facility, or such other facility which is licensed by the New Jersey State Department of Health in accordance with its Manual for Standards for Licensure of Adult Day Health Care Facilities, N.J.A.C. 8:43F-2, which possesses a valid and current provider agreement from the Division and which provides services as described at N.J.A.C. 10:65-1.4.

1. "Pediatric medical day care center" means a medical day care center which additionally conforms to N.J.A.C. 10:122 (Department of Human Services, Division of Youth and Family Services) Manual of Requirements for Child Care Centers.

10:65-1.4 Required services

(a) At a minimum, the following services shall be provided by the center for participation in the Medical Day Care Program.

1. (No change.)

2. Dietary services as follows:

i. The nutritional status and dietary needs of each recipient shall be evaluated by a qualified dietician upon admission to the program. Those recipients on a physician-ordered special diet, or those identified as having specific nutritional needs, shall have an evaluation of their nutritional status every 90 days, except that this evaluation shall be performed every 60 days in a pediatric medical day care center. Results of the assessment and evaluation shall be documented in each recipient's record.

(1)-(3) (No change.)

(4) The pediatric medical day care center shall provide a speech-language pathologist who shall evaluate and monitor each child's ability to chew and swallow food when this is deemed necessary by the center's registered professional nurse and ordered by the attending physician.

ii-iv. (No change.)

3. Medical services as follows:

i. The center's administrator/director, with the medical director of the center, shall establish written medical and administrative policies governing the provision of medical services to the recipients. The medical director shall be responsible for, but not be limited to, the following:

1. Do not require services 24 hours a day on an in-patient basis in a hospital or nursing facility, except under special circumstances;

2. Cannot be met totally in any other ambulatory care setting, such as a physician's office, hospital out-patient department or in a partial care/partial hospitalization program;

3. Require and can be met satisfactorily by a seven-hour, including portal-to-portal travel time, day-long active medical day care program not to exceed five days per week, provided by licensed and non-licensed personnel;

6. Require continuous nursing services only available in a medical day care center serving technology dependent and/or medically unstable children.

i. A child served in a pediatric medical day care center shall meet the following criteria:

Staffing requirements are as follows:

1. The administrator/director shall be responsible for the overall conduct and management of all program activities and staff on a full-time basis, and;

(2) In a medical day care center serving adults, the administrator/director shall be experienced in the care of the elderly and disabled and knowledgeable regarding their physical, social and medical health needs; and

ii. Meet the minimum staff requirements defined by the New Jersey State Department of Health (see N.J.A.C. 8:43F-1.4).

2. The registered professional nurse shall be licensed by the New Jersey State Board of Nursing pursuant to N.J.S.A. 45:11-26 et seq. and shall have at least one year full-time or full-time equivalent experience in nursing supervision and/or nursing administration in a licensed health care facility, as defined by the New Jersey State Department of Health (see N.J.A.C. 8:43F-1.7). ii. Have at least one year recent full-time pediatric experience.

3. A social worker shall possess a bachelor's or master's degree from a college or university approved by a state department of education with a major in one of the following: social work, psychology, sociology, or counseling as defined by the New Jersey State Department of Health (see N.J.A.C. 8:43F-1.18). For those persons without a master's degree in social work, at least one year of full-time or full-time equivalent social work experience in a licensed health care facility is required.

i. A social work consultant shall possess a master's degree in social work from a graduate school of social work accredited by the Council on Social Work Education and at least one year of full-time social work experience in a health care facility.

i. An activities consultant shall possess:

(1) A master's degree in any one of the following: recreation therapy, creative arts therapy, occupational therapy, health care administration, human services, or a related field and two years of experience in patient activities in a health care setting; or

In pediatric medical day care centers the ratio shall be one staff person to three children. There shall be at least two nurses on the premises of the pediatric medical day care center during all hours of operation. The ratio shall include the center administrator/director and all other personnel (except the medical director) who are involved in direct patient care, excluding volunteers. The maximum daily census in any pediatric medical day care center shall be 27 children.

1. Without compromising the above required staff-recipient ratio of one to nine for medical day care centers serving adults or one to three for pediatric medical day care centers, various staff positions could combine functions within one person, that is, the center administrator/director may be a social worker or activities coordinator, performing dual functions of the director/social worker or director/activities coordinator. In medical day care programs serving adults with 36 or more recipients, the director may not serve a dual function. New adult programs for start-up purposes, or with less than 10 recipients, may have no fewer than two full time staff persons. The registered professional nurse shall occupy one of these positions.

(c) For pediatric medical day care centers, all direct care staff shall have current certification in cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) and shall have had recent pediatric experience. Those without recent pediatric experience shall be educated by the center in growth and development and in the care of children with special needs. All direct care paraprofessional staff shall have been certified by the New Jersey State Board of Nursing as homemaker-home health aides, or certified by the Department of Health as nurse aides in accordance with N.J.A.C. 8:39. When there are technology dependent children served in the center, a registered professional nurse certified for intravenous administration must be available during the hours of operation.

10:65-1.8 Basis of payment

(a) The center providing Medical Day Care services shall agree to accept the reimbursement rates established by the Division as the total reimbursement for services provided to the Medicaid recipient and to the beneficiary enrolled in the Home Care Expansion Program (HCEP). In a nursing facility based program, the medical day care per diem rate is 45 percent of that nursing facility's per diem rate. In freestanding centers, the medical day care per diem rate is based on an average of the rates paid to nursing facility medical day care providers, or on a percentage of nursing facility rates in effect as of January 1 and July 1 each year. For hospital-affiliated centers, the medical day care rate is a negotiated per diem rate which shall not exceed the maximum medical day care per diem rate paid to nursing facility-based providers. The reimbursement rates set for any Medicaid recipient or an HCEP beneficiary in medical day care centers shall not exceed charges for non-Medicaid participants. The per diem reimbursement shall cover the cost of all services listed in N.J.A.C. 10:65-1.4 with the following exception:

1. Physical therapy and speech-language pathology services shall not be included in the per diem rate reimbursed for medical day care services. These therapies, when provided by the medical day care center, shall be billed separately on the Health Insurance Claim Form, 1500 N.J.

10:81-1.6 Confidential nature of information

(a) Information about applicants or recipients will be used or disclosed only for purposes directly connected with the administration of public assistance and related services, including Title IV-E (foster care and adoption assistance programs), which cannot be offered without such information in accordance with the provisions at N.J.A.C. 10:81-7.31.

1. Such safeguards shall not apply to the furnishing of recipient address information to State and local law enforcement officers attempting to locate a fugitive felon in accordance with the provisions at N.J.A.C. 10:81-7.32(c).

2. Information concerning applicants or recipients may also be released to appropriate individuals in instances involving child abuse and neglect situations as described at N.J.A.C. 10:81-3.12(e), 7.29 and 7.46(c)2.

10:81-1.7 Nondiscrimination

There shall be no discrimination on grounds of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, marital, parental or birth status, or disability by State or local agencies in the administration of any public assistance program.

10:81-1.12 Other programs

(a) Other related assistance programs include (also see N.J.A.C. 10:81-8):

1.-6. (No change.)

7. Child Care Programs/Services are administered by the Division of Family Development with the goal of assisting both AFDC and non-AFDC individuals in their efforts to achieve self-sufficiency.

i. JOBS/FDP child care benefits as a supportive service to participants actively participating in New Jersey's REACH/JOBS and FDP program are made available as an entitlement. Participants may receive child care benefits as described at N.J.A.C. 10:81-14 to the extent that such child care is necessary to permit an AFDC eligible family member to accept employment, to remain employed or to participate in an educational or employment-directed activity.

ii. JOBS/FDP Transitional Child Care (TCC) benefits, described at N.J.A.C. 10:81-14, are a supportive service available to families whose eligibility for AFDC has ceased due primarily to increased earnings, increased hours of employment (including new employment), which result in increased earnings, or as a result of the loss of earned income disregards due to the expiration of time limits. This supportive service is an entitlement and is available for 12 months post-AFDC, to the extent that child care is necessary to permit a member of the AFDC family to accept or maintain employment. The eligible parent must request such benefits and will be required to pay a co-pay fee based on annual gross income, family size, hours of child care needed and the number of children needing care.

iii. DFD administers, through the county Boards of Social Services, the payment of special circumstance child care utilizing Title IV-A funds. This supportive service benefit is available when payment for such care is not available through other resources and the county Board of Social Services determines, while adhering to established guidelines, that such care is essential. This supportive service and the guidelines are outlined at N.J.A.C. 10:82-5.

iv. New Jersey Cares for Kids (NJCK) Child Care Certificate Program is made possible through block grant monies of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act (OBRA) of 1990, Public Law 101-508. The block grant child care service programs are the At-Risk Child Care (ARCC) Program as implemented by Section 5081 of OBRA 1990, and the Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG) Act of 1990, as implemented by Section 5082 of OBRA 1990. The NJCK Certificate Program is implemented by community child care agencies in each county via contract with DFD. The program is made available to income eligible families to the extent that such child care is necessary to permit a family member to accept employment, to remain employed, or to participate in employment/training/educational activities as specified in Federal regulations. To receive services from this program the family must pay a co-pay fee which is based on gross annual income, family size, hours of care needed and the number of children in care. This program is further described in the DFD Child Care Services Manual at N.J.A.C. 10:15, 10:15A, 10:15B and 10:15C.

(a) (No change.)

(b) Parent with a child under age three: A special vocational assessment and counseling component may be required for any parent who is exempt from participation in REACH/JOBS due to care of his or her child under age three. The REACH/JOBS orientation may be used to satisfy this requirement.

10:81-14.18 REACH/JOBS support services: child care

(a) General provisions: The general provisions in this subsection apply to all child care benefits available through the REACH/JOBS program, including post-AFDC child care benefits.

1.-3. (No change.)

4. Required coordination: Each county shall coordinate REACH/JOBS child care activities and post-AFDC child care with existing child care resource and referral agencies; with early childhood education programs in the county, including Head Start programs, preschool programs funded under Chapter 1 of the Education Consolidation and Improvement Act of 1981 (P.L. 97-35), school and nonprofit child care programs (including community-based organizations receiving funds designated for preschool programs for disabled children); and with Federal and/or State demonstration programs, such as the Good Starts program, the REACH Capital Expansion Program and the Mini Child Care Center program.

5.-7. (No change.)

(b)-(e) (No change.)

(f) Provider requirements: REACH/JOBS payments to providers of child care are available according to the following conditions:

1.-2. (No change.)

3. Family day care providers—approved homes: Providers of family day care who are not living in the home of the REACH/JOBS participant and who are not registered under (f)2 above shall be approved by the Department of Human Services in order to qualify for payment through the REACH/JOBS program. Unregistered relatives, friends or neighbors are eligible for approved home status.

i. The minimum requirements for approval of the home are an inspection of the home using the "Self-Arranged Care Inspection and Interview Checklist" (see Appendix A, incorporated herein by reference), and standard interview procedure with the provider and family members.

ii. (No change.)

4. Providers of in-home care: Providers of in-home care, that is, care of a REACH/JOBS participant's children in the participant's own home, shall be evaluated using the "Self-Arranged Care Inspection and Interview Checklist", in order to qualify for payment through the REACH/JOBS program.

5. Providers of child care not in the categories (f)1 through 4 above are not entitled to payment through the REACH/JOBS program for child care provided to children of REACH/JOBS participants.

(g) Payment procedures: REACH/JOBS funds are expended for child care as direct vendor payments to providers or as direct payments to participants.

1. Vendor payments: Vendor payments to providers are the primary method for issuing child care payments in REACH/JOBS. Under this method, a voucher is issued to the child care provider. The provider completes the voucher, indicates appropriate attendance code for the child and payment required, and returns it to the agency responsible for issuing payment. Upon verification of the voucher information, the agency issues a REACH/JOBS child care payment to the provider.

2. (No change.)

3. Special payments for child care: Payments for child care at other than the standard payment rates may be made for special circumstances such as, emergency needs, drop-in care and approved interim care, as deemed appropriate by the case manager.

10:81-14.19 REACH/JOBS supportive services: participant allowances (PALS) for transportation and work/training-related expenses

(a)-(d) (No change.)

(e) $100.00 cumulative allowance to accept or maintain employment (JOB): Allowance payments (JOBS) based on need, up to a maximum cumulative total of $100.00 per eligibility participation period (see (g) below), are provided for actual expenses necessary to permit an individual to accept or maintain employment. Such payments shall be issued in preparation for and during the course of employment. JOB payments are not an entitlement and are issued based on need only for actual expenses incurred.

ADOPTIONS

HUMAN SERVICES

1.-4. (No change.)

5. Each eligibility participation period covered by the cumulative $100.00 JOB fund begins with the first day the participant receives a firm job offer and accepts the position (the effective date of employment indicated on the OMEGA System) and ends 90 days after loss of eligibility for AFDC cash assistance. Therefore, employed individuals receiving post-AFDC child care and/or Medicaid, if determined in need of monies available through the JOB allowance, shall be authorized for payment of that allowance or of the remaining portion of that allowance fund only for the first 90 days following the AFDC case closing. The eligibility participation period for WSP and OJT participants begins with the effective date of the activity, as indicated on the OMEGA system, and ends no later than 90 days after loss of eligibility for cash assistance or the expiration of the OJT contract, whichever occurs first.

i. Example: If an AFDC individual enters a six month OJT or WSP activity in January and loses AFDC eligibility effective March 1, he or she would remain eligible for the JOB allowance through May 29 in the post-AFDC period which encompasses the 90-day limited timeframe for Federal financial participation (FFP). Although there are four months remaining in the activity contract period through June, the final month of participation in the activity, no authorization for participant allowances can be made for that final month.

6.-7. (No change.)

(f) REACH/JOBS $500.00 cumulative motor vehicle related (CAR) expense allowance: Allowance payments based on need, up to a maximum cumulative total of $500.00 per eligibility participation period (see (g) below), are available for REACH/JOBS participants who own motor vehicles to make those vehicles operational to transport the REACH/JOBS participant to REACH/JOBS activities or employment. CAR allowances are not an entitlement and are issued based on need, only for actual expenses incurred. CAR allowance payments are available beginning with participation in the first REACH/JOBS activity (the effective date of the activity as indicated on the OMEGA System) and ending no later than 90 days after loss of eligibility for AFDC in the post-AFDC period.

1. Example: A former AFDC REACH/JOBS participant has been employed and is in receipt of post-AFDC child care services. The AFDC case closed as of August 1. On November 15, the recipient requests a CAR allowance of $50.00. In this instance, case management cannot authorize payment from the CAR allowance fund since the 90-day authorization period has expired.

Such emergency shelter/housing, wherever possible, shall be in the municipality in which the eligible family currently resides. If, however, shelter/housing is not available at the most reasonable rate, taking into consideration family circumstances and services provided, within the municipality of customary residence, the recipient, as a condition of eligibility, shall be obliged to accept shelter/housing which is situated outside the municipality of customary residence. This is a joint emergency amendment and concurrent proposed amendment promulgated by the Department of Human Services/Division of Medical Assistance and Health Services and the Essential Health Services Commission (EHSC). This amendment was adopted on an emergency basis and became effective upon acceptance for filing by the Office of Administrative Law (see N.J.S.A. 52:14B-4(C) as implemented by N.J.A.C. 1:30-4.4). Concurrently, the provisions of this emergency amendment are being proposed for re-adoption in compliance with the normal rulemaking requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 et seq. The re-adopted rule becomes effective upon acceptance for filing by the Office of Administrative Law (see N.J.A.C. 1:30-4.4(d)), if filed on or prior to the emergency expiration date.

The agency and the EHSC's emergency amendment and concurrent proposal are as follows:

Summary

The New Jersey Department of Human Services, Division of Medical Assistance and Health Services, jointly and under the direction of the Essential Health Services Commission (the Commission), is proposing the following amendment which will govern distribution of the charity care component of the disproportionate share subsidy required by the Health Care Reform Act of 1992 (P.L. 1992, c.160) (referred to herein as Chapter 160).

P.L. 1992, c.160 requires the Essential Health Services Commission to establish a claims processing system for the charity care component of the Medicaid disproportionate share subsidy. Under Chapter 160, if a charity care claims processing system was not in effect as of January 1, 1994, the Commission is required to make payments through the Medicaid program based on the charity costs incurred by hospitals in 1993. The Commission is in the process of establishing a claims system which is expected to be put in place by 1995. Under this proposed amendment, since no claims processing system currently exists, annual charity care costs incurred by hospitals will be the basis of payment of charity care subsidies. The determination of annual charity care costs will be based on data from the New Jersey Department of Health's audit of charity care provided by all hospitals. The Department of Health has conducted an audit of hospitals' charity care in accordance with N.J.A.C. 8:31B-4.41A through 4.41N. However for purposes of the 1993 charity care allocation, the criteria in 8:31B-41D through 41L did not apply to patients who are investigated by a county adjuster and found to be indigent by a court of competent jurisdiction; and, hospitals may document that the applicant was a New Jersey resident by either the criteria in N.J.A.C. 8:31B-4.37(d)7, or that in N.J.A.C. 8:31B-4.41F.

The Commission has chosen to adopt the Department of Health (DOH) audit of 1993 charity care as its measure of the charity care costs incurred by hospitals in 1993, because it is the most consistent, comprehensive source of information available. The Department of Health (DOH) has audited the hospital charity care since 1989 in carrying out its responsibilities under the hospital rate setting system. Chapter 160 required the DOH to conduct an audit in 1993. The DOH issued proposed rules governing the audit in August 1993. These rules were adopted in October of 1993. The audit regulations were substantially unchanged except that they broadened the categories of eligibility and acceptable proof of eligibility. Therefore, the process in place for complying with this audit was known to hospitals, and was not disruptive.

There is no other consistent source of information on the costs of charity care. Standard accounting practice is to value charity care at a hospital's charges, analogous to the "list price." Hospitals may set very different prices for the same procedures, and charges often are not reflective of the cost of the service. Medicaid's valuation of these accounts is a consistent source of information, and is also required by Chapter 160.

Pending the completion of this audit, the Commission had directed Medicaid to make provisional payments to hospitals at 90 percent of 1993 charity care subsidy levels defined under N.J.A.C. 10:52-8.1.

The proposed amendment describes the methodology for determining final approved subsidy amounts based on an audit. Under the New Jersey Department of Health (DOH) audit, hospitals submit their lists of charity care accounts per N.J.A.C. 8:31B-4.41A, and report the write-off amounts as charges. Because Chapter 160 requires charity care to be paid at Medicaid rates, for the purposes of the Commission's charity care allocations, the New Jersey Department of Health (DOH) and the New Jersey Department of Human Services (DHS) then value the accounts at the Medicaid rate to provide a standardized basis for measuring charity care costs. For the valuation of inpatient accounts, hospitals submit all accounts to DOH in a specific format; the DHS then values these accounts at the Medicaid rates. For outpatient accounts, hospitals submit the total dollar value of all prior year charity care outpatient accounts to DOH. The DOH applies each hospital's ratio of Medicaid payments to charges to the hospital's total outpatient charity care charges.

Under P.L. 1992, chapter 160, 80 percent of hospitals are eligible to receive a 1994 subsidy. Eligibility is determined by ranking hospitals by the result of dividing the individual hospital's annual charity care dollar amount by the hospital's revenue cap as calculated under Chapter 160. In accordance with the intent of the Legislature, 80 percent of the hospitals with the highest rankings will be eligible for the 1994 subsidy.

For the eligible hospitals, charity care subsidy amounts are equal to charity care costs as determined by the audit and valued at Medicaid rates. The Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982 (TEFRA) rate of increase used to set Medicaid hospital rates will be used to inflate the charity care costs in the current year.

Social Impact

The proposed amendment will have an impact on the total charity care amount provided to all eligible hospitals. Hospitals which have demonstrated that they incur significant charity care costs will receive subsidy funds and will be able to continue to provide these services. The amendment determines hospitals' eligibility for charity care subsidies on the basis of the annual charity care costs as measured by a New Jersey Department of Health audit and valued at the Medicaid rates. Under this audit, costs can be written off as charity care only if the patient is documented to meet certain income and eligibility standards. These include income (less than 300 percent of poverty), assets ($3,000 for an individual, $6,000 for a family, defined as liquid assets plus equity in a non-primary residence), New Jersey residency, and services that are ineligible for other third party coverage. The use of these audited costs assures that funds will be targeted to hospitals which service patients with the fewest financial resources. With the promulgation of this amendment, and in accordance with the Legislature's intent, the Essential Health Services Commission and the Division of Medical Assistance and Health Services are ensuring that those hospitals which are deserving of it will receive substantial funds from the State.

Although this amendment limits charity care subsidies to 80 percent of New Jersey acute care hospitals, various State and Federal authorities require that all hospitals provide access to care regardless of ability to pay.

Economic Impact

The proposed methodology will provide the largest proportion of charity care subsidy money to hospitals who incurred the greater costs for this component in 1993. This will assist disproportionate share hospitals in maintaining and/or expanding services to these populations.

Some hospitals will receive a decreased subsidy amount from that which they received in 1993 or received on an interim basis in 1994. These overpayments will be recovered by the Division against all Medicaid payments to the hospital.

An effect of this amendment will be that charity care subsidies received by most facilities will change.

Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

A regulatory flexibility analysis might not be necessary because most hospital providers are not considered small businesses under the terms as defined in the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq. The hospitals in New Jersey are the only businesses affected by the proposed amendment, and they all employ more than 100 full time people. However, in the event hospitals might qualify under the terms of the Act, this analysis is included.

Hospitals are required to maintain sufficient records to indicate the name of the patient, dates of service, nature and extent of inpatient hospital services, and any additional information as may be required by regulation. The requirement is part of the State Medicaid Statute, N.J.S.A. 30:4D-12. With respect to reimbursement, hospitals will be required to maintain sufficient records, such as cost studies, to enable the Division to establish rates under this regulation. The reporting provisions will be similar to the regulatory requirements that existed under N.J.A.C. 8:41B. These requirements apply uniformly to all providers. There is no differentiation in the reporting, recordkeeping or compliance requirements based on size. The proposed amendment does not create any additional reporting, recordkeeping or other compliance requirement. There should be no need to hire any additional professional staff other than those persons already involved in preparing cost reports and related reimbursement data.

There are no capital costs associated with this amendment.

Full text of the adopted emergency amendment and concurrent proposed amendment follows (additions indicated in boldface thus; deletions indicated in brackets [thus]):

10:52-8.2 Method of payment

(a) The disproportionate share adjustment shall include [at least] the adjustment amount [recommended] annually determined by the [Commissioner of the Department of Health] Essential Health Services Commission based upon a determination regarding payments for charity and uncompensated care from the Health Care Subsidy Fund.

1. For facilities operating under N.J.S.A. 18A:64G-1 et seq., the disproportionate share adjustment [recommended] determined by the [Commissioner of Health] Essential Health Services Commission may be increased by an amount recommended by the Office of Management and Budget which will consider the total operating cost of the facility less any third party payments, including all other Medicaid payments, as well as payments from non-State sources for services provided by the hospital during the hospital's fiscal year.

2. The recommendation from the [Department of Health] Essential Health Services Commission shall be calculated in the following manner pursuant to P.L. 1992, c.160 (N.J.S.A. 26:2H-18).

EMERGENCY ADOPTION

[i. Charity Care component of the Hospital Health Care Subsidy Fund shall be calculated by ranking hospitals using the following formula:

Hospital Specific Approved Uncompensated Care 1991
Hospital Specific Preliminary Cost Base 1992 = Hospital Specific % Uncompensated Care (%UC).

ii. If a hospital's Uncompensated Care percentage (%UC) is among the 80% of hospitals with the highest percentage of uncompensated care, it is eligible to receive a Health Care Subsidy Fund Charity Care adjustment. This adjustment shall equal the product of the facility's hospital specific percentage of uncompensated care times the funds allocated to the Charity Care Component of the Health Care Subsidy Fund. The calculation of the hospital's uncompensated care shall be based upon the amount of uncompensated care reported in 1991 to the Department of Health and shall exclude Medicare bad debt, offsetting Indigency Grants/payments and Uncompensated Care for Excluded Health Services.]

i. The determination of the Charity Care Component Costs of the Health Care Subsidy Fund shall be calculated in the following manner:

(1) The Essential Health Services Commission shall use the results of the charity care audit conducted as its definition of charity care incurred by all hospitals.

(2) The New Jersey Department of Health shall report to the Essential Health Services Commission, the results of its audit of New Jersey acute care hospital's charity care provided in the year per N.J.A.C. 8:31B-4.41 through 4.41N.

(A) For purposes of determining annual charity care costs, hospitals shall submit their audit lists per N.J.A.C. 8:31B-4.41A but may list their accounts by charges rather than the Medicaid rate.

(B) For purposes of determining annual charity care costs, the criteria in N.J.A.C. 8:31B-4.41D through 4.41L shall not apply to a patient who is investigated by a county adjuster and found to be indigent by a court of competent jurisdiction pursuant to N.J.S.A. 30:4. A patient so found shall qualify for 100 percent charity care coverage. Hospitals with patients who qualify under this provision shall include the appropriate documentation from the court in the patient's file for audit.

(C) For purposes of determining annual charity care costs, hospitals may document New Jersey residency for patients in either of the following two ways: hospitals must document that the applicant was a New Jersey resident at the time he or she received services and had the intent to remain in the State. An out-of-State resident may apply for charity care if his or her services resulted from a situation requiring immediate medical care pursuant to N.J.A.C. 8:31B-4.41F.

(3) All charity care accounts shall be valued at the Medicaid rate as follows:

(A) For inpatient accounts, the New Jersey Department of Health and the New Jersey Department of Human Services shall value each account at the rate Medicaid would have reimbursed hospitals for the service(s).

(B) For outpatient accounts, outpatient charity care accounts written-off during the calendar year will be valued as follows: annual outpatient charity care charges multiplied by the ratio of the annual outpatient Medicaid payments to the annual outpatient Medicaid charges associated with paid claims. This Medicaid outpatient payment-to-charge ratio excludes billings for HealthStart and dental services.

(C) Disproportionate share adjustments and final rate settlements for the service period shall not be taken into account for the recognition of charity care costs.

(4) If a hospital's percentage of charity care costs in relation to their revenue cap is among the 80 percent of hospitals with the highest percentage of charity care, it is eligible to receive a Health Care Subsidy Fund Charity Care adjustment.

(5) For eligible hospitals, charity care subsidy amounts are determined as follows:

(A) Eligible hospitals annual charity care subsidy amount is equal to charity care costs as determined by the audit and valued at Medicaid rates.

(B) The Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982 (TEFRA) rate of increase used to set Medicaid hospital rates will be used to inflate charity care costs in the current year.

EMERGENCY ADOPTION

HUMAN SERVICES

(C) In no instances shall payments made during a calendar year exceed the preceding years audited and Medicaid rate valued amounts inflated by TEFRA rates used in the hospital rate setting system.

(D) Any overpayments which result from interim payments exceeding the audited payment levels shall be recovered by offsetting all Medicaid payments.

Take further notice that the Major Hazardous Waste Facilities Siting Act, at N.J.S.A. 13:1E-58, requires this Commission to prepare and adopt, in consultation with the Hazardous Waste Advisory Council, a Major Hazardous Waste Facilities Plan. The Commission is seeking public comment on this proposed Plan Update. The Plan Update will be available for public review at the Commission office, 28 West State Street, Trenton, New Jersey; the New Jersey State Library, 185 West State St., Trenton, New Jersey; and at county libraries.

The proposed Plan Update addresses the following areas: (a) an inventory and appraisal, including the identity and location of all hazardous waste facilities within the State; (b) an inventory of the sources, composition, and quantity of hazardous waste generated within the State; (c) projections of the quantities of hazardous waste to be generated within the State for a three year period of time; (d) identification of the types of new hazardous waste facilities which could reduce New Jersey's dependence on out-of-State facilities; and (e) identification of the importance of New Jersey hazardous waste facilities to out-of-State generators and also the importance of out-of-State facilities for New Jersey's hazardous waste treatment and disposal needs.

This proposed Plan Update identifies the greatest capacity shortfall for in-State landfill disposal capacity, which is consistent with the findings in the 1985 Plan and 1989 Plan Update. Because of New Jersey geology and the strict siting criteria, the Plan Update concludes that it will be very difficult to site a land disposal facility in New Jersey. This was shown by the Commission's four year effort to site a private commercial above ground land emplacement facility. The Commission dropped four potential land emplacement facilities due to their inability to meet the State's siting criteria. Therefore, New Jersey should commence discussions with other states to establish interstate and regional agreements to satisfy its capacity shortfalls. States that are important for New Jersey land disposal needs include New York, Ohio, South Carolina, Michigan, and Indiana. Three private landfills in New York, Ohio and South Carolina received 255,311 tons (or 82 percent) of the New Jersey hazardous waste exported to landfills in 1992.

In the 1989 Plan Update, the need for increased incinerator capacity was primarily driven by anticipated Best Demonstrated Available Technologies (BDAT), Land Ban disposal restrictions, and other expected changes in Federal regulations. The Land Ban and BDAT regulations were expected to transfer wastes from landfill disposal to incineration. The 1989 Plan Update did not anticipate the extent to which cement kilns would enter the hazardous waste market and increase their demand for hazardous waste as an alternate fuel. Actual incinerator demand since the 1989 Plan Update has increased only marginally, apparently because of the increased use of hazardous waste as fuel by cement kilns.

While New Jersey continues to ship hazardous waste to both in-State and out-of-State incinerators, the shortfall for in-State incinerator capacity may increase in the future if cement kilns cannot meet new U.S. Environmental Protection Agency Boiler and Industrial Furnace (BIF) regulations and emission requirements, or if the Bevill Amendment to the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA) is eliminated, that is, if cement kiln dust is reclassified as hazardous. This would shift current hazardous waste shipments from cement kilns and increase the demand for incinerators. In addition, increased compliance costs for cement kilns resulting from stricter Federal and/or State regulations will likely increase the disposal fees at cement kilns. Increased disposal fees will decrease the competitive price advantage currently enjoyed by cement kilns over incinerators.

In summary, the Commission supports the expansion of existing hazardous waste treatment, storage, and disposal (TSD) facilities and/or the in-State siting of new hazardous waste facilities if such facilities can lessen New Jersey's dependence on out-of-State TSDs, including hazardous waste exports to out-of-State incinerators, landfills, and cement kilns. The Commission, therefore, reaffirms the findings of the 1985 Plan and the 1989 Plan Update, identifying the types of new facilities which could reduce New Jersey's capacity shortfalls, namely:

a) An 80 acre above ground land emplacement facility with a capacity of 110,000 to 120,000 tons per year and a 20 year life (Chapter 1, page 5, 1989 Plan Update), and

b) An incinerator of rotary kiln technology because of its commercially proven history and its versatility in managing a wide range of hazardous waste (Chapter 1, page 5, 1989 Plan Update).

However, in addition to meeting the strict siting criteria, any new facility must be operated in accordance with the Siting Act. In addition, New Jersey should examine the efficacy of entering into long term interstate capacity sharing agreements with its major export-import partners.

The dynamic changes occurring in hazardous waste treatment and disposal, both on a State and national basis, make the issuance of annual Plan Updates imperative. Waiting for the Federal Capacity Assurance Plan and the three year update from the Commission needlessly handicaps good planning. The improvement in the Commission's data processing capability permits reliable analyses of hazardous waste information and the publication of a Plan Update by the second quarter of the succeeding year. This promptness and precision will encourage the continual monitoring and evaluating of hazardous waste management in New Jersey. Moreover, this will enable the Commission to estimate the effects of changing regulations early enough to provide meaningful assistance to the hazardous waste planning process in New Jersey.

OFFICE OF LAND AND WATER PLANNING Amendment to the Mercer County Water Quality
Management Plan
Public Notice

Take notice that on June 30, 1994, pursuant to the provisions of the New Jersey Water Quality Planning Act, N.J.S.A. 58:11A-1 et seq., and the Statewide Water Quality Management Planning rules (N.J.A.C. 7:15-3.4), an amendment to the Mercer County Water Quality Management Plan was adopted by the Department. This amendment will change the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority's (SBRSA) sewer service area in two areas of Princeton Township: (1) flows in the North Ridge Area of Princeton Township presently served by the Montgomery Stage II Sewage Treatment Plant (STP) will be re-directed to the SBRSA STP; and (2) realignment of the SBRSA sewer service area within the lands of the Institute of Advanced Study (identified as Block S-12.04, Lots 110, 134, and 136, zoning district R-HF-W sub-area A on the August 1993, Princeton & Princeton Borough Sewer Service Area Delineation Map 4) to comply with recent zoning changes. Additionally, the amendment updates the Princeton Township/Princeton Borough Wastewater Management Plan regarding abandonment of the Pretty Brook STP and its conversion to a pump station.

This amendment represents only one part of the permit process and other issues will be addressed prior to final permit issuance. Additional issues which were not reviewed in conjunction with this amendment but which may need to be addressed may include, but are not limited to, the following: antidegradation; effluent limitations; water quality analysis; exact locations and designs of future treatment works (pump stations, interceptors, sewers, outfalls, wastewater treatment plants); and development in wetlands, flood prone areas, designated Wild and Scenic River areas, or other environmentally sensitive areas which are subject to regulation under Federal or State statutes or rules.

OFFICE OF LAND AND WATER PLANNING Amendment to the Tri-County Water Quality
Management Plan
Public Notice

Take notice that the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection (NJDEP) is seeking public comments on a proposed amendment to the Tri-County Water Quality Management (WQM) Plan. This amendment proposal was submitted by Irick Engineering on behalf of Volunteers of America—Delaware Valley Property, Inc. The amendment would update the Elk Township Wastewater Management Plan by identifying the Carpenter's House site as an area to be served by subsurface sewage disposal system(s) less than 20,000 gallons per day. Carpenter's House is an existing residential structure located on the west side of Aura—Glassboro Road, being Lot 3, Block 67 in Elk Township, Gloucester County. An expansion to the existing structure has been proposed to house an additional 12 residents and 4 staff. To accommodate the additional wastewater, the existing on-site septic system will be repaired and a new septic system will be installed to service the new addition. The project site lies within a proposed future sewer service area of the Gloucester County Utilities Authority's (GCUA) West Deptford Sewage Treatment Plant (STP). Should service to GCUA's STP become available in the future, Carpenter's House would be required to connect in.

This amendment represents only one part of the permit process and other issues will be addressed prior to final permit issuance. Additional issues which were not reviewed in conjunction with this amendment but which may need to be addressed may include, but are not limited to, the following: antidegradation; effluent limitations; water quality analysis; exact locations and designs of future treatment works (pump stations, interceptors, sewers, outfalls, wastewater treatment plants); and development in wetlands, flood prone areas, designated Wild and Scenic River areas, or other environmentally sensitive areas which are subject to regulation under Federal or State statutes or rules.

This notice is being given to inform the public that a plan amendment has been proposed for the Tri-County WQM Plan. All information related to the WQM Plan, and the proposed amendment is located at the NJDEP, Office of Land and Water Planning, CN423, 401 East State Street, Trenton, N.J. 08625. It is available for inspection between 8:30 A.M. and 4:00 P.M., Monday through Friday. An appointment to inspect the documents may be arranged by calling the Office of Land and Water Planning at (609) 633-1179.

Interested persons should submit written comments on the proposed amendment to Dr. Daniel J. Van Abs, at the NJDEP address cited above with a copy sent to Catherine Ward, Esq., Jubanyik, Varbalow, Tedesco, Shaw and Shaffer, 1701 Route 70 East, P.O. Box 2570, Cherry Hill, N.J. 08034. All comments must be submitted within 30 days of the date of this public notice. All comments submitted by interested persons in response to this notice, within the time limit, shall be considered by NJDEP with respect to the amendment request.

Any interested persons may request in writing that NJDEP hold a nonadversarial public hearing on the amendment (or extend the public comment period in this notice up to 30 additional days). These requests must state the nature of the issues to be raised at the proposed hearing or state the reasons why the proposed extension is necessary. These requests must be submitted within 30 days of the date of this notice to Dr. Van Abs at the NJDEP address cited above. If a public hearing for the amendment is held, the public comment period in this notice shall be extended to close 15 days after the public hearing.

A CUMULATIVE LISTING OF CURRENT PROPOSALS AND ADOPTIONS

The Register Index of Rule Proposals and Adoptions is a complete listing of all active rule proposals (with the exception of rule changes proposed in this Register) and all new rules and amendments promulgated since the most recent update to the Administrative Code. Rule proposals in this issue will be entered in the Index of the next issue of the Register. Adoptions promulgated in this Register have already been noted in the Index by the addition of the Document Number and Adoption Notice N.J.R. Citation next to the appropriate proposal listing.

Generally, the key to locating a particular rule change is to find, under the appropriate Administrative Code Title, the N.J.A.C. citation of the rule you are researching. If you do not know the exact citation, scan the column of rule descriptions for the subject of your research. To be sure that you have found all of the changes, either proposed or adopted, to a given rule, scan the citations above and below that rule to find any related entries.

At the bottom of the index listing for each Administrative Code Title is the Transmittal number and date of the latest looseleaf update to that Title. Updates are issued monthly and include the previous month's adoptions, which are subsequently deleted from the Index. To be certain that you have a copy of all recent promulgations not yet issued in a Code update, retain each Register beginning with the July 5, 1994 issue.

If you need to retain a copy of all currently proposed rules, you must save the last 12 months of Registers. A proposal may be adopted up to one year after its initial publication in the Register. Failure to adopt a proposed rule on a timely basis requires the proposing agency to resubmit the proposal and to comply with the notice and opportunity-to-be-heard requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 et seq.), as implemented by the Rules for Agency Rulemaking (N.J.A.C. 1:30) of the Office of Administrative Law. If an agency allows a proposed rule to lapse, "Expired" will be inserted to the right of the Proposal Notice N.J.R. Citation in the next Register following expiration. Subsequently, the entire proposal entry will be deleted from the Index. See: N.J.A.C. 1:30-4.2(c).
